Old Oregon

March 1938

Mexico District Federal.
Marsella 28.
March, 5, 1938.

Dear Bill:

I believe that I read with more than usual interest the copy of Old Oregon which was waiting for me here in Mexico on my recent return to the city, after two months spent traveling in Southern Mexico and Central America.

Sometimes after having pushed my burro over some pretty rough country for 14 hours, and as I sat on the ground in a poor Indian's hut dining on frijoles and tortillas, I wondered why I ever left the 19th street davenport. (Theta Chi house)

Since I've been in Mexico, I haven't met anyone from Oregon, so I guess that makes me the alumni association here.

Are you still studying Spanish? "Oregon" is certainly very fortunate in having Dr. Wright. The Spanish he teaches is very practical.

I've been having a grand time and many interesting experiences.

Please say hello to the brothers and any of my other friends, for me.

Fraternally,

DAVID B. LOWRY, '37

Gentlemen:

Enclosed you will find my check for $2.00, which entitles me to a renewal of membership in the U. of O. Alumni Association for the next year.

May I say that I look forward with a great deal of interest to receiving my copy of Old Oregon each month. It is a nice thing to be able to note the progress of our friends. Since I have been in Seattle, I have renewed many friendships that began when I was in school.

I hope that Old Oregon will continue to maintain its high standards as an Alumni publication.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MULDER, ex-'35.

Mr. Elmer Fansett,
Alumni Office,
University of Oregon,
Eugene, Oregon.

Dear Mr. Fansett:

On Sunday, March 6, a small but enthused group of Oregon graduates gathered at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles N. Reynolds, '11 and '12. Dr. Reynolds discussed various ways in which we could assist the University of Oregon by organizing a group of Oregon Alumni taking in those living in Palo Alto and other cities within a radius of 30 miles.

The temporary officers elected were Victor Rosenfeld, president, and Ellen Galey, secretary.

The first official meeting of the group will be held Sunday, April 3, at the Palo Alto Community Center, at which time the Alumni in the vicinity of Palo Alto will be welcome to attend. An open discussion will be held on the purposes and objectives of such an organization.

We hope that through this association the Alumni in the bay region will take notice and organize a similar group, thus enabling all Alumni in this part of California to help in promoting the interests of the University.

Very truly yours,

VICTOR ROSENFELD, '37,

I have recently accepted a position with United Airlines, and at present am located at the Oakland Municipal Airport. Since I have been here I have run across Dick Glenn, ex-'38, and Jim Stangier, '37. Dick is attending Boeing School here, and Jim is sailing for Manila in about a week. Enjoy every copy of Old Oregon thoroughly.

Gentlemen:

Enclosed is a $2.00 check covering my alumni dues for March 9, 1938, to March 9, 1939.

The statement that I eagerly await each issue of Old Oregon with interest is time-worn, but true. It provides the only contact I have with what is going on at school.

Sincerely,

JOSEPH SASWELL, G. '34.

(These two letters were received from Harry Dutton in rather rapid succession. They are both too good not to pass either one onto Old Oregon readers.—Ed.)

Old Oregon:

I can recall not so far back in post-depression history when a farmer got paid some money for pigs he did not raise. It all had to do with something called in those days . . . "New Deal" . . .

Now we have what General Toughie Johnson calls a "third New Deal" . . .

Which leads me to wonder. Last August I departed my then current address, The Lassen Advocate, Susanville, Cal. I mailed a note with the change to Old Oregon, and left a forwarding address in Susanville.

Notwithstanding, the last Old Oregon I've seen was the last one I received in Susanville, and if I'm not off on my dates I was supposed to be a subscriber (paid up, too) (and eligible to "subscriber rights") up to this (now waning) February.

I was just wondering if this is a new Roosevelt gag, to wit, I pay subscription fees for "not-receiving" Old Oregon? What "Deal" is it?

Anyhow, no offense. We'll blame it on Jim Farley's postal system. Meantime, I wonder if Old Oregon is still being dispensed, and if my non-participating subscription died this month end?

What I'm really interested in is the issue that will tell me something of the recent history of Coach Hobson's basketball squad. These southern California papers are too concerned with explaining away the weather, et al, to give any connected account of northern division sports activities . . . Today (Feb. 27) for instance I discovered a line in the Times "Oregon 40, Oregon State 22."

That should have had front page headlines, except for Seabiscuit and Indian Broom hogging the space. Well, you see what I'm up against. How's about wising me up on how to get off the "non-receiving" subscription list . . . so I can find out what's happening around the Igloo . . . or did that name go out with the Senior Bench.

HARRY DUTTON, '28.

March 15, 1938.

Dear Bill Pease:

Reviewing the success of your campus econs in so successfully solving and re-dealing my non-participating subscription, I perceive hope for the future. As a final and effective resort, when he tires of his "little businessmen's" White House lawn parties, Mr. Roosevelt can find his problems unhorsed by the Webfoot Business Ad Dept.

The "Old Oregon" series arrived yesterday and last night I brushed up, till the late hours, on history along the southern acres from the millrace.

For which thanks.

Meantime, keep "Old Oregon" coming. I'll forward the fee this weekend.

Why not enclose it under this cover you ask? Thereby hangs a short sad story (which has nothing to do with the recent Sunny Californian flood). It appears that in the sixth race at the recent Santa Anita handicap there was foul work afoot. I was all set for several subscriptions to Old Oregon (or the general equivalent) plus the back payments on my last hat.

The tip came from a fellow who made the burlap sack in which the seed were delivered to produce the hay for Sceneshifter's breakfast that very Saturday morning. With information like that who could lose?

Well, as is now history, Stagehand, not Sceneshifter, won.

Perhaps you get the picture. The past payments on my hat are still due, meantime I'm buying back the shirt which I lost (up to the neckband) through trusting an oat sack salesman. The next time I'll take George Turnbull's advice and wait till the race is over.

Sincerely,

HARRY DUTTON.

A Message From the New President

The Relationship of the Alumni to the University

To the Alumni of the University of Oregon:

Please allow me at the outset to thank you for the distinguished service which you have rendered to the University of Oregon on innumerable occasions. Your efforts have helped to save the University from disaster more than once; your personal accomplishments and distinctions make up a continuing source of inspiration and stimulation for those of us who are actually engaged in the work of the University. We are deeply grateful for what you have done and for what you are. Because your continued interest is so important to the University, I am thankful to the editor of OLD OREGON for this opportunity to say a few words concerning the general relationship between a university and its alumni.

The relationship between any university and its graduates implies a reciprocal responsibility. The University is under obligation to keep faith with you. You have a right to expect that it will endeavor to make you proud of having been a member of its student body. Within the limits of its resources the University must do the most distinguished job of educational service of which it is capable. It must strive to serve its constituency in such a way that your statement, "I am an Oregon graduate," will be a pardonable boast. On its standards of academic excellence, on its record of student accomplishment, on the eminence of its faculty scholars, on the quality of its public service it must stake its principal hope for your loyal support. The University must remember that no large group of alumni can be held in the ranks of the faithful if the University is content to sink into mediocrity. Alumni affection and alumni loyalty are sturdy things, but even they can languish if improperly nourished.

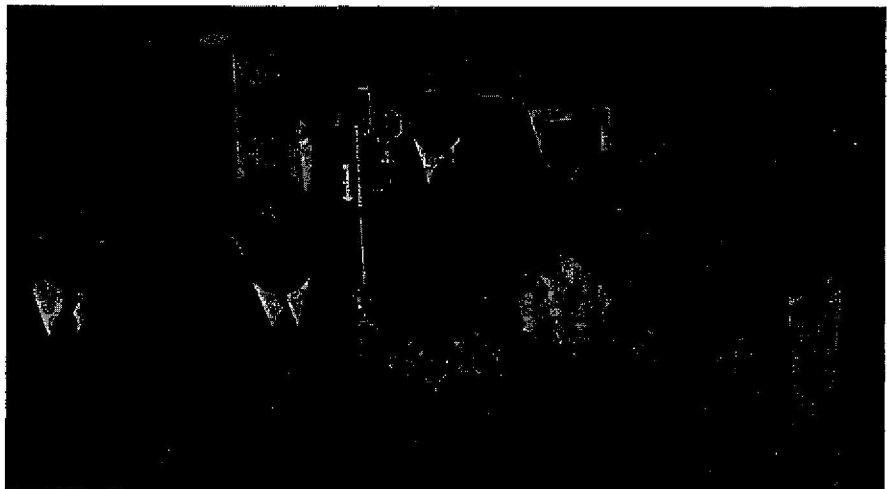

And what of the responsibility of the alumni to their alma mater? First, they should be patient. They should remember that, in the very nature of higher education, change is likely to be slow. A prerequisite of most constructive change is increasingly financial assistance, and that is not to be obtained by rubbing a magic lamp. Would that it were. Furthermore, a college or university is a community of persons, of human beings who have the usual prejudices and frailties and fine qualities, and to change the university is to change them. And that is slow. Second, the alumni should be tolerant. They should realize that on many questions concerning internal organization, curriculum, academic policy, and similar matters the resident staff and student body are the only ones who are in a position to arrive at conclusions of wisdom. Their conclusions may not always be those of wisdom, but they should be more nearly so more often than the conclusions of others who are not so immediately and intimately aware of and concerned with the problems of the University. Finally, the alumni should realize that they can do an enormous amount in a constructive way to help their alma mater. They can help bring about the solid improvement of the institution. They can support its quest for an ever higher type of student body. They can inform themselves in the multitudinous accomplishments of the University in the service of its students, the State, and the nation, and see to it that others hear of them. They can work for more generous financial support for the University. They can know that their assistance to their alma mater will constitute as fine an example of public service as they will ever perform.

If the alumni and the University keep faith with each other, many handicaps can be overcome. As the incoming president of the University of Oregon, I pledge myself to see that the University does its part.

DONALD M. ERB.

This distinguished group were at the speaker's table for the banquet honoring Dr. Erb, new president of the University given by the Portland alumni on March 17. Left to right they are: Dr. Bruce Baxter, president of Willamette university, who welcomed Dr. Erb in the name of the independent colleges of Oregon; Dr. Frederick M. Hunter, chancellor of the State Board of Higher Education; Dr. Erb is talking to Governor Charles H. Martin who greeted Dr. Erb. Standing behind the group is Roland S. Davis, president of the Portland Alumni group, who acted as toastmaster for the banquet.

Portland Alumni Honor Dr. Erb

A pledge to maintain and extend the University of Oregon as a "quality institution" was given by President Donald M. Erb to Portland alumni when they honored him with a large banquet March 17. The banquet gave Portlanders an opportunity to meet the University's new president.

To keep this pledge President Erb stressed that the University must continue a "selective process" of education which will produce whole men and remove any possibility that the University will turn into a "country club" for the "brilliant loafer." At the same time, he warned that the University must produce whole men who are well balanced and not "intellectual freaks."

President Erb said that the University's duty was to cultivate an aristocracy of intellects. The part of public service looms large, he said, and the University can well be the center of many projects. He gave as examples the Commonwealth conference and the Press conferences held on the campus each year.

Dr. Erb said that the aids for the University in this service are the present State System of Higher Education as exemplified by Chancellor Frederick Hunter and the State Board of Higher Education. Alumni, he said, can help by their continued interest, loyalty, and efforts to see that the right type of students are attracted to the University by the alumni's constant advertising of the institution. To do this, Dr. Erb pointed out, alumni must keep themselves posted of developments at the school and watch with active interest the progress of the University's many achievements.

University a Personality

The new president said that he visualized any university as a personality and praised Oregon's system of higher education which gives all the advantages of unification and yet allows the separate schools to remain entities.

Dr. Erb was introduced by Edgar W. Smith, ex-'09, who said that the two threatening obstacles to any university's end of the intellectual life were love of money and violence (war). As a counterbalance to this he cited the fact that many young men are taking more and more prominent roles in public life. The University he said, is very fortunate to have a young man like Dr. Erb as its head to aid in the building of a greater University.

Governor Charles H. Martin also spoke briefly at the meeting and welcomed Dr. Erb to the state. Dr. Erb's speech and the introduction by Mr. Smith were both broadcast over radio station KGW and were thus made available to alumni and friends of the University who were unable to attend.

Oldest alumni present were introduced. These were Mrs. Agnes McCornack Geary, graduate of 1880; Miss Susan W. Moore, graduate of 1884; and Mr. Jesse M. Wise, member of the class of 1887. Mrs. Geary is the mother of Arthur M. Geary, '10; Edward A. Geary, ex-'15; and Roland W. Geary, '17.

Roland S. Davis, '29, acted as toastmaster for the evening. Bert S. Gooding, ex-'26, headed the general committee for the banquet. Other committee chairmen were Mrs. Sheldon Dunning, Jr., ex-'34, arrangements; Kelsey Slocum, ex-'32, attendance; Ward Cook, '27, program and guests.

Fisk Gets Appointment

Judge Fred Fisk, '97, of Eugene has been nominated collector of customs for district number 29 by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. This is considered the final step in Fisk's appointment. Judge Fisk will fill the vacancy created by the death of Milton A. Miller, ex-'88.

Like Mr. Miller, Judge Fisk was for many years a Regent of the University and a life-long Democrat. Immediately after his graduation from the University, Judge Fisk entered the sheriff's office in Eugene as a deputy. He was appointed sheriff in 1903 and was elected to the office the next year and again in 1906.

In 1922 Fisk was elected state senator for Linn and Lane counties and served in the 1923 and 1925 legislatures. While a state senator he was named regent for the University and served until 1931, the last few years he was president of the board of regents.

Symphony at Medford

The University of Oregon symphony orchestra made its only 1938 appearance outside of the campus on Monday, March 28, when it gave a concert in the Holly theatre at Medford. The concert was one of the biggest affairs of the year with Mayor Furnas of Medford declaring March 28 as "Oregon Symphony Day."

The Garden club of Medford held its flower show in conjunction with the event. All southern Oregon music lovers turned out from Ashland, Grants Pass, Jacksonville, Central Point, Gold Hill and other places to help greet the Oregon group.

Twenty Eugene citizens drove their own cars to Medford to furnish the transportation for members of the orchestra. Carl Washburne of Eugene personally underwrote the trip in the interests of the University, and members of the Medford Mothers' groups arranged housing and entertainment for the orchestra members.

Lieutenant Roy Craft, ex-'33, of Medford acted as chairman of the committee and Paul Luy, ex-'28 was his co-chairman. Other Oregon alumni helping with arrangements were Mrs. E. H. Hedrick, ex-'24; Clara Mary Davis, ex-'35; Gertrude Butler, '25; William Cunningham, ex-'36, and Mrs. William Cunningham, '35, Fred Deuel, '29; Otto Frohnmayer, '29 and J.D. '33.

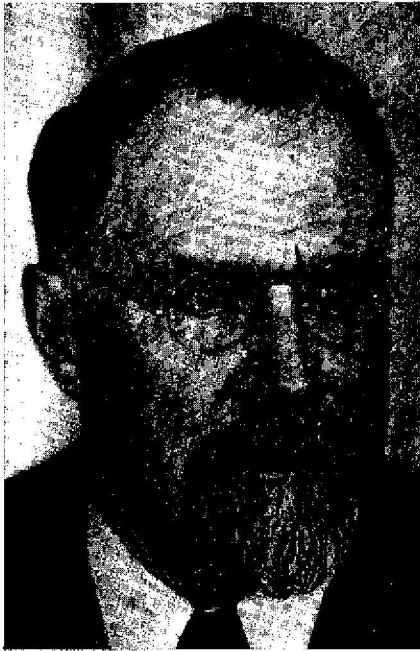

Mrs. Katherine Huntress, ex-'26; Charles W. James, ex-'33; Josephine Ralston Johnson, '29; Josephine Kirtley, '29; Thora Smith Lawrence, '21; Dollie A. Miller, '03; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Newbury, '21 and ex-'22; Helen Holt Wilson, ex-'27; and Mrs. Dolph Phipps, ex-'19. Mrs. Phipps was also chairman of the Mothers' committee on housing.

Jobs Open for Alumni

Miss Janet W. Smith, employment secretary of the University, reports that she has more jobs for graduates than she can fill. She urges alumni to write her and place their names on file in her office. During the past year many requests for people have come to her specifying University graduates with several years' experience.

The University library's file of OREGANAS is incomplete and copies for 1932 to 1937 are entirely lacking. Willis Warren, reserve librarian, has asked people having these issues to send them to the library to be placed in the permanent collections.

Bob Bailey, Portland, has been elected president of the University YMCA. Roy Vernstrom, vice-president; Kenneth Leatherman, secretary; and Ralph Severson, treasurer, were other officers named.

Dr. Philip A. Parsons, head of the department of sociology, will preside over the Commonwealth Conference when it meets in Eugene during April.

Study Crime Prevention

The study of prevention and investigation of crimes, parole and probation reform; and adult reformatories will occupy the annual Commonwealth conference to be held on the University campus April 18, 19, and 20. Dr. P. A. Parsons, head of the department of sociology, will serve as chairman of the conference.

The Prisons Industries Reorganization Administration, a federal organization, is sending R. E. Elwell, legal counsellor; James P. Davis, executive secretary, and Francis H. Hiller, consultant, from Washington, D. C., to attend the meeting. Judge Richard Hartshorne, Newark, N. J., chairman of the interstate commission on crime; Ralph G. Wales, director of the western branch of the National Probation association, and Inspector W. H. Drane Lester of the federal bureau of inspection will be in attendance and be featured speakers for the conference.

Dr. Weeks Gives $100,000

The $100,000 to match the appropriation of the Rockefeller Foundation appropriation for the erection of the University of Oregon medical school library was the personal gift of Dr. John E. Weeks of Portland, Dean R. B. Dillehunt announced. When Dean Dillehunt accepted the grant he announced that he had the guarantee of the needed "match money."

It was not until several weeks later that Dr. Dillehunt learned that Dr. Weeks was not pledging himself to raise the money, but rather was planning it a personal gift. Confirmation of the gift was received from Dr. Weeks who is at present on a trip to South America.

Dr. Weeks is a member of the library committee of the medical school and is regarded as the dean of ophthalmologists in North America. He has been a Portland resident since he retired from active practice in New York in 1927.

Research Conferences

The League of Oregon Cities and the University of Oregon Bureau of Municipal Research are conducting a series of regional meetings to discuss problems facing Oregon cities.

Herman Kehrl, bureau director, has been leading the groups in discussions of means for obtaining revenue to offset the decline in revenue when the pin-ball machines were ruled out, the role of the city in labor disputes, building codes and zoning ordinances, and codification of ordinances.

City officials, league representatives, and others interested are attending the various sessions which are informal. Meetings have been held in Marshfield, March 14; Medford, March 15; Eugene, March 29. Sessions will be held in McMinnville March 31; Oregon City, April 1; The Dalles, April 12; La Grande, April 13; and Pendleton, April 14.

Frager Weekend Chief

William Frager, Albany, has been named general chairman for the 1938 Junior Weekend. Mother's day programs, the junior prom, and the annual canoe fete will again be features of the weekend. Dick Williams, Portland, and Stanley Staiger, Vancouver, Washington, have been named co-chairman for the Frosh Glee, big freshman function of the year.

Tunnel Mile Long

The heating tunnel system at the University is now more than a mile in length, according to Will V. Norris, head of the building committee. More than $125,000 has been spent on the 5400-foot project.

The system is used to transmit steam pipes, telephone lines, and other underground lines. The tunnels are approximately six feet wide and seven feet high and are constructed of reinforced concrete.

Phi Psis Win Trophy

First prize for the most useful and educational program for pledge members has been awarded to the Oregon Alpha chapter of Phi Kappa Psi by the District of Columbia alumni association. The trophy was awarded in competition with all other chapters of the fraternity.

Enrollment May Pass 3000

For the third straight term, enrollment figures showed an increase over like periods of previous years. On the first day of spring term, registration material had been released to 2207 students compared with 2044 students in 1937. This represents an increase of eight per cent.

During the second day the total material released ran well over 2700, and it is expected that the final figure would reach 3000. This would be the first time in the history of the University that spring term registration went over 3000.

While Dr. Erb has arrived at Eugene to take over his duties as president, his family has remained in Palo Alto to allow his two daughters to finish the school year there. Above are his two daughters Barbara (left) and Betsy with "Smokey," the family pet. Below is Mrs. Erb.

Nash Collection Loaned to University

The John Henry Nash collection of rare books valued at more than $150,000 has been loaned to the University on a semi-permanent basis. Negotiations for the loan were made during Spring vacation by Dr. Nash, Dr. Erb, and Dean Allen of the journalism school.

The 2400 rare books are to be placed in the special collection room and Dr. Nash is also sending the furnishings of his library room and these will form a part of the loan.

Included in the collection are: Eusebius, printed in Venice in 1470 by Jensen—the first book in Roman type. Rattolt's Calendarium, the first book to have a title page printed in 1476; and the first book printed in italics. This was the work of Aldus Manutius who cut the italic type in 1501.

Mary Lowell Rebec

Mary Lowell Rebec, wife of Dean George Rebec, died February 28 after a short illness. Funeral services were read by Dr. C. V. Boyer, former president of the University.

Mrs. Rebec was born in Union City, Michigan. She received her B.A. and M.A. degrees at Michigan university, where Dr. Rebec was a faculty member. She taught at Minnesota Normal school, was an instructor in English at Vassar college and head of the English department at Western Michigan Teachers' college before coming to Oregon in 1911. She and Dr. Rebec moved to Eugene in 1922 after Dr. Rebec had established the extension division in Portland.

Mrs. Rebec was the mother of Mrs. Elizabeth Rebec Van Nice, '32, and mother-in-law of Robert Van Nice, B. A. '34 and B. Arch. '35, both of whom are at the present time doing archaeological work in Paris, France, and Istanbul, Turkey.

$9755 Old Libe Allotment

Grants totalling $9755 have been received by campus WPA heads to complete the second part of the work on the old library which has been turned into quarters for the law school. Of this money $6655 was received from the WPA and the University granted $3100.

Enough work has already been done on the project so that the law library has been housed in the building since the first of the year. This second section of the work will cover the completion of the administration offices and work space for the bureau of municipal research, and for painting law school offices and classrooms.

Completion of this work will leave the north side of the basement and second floor uncompleted. $14,000 will be spent on the third section of the work. Completion of the project is expected in June.

Allen Conducts Forum

Jay Allen, ex-'23, for a great while foreign correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, conducted a peace forum in Portland on March 26. The forum was designed to reveal what the younger generation's beliefs are anent the situation.

The meeting was conducted by a national magazine and three University students, Robert Recken and William Scott of Portland, and Jack Enders, Medford, were invited to attend.

Miss Stetson AWS Head

Miss Elisabeth Stetson, Eugene, was a landslide winner of the Associated Women Students' election held at the close of winter term. Ruth Ketchum, Vale, was elected president of the YWCA at the same time. Other AWS officers are: Peggy Jane Peebler, vice-president; Anne Fredericksen, secretary; Jean Bonness, treasurer; Peggy Robbins, reporter; and Barbara Pierce, sergeant-at-arms.

YWCA officers were: Margaret Goldsmith, vice-president; Bettylou Swart, treasurer; and Mary Failing, secretary.

Betty Riesch, Portland, was elected head of the WAA; Jean Kendall, vice-president; Jane Montgomery, secretary; Helen Howell, treasurer; Edna Carlson, custodian; Joanne Riesch, sergeant-at-arms.

Hunter Talks to Educators

Dr. Hunter, chancellor of the state system of higher education, addressed the 68th annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators when that group met in Atlantic City during March. Dr. Hunter's speech was on "The Next Step in American Education."

He plead for a philosophy of education that would provide equality of human personalities before divine and human sovereignty; equal educational opportunities in accordance with the capacity for assimilation; recognition of curative power for social ills; acknowledgement of the teacher's contribution to national wealth; recognition of the need for a prepared leadership in the political structure.

When John Henry Nash decided to give his valuable collection of rare books to the University, he traveled to Eugene where he (center) met with President Donald Erb (right) and Dean Allen of the journalism school to arrange the details of the semi-permanent loan.

Mrs. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, is busily engaging on committee work for the participation of Oregon women in the New York World's Fair. Mrs. Schwering is chairman of the state committee.

Symphony on NBC

A little more than a year after their initial appearance on the NBC national network, the University symphony orchestra gave a half-hour concert over the Red network on March 13. The program was broadcast directly from the auditorium of the Music school.

George Hopkins, professor of piano, was featured soloist of the broadcast and played the rondo from the "Emperor" concerto. The string orchestra, with Mollie Bob Small as solo violinist, presented the prelude to the "Deluge" by Saint-Saens.

Other numbers played were the intermezzo from the Wolf-Ferrari "Jewels of the Madonna"; Smetana's "Dance of the Comedians"; and the "Caprice Espagnole" by Rimsky-Korsakov.

Marks Reappointed

Willard L. Marks has been reappointed by Governor Charles H. Martin to serve a second term on the State Board of Higher Education. Marks is now chairman of the board and has been a member since the board came into being. His new commission runs until March 1947.

Football Stag Lunch

"Tex" Oliver, new head football coach, will meet with Portland alumni on March 30 at a stag luncheon to be given in his honor. The affair is for the alumni and friends of the Oregon athletic department.

Coach Oliver will give the Portland group an idea of the type of football play he expects to use at Oregon this fall and will also explain how his famous football "clinics" are conducted for the benefit of the spectator.

Omar (Slug) Palmer, ex-'32, is in general charge of the luncheon. Merwin Rankin, '11; Bob Mautz, I.L.B. '27; Brian Minnaugh, '32; Tom Stoddard, '30; and Bob Bishop, '32, are all assisting Palmer.

Hoyt Assembly Speaker

Pointing out that freedom of the press was more necessary to the private individual than to the newspaper publisher, E. Palmer Hoyt, '23, managing editor of the Oregonian addressed a recent student body assembly.

Mr. Hoyt showed that newspapers do splendidly financially under dictatorship, but that only an unbridled press can secure safety for the individual. "Freedom of the press is not the privilege of the American publishers but the right of the American people," the journalist told the students.

"Little Colonel" Quits

Mary Jane Mahoney, "Little Colonel" at the 1938 military ball, has withdrawn from the University spring term to aid her father, Willis K. Mahoney, in his campaign for the democratic nomination for United States senator. Miss Mahoney is already a veteran in campaign work, having helped her father two years ago in his quest for the senatorship.

Paul R. Washke, professor of physical education, has accepted an invitation from the University of Texas to teach at her summer session. Washke leaves for Texas in June to teach a six weeks course in health education.

Kirk Eldridge, Portland, headed the spring term ASUO card drive. He was assisted by Catherine Taylor, Wauna; Lloyd Hoffman, Portland; Clyde Carroll and Jane Slatky of Portland; and Wendell Brooks, Eugene.

The open shelf reserve reading room of the new library taken during a quiet period in the afternoon. This room extends the entire length of the center wing and is on the front side of the second floor. Across the hall are the open shelf reserves where students wait on themselves. Upper division courses only have the reserve books here. At the far end may be seen the panel of wood carving which depicts scenes in Oregon forests.

Webfoots Win Northern Division Title

By Hubard Kuokka

(See Cover)

Coming out of a dangerous home stretch slump which dropped them from first place to third place in conference standings, the University of Oregon basketball team played its way to the webfoots' first northern division basketball championship in 11 years, and the right to play Stanford, southern conference winner, for the coast championship.

A double barreled defeat in the hands of Idaho on the Moscow court February 11 and 12 set the skids under the towering Webfoots and a defeat in Pullman by Washington State February 14, dropped the Webfoots to third place. However, substantial victories over Idaho and Oregon State in the final games of the season and the elimination of Washington State by Washington gave the championship to the Webfoots with 14 wins and 6 defeats.

In the coast championship playoff series held in San Francisco and Palo Alto the Stanford Indians sparked by the high-scoring Hank Luisetti were too much for the Oregon boys and the Stanford team won its third successive coast basketball championship by defeating the Webfoots, 52 to 39, and 59 to 51, in the first two games of a scheduled three game playoff series.

Oregon 39, Stanford 52

Oregon led at 22 to 18 with two minutes to go in the first part of the first game but Stanford rallied and took the lead for good. Luisetti scored 20 points in this game for high point honors and Laddie Gale followed with 12.

In the second game the Oregon offense faltered again after a fighting first half during which they built up an 11 to 4 lead before Stanford began to click. Stanford closed the gap and at half time was ahead 29 to 26. After that Stanford scored frequently on long shots. Luisetti scored 26 points in this game but Gale was again second with 18.

Idaho Takes Two

The first Pullman game between Oregon and Washington State on February 14 followed hectic Friday and Saturday nights when the University of Idaho Vandals defeated the Ducks twice, 33-28 and 35-34, to bounce them out of the northern division league leadership into second place.

Washington State succumbed, 34 to 44, to Oregon's ferocious running attack which again put the Webfoots on top of the heap. Anet and Johansen were the cleverest ball handlers of the evening, but it was their teammate, Slim Wintermute, who piled in 12 points for the scoring honors of the evening.

The score was 20 to 14 at the half but by the middle of the second period the Webfoots had taken the lead, 33 to 22. Washington State also played a fast brand of ball and both teams were close in their checking, but only 20 fouls were called in the game.

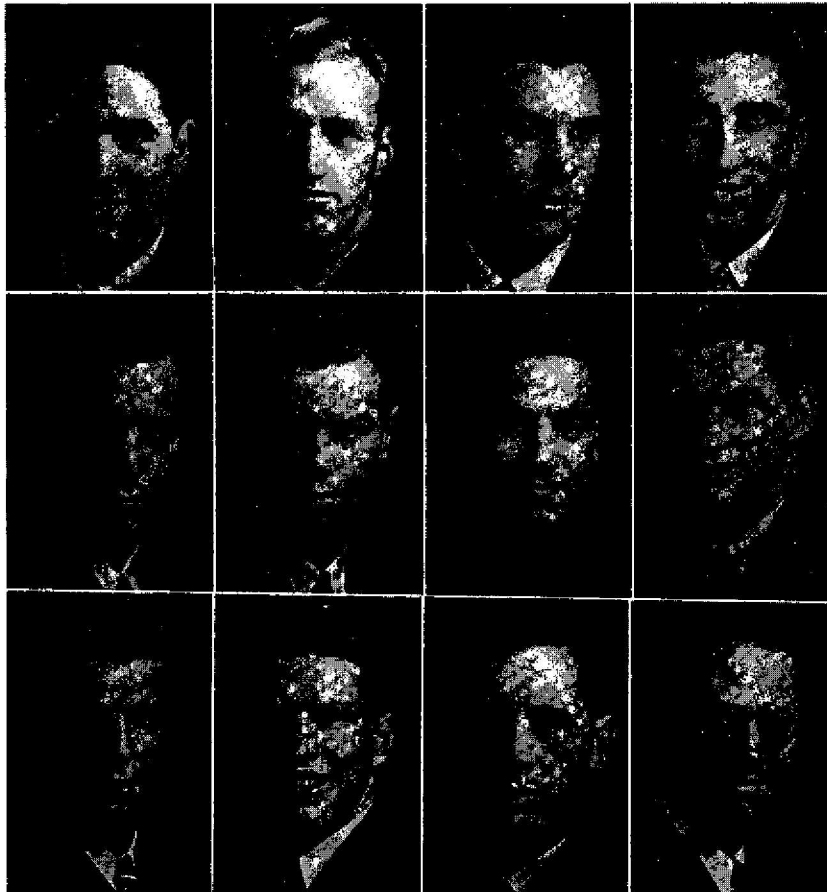

The following evening the Cougars started running the ball fast and the Ducks were outscored in their own kind of a game. Score: W.S.C. 44, Oregon 37. The Cougars definitely outclassed the Ducks in passing, shooting and snappy ball handling.

After the first few minutes, W.S.C. led all the way. The half time score was 20 to 14 in their favor. Oregon started the second half by slamming in several buckets to crawl up on the Cougar lead, but the home boys went on a scoring bender and in the final minutes fell into one of their effective stalls. Oregon dropped from the Coach Howard Hobson can well smile as he thinks of 1938 basketball team which won the northern division title and journeyed to Palo Alto for the coast conference playoffs with Stanford. "Hobbie" is now busy grooming the Webfoot baseball club to defend its 1937 title.

The 1938 Northern Division Champions

league leadership to the third place. W.S.C. took the lead and the ambitious Vandals guarded the second place.

Idaho was going hot when it reached Eugene on its road trip. The Vandals had defeated the Oregon State Beavers, 34 to 32 and 29 to 22, and were favorites to knock over the Webfoots.

Ducks Swamp Vandals

The Webfoots drubbed the Vandals, 68 to 41, however, to move up into a tie with Idaho for second place; and on the following evening shellacked them again, 41 to 24, to put Idaho into third place.

In the first game Idaho had a seven to six lead a third of the way into the first half. Buckets by Johansen, Anet, and Wintermute started the Oregonians to clicking, and with six minutes to go Sarpola went in, caught fire, flipped in four baskets. With the aid of John Dick and Wintermute, Sarpola rolled in 14 points by half time to lead, 35 to 18. In the second half Oregon got hotter and hotter against the Idaho man-to-man defense to make a total of 68 points. Sarpola was high man with 14 points and Gale was next with 13.

The final Oregon victory over Idaho was easily accomplished. Oregon's zone defense held Idaho to two field goals in the first 20 minutes; it was nine minutes before the Vandals dropped in their first field shot. In the second half Idaho was unable to crack the Oregon defense for more than 6 points.

On Saturday of the same week (February 26) Oregon defeated Oregon State, 40 to 22, on the Igloo floor, with Oregon State trying hard to slow the Webfoots up. Gale with 5 field goals and 8 free throws totaled 18 points for high. Wintermute made 14 points and served well in batting the OSC shots off the backboard. The victory left the Webfoots still in second place but only .02 of a point behind the leading Cougars.

That same evening Washington State defeated Idaho, 43 to 34, but on the following Monday the Vandals kept their word to the Oregon team and beat the Cougars, 41 to 34. Two more defeats in the hands of the Huskies put the Washington Staters out of the running for the championship and the final Oregon victory over Oregon State gave the Webfoots their northern division championship.

Oregon 38, O.S.C. 33

This all-important final game was one of the most fiercely fought contests in the entire season. The Ducks were tense, nervous, and under a heavy strain; and the Staters were bent on winning. The score see-sawed back and forth and was tied five times. O.S.C. led, 15 to 13, at the half. Then Anet started the new half with a two-pointer and Johansen scored on a couple of O.S.C. fumbles. The Webfoot jitters seemed to disappear and the Oregon boys began to play ball.

Oregon State followed closely behind and with eight minutes to go, rallied and forged ahead, 27 to 26. Anet and Silver put the Webfoots seven points ahead, but another O.S.C. rally came and with one minute fifty seconds to go the score stood 34 to 33 in favor of Oregon. John Dick and Laddie Gale converted on O.S.C. fouls and a field goal by Dick put the game and the northern division championship on ice. Score—Oregon 38, Oregon State 33.

WALLY JOHANSEN, Oregon	20	52	33	51	137

The championship Oregon basketball team was tops in total field goals and foul shots scored in the 1938 season with 347 floor shots and 251 conversions. Laddie Gale set a new record of 249 points for high scoring honors for the 20-game season as high man in both field goals and free throws, having swished the basket 81 times from the floor and 87 times from the free throw line. His 16-game total was 202 points. His total for the first 16 games was 202 points which surpassed by 15 points the 187-point record set up by Wally Palmberg of O.S.C. in 1936 under the former 16-game schedule.

Bob Anet, driving Duck guard, was the "bad man" of the conference with 59 fouls marked against him. Mal Harris of Oregon State was second with 58 personals.

Ralph "Big Bill" Cole Named Line Coach

Ralph W. Cole, an ex-University of Southern California grid star and for 11 years coach at Tustin, California, high school, has been signed as line coach for the Webfoots. Cole replaces Gene Shields who resigned last month.

Cole was recommended by "Tex" Oliver, new head coach, and will act as number one assistant. Mike Mikulak will remain during spring practice as backfield coach.

Cole played on the 1922, 1923, and 1924 USC elevens and in his senior year was all-coast tackle. He was also the punter for the Trojan team.

Cole's record at Tustin (near Santa Ana) has been remarkable. Since his location there in 1927 his teams have won ten championships in football, basketball, and baseball. He has had a great deal of experience and has attended numerous schools conducted by Howard Jones, Knute Rockne, "Pop" Warner and others.

Cole has arrived in Eugene and has started work with Oliver on spring football practice.

Nello Giovanini, Ron Husk, Cece Walden, guards; Elroy Jensen, Clifford Morris, Merle Peters, tackles; John Yerby, Bud Robertson, Vic Reginato, and Rod Speetzen, ends; and Henry Nilsen, Dennis Donovan, Jay Graybeal, Dave Gammon, Jimmy Nicholson, Bob Smith, Ted Gebhardt, Steve Anderson, Paul Rowe, Bill Rach, and Frank Emmons, backs.

Those missing will be Vern Moore and Denny Breaid, centers; Captain Tony Amato, Joe Huston, guards; Chuck Bracher, and Bill Estes, tackles; and Arleigh Bentley, Dale Lasseile, and Don Kennedy, backs.

Varsity Baseball

Coach Howard Hobson, leaves his championship basketball team to turn to his 1937 championship baseball team with less than two weeks of practice before the first game with University of Portland.

Hobson is minus pitchers, Bill Sayles, who joined the Boston Red Sox this winter, and Johnny Lewis who graduated. Letterman pitchers back are Bob Hardy, southpaw, and Bill Marshall.

Not a letterman is out for the catcher's job vacated by John Thomas last year, and a new outfield will have to be chosen to replace Andy Hurney, Ralph Amato and Cliff McLean. The only letterman outfielder back is Jimmy Nicholson.

Last year's infield of Gale Smith, first base; Jack Coleman, second; Jack Gordon, short stop; and Captain Ford Mullen, third, are all back.

This spring's pre-season schedule for the Ducks is as follows:

- April 1—Portland University at Eugene
- April 2—Portland University at Portland
- April 5—Linfield at McMinnville
- April 8—Willamette at Eugene
- April 9—Willamette at Salem
- April 11—Linfield at Eugene
- April 12—Oregon Normal at Monmouth
- April 15—Willamette at Eugene
- April 16—Willamette at Salem
- April 19—Oregon Normal at Eugene

Varoff Places Second

George Varoff, indoor pole vault world record holder, placed second to Richard Ganslen of Columbia in the vaulting at the national AAU indoor track and field meets held in Madison Square Garden recently. Both Ganslen and Varoff tied at 13 feet 6 inches but the former was awarded the win because he cleared the bar in fewer attempts than the blond Webfoot.

Spring Football Starts

About 55 football men turned out for spring practice on the first day of the spring term under the guidance of the new head coach "Tex" Oliver who came to Oregon from the University of Arizona as the Webfoots' 14th grid-iron mentor.

Oliver's first task was to size up and get acquainted with his material and to select the men for the various positions. First workouts will consist of basic drills, a study of new formations and shifts, and then a gradually working up of new plays and assignments.

Twenty-one lettermen were on hand for the spring practice, among them Dave Gammon, sharp shooting passer who was out during last football season. The returning lettermen are:

Ralph (Big Bill) Cole comes to Oregon from Tustin, California, high school. He will be "Tex" Oliver's No. 1 assistant and line coach. Cole's high school football, baseball, and basketball teams won ten championships since 1927.

Frosh Basketball

The University of Oregon freshman basketball team, under John Warren, concluded a highly successful season with 16 victories in 17 games. The highlight of the season for the hard-driving Ducklings was the clean sweep of the annual four-game series with the Oregon State rooks. Two times the Warren men piled up 55 points for a new high for the series.

The Oregon frosh won the Rook games: 51-31, 46-41, 55-40, and 55-35. The only defeat of the season was suffered at the hands of the Wendling Cardinals, Lane county independent league champions, who beat the frosh, 31 to 27.

The Ducklings averaged 49.9 points per game to pile up 848 points against their opponents' 486 points with an average of 28.6 points per start.

Among those spotted by Varsity Coach Howard Hobson as promising material for future Oregon varsity teams are Archie Marshik and Chet Allen 6 foot 6 inch centers or forwards; Earl Sandness, 6 foot 4 inch forward, and Evert McNeely, George Andrews, Harold Hofman, and Toivo Piipo, guards.

Rifle Team Wins Division Championship

The University of Oregon rifle team won the championship of the northern division of the ninth corps area in competition this winter, and will be eligible to participate in the national championship shooting matches during the spring.

With a total score of 3724 the Oregon team led other squads of northwest colleges, and were well ahead of the second place Washington State College team. Two Eugene boys, William Gieseke and Stanley Warren tied for top honors on the team with scores of 386.

The Oregon State shooting team defeated the Webfoot rifle men twice during the season, once by a score of 5599 to 5510 (6400 possible points) at Corvallis; and by a score of 2780 to 2757 (3200 points possible).

The women's rifle team scored ten victories and one tie in 11 postal matches shot this year. In the last match the "marks maids" totalled 495 points to top co-ed shooters of Cornell, Syracuse, Georgia, Kansas State, and Washington at St. Louis.

High individual scorers were Constance Kletzer, 100; Marjorie Bates, 100; Dorothy Burke, 99; Louise Woodruff, 99; Virginia Enokson, 98; Barbara Stallcup, 98; Catherine Miller, 97; and Ruth Ketchum, 97.

Spring Sports

Track, baseball, tennis, and golf are catching the interest of spring-minded athletes on the campus.

Bill Hayward's track team will be built around two of the nation's outstanding athletes, George Varoff, world's record breaking pole vaulter, and Mack Robinson, 1936 Olympic sprinter and broad jumper.

Other outstanding athletes who are expected to be on hand for the spring cinder season are Bill Foskett northwest champion shot putter last year, Captain Leonard (Dutch) Holland, weight man who throws the discus around the 155 foot mark and Elmer Koskella, who threw the javelin over 200 feet last year.

By winning championships in both A and B league intramural basketball Alpha Tau Omega took over first place in the battle for the intramural championship, nosing out Phi Delta Theta, high pointers for the fall term.

Tennis Schedule

Prospects were bright for a successful varsity tennis season when five lettermen, four promising junior college transfers and seven sophomores applied for berths on Coach Paul Washke's 1938 net squad at the beginning of the spring term.

Missing from last year's team are Captain John Economus and Al Finke. Larry Crane and Chuck Eaton, No. 2 and No. 3 last year, and Bill Zimmerman return as two-year lettermen, and Jack Crawford and Rex Applegate, one-year lettermen.

Sixteen prospects will enter an elimination tournament to determine team matches. The 1938 varsity schedule is as follows:

- April 5—Oregon Normal at Eugene
- April 9—Gonzaga at Eugene
- April 12—Willamette at Eugene
- April 29—Idaho at Eugene
- April 30—Washington State at Eugene
- May 6—Oregon State at Eugene
- May 7—Oregon State at Corvallis
- May 10—Linfield at Eugene
- May 14—Willamette at Salem
- May 20—Linfield at McMinnville
- May 21—Washington at Seattle
- May 28—Northern division championships at Seattle

Tennis and Golf

Coach Paul Washke's Oregon tennis team has started an elimination tournament with 16 men to pick the material for this spring's net team, and Walt Cline, captain and coach of the golf squad, is sending his divot diggers over the fairways to choose his 1938 golf team.

Freshman track men are working under Art Holman and Ken Miller, former Webfoot stars, and the freshman baseball players are being groomed by "Honest John" Warren, frosh coach.

Lewis, Amato Turn Pro

Two members of Oregon's 1937 northern division championship baseball team, Johnny Lewis, pitcher, and Ralph Amato, second baseman, have signed with the Yakima Indians of the Western International league. Both were three year lettermen at Oregon.

Lewis played shortstop and third base during his first two years at the University but moved over to the pitchers box last year where his pitching helped the Webfoots win the championship. Amato, fast and tight playing infielder, was a transfer from Southern Oregon normal school in his sophomore year. Last year he batted over .300.

Wrestlers Take Defeats

The Linfield wrestling team defeated the newly formed University of Oregon matmen twice at the latter part of the winter term—19 to 10 at McArthur court and 18½ to 12½ at Linfield. Bill Lauderback, Oregon's 126-pounds, showed good form in pinning his opponent once and winning a decision from a heavier man the other time.

The boxing team suffered a 5 to 4 defeat in the hands of the Eugene Elks club in a smoker held in the new men's gym. The outstanding bout of the evening was the close decision won by Wayne Dillingham of the Elks from Pete Thorne of Oregon in the 165-pound class.

Varsity Swimming

Coach Hoyman's Webfoot swimming team lost, 37 to 31, in a close tank meet with the University of Washington natators when the Huskies visited Eugene. The victory came to the visitors in the final event of the day, the 400 yard relay. The seven points for the win changed the Oregon 31 to 30 lead to a 37 to 31 loss.

Jack Levy, blond distance man, won the 440 yard free style, Bert Myers nosed out the Huskies' Willie Langevin in the diving, and the 300-yard Webfoot medley relay of Levy, Lafferty, and Mallory won a first in the meet.

Levy saved the Oregon team from a complete shellacking in the hands of the Oregon State tank team in the final Oregon-Oregon State dual meet of the 1938 series at the Orange pool, when the Beavers won, 55 to 20. Levy won the 440 yard free style for the only Webfoot first place.

Ralph Lafferty was but a yard behind Rea of Oregon State in the breast stroke, and a newcomer, Pierce Mallory took third in both sprints for Oregon.

TRADITIONALLY

the UNIVERSITY hotel

EVER SINCE the Osburn was built it has been the University's hotel. Here the returning alumni, the distinguished guest, and the students' parents have found a sincere welcome and courteous treatment.

The finest dining room in the University city has been the scene of the University's largest banquets, and the private party or single person has found that their meals equal the best banquet with the same wholesome goodness and dignified surroundings of which the Osburn is justly proud.
