Memorial Quad

Eugene, Oregon

The Spring 1997 Commencement marked the sixty-fifth anniversary of the University of Oregon Museum of Art. Dedicated in 1932, the museum was constructed with private funds raised during the Great Depression to house the university's internationally renowned collection of Asian art. The museum's construction is a testament to the vision and will of the people of Oregon. Its original collections manifest the generosity of their donor, Gertrude Bass Warner.

In celebration of this anniversary and in honor of this year's graduates of the University of Oregon, the Museum of Art is proud to present this exhibition through September 28.

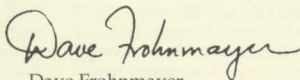

*Precious Cargo:
The Legacy of Gertrude Bass Warner*

Welcome

We at the University of Oregon welcome all of you assembled here on this special occasion and offer special congratulations to the members of the Class of 1997.

You who stand today to receive your degrees have completed one of the most challenging times of your lives. In the years ahead you will be asked to put into use what you have learned at the University of Oregon. I hope we have prepared you well for the challenges and opportunities you will face.

We salute you on your accomplishments on this special day, and we wish you good luck and Godspeed.

On behalf of all Oregon alumni, I congratulate you on your graduation and welcome you to the UO Alumni Association. We are a group of thinkers, workers, doers—people like you who spent time at Oregon learning to greet the personal and professional challenges of the future competently. The association is a proud group, drawing its spirit from the individual personalities and successes of the more than 125,000 alumni all over the world.

Oregon's alumni, like its students and faculty members, are committed to success—not just in the immediate sense of finding a job or pursuing an advanced degree but in the broader definition of continual attainment of individual goals and personal and professional excellence.

News of your success can benefit the association and all members of the university community by encouraging this spirit of success and sense of pride in the meaning and quality of the Oregon experience. We encourage you to keep us informed of your personal success and career accomplishments either by writing to the UO Alumni Association or by writing to the university magazine, Oregon Quarterly. And, if you haven't already joined the Alumni Association, we hope you will choose to become a member.

In coming years the UO Alumni Association will involve you in activities of the university, recognize your achievements, and serve you in whatever way we can. Please stay in touch and contact me if I can assist you in any way.

Richard Allen '58
President
UO Alumni Association

Tom and Carol Williams

From civic involvement to business success, Tom and Carol Williams have committed their lives to excellence. A vital part of that commitment has been to ensure the excellence of teaching at the University of Oregon—a goal made more sure by their funding in 1995 of the Williams Council Teaching Awards, designed to improve undergraduate education by applying to it the best creative ideas.

A private investor and former owner and president of Williams Bakery, Tom Williams also served as director of Health-Guard Services, was chairman of KMTR-TV, a White House Fellow, a member of the Eugene City Council, and served as president of the League of Oregon Cities. He has been a trustee of the UO Foundation since 1989.

Carol Williams is one of the founders and a former controller of KMTR-TV. She currently serves as a board member of Prevention and Recovery Northwest. Previously she was president of Planned Parenthood of Lane County and of the Junior League of Eugene. Tom and Carol live in Eugene.

Together, they have served the community and the University of Oregon in ways that make continued excellence a reality.

Graduating seniors who have earned at least 90 credits in residence at the University of Oregon and have completed all other university degree requirements shall be awarded graduation with honors: upper 2 percent, summa cum laude; upper 5 percent, magna cum laude; upper 10 percent, cum laude. These distinctions are based on students' percentile rankings for their graduation term. The honors determination for summer-session degree candidates is provisional. It is based on academic work completed prior to the term of graduation and is not official until final grades have been recorded.

Academic Costume

The history of academic dress goes back several centuries to the chilly universities where cap, gown, and hood were needed for covering and warmth. Subsequently this has become a ceremonial costume with certain standardized features. The hood is lined with the official colors of the degree-conferring institution; for the University of Oregon these are yellow and green. The outside trimming of the hood and the color of the tassel signify the subject in which the degree is conferred:

maize: agriculture
white: arts, letters, humanities drab: commerce, accountancy, business lilac: dentistry
copper: economics
light blue: education
orange: engineering
blue-violet: fine arts, architecture
russet: forestry
crimson: journalism
purple: law
lemon: library science
green: medicine
pink: music
apricot: nursing silver gray: oratory, speech
olive green: pharmacy
dark blue: philosophy
sage green: physical education peacock blue: public administration salmon pink: public health golden yellow: science citron: social work
scarlet: theology
gray: veterinary science

At the University of Oregon it is customary for master's degree candidates to wear their hoods in the procession. Doctoral candidates carry their hoods and are hooded during the ceremony. Each bachelor's degree candidate changes the cap tassel from front right to front left as the degree is conferred. Caps are removed during the pledge song and during the commencement address.

University Mace

In medieval times the mace was usually carried into battle by kings, bishops, and other leaders for use as a weapon. Later on it came to be used more for ceremonial occasions. Today it is a symbol of authority.

The mace leading the University of Oregon's academic procession was designed and made by C. Max Nixon, professor emeritus of fine and applied arts, as a gift to the university. The creative use of copper, bronze, silver, and walnut typify the spirit of the university since its founding.

The head of the mace is a sphere made up of four university seals joined at a common axis. The outer rims of the seals are copper. The university's name and motto, in Latin, are in bronze. The mountain at the center of the sphere is in silver, while the forests and hills are in bronze. Surmounting the linked seals is a replica of Deady Hall, the university's first building, cast in bronze.

At the top of the oiled walnut shaft and within the sphere created by the seals is the university's founding date. At the base of the shaft is a finial ornament in bronze, finished with a stylized pine-cone pattern. Embedded in its tip is the seal of the State of Oregon, also in bronze.

Oregon Pledge Song

Fair Oregon, we pledge to thee
Our honor and fidelity,
Both now and in the years to be,
A never failing loyalty.

Fair Oregon, thy name shall be Written high in liberty.
Now, uncovered, swear we every one
Our pledge to Oregon.

The students whose names are listed herein were considered to be candidates for the degrees indicated when the program was printed. This is not an official degree list. The appropriate degrees and diplomas will be awarded to those candidates who have successfully completed all requirements by the end of the summer session.
