University of Oregon
Eugene, Oregon

Dear Sir:

After much traveling from Eugene to Evanston to Mt. Vernon, New York, to New York City and then on a boat to England, your card for information as a graduate of the University reached me.

I reached this point when the lights suddenly went out. At first we thought perhaps rationing was beginning on electricity. More likely something has gone wrong with the wiring in the OLD house we are occupying in Oxford. The black inside is no more intense than the black outside to which we have been subjected for some months.

We came to England in July, Mr. Scriven in the capacity of managing director of the A. C. Nielson Company Limited which is an extension of the activities of the A. C. Nielson Company of Chicago. In fact, he and several associates came over to open a British office.

The day war was declared we were in Whitehall with hundreds of other people when the first air raid warning was given. It was an eerie sound and did queer things to your spine. At first most of us thought it meant that England had finally declared war, since the House of Parliament was in session, and no one knew quite what to do. Finally air raid wardens came bicycling down the street carrying signs ordering people to proceed to the shelters. Surprisingly enough, everyone made for the shelters in a very orderly manner, with an upward glance now and then to see if any airplanes were visible. And all the barrage balloons were released simultaneously and plunged skyward. After a short interval, the "all clear" signal sounded, and people proceeded calmly on their way. However, it was a chilly sort of thrill.

We moved from London to a so-called "safe area," and have been living in the cloistered realm of Oxford for the past two months. The colleges are closed to visitors, so we haven't had the opportunity to see what they look like. From the exterior with their crumbling walls, they appear fascinating.

The latest indications are that we will remain here despite the war; the company proceeding with its business. So far the Germans haven't wreaked much damage on England, and we're hopeful.

Sincerely,
ESTHER DAVIS SCRIVEN, '26

Dear Editor,
"Old Oregon,"
Eugene, Oregon.

Please overlook my delay in forwarding subscription dues. It has been difficult for me to fall into my usual highly organized state since my return home.

Will you kindly check my subscription from the expiration date and send me back issues (November and December, I believe) because I do not want to miss a single issue. To date, I have bound my issues and do not want to break the file. Although I have been denied the pleasure of close contact with the University since my graduation, the activities of my friends are of such interest that I welcome every bit of news concerning them. In this respect "Old Oregon" meets a real need and I enjoy every copy that comes.

As I journeyed home from my escape on the "Athenia," I was surprised to find one of my fellow passengers an "Oregon" grad, Don Rice.

Having been the length and breadth of Poland and having enjoyed a happy visit in Finland, it has been with a sick heart that I have read of the destruction taking place in these beautiful little countries. A visit to one of the northern cities of Spain convinced me that I had no desire to see further evidences of the civil war there. It was a pleasure to reach peaceful Portugal and explore the beauty of Lisbon, high on its seven hills, rightly called the "Land of the Porcelain Sky." There were no evidences of war or preparations for war in Algiers, Sicily or Jugoslavia and we gave ourselves up to the delight of the Mediterranean and our cruise of the Dalmatian coast. In Central Europe we found beauty, too, but it was marred by the evident preparation of armed forces.

It has been a joy for us to return to our own land still free from black-outs and the use of gas masks. My mother and I are deeply grateful to Captain Gainard and his splendid crew of the "City of Flint" for turning back to rescue us and for bringing us safely back to American shores.

Very truly yours,

COSBY GILSTRAP.

Alumni Secretary:

Each month when we read OLD OREGON, Bill and I promise ourselves we shall write a letter for your Mail Bag. However the months seem to slip past and somehow we just do not get down to writing.

It is always such fun reading about people we knew at school and can assure you we do read OLD OREGON from cover to cover.

This past year we have seen a great many Oregon grads. Madge Hanna Robbins (Delta Gamma '32) and Walter Robbins (Beta '34) stopped for a few days on their way home from the San Francisco Exposition. They live in Colton, California—have a young son almost 3 years old they call "Robin."

Jock H. Stipe (Kappa Sig '32) stopped in for a day on his return to New York in September. It was grand seeing him and he brought lots of news of old friends in Portland.

We've attended all the Oregon football games that were played in California this season. In Los Angeles we found ourselves stopping at the same hotel as Steve Fletcher (Phi Delta Theta) and his wife. It was nice seeing them and we spotted Pete (Lawrence T. '31 Sigma Chi) and Alberta Rives (Tri Delt '31) Slauson at the game—also Eddie Weils (Phi Delta Theta '33).

The California-Oregon game was really the game that gave us a thrill. First of all, it was a grand game—and second, it did our hearts good to see so many Oregon people in the crowd—just cheering for Oregon as hard as they could. After the game we gathered at the Palace hotel in San Francisco—had dinner and dancing and then with Al McKelligon (Sigma Nu ex-'34) leading us we sang Oregon songs

The Cover

The cover this month displays the model kitchen on the third floor of newly-constructed Chapman hall. Here Oregon coeds will learn the household arts. Under the state system set-up, the University does not offer a major course in home economics, but the lower-division courses offered give adequate foundation so that the major course may be completed elsewhere. Many coeds who do not wish to major in home economics find that the service courses offered at the University are sufficient for their needs.

REPORT OF THE ELECTION BOARD

December 27, 1939

Dear Mr. President:

The election board met today to make the official count of the ballots cast by mail as provided for in the constitution of the Oregon Alumni Association.

We wish to report that 466 ballots were cast for the presidency and 451 ballots for the vice-presidency. The board was forced to declare eight ballots invalid because either they were wrongly marked or votes were cast for two men for the same office.

The following is the final count:

FOR PRESIDENT—

Del Stanard, G. '14, M.D. '21, 339 votes.

John Huston, G. '21, 52 votes.

Henry Fowler, G. '14, 75 votes.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT—

Hollis Johnston, ex-'20, 201 votes.

Otto Frohnmayer, G. '28, J.D. '33, 114 votes.

Douglas Milne, G. '38, 136 votes.

The ballots have been placed in the alumni office where they are open for inspection.

Respectfully submitted,

ELECTION BOARD,
OREGON ALUMNI ASSOCIATION,

Del Stanard, '14, Named President

Dr. Delbert C. Stanard of Eugene, Oregon, has been named president of the University of Oregon Alumni Association for 1940. Dr. Stanard led his nearest competitor by a 4 to 1 margin in the first mail election ever held by the association. Hollis N. Johnston, Portland architect, was named vice-president in the same election.

Dr. Stanard will have as his first duty the appointment of 36 members of the board of governors—one from each county. Twelve of the appointees will serve for one year, twelve for two years, twelve for three years.

Dr. Stanard graduated from the University in the class of 1914 and entered the University of Oregon medical school upon graduation. After service in the Navy during the World War, Dr. Stanard completed his medical school course and was awarded his M.D. degree in 1921. Dr. Stanard is a Major in the Oregon National Guard and is the commanding officer of the medical detachment of the 186th. He is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, Flks, Masons, and the Lions.

Mr. Johnston, the new vice-president, is a prominent architect in Portland, and during the early stages of the Bonneville project was chief architect for the United States engineers and designed the town of Bonneville. At present he is vice-president of the Portland Duck club, boosters of Oregon athletics.

President's Message

I am highly honored to have the alumni of the University of Oregon express their confidence in me by electing me to this office. I sincerely hope that I will be able to justify this confidence by sound leadership of this organization, so necessary and important in the structure of our University.

Through close cooperation with President Erb I hope our organization will accomplish the following results during the coming year. First, we must develop a better understanding of and a closer contact with our University in the minds of all alumni. Second, we must have a fair and accurate evaluation of our University. Third, we must create desire to help build our University along sound lines. Fourth, we must create a feeling of responsibility in all alumni to take active part in all programs designed to accomplish sound progress for our University. Fifth, we must continue to develop pride in our University so that group expression throughout the state may help formulate the broad general policies of the institution.

I sincerely hope that this will be an active year for our association in all parts of the state. We need from each one of you your wholehearted interest and cooperation. This work cannot be accomplished by one man or by one alumni council, but requires the interest and support of every one of our 30,000 alumni willing to interest themselves in our program. Let us help President Erb in his program which has been designed to give the state of Oregon a truly great University worthy of the task of educating our own children.

—DEL STANARD, '14.
President, Oregon Alumni Assn.

Phi Beta Kappa

In the last issue of OLD OREGON the name of Lois Onthank was unfortunately omitted in the listing of the Senior Six of Phi Beta Kappa. Miss Onthank is majoring in psychology and is the second member of her family to become a member of Phi Beta Kappa in the last six months—her sister, Elizabeth, was named last spring. They are the daughters of Dean and Mrs. Karl Onthank, '13 (Ruth McClaren, '14).

Claire Kneeland, '27, turns over the Oregon Alumni election returns to Del Stanard, '14, M.D. '21, in Eugene. Dr. Stanard became president in the Association's first mail ballot.

Washington Alumni Greet Hoop Squad

University of Oregon alumni residing in and near Washington, D. C., honored their basketball team, the 1939 National Collegiate Champions, and Coach Howard Hobson at a luncheon at the National Press Club on Wednesday, December 20. Forty-four Oregonians, including the coach, trainer and team, attended the affair which climaxed the Webfoots' visit to the Capitol City.

After seeing the White House in the morning and attending the luncheon at noon, the team was taken on a tour of the city by members of the local alumni group.

Donald C. Beelar, 1928, acted as toastmaster, and introduced the former Oregon basketball coach, William J. Reinhart, who is now head coach at George Washington University here in Washington. Mr. Reinhart praised the team's record and voiced his admiration for the work that Coach Hobson has been doing at the University. Mr. Reinhart told the alumni group that he hoped to bring Oregon teams to Washington in a year or so as soon as G. W. gets adequate facilities to house the crowds which such a meeting would surely draw here.

John Dick, president of the student body, spoke for the team and thanked the alumni for arranging the luncheon and the sight-seeing trip in Washington, while Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clyde B. Aitchison, 1915, made a few short remarks on behalf of the local alumni group.

The following committees handled the arrangements for the entertainment of the team during its stay in Washington:

Lunch committee: Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Beelar (Dr. Virginia Patterson), Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tongue (Bernice Healy), and Mr. and Mrs. John Halderman.

Tour committee: Mr. and Mrs. John Kendall, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Branin, Cosgrove LaBarre and William Schloth.

Publicity: Mr. and Mrs. John H. King.

Arrangements for Baltimore game: Cosgrove LaBarre, Don Casciato, and William Cunningham (Baltimore).

Those attending the luncheon in Allen Dunbar, '36; John Kendall, LL.B. '35; Peery T. Buren, ex-'38; Dr. Roy N. Veatch, '22; Dr. Virginia Patterson Beelar, '33, M.D. '36; Mrs. Dorothy Groman Ellis, '16.

Miss Pherne Miller, ex-'12; Don Casciato, ex-'37; Charles Van Scoyoc, ex-'40; Cosgrove LaBarre, '36; David Garman, '34; David Wilson, ex-'32;

Thomas H. Tongue, '34, J.D. '37; Earl Riddell, ex-'32; rs. W. Jean Merrill Riddell, '31.

Gail McCready Cunningham, '35; W. E. Cunningham, ex-'36; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fisher (Katherine Chaburn, ex-'21); Myron Getchell, '11; Don Beelar, '28; Miss Audrey Henriksen, '29.

Miss Mary Nelson, '36; Commissioner Clyde B. Aitchison, '15, LL.D. '37; Agnes G. Schuebel, '23; John W. Halderman, LL.B. '31; Mrs. Elizabeth Steiwer McElvenny, ex-'34; and Bill Reinhart, '24.

Enrollment Jumps

Winter term enrollment at the University kept to the eight per cent increase level of fall term, the official enrollment release shows. Both terms the University has shown the greater per cent increase of the two major institutions of the State System.

The freshman class again shows the greatest gain with 20 per cent more freshmen enrolling in 1940 than in 1939. The fall term increase reported in the freshman class was 18 per cent. As in the fall term, the school of Architecture showed the greatest increase. This term there was a 26 per cent increase compared with a 21 per cent increase noted fall term.

Numerically, the school of business administration remains largest with 934 enrolled. Enrollment was 870 in 1939. The only school showing an appreciable decrease is the school of education now enrolling 133 students compared with 172 students in 1939. The school of music lost eight per cent—this actually represents only nine students, however.

George Moulton A.I.M.E. President

Word of the election of Herbert George Moulton, '05, as president of the American Institute of Mining Engineers has reached the campus. Mr. Moulton became a member of the Institute while still an undergraduate and has been increasingly active in its affairs since.

Mr. Moulton spent four hard years as surveyor, miner, blacksmith, assayer and smelter chemist following his graduation. He then became an engineering consultant for investment brokers in the east.

During the World War Mr. Moulton served on the War Industries Board with Bernard Baruch and later became chief examiner for the War Finance Corporation. In 1932 he was special adviser to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

As consultant to the Public Service Commission in New York city he applied mining engineer methods to the newly-built subways and developed new methods and theories which were presented in a paper entitled "Earth and Rock Pressure."

Mrs. Moulton is the former Alice Merryman, ex-'06. Mr. Moulton's address is 20 Pine street, New York City.

Dr. E. S. Bates

Dr. Ernest Sutherland Bates, former University faculty member, died December 4 at his home in New York city. He was 60 years of age.

Famed as author, teacher and editor,

Dr. Bates served Oregon from 1921 to 1925 as head of the philosophy department. Prior to that period he was a member of the English faculty from 1915 to 1921. In later years he returned to the West coast, teaching at the University's summer school and lecturing in Portland.

As a writer he published the "Dictionary of American Biography" and "The Bible Designed to Be Read as Living Literature." The latter became a best seller in America. For years he had reviewed books for the Saturday Review of Literature, the Herald Tribune Books, and the New York Times.

Dr. Bates is survived by his wife, the former Gladys Graham of Astoria. Mrs. Bates was enrolled at Oregon during 1910-12 and 1915-16. A native of Gambier, Ohio, he was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1902 and received his Ph.D. from Columbia university in 1908. During his teaching career he served at Oberlin college, Columbia university and the University of Arizona before coming to Oregon.

Dan Malarkey

Dan J. Malarkey, LL.B. '92, a Portland attorney of national repute, died December 1 at the age of 69 after an illness of four months.

Known as a skillful cross-examiner, Mr. Malarkey had an extensive law practise in the state. He was born in New York City July 15, 1870, moving to Portland with his parents two years later. His father, Charles A. Malarkey, pioneered in Portland as an active public citizen and substantial real estate operator.

Graduating at the head of his University class, young Dan was admitted to the state bar in 1892. For six years he served as a deputy district attorney for Multnomah county. At the turn of the century he spread his service to the state. From 1902 to 1904 Mr. Malarkey was a member of the Oregon house of representatives.

Chosen president of the Oregon upper house in 1913, Mr. Malarkey urged into existence the public utilities law as well as the women's minimum wage law in this state. It was in the passage of this wage law, the first statute of its kind in the United States, that he gained national fame. During the World war, he served as a member of the district draft board in Portland.

After the war his active participation in politics ended leaving an enviable reputation as a state legislator. A member of the firm of Malarkey, Sabin and Herbring in Portland, he spent much time in his later years in civic service.

A Real Dad's Day

Rev. Paul J. Luvaas will be a busy man Dad's Day week-end representing six children in as many schools of the University, according to Mrs. Luvaas. The family, including four girls and two boys, lives in Eugene, where the father serves as a Lutheran minister.

Lois, '38, majored in romance languages while on the campus. She is in her second year of training as a medical technician in Portland at the University of Oregon Medical School. John, '39, is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and was general chairman of Dad's Day last year. He is a first year law student.

In undergraduate sequence follow Alice, who is a sophomore in arts and letters; Jeanette, a freshman in architecture and allied arts; and Paul, freshman in business administration. The Luvaas baby is Helen, a high school senior, who claims affiliation with the University as a fourth year piano student under Professor Jane Thacher.

Rev. and Mrs. Luvaas and the University faculty can boast of more than a mutual interest in six students. All of the children claim a high scholastic average. It is assumed this unusual Eugene group could compete nationally for the title of "best currently schooled college family."

Members of the Alumni election board sorting out returns received by mail. From the left they include Carroll P. Williams, '28; Del Monte, ex-'28, and Claire Kneeland, '27.

New Editor

The appointment of Roy Vernstrom, '40, as editor of OLD OREGON has been announced by E. C. Fansett, alumni secretary. Vernstrom succeeds Bill Pease, '38, who resigned to accept the editorship of the OREGON MOTORIST.

Mr. Vernstrom completes his undergraduate work this spring and at the present time is second vice-president of the associated students. He was awarded the Koyl cup at the end of his junior year as the outstanding junior man. Mr. Vernstrom is a member of Friars and Delta Tau Delta.

Pease has been editor since May 1937 and in June 1938 became assistant alumni secretary as well. He is a member of Friars, Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Chi.

Old Oregon editor, Bill Pease, relinquishes his present post to Roy Vernstrom, left, at the end of January. Pease will become editor of the Oregon Motorist in Portland.

Webfoot Sports

By George Pasero

"Wedding bells are breaking up that old gang of mine"—so goes a song of some years back.

And as far as Mr. Gerald (Tex) Oliver is concerned, this line, spruced up in modern tempo, might go something like this: "Wedding bells are breaking up that new team of mine."

What's more, Tex would have reason to shed a tear or two over this line, and yes, shake a fist at that fellow called Cupid, too.

For you see, Tex had his tackle plans for next year pretty well worked out—all-coast Jim Stuart at left tackle and rugged Art Winetrout at right tackle. That would have been just dandy for the Oregon mentor had much respect for the potentialities of Winetrout, a big, fast boy.

But Tex counted without Cupid. At the end of the football season, Winetrout left school to marry Bette Hobbs, a coed, on December 20. His return to school now is problematical.

Anyhow, Tex is now in California, combing the country for tackle prospects . . . the life of a football coach!

000 spectators last year in winning the national collegiate championship. This year the Webfoots will cover more than 10,000 miles in playing a 31-game schedule. . . .

Average height of Oregon's 15-man squad is 6 feet 2 inches. Only three of the players are less than six feet tall.

In the last three years the University of Oregon basketball team has not lost a series in the Northern division of the Pacific coast conference. The Webfoots have won and tied three of the 13 four-game series played with northwest rivals.

In the 11 years since he began coaching at Kelso, Wash., high school, Coach Howard Hobson's teams have won 232 games and lost only 70 for an all-time percentage of .768—three victories in every four games played.

Hobson started his fifth season at Oregon with the imposing record of 92 wins against 33 defeats, a .681 "batting average." In those four years, Hobson's Oregon teams have won two conference championships and tied another.

Oregon's 1940 Basketball Squad

Anderson, Henry (Hank), 6 foot 7 inch transfer from Eastern Oregon College of Education, where he starred for two seasons with scoring average of 20 points per game. Fast, a good shot-maker and very well coordinated for size. Lacks experience. Comes from Hines, Ore., is only 19 years old.

Andrews, George (Porky), one of first Canadians ever to win place on a Pacific coast basketball squad. Was regular guard on Oregon's undefeated freshman team two seasons ago and was held out of competition last year. A compactly built six footer with lots of drive; good ball handler and feeder. Scored 137 points for freshmen. Good bet for regular this year. Home is Victoria, B. C.

Borcher, William (Bill). Came to Oregon from Sacramento J.C. when parents moved to North Bend, Oregon. Stands 6 feet 5 inches, is rugged and aggressive. Very tough under backboards. Needs more experience.

Dick, John. Dick is the lone returning regular from last year's championship team. The rugged 6 foot 4 inch forward was Oregon's outstanding performer in late season championship games and won western NCAA all-star honors. Is a great player around the backboards where he excels both defensively and with an accurate one-handed shot. Scored 229 points last year. President of student body. Home is The Dalles. Plans to enter law school next year.

Gard, Leonard (Len). Sophomore who led freshmen in scoring last year with 161 points in 12 games. Holds state high school tournament scoring record, a mark formerly held by Teammates Ted Sarpola and Earl Sandness. Stands 6 feet 3, is very fast and agile; gets off shots from all an-

Frosh Basketball

Oregon's freshman basketball stock soared upward just before Christmas vacation when Coach John Warren concluded a month of preliminary practice with an optimistic outlook for the coming season.

The popular Duckling mentor will call his large squad back to work again January 3 to open a 20-game schedule. Already, 18 games have been scheduled, and two more are tentative.

This year's club looks like it has everything a successful club needs—height, speed, ability, and reserves.

Outstanding prospects uncovered in the early drills on fundamentals were Wallace Borrevick, 6-foot 8-inch center from Reedsport, and Warren Taylor, lanky 6-foot 5-inch forward from Banks. Both men loom as probable starters next month.

Forward candidates are plentiful, with eight winning Warren's approval so far. They are Ralph Fuhrman, Coquille; Raymond Graham, Nyssa; Quentin Sidesinger, Walter Reynolds, and Johnny Bubalo, all from Portland;

Jack Gosser, Salem; Nick Sorich, McGill, Nev., and Gordon Stanley, Oakridge.

Top flight guard prospects include Don Kirsch, Hank Burns, and Jim Partlow, all from Portland; Cliff Anet, Astoria; John Tuttle, LaGrande; Wilson Maynard, Salem; and Frank Baker, Olympia, Washington.

The complete frosh schedule:

Jan. 5, Grant high at Eugene; Jan. 6, Roosevelt high at Eugene; Jan. 8, Lincoln high at Eugene; Jan. 9, Franklin high at Eugene; Jan. 10, Dallas high at Dallas; Jan. 12, Astoria high at Astoria; Jan. 13, Longview high at Longview; Jan. 20, "Y" Golds at Portland; Jan. 26, Dallas high at Eugene; Jan. 27, Multnomah Intermediates at Eugene; Feb. 2, Roseburg high at Roseburg; Feb. 2, OSC Rooks at Corvallis; Feb. 9, OSC Rooks at Eugene; Feb. 10, "Y" Golds at Eugene; Feb. 16, OSC Rooks at Corvallis; Feb. 17, Longview high at Eugene; Feb. 24, OSC Rooks at Eugene.

gles. Home is Eugene, where he won all-state prep honors at University high.

Marshik, Archie (Tiny). Another member of fine 1937-38 freshman team held out last year. Stands 6 feet 7 inches, weighs 196 pounds. Is a remarkably well coordinated performer despite huge size and this season has shown great improvement; will be strong contender for regular center job. Good on rebound work, accurate close-in shot. Was all-state player at St. Mary's high in Eugene. Home is Veneta.

McGrath, Edward (Ed). Transfer from Santa Monica junior college. Big—stands 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 195—good shot, but lacks experience. Should develop. Home is Inglewood, California.

McNeely, Evert (Red). Won letter last year as alternate forward and guard. Former all-city player at Jefferson high in Portland. Capable all-around player, very accurate on long shots.

Pavalunas, Matt. Experienced veteran who should be coast's outstanding guard this year. Has seen service in every game past two years. Exceptionally fast, fine floor man and a consistently high scorer. Shoots with either hand and is deadly on long ones. Stands 5 feet 11 inches, comes from Raymond, Washington, where he was an all-state high school player.

Piippo, Toivo is another of the famous "Flying Finns" from Astoria. Was held out of competition last year with Andrews and Marshik. Very speedy backcourt man, good ball handler and feeder. Ambidextrous scorer. Will see much action this year. Stands six feet.

Jackson, Paul. Smallest man on squad. Makes up for lack of size with great speed and ball-hawking ability. Good shot. Stands only 5 feet 7 inches, weighs 140.

Sandness, Earl (Sandy). Served as reserve forward and center last year winning varsity letter. Starred on freshman team two years ago, scoring 210 points. Combines size and coordination. Stands 6 feet 4 inches, weighs 190. Comes from Astoria but is not a "Flying Finn"—he is of Norwegian descent.

Sarpola, Ted. The "Whirling Dervish" of western basketball. One of the greatest shot-makers in the game. Possesses what Coach Howard Hobson terms "fast hands"; can shoot from any angle with either hand—has never been known to make a two-handed chest shot. One of two players ever to win all-state high school honors for three straight years. Another Finnish lad from Astoria. Has been varsity player for two years and should be a star this season.

Tompkins, Herbert (Herb). Transfer from Compton junior college, where he was all-conference choice last year. Good ball handler and passer. Heady player, needs more experience. Home is Waukegan, Illinois.

Townsend, Victor (Slick). Transfer from Compton junior college, where he won both all-conference and all-state jaycee honors the past two years. Led J.C. league in scoring both seasons, set present scoring record. Fast, clever floor man, good on both long and short shots. Should be a star when he gains more experience under Oregon fast break system. Home is Huntington Park, Cal.

New York Alumni Honor Hunter

With Chancellor and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter as the guests of honor, the alumni of the University of Oregon and Oregon State College in New York held a joint dinner on the evening of November 24th at the Town Hall Club. A very enthusiastic group of loyal alumni of both institutions were in attendance.

The Chancellor reported on the events which have taken place since his appointment as the chancellor for the institutions of higher learning in the state of Oregon. He extended high praise to the University's new president, Dr. Donald M. Erb, thus confirming the opinion formed by the New York group when Dr. Erb was the guest of the group last year. He stated that the board would be selecting a new president in the near future for the College. He listed the more important changes of personnel in all the schools, and pointed out that the teaching staff had been greatly strengthened. New buildings on the various campuses were described and those which are projected mentioned. This report made by the Chancellor delighted the alumni, many of whom had questions to ask. Doctor and Mrs. Hunter are always popular guests in New York.

"Adopted" Oregonians at the dinner were: Dr. A. Wellington Taylor, Dean of the Graduate School of Business Administration and Director of the Wall Street Division of New York University; Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Hunter (son of the Chancellor); and Miss Louise Stephenson.

Dr. Allen Eaton (Class of 1902) pointed out that many documents pertaining to the early history of Oregon were finding their way into collections outside of the state. He advocated that the alumni make an effort to keep them at home and proposed a committee, to be headed by Dr. Laura Hall Kennon (Class of 1911), constituted to see what could be done about it. The Chancellor told of the archives being established for such documents at the University and the museum of Oregon Antiques at the College.

Mr. Kaname Wakasugi (University of Oregon, Law 1912), now consul general for Japan in New York, was introduced by the toastmaster and urged to tell something of himself since he left Oregon.

Among the newcomers who were attending alumni dinners for the first time in New York were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Collins, '27, (Margaret Knapp, '29). He is an officer of the Oregon State System of Higher Education in the department of budget and is spending a year studying at Columbia University. Also studying in New York are Miss Lois Lutz and Miss Frances Clinton, both from the College and both living at International House, where so many former Oregonians have resided. Dr. Wilmoth Osborne is now practicing medicine at 151 East 80th Street, New York City. Mrs. Marie Beach Brown, Mrs. Kate Pinneo Davis (1924) and Mr. Earl E. Fleischman (1917) were the others who came for the first time.

SECOND GENERATION

Ninety-seven students registered in the University during fall term indicated that at least one of their parents attended the University before them, an examination of registration material shows. Undoubtedly more second generation members attended during the term but failed to give the proper notice.

More fathers were alumni than mothers with 53 alumni reported to the 37 alumnae. Conversely, alumni had more daughters enrolled than sons. Of the 97 students, 57 were girls and 40 boys.

The class of 1918 with eleven members having children in school led the rest, followed closely by the 1913 group with nine of their members having children in school; the class of 1916 had eight parents in its group.

Forty-two of the alumni represented live in Portland and 21 in Eugene. Nine of the alumni now live out of state.

until the "wee small hours" of the morning. I cannot recall all the names of those who "turned out" for the Alma Mater—but I'll do my best: Dorothy Wade Pyle (Delta Gamma '32); Fletcher Pyle (dentist in San Francisco, Sigma Chi '31) Albert Rives Slausen (Delta Delta Delta '31); Peter Slausen (Sigma Chi '31); Sally Addleman Sherk (D. G. '32); Samuel Sherk (Beta Theta Pi '33); Onieta Jantzen McLellan (D. G. '32); Edgar G. McLellan (Phi Gam '33); Margaret Jamie Hubbs (D. G. '35); Ronald M. Hubbs (A. T. O. ex-'29); Marge Wilhelm Deasy (D. G. '32), and Husband J. H. Deasy; Helen Sullivan Kenny (D. G. '31) and husband.

The Kappa Sigs gathered round as usual—some with wives—a very few "unmarrieds" this year: Maudie (Alpha Phi ex-'36) and Chuck White (Kappa Sig '34); Parker Favier (Kappa Sig '33); Joe Staniford (Kappa Sig '34); Buss Leggett (Kappa Sig ex-'35); Ed Kendall ex-'36; Bill O'Brien '34; Eugene Tarbell (Phi Delta Theta '32); Ruth O'Connell Berry (D. G. '38); Chandler Berry (S. P. ex-'37); Jerry Kestley, Jr. (Beta Theta Pi '39), and his father J. J. Kestley Sr.—also an Oregon Beta, '11.

Some of the football team came around to the Palace—but I won't attempt to recall their names. There were lots more from Oregon—names I cannot remember.

The San Joaquin Valley seems to have quite a group of Oregon alumni: Louise Carpenter (D. G. '37); John Dungan (Sigma Nu '39); Chuck Nicely (Sigma Nu ex-'35); Jeff Howard (Phi Gamma Delta); Dunham Howard, '35; Ted Robb (Edwin P. Phi Gam '33); Mrs. Ruth Hubbs Chalfan (D. G. ex-'35); Mrs. Hilda Gillum Buel (D. G. '36); Mrs. Jenny Hondius Pinkham (D. G. ex-'32); my sisters Louise Van Cleve (D. G. ex-'39), and Margaret Van Cleve James (D. G. ex-'36), and Margaret's husband Leroy (Bud) James (Sigma Nu ex-'34).

This has become quite a long letter, though I meant it to be only a note.

Our address is still Box 187, Exeter—and probably will be for some time to come—we have two future Oregon students coming along—Buck who is really William B. III and will be four years old in May, and Penny, who is really Eugenia Adelaide, and will be one year in February.

Sorry I cannot recall all the classes and houses of the people I've mentioned—but guess they can be looked up if this is of interest to anyone.

Best wishes to OLD OREGON.

Sincerely,

Eugenia Van Cleve Pittman, B.S.

Gentlemen:

Here is a bit of news for your "News of the Classes"—we are the parents of a daughter, Barbara Ann, born in Lafayette on October 24. Our son "Tommy" is now a year and a half. My husband is now an instructor of electrical engineering at Purdue, and is also taking work toward a Ph.D. degree. He has his Bachelor and Masters' degree from Oregon State.

Elaine Anderson Kerley (Mr. Robert V. G. S. '31-'33) Master of Arts degree in 1933, I believe, has a son, John Arthur, born in September. Their daughter was a year old in August. They are now living in Dayton, Ohio, where Mr. Kerley is employed at a Wright field.

My sister, Lorraine Hunt '39, writes of many interesting experiences in New York City where she has a scholarship in Retailing at New York University. There is quite a group of Oregon and Oregon State students there this year.

Guess this is all the news for this time. Have been very interested in Oregon's good football showing this fall, but why did they have to lose to Oregon State again?

Yours truly,

MRS. LOIS HUNT THOMAS, '35

It would be perfectly useless for me to subscribe to such a magazine. I am not in the least interested in ball games, prize fights or bull fights, so much featured by you.
