President's Welcome

On behalf of the University of Oregon, I congratulate members of the class of 1979 and extend best wishes to their parents, families, and friends here assembled.

The completion of your degree program marks the successful conclusion of one endeavor and the beginning of another. We salute each individual whose accomplishments are recognized during these ceremonies.

William Boyd, President

The University

The University of Oregon opened its doors to 177 students on October 16, 1876. Today the University enrolls some 17,000 students. Its 932 faculty are engaged in teaching, research, and scholarship covering a broad range of humanistic, scientific, and professional knowledge.

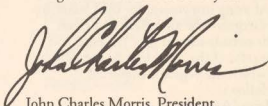

The campus houses 35 departments and special programs in the arts and sciences; nine professional schools and colleges; 12 research bureaus, institutes, and centers; and a graduate division.

The University's more than 80,000 alumni include two graduates who have won the Nobel Prize: William Parry Murphy, co-winner of the prize in 1934 for a development in the treatment of anemia, and Walter Houser Brattain, who won it in 1956 for the co-invention of the transistor. Seventeen Rhodes Scholars call the University of Oregon their alma mater.

The University is one of only 23 public schools in the nation to be selected for membership in the prestigious Association of American Universities.

Welcome to New Alumni

Congratulations and welcome to the University of Oregon Alumni Association. As graduates you may take part in any of the Association's activities, including foreign travel, reunions, vacation learning experiences, or one of the many alumni groups around the world. You also will receive copies of the alumni publications Old Oregon and Oregon Today. The Alumni Association is a great way to keep in touch with "Oregon." We're here to serve you.

John Charles Morris, President
Alumni Association

Academic Costume

The history of academic dress goes back several centuries, to the chilly universities where cap, gown, and hood were needed for covering and warmth. Subsequently this has become a ceremonial costume, with certain standardized features. For example, sleeves in the bachelor's gown are pointed, in the master's gown are oblong, in the doctor's gown are bell-shaped. Only the doctor's gown has velvet facing. The hood is lined with the official colors of the degree-conferring institution; for the University of Oregon these are yellow and green. The outside trimming of the hood and the color of the tassel signify the subject in which the degree is conferred, as follows:

Maize/Agriculture
White/Art, Letters, Humanities
Drab/Commerce, Accountancy, Business
Lilac/Dentistry
Copper/Economics
Light Blue/Education
Orange/Engineering
Brown/Fine Arts, including Architecture
Russet/Forestry
Crimson/Journalism
Purple/Law
Lemon/Library Science
Green/Medicine
Pink/Music
Apricot/Nursing
Silver Gray/Oratory, Speech
Olive Green/Pharmacy
Dark Blue/Philosophy
Sage Green/Physical Education
Peacock Blue/Public Administration, including Foreign Service
Salmon Pink/Public Health
Golden Yellow/Science
Citron/Social Work
Scarlet/Theology
Gray/Veterinary Science

At the University of Oregon it is customary for master's candidates to wear their hoods in the academic procession. Doctoral candidates carry their hoods and are hooded during the ceremony. Traditionally, baccalaureate candidates change tassels on their cap from front right to the front left as the degree is conferred. Caps are removed during prayer, the playing of The Pledge Song and during the commencement address if desired.

1979 Awards for Distinguished Service

The Distinguished Service Award is given to persons who by their knowledge and skills have made a significant contribution to the cultural development of Oregon or society as a whole. The Award was established by faculty legislation in 1956. There have been 61 recipients of the Award since that time.

William J. Bowerman

Athlete, coach, and innovator, William J. Bowerman has brought to Oregon the excitement of world-class and Olympic athletics and the achievements of nearly a quarter century of intercollegiate championship competition in track and field. As an athlete and a graduate of the University of Oregon, he enhanced his coaching style with a dedication to the development of the total intellectual, physical, and emotional capabilities of the athletes who trained with him. The effectiveness of his methods is witnessed by the accomplishments of his teams: ten undefeated dual meet seasons, four NCAA titles and teams ranking nationally in the top ten for sixteen years. He and his teams turned Eugene, Oregon, into "Track Town, U.S.A."

As an innovator, Bill Bowerman was instrumental in developing a new track surface and designing a better, lighter running shoe. In 1963, he introduced to Oregon the New Zealand sport of jogging. His conviction that jogging stimulates improved physical and mental well-being has become a national conviction. The millions who daily apply his gospel for physical fitness testify to the impact of jogging on the American way of life.

Edmund Hayes

Edmund Hayes, a leader of Oregon's forest industry for more than 50 years, has assisted his adopted state's institutions through his philanthropy and enriched its culture with his contributions to the study of its history. In developing and utilizing Oregon's forest resources, he has set high standards for conservation and helped to establish programs to persuade and to educate others about conservation. The "Keep Oregon Green" program and the Western Forestry Center are examples of these efforts. He has given freely of his personal resources and time to strengthen a variety of social and cultural organizations and foundations. A creative and productive scholar in Northwest and Oregon history in his own right, he also has stimulated and coordinated the efforts of others as an active participant and leader in the Oregon Historical Society.

Mrs. Victor P. Morris

A native of Oregon and a graduate of the University of Oregon with a master's degree in history, Grace Parker Morris has enriched the lives of countless Oregonians through her gifts as a master teacher. In an era largely unresponsive to the professional aspirations of women, she pursued an individualistic course of discriminating scholarship in the Bible and Pacific Northwest history. Simultaneously she pioneered approaches to illustrate the value and dignity of continuing education for adults. Throughout her lifetime she has shared her knowledge by speaking to hundreds of groups of people throughout the state and by teaching continuing education classes. Hers has been an inestimable contribution to the dissemination of knowledge and appreciation of history as it shapes and directs the lives of the citizens of this state.

1979 Ersted Award For Distinguished Teaching

This award was established in 1957 through a generous gift to the University from Mr. A. J. Ersted. The intent of the award is to recognize excellence in teaching. The award is normally given to younger faculty members who have demonstrated exceptional abilities to induce students to reason and not merely to memorize.

Robert Hurwitz

Robert Hurwitz, associate professor of music, is known as a teacher with enormous rapport with students. His personal style in presenting the subject matter to his classes is the key to his success. He has been able to generate enthusiasm for the highly structured musicianship courses he teaches. He invests a great deal of time in the preparation of his classes, using his own original materials rather than standard textbooks.

Esther Jacobson-Leong

Esther Jacobson-Leong, associate professor of art history and head of the department, is a specialist in the history of Oriental art and has sole responsibility for the University's offerings in that area. While eight professors teach courses on art of the western cultures, she alone teaches about the arts of the other half of the world. She is dynamic, forceful and very demanding of her students. Her lectures bring to life the fundamental concepts of Asian art.

Charles E. Johnson Memorial Award

This year marks the tenth anniversary of the death of Charles E. Johnson, dean of the College of Liberal Arts from 1963 to 1968 and acting president of the University of Oregon from July 11, 1968, until June 17, 1969. In his honor and to observe the anniversary, the University of Oregon Assembly has authorized the establishment of the Charles E. Johnson Memorial Award. The award is to be presented annually to a member of the academic staff of the University of Oregon for distinguished service to the University and its community. The achievements of the award winner will exemplify the principles affirmed by Charles E. Johnson during his academic career. The first Charles E. Johnson Memorial Award is to be presented at the June 8, 1980, Commencement ceremony. Further, the University Assembly has authorized the commission of a work of art, preferably a sculpture, to be displayed on the campus in memory of Charles E. Johnson.

Graduate Teaching Fellow Award

This award will be given for the first time at the 1979 June Commencement. It was established by the 1978-79 Mortar Board Chapter of the University of Oregon in cooperation with the Graduate School and the University Foundation. The intent is to give recognition to excellence in teaching and academic guidance. The awards will be given annually to two Graduate Teaching Fellows involved in either classroom or laboratory teaching.

Frances Cogan

Frances Cogan teaches a wide range of courses in the English department. She creates in her classroom an atmosphere that is at once relaxed and intellectually exciting. Her student evaluations rate her among the highest of the sixty Graduate Teaching Fellows in the department. What these students appreciate is the substantial nature of her discussions and the respect she feels for them as individuals. She is full of interpretive ideas and approaches her work with critical energy. She presents a model of what a truly humane and intellectually engaged teacher can be.

Christine Martin

Christine Martin teaches first-year German courses, including an accelerated course that covers a year's work in two terms. She makes this very demanding course both challenging and enjoyable for her students. Her ratings from them are invariably high. She has developed and employed helpful visual aids for her classroom, and her classes are always lively. She has the creative respect of the entire German faculty for her skills in teaching the language. She is sensitive to her students' academic achievements and personal welfare. She makes the rigors of beginning German a lively and rewarding adventure.
