NEWS AND COMMENT

By The Editor

AT last Oregon's athletic problems are on the way toward solution. With the appointment recently of the new board of athletic control and the subsequent appointment of Anson Cornell, Oregon alumnus and former grid star, as director of athletics, the stage is now set for a speedy readjustment of the difficulties that have beset athletics since the advent of the optional fee almost two years ago.

Anse Cornell To Direct Athletics

After considerable study by faculty and student committees, it was announced early this month by President C. V. Boyer that a ten member board to be composed of five faculty members, three alumni members and two student members would be placed in charge of the athletic program. Personnel of this committee as announced a few days later is: Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary to the president, chairman; John F. Bovard, dean of the school of physical education; Virgil D. Earl, dean of men and former director of athletics; James H. Gilbert, dean of the school of social science; and Professor H. C. Howe, faculty representative in the Pacific Coast Conference. The three alumni members are: Lynn S. McCready, '20, Eugene; Basil T. Williams, ex-'19, Eugene; and Paul D. Hunt, '30, Portland. Student members will be: Fred Hammond, president of the student body and Gilbert L. Schultz, vice-president.

The selection of Anse Cornell for the post of athletic director by the committee has been hailed throughout the state as an admirable choice. He is to take over his new duties about June 1, coming from Pacific University, Forest Grove, where he has been head coach and athletic director for the past three years. Before that he spent 17 years as coach at the College of Idaho, Caldwell.

Cornell was an outstanding backfield performer on Webfoot grid teams, as a quarterback, from 1912 to 1915 under Hugo Bezdek. He was also shortstop and captain of baseball teams at that time. Before entering Oregon he attended and played football at Washington high in Portland under Virgil D. Earl, now a member of the new athletic board. He received his B.A. in 1916.

Cornell's salary was placed at $3000 per year. His first duties will be to accompany Dr. H. C. Howe, faculty athletic representative, to the spring meeting of the coast conference at Spokane on June 3 and 4. It is expected that Cornell's office will be located in McArthur Court.

ATHLETIC REPRESENTATIVE

Professor H. C. Howe, veteran faculty representative of the University in the Pacific Coast Conference and a member of the new board of athletic control. Professor Howe's long service to Oregon athletics was recognized last month when Oregon's baseball diamond was named "Howe Field" in his honor.

CORNELL'S duties, as outlined by the board, will be the "promotion, financing and managing of all inter-collegiate athletics." The new five-man faculty board for the control of all non-athletic activities under the recent separation of the two departments has not yet been announced. It is expected that another manager for these activities will be named shortly after the board has been announced by the president.

Hearty approval of Cornell's appointment has been practically unanimous on the part of alumni who have been following the Oregon situation. On the other hand, those familiar with the problems involved realize the difficulties of readjustment that face the new manager. Not only is it going to be necessary for Cornell to set up an entirely new organization but the problem of financing the program on an optional fee and gate receipt basis faces him. He has not inherited an easy job, and alumni and friends of the University can help most by being sympathetic with the enormity and difficulty of his task and at the same time stand ready to assist in the many ways that they will be called upon to help. Only by enthusiastic co-operation between all those persons concerned with Oregon athletics can the University's part in Pacific coast athletic circles be expected to prosper and gain prestige.

ONCE again the state system of higher education has been forced to further pare its budgets to meet shrinkage of income!

More Cuts Forced on State System

This necessity was brought out at the April budget meeting of the board held in Ashland on April 27. Having already reduced budgets more than $1,500,000 since 1930-31, the board was forced to deduct another $50,000 from the budget for the next biennium as compared to the present biennium—this in face of increasing enrollment and heavy instructional and equipment demands.

Most tragic result of the decreased budget will be the reduction of the number of beds available at the Dorenbecker children's hospital in Portland from 48 to 25 in spite of a waiting list of 500 children. Other cuts will of necessity be forced throughout the system—in some cases resulting in the release of professors and in others the abandonment of important educational and research activities.

In making his budget report to the board, Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter pointed out the seriousness of the situation facing the Oregon schools and warned that unless additional revenues are found soon, the state cannot expect to continue to receive the benefits and maintain the assets of its educational system. He said that he did not believe that the people of Oregon would countenance such a reduction in their productive resources nor such a lowering of the cultural standards in the state.

Changes effected at the recent meeting and directly affecting the University included the granting of leaves of absence without pay to H. V. Hoyt, dean of the school of business administration and E. B. Mittleman, associate professor of business administration. The resignation of Robert H. Seashore was accepted. Only one raise in actual instructional pay was recorded, although several minor changes in staff and personnel were made. An adjustment on the salary of President Boyer, allowing him $1200 in lieu of a "president's home" was approved, as was an increase of $500 to the salary of Charles Byrne, director of information and secretary to the board.

THE entire situation is not a happy one. A steady stream of top-notch instructors and professors has been leaving the University ever since the first depression cuts—and few replacements have been possible. Staff members have been accepting raises in rank in lieu of deserved salary increases, and those who have chosen to accept better paying positions at other schools cannot be blamed for their decisions. Those who have elected to stay on deserve much credit for their loyalty through a most trying period. But it cannot be expected that even these will be able to withstand the attractive offers from other schools much longer, unless some relief from the present situation is found.

Unrest and Uncertainty Damaging

Dr. Hunter's statements at the recent board meeting are in reality mild compared to the true situation that faces the people of Oregon. The unrest and lack of opportunity for true constructive research and teaching within the state system is a situation about which every thinking citizen and particularly the alumni of the institution might well become alarmed. Means of alleviating this state of affairs must become a major problem of the people of Oregon or else the educational institutions of the state will depreciate to second rate and inferior schools—an eventuality inconceivable in a state traditionally committed to superior schools.

Onthank Goes to Washington

Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel, who has also been acting state director of the National Youth Administration since the first of the year, left for Washington, D. C., this month to attend a national conference of state NYA directors. Before leaving, Onthank indicated that it was his belief that the employment of student NYA help would continue next year. Several hundred students have been aided in earning their school expenses through the NYA on the campus this year. During the summer Dean Onthank will attend a conference on college guidance, to be held at Stanford University, where he will be chairman of a discussion section on guidance activities of federal agencies.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

J. Duncan Spaeth, long-time member of the faculty of Princeton and recently elected president of Kansas City University, who will deliver the commencement address at the University in McArthur Court on June 1.

ALUMNI

Class Reunions Set

The reunion of members of six University classes on Saturday, May 30th, Alumni Day, will be the high spot of Commencement activities this year. Added enthusiasm has been given to arrangements for the event this year by the fact that the entire weekend of events is to be held while regular classes are still in session, affording alumni the opportunity of returning to a fully populated campus, and giving undergraduate students opportunity to participate in Commencement events for the first time.

Classes to gather for reunion events, the climax of which will be the reunion dinners at 5:30 P.M. on Saturday are: 1886, 1896, 1906, 1911, 1916 and 1926. Letters from permanent class secretaries have been sent to all members of these classes and reports indicate that a larger number of alumni than usual is planning to be on hand. Although in some cases final arrangements for the reunion dinners of the six celebrating classes have not been made, the information will be available at the alumni registration booth in Johnson hall all day Saturday.

Annual Breakfast Planned

Two other strictly alumni events are listed for the day. First, the annual meeting and breakfast of the State Association of University of Oregon Women to be held at the Osburn Hotel at 9 A.M. Mrs. Ella T. Edmunson, '03, is president of the organization and general chairman in charge of the affair. Honor guests will include Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter, Mrs. C. V. Boyer, women members of the class of 1886 and all senior women. Reservations may be made at the hotel. Tickets will be 50 cents.

The other alumni event is to be the semi-annual meeting of the University of Oregon Alumni Association to be held in Guild Theatre, Johnson Hall at 10:30 A.M. with President Ben R. Chandler, '13, presiding.

Luncheon at Noon

At noon on Saturday, the annual University luncheon, honoring the alumni of the anniversary classes and graduating seniors, will be held at the John Straub Memorial Building. Alumni President Chandler will preside as toastmaster. Chancellor Frederick M. Hunter has been asked to address the group. Representatives of the six honored classes and the senior class will be called on. Tickets will be 60 cents. The annual flower and fern procession at the site of the Pioneer Mother statue will wind up the events of the day.

On Friday, 3 to 5 P.M. will be held the annual tea benefiting the Pauline Potter Homer collection of beautiful books, and in the evening at 8 P.M. the annual Failing-Beekman orations will be held in the auditorium of the School of Music.

O'Hara, Spaeth to Speak

Baccalaureate services are scheduled for 11 A.M. Sunday, May 31st, at McArthur Court. Bishop Edwin V. O'Hara of Great Falls, Montana, and formerly of Eugene, will give the address, entitled: "The More Excellent Way."

J. Duncan Spaeth, long-time member of the faculty at Princeton and recently elected president of the University of Kansas City, will deliver the Commencement address. Commencement exercises will also be held in McArthur Court, at 8 P.M. on Monday, June 1. Dr. Spaeth, who has been a frequent campus visitor and a professor at numerous summer sessions in Portland, has chosen as his topic: "Training for Freedom."

EMPLOYMENT

Graduates to Be Aided

Approval of the state board of higher education was given during May to the establishment of an employment service for graduates and former students of the University. The work will be carried on in connection with the present employment service conducted by the University for its undergraduates. The new service was designed by Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel and President C. V. Boyer, and will be under the direction of Miss Janet Smith, present employment secretary.

The new work will differ from that already being carried on in that it will attempt to place in permanent positions those graduates and former students who seek permanent employment. It will concern itself chiefly with persons whose courses of study while in-school were not in the professional schools, where employment services are already being conducted by the schools themselves, such as journalism, law and education.

Small Fee Charged

A $3 registration fee, similar to the fee required by the placement bureau of the school of education, will be charged, according to Dean Onthank. An additional fee of twenty-five cents will be asked when credentials are sent to prospective employers. An aggressive campaign to interest employers in the service is being planned by Director Smith. Both alumni who would like to register and alumni who are in a position to employ University graduates have been asked to get in touch with Miss Smith. The co-operation of the alumni office has been extended Dean Onthank and Miss Smith in this new project.

Oregana Praised

The 1936 edition of the Oregana, student yearbook, was distributed to student subscribers during the Junior Weekend, and the book was declared to be the largest and best ever to be published by the student body. The volume was divided into four sections instead of the usual ten or twelve, and contained almost twice as many pictures as usual. The first section of about 80 pages was almost entirely pictures, reproduced by offset printing, heretofore unused in the Oregana. George Root, editor, and Ralph Schomp, assistant graduate manager in charge of publications, received many congratulations on the excellence of the book.

TRACK

Tie for First

Victory in a dual meet with Washington State and defeat in a dual meet with the University of Washington placed Oregon's varsity track team, coached by the veteran Bill Hayward, in a tie for first among northwest cinder squads.

After trouncing Oregon State in seven of ten events in the annual relay meet, the Ducks continued their winning ways by edging out Washington State, 69½ to 61½, on Hayward field.

Oregon won nine first places to six for the Cougars. Four dual meet records and two Hayward field marks were shattered by the competing athletes. George Scharpf won the mile in 4:21.3, Marvin Janak high-jumped 6 feet 1¾ inches, and Sam McGaughey won the two-mile event in 9:44.6 for Oregon's share of the new meet records. Bill Foscett heaved the shot 48 feet 2¾ inches for the best mark ever made by an Oregon man in that event and Bud Shoemaker tied the dual meet mark with a time of 9.8 in the hundred.

Other firsts captured by Hayward's men were by Janak in the pole vault, Fred Sinnette in the low hurdles, Shoemaker in the 220, and Ken Miller in the 880.

Huskies Win

Hec Edmundson brought his Washington Huskies to Hayward field the following Saturday to defeat the Webfoots, 74 to 57.

The well-balanced Husky team took nine of the 15 first places and swept all three places in the high and low hurdles to earn its victory. Frank "Squeak" Lloyd, versatile Oregon sophomore, cracked a northwest record that had stood for 30 years by leaping 25 feet 4¾ inches in the broad jump. Dan Kelley set the previous mark of 24 feet 3 inches on old Kincaid field in Eugene in 1906.

Other Oregon firsts were turned in by Shoemaker in the 100-yard dash, Foscett in the shot put, Janak in the pole vault, McGaughey in the two-mile, and Leonard (Dutch) Holland in the discus.

Oregon Wins A.A.U. Meet

In the first state A.A.U. meet ever held in Oregon, the Webfoot cindermen ran up 79 1-3 points to 21 for the second-place University of Portland team.

Sam McGaughey turned in the outstanding running performance of the day with a 4:03.7 time in the 1500 meters. His time was equivalent to 4:19 in the mile. Holland tossed the discus 150 feet 2 inches and Foscett heaved the shot 49 feet 9 inches for the longest marks made in the northwest this year. Bob Parke, who set an N.C.A.A. javelin record while wearing Oregon colors in 1934, began a comeback with a throw of 203 feet 8 inches.

BASEBALL

In Second Place

Even breaks with Washington State and Washington and a two-game sweep from cellar-bound Idaho gave Howard Hobson's Oregon varsity four victories in six starts on its seven-day road trip ended last week. As a result of its play the Webfoots entered the final week of the season in second place in the northern division conference standings.

Three games, all with Oregon State, remain on the Oregon schedule. Should the Ducks win all three and the leading Oregon State Cougars drop two of the four left on their schedule, the 1936 pennant race will end in a tie.

W.S.C. Series Split

Following its 4 to 3 opening victory over Oregon State the Webfoots were rained out of their first home game with W.S.C. with the score tied at one all in the fifth inning. A double-header the following afternoon resulted in a split, Oregon taking the opener 4 to 0 behind the fine pitching of Sophomore Bob Millard but dropping the second 9 to 0 with Cece Inman on the mound.

Idaho's Vandals pulled an upset in the first of their two-game series on Howe field by pounding Don McFadden for 13 hits and an 8 to 7 victory. It was McFadden's first defeat of the season. Bob Millard turned in his second victory of the season in the second Idaho tilt and Oregon won handily, 4 to 1.

The annual Junior week-end games with the University of Washington nine saw the same results. The Huskies smashed out 13 hits in the opener and won 6 to 5. Again Bob Millard took his turn in the second tilt and aided by good hitting rang up his third straight victory 11 to 6.

The McFadden-Millard combination continued to function in the same manner as the Webfoots took to the road at Pullman, Wash. Washington State collected enough safe blows off McFadden for a 10 to 3 victory in the opener, but with Millard on the mound the travelers more than avenged the loss with a lop-sided 14 to 1 victory.

Hobson changed his pitching routine against Idaho at Moscow and the Webfoots took both games. Cece Inman won the first as his teammates rallied to score four runs each in the sixth and eighth innings for a 10 to 4 victory. The following day Hobson sent lanky Earl Bucknum to the mound for his first conference start in three years. He held the slugging Vandals to six hits and himself hit twice to aid in a 4 to 2 victory.

Moving over to Seattle for the final games of the series four Webfoot chuckers were the victims of the hit-crazed Washington Huskies in the opening game there. McFadden, Inman, Bill Marshall and finally, John Lewis, regular shortstop, tried their turn on the mound as the Huskies won 15 to 1. Millard picked up his fifth straight victory the next afternoon in a thrilling eleven-inning game. Oregon tied the score in the ninth inning on Millard's timely single and won, 7 to 5, in the eleventh when McFadden doubled with Hurney and Goodin on base.

FOOTBALL

Notes on Spring Practice

Approximately 45 candidates for the 1936 University of Oregon varsity football eleven wound up the longest spring practice session in Webfoot history last week. The husky gridders spent nine of the ten weeks in the spring semester working out daily under the watchful eyes of Prink Callison and Gene Shields.

Several changes in positions were noted as the Webfoots played three intra-squad games in the final two weeks. To bolster the weak end position, reserve end, was shifted to the right wing post. He has had little experience as an end-man but his rangy build and unusually aggressive style of play stamp him as a good prospect.

* * *

Frank (Bud) Goodin, the sophomore halfback who spent most of last season on the bench with injuries, and Charles Bracher, lanky reserve fullback of the 1935 squad, also are due to move about next fall. Neither man has been on hand for spring practice. Goodin holding an infield spot on the varsity baseball nine and Brachers not in school. Goodin will move over to fullback, where he is slated to replace Frank Michak, while Bracher will return to his original job as a tackle.

* * *

Outstanding backfield performers in the practice tilts between picked teams which closed the spring session were Dale Lasselle and Jimmy Nicholson, left halfbacks; Bob Braddock, right half; Arleigh Bentley, 184-pound fullback. Standing out in line play were newcomers Ne'lo Giovanini, John Pastega, guards; Henry Nilsen, Lenard Robertson, ends.

The Largest Fleet of Air-conditioned Trains in the West!

It WASN'T long ago when you took hot weather for granted on summer trips. You just sat and sweated, no matter what kind of conveyance you were riding in.

But this summer all that is changed. Even if the temperature outside is so hot that you can fry eggs on the rocks, Southern Pacific's air-conditioned trains will be delightfully cool and clean, with no dust or dirt to soil your clothes. Every Southern Pacific train to California and the east is completely air-conditioned.

Cool Weather Fleet

This summer Southern Pacific will offer you the largest fleet of air-conditioned trains in the west:

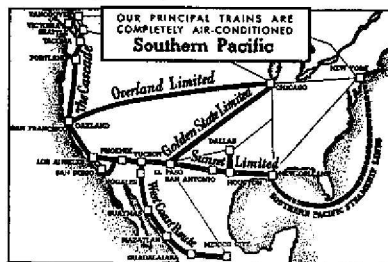

Cascade, Klamath and Shasta (Portland-San Francisco), West Coast (Portland-Los Angeles), Overland Limited and Pacific Limited (San Francisco-Chicago), Sunset Limited (San Francisco-New Orleans), Golden State Limited and Apache (Los Angeles-Chicago), and many more.

Free Ticket Through California

On your roundtrip east from most western Oregon and Washington points, you can include California on either the going or returning journey for not 1¢ more rail fare than the lowest roundtrip directly east and back. In effect, a free ticket through California.

Summer roundtrips are surprisingly low. For example, from Portland and Seattle to Chicago and back: $86 in standard Pullmans (plus berth), $68.80 in tourist sleeping cars (plus berth) and $57.35 in coaches and chair cars. Leave any day from now until October 15. Be back by midnight October 31.

Free Travel Service

Our new folder "Low Summer Fares East" is just off the press. For your copy, write J.A. Ormandy, Dept. SU-6, 705 Pacific Building, Portland, Oregon. We will be glad to answer any travel questions, or prepare a detailed itinerary for you. No charge, of course.

Do as the factory specifies

There is no safer lubrication

There are about 40 places on your car that call for lubrication at regular intervals. If but one of those 40 points is missed, you are heading for trouble—repairs, or perhaps a serious breakdown.

When you take your car to the Smiling Associated Dealer who displays the "Factory-Specified" sign he lubricates it exactly as the manufacturer intended. He uses the individual factory lubrication chart of your car. He can't miss a single lubrication point. Also, he sees to it the battery, steering gear, lights, spark plugs, fan belt, and tires are checked—that everything about your car is right for you to enjoy all the pleasures of Associated motoring.

Another Associated Sportscast

Track meets throughout the West are being presented on the air by Smiling Associated Dealers. Another friendly service by those who for eleven years have brought you football, basketball, crew races—and other amateur sports.

KEEPS MOTORS CLEANER...
HAS LONGER LUBRICATING LIFE

Made by the Propane-Solvent Process

TRITON does everything any fine motor oil can do to protect your motor—and in addition gives you a plus feature found in no other oil.

It keeps your motor cleaner—prevents the accumulation of carbon that causes the motor to knock.

Triton is so pure, due to the Propane-Solvent process by which it is refined, that it forms almost no carbon in the combustion chamber. Previous carbon deposits burn, peel off and blow out the exhaust as you drive.

Tests have proved that a new car run with Triton will never develop enough carbon to cause knocking with any grade of gasoline that was satisfactory at the start.

No wonder so many new car dealers, fleet operators, mechanics and other experts are enthusiastic about Triton.

Use Triton in your own car. Note how it smooths out your motor in a few thousand miles—improves your gasoline and oil mileage and reduces operating costs. It costs only 30c a quart in sealed cans. (35c in Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico.)
