

AOC Blames the California Wildfires on "Climate Change," but the Internet Isn't Having It

There's a pattern with New York Rep. Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez. A natural event happens — it doesn't matter much what kind of event it is — and her immediate reaction is to blame it on "climate change." It's a knee-jerk reaction that was, frankly, worn to death by climate alarmists before her like Al Gore and Bill Nye.

On Monday, AOC sent out a tweet blaming the wildfires ravaging parts of California right now on "climate change," stating that this is what "climate change" looks like and even throwing in a hit on the un-scientific nature of the Republicans for good measure.

Naturally, it ended with a time frame for us to fix it and a promotion of the Green New Deal.

"This is what climate change looks like," tweeted AOC. "The GOP like to mock scientific warnings about climate change as exaggeration. But just look around: it's already starting. We have 10 years to cut carbon emissions in half. If we don't, scenes like this can get much worse."

The problem with this statement is that California wildfires aren't anything new. In fact, Capital Public Radio has a visual timeline that shows just how wildfires have hit California dating back well before the 1950s. Like any natural disaster, wildfires are worse in some years than they are others.

This picture below shows an accumulated map of wildfires that date back to 1878 all the way up to 1950.

The United States is one of the lowest carbon emissions producers in the world. Even if we cut our carbon emissions to ZERO. China and India are still putting out more. You still are not making any sense about this. The U.S.A. can't save the world on its own.

Or maybe its a result of severe mismanagement and development in fire prone areas. Not saying climate change isnt real, but californian wildfires are as common as pennies in wishing wells. Not a good example to use to push your agenda

It takes a special kind of person to blame forest fires that are caused by power companies, and made worse by poor forest management, on climate change. Forest fires were going on before humans existed. Climate emergency is a complete fraud that will tax us all into poverty.

has nothing to do with climate change, has everything to do with bad forestry management and neglect. Fire is good for the Earth. Fire is good for the ecosystem. Feel bad for those it's affecting but it's a somber reminder that Humans are at the mercy of Mother Nature.

The Democrats have caused the calamity in California due to poor policies like not cleaning excess brush away and not mandating the electric companies upgrade and maintain their equipment properly.

Cut the fear mongering pls.

The occurrence of forest fires in areas with a hot/dry climate is to be expected.
Not having any forest fires in California anymore would be climate change, this fire doesn't prove anything.

The point made here is pretty clear. Wildfires and California go hand in hand. They have them so frequently that it's a wonder they don't name their sports teams after it.

Regardless, AOC's tweet has shown us that she's willing to stand on the ashes of people's homes and lives in order to paint the GOP with the blame as well as pushing her pet project, which is pretty disgusting in and of itself. Your life burning down in front of you matters little. It's all a political prop to her.

Disgusting.
