University of Oregon
Commencement

AUGUST 15, 2009

The president's centennial medallion, shown on the next page, was commissioned in 1975 and is worn by the president as a badge of office during formal university ceremonies. Professor Emeritus Paul Buckner of the Department of Art created and executed the design. The university seal, shown on the title page, was created by Judge Matthew P. Deady, first president of the Board of Regents, and was approved by that body in 1878. In its center is a representation of Mount Hood as a symbol of the state. Around its edge is the university's motto, Mens agitat molem—mind moves the mass.

University of Oregon
Summer Commencement
August 15, 2009

WELCOME TO SUMMER COMMENCEMENT. It is a great honor to be given the opportunity to lead this institution, and I am very pleased to participate in my first University of Oregon commencement ceremony.

Each of you is rightfully proud of a major accomplishment. You are here because of hard and long work. I hope your experience at the University of Oregon has implanted within you a love of learning. I am confident that your education—more than your degree—will serve you and others for the rest of your life.

Every one of you came here with hopes and expectations, plans and dreams. If we have accomplished our task, you have met each of those—and more. If we have accomplished our task, we have met the promise we made to the people of Oregon 133 years ago to improve the nation, the state, and the world. If we have accomplished our task, then we have prepared you to move beyond the classroom and into the world, intending not only to make a living but to make a life. Now that you are a Duck, you are bound to make a difference.

On behalf of the University of Oregon, congratulations. I join with you in celebrating the future that lies challenging and promising before you.

Richard Lariviere
President of the University of Oregon

The University of Oregon opened its doors in 1876. Dady Hall housed the entire university in those days. Built of bricks made from clay dug out of the local hills, the building was guaranteed by its architect to last 1,000 years. The first commencement in 1878 graduated five students. Today the university serves 20,000 students on its 295-acre campus. More than 1,200 faculty members teach in its professional schools and its arts and sciences departments.

University Mace

In medieval times the mace was usually carried into battle by kings, bishops, and other leaders for use as a weapon. Later on it came to be used more for ceremonial occasions. Today it is a symbol of authority.

Designed and created by C. Max Nixon, Department of Art, the university mace combines copper, bronze, and silver in the four-sided spherical head atop an oiled walnut shaft. The sphere is made up of four university seals joined at a common axis. The outer rims of the seals are copper. The university's name and motto, in Latin, are in bronze. The mountain at the center of the sphere is in silver, and the forests and hills are in bronze. Surmounting the linked seals is a replica of Deady Hall, the university's first building, cast in bronze.

At the top of the oiled walnut shaft and within the sphere created by the seals is the university's founding date. At the base of the shaft is a finial ornament in bronze, finished with a stylized pine-cone pattern. Embedded in its tip is the seal of the state of Oregon, also in bronze.

Academic Costume

The hood is lined with the official colors of the degree-conferring institution; for the University of Oregon these are yellow and green. The outside trimming of the hood and the color of the tassel signify the subject in which the degree is conferred:

maize/agriculture
blue-violet/architecture
white/arts, letters,
humanities
drab/commerce,
accounting, business
lilac/dentistry
copper/economics
light blue/education
orange/engineering
brown/fine arts
russet/forestry
crimson/journalism
purple/law
lemon/library science
green/medicine
pink/music
apricot/nursing
silver gray/oratory, speech
olive green/pharmacy
dark blue/philosophy
sage green/physical education
peacock blue/public administration
salmon pink/public health
golden yellow/science
citron/social work
scarlet/theology
gray/veterinary science

At the University of Oregon, it is customary for master's degree candidates to wear their hoods in the procession. Doctoral candidates carry them and are hooded during the ceremony. Each bachelor's degree candidate moves the cap tassel from front right to front left as the degree is conferred. Caps are removed during the pledge song and the commencement address.

Honor Cords

Bachelor's degree candidates who graduate with academic honors may wear honor cords over their gowns. Colors of honor cords signify specific honors.

Recessional

The academic procession is led by the university marshal, who carries the university mace. The position is one of honor and is traditionally held by a previous recipient of the Thomas F. Herman Faculty Achievement Award for Distinguished Teaching.

Commencement Speaker

Charles Martinez was appointed vice president for institutional equity and diversity July 1, 2009, and has served as vice provost since 2005, serving the first year of his appointment in an interim position. He has also served as a faculty member in the College of Education since 1998, most recently in the role of associate professor and senior research associate in the Department of Educational Leadership. As the chief diversity officer for the institution, he provides central leadership for campuswide diversity efforts; leads development and implementation of the University Diversity Plan; oversees activities of the Office of Institutional Equity and Diversity, the Office of Multicultural Academic Success, the Many Nations Longhouse, and the Center on Diversity and Community; represents the university and its diversity programs to external audiences; supports diversity-building programs across campus; and works with the central administration to prioritize initiatives that serve the diversity goals and education mission of the institution.

Graduation with Latin Honors

Graduating seniors who have earned at least 90 credits in residence at the University of Oregon and have completed all other university degree requirements shall be awarded graduation with honors: upper 2 percent, summa cum laude; upper 5 percent, magna cum laude; upper 10 percent, cum laude. These distinctions are based on students' percentile rankings for their graduation term. The honors determination for summer 2009 degree candidates is provisional. It is based on academic work completed prior to the graduation term and is not official until final grades have been recorded.

Names of degree candidates are listed alphabetically by college or school and degree. For summer 2009 candidates, the students whose names are listed herein were considered to be candidates for the degrees indicated when the program was printed. This is not an official degree list. The appropriate degrees and diplomas will be awarded to those candidates who have successfully completed all requirements by the end of summer session 2009.

Oregon Pledge Song

Old Oregon, we pledge to thee
Our honor and fidelity, Both now and in the years to be,
A never failing loyalty.
Fair Oregon, thy name shall be Written high in liberty.
Now, uncovered, swear we every one
Our pledge to Oregon.

John Stark Evans, a member of the music faculty for many years, wrote the Oregon Pledge Song, fondly known as "Old Oregon," in 1919.
He gave the rights to the pledge song to the University of Oregon.
