Oregon Pledge Song

Fair Oregon, we pledge to thee
Our honor and fidelity,
Both now and in the years to be,
A never failing loyalty.
Fair Oregon, thy name shall be
Written high in liberty.
Now, uncovered, swears thy every son
Our pledge to Oregon.

For notes on academic costume, turn to inside back cover.

Awards for Distinguished Service

DAVID WILLIAM ECCLES BAIRD
Presented by Orlando John Hollis, B.S., J.D.
Distinguished Professor of Law

David William Eccles Baird, a native of Oregon, a graduate of the University of Oregon Medical School, and a member of the medical profession for more than 40 years, served the Medical School as its Dean for a quarter-century. During his distinguished administration, Dr. Baird's dreams for the School were of great dimension and the realization of those dreams was of substantial proportion. Although he was often confronted with lack of financial resources and understanding, he was able, with the loyal support of his associates, to provide the School with modern buildings and equipment, a faculty of outstanding quality, and a continuing research program supported in part by the Medical Research Foundation of Oregon. The people of Oregon are justly proud of the achievements of the Medical School in providing professional training of high quality to young medical doctors, in devising new techniques in the prevention and treatment of human ailments, and in assisting future generations to better lives with its broad-ranging research findings. The University of Oregon is honored to recognize David William Eccles Baird as the architect and chief builder of the School which has been of such great service to our state, the Pacific Northwest, and the nation.

ROY FREDERIC BESSEY
Presented by Vernon Laban Barkhurst, M.A.
Director of Admissions

Roy Frederic Bessey, Engineer, Regional Planner, Conservationist, for over thirty years has played a leading role in the development and conservation of the resources of the Northwest. He came to Oregon in 1933 as Pacific Northwest regional officer for the National Resources Planning Board and executive officer for the newly formed Pacific Northwest Regional Planning Commission. The studies prepared by Mr. Bessey and his staff brought forth a broad new concept for the future development of the Northwest, on a more unified and comprehensive basis than had ever before been envisioned. Their recommendations included proposals for the construction of a vast power network which would interconnect Grand Coulee and Bonneville Dams as well as other future hydro-electric projects within the Columbia Basin. Also included, were proposals for the creation of a separate federal agency for the transmission and marketing of power on a low-cost, area-wide basis. This was the genesis of what we now know as the Bonneville Power Administration. Down through the years Mr. Bessey has continued to be intimately involved in the development of the Pacific Northwest: as special advisor to the Bonneville Power Administration, as Executive Director and Chairman of the Pacific Northwest Field Committee of the Secretary of the Interior, and as Consultant to various branches of the United States Government and many other public and private agencies. Mr. Bessey has also written a number of important works on planning and resource policy. His "Regional Planning in the Pacific Northwest—A Review" is virtually the only comprehensive reference on the evolution of regional planning for the Columbia Basin. Roy Bessey is one of those rare persons whose imprint on society is great, but who are seldom visible. We, as well as future generations, will derive incalculable benefits from his vision and accomplishments.

GLENN LAWRENCE JACKSON

Presented by Carl Curtis Webb, M.A.

Associate Professor of Journalism;

Manager, Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association

Glenn Lawrence Jackson, the son of a distinguished Oregon educator and editor, received his professional education in business management. He has held high military command in time of national crisis, and has built a career of distinction as newspaper proprietor, public utility executive, industrial planner and financier. Foreign governments have conferred upon him their decorations for merit. His civic responsibilities have included Chairman of the Oregon State Highway Commission, builder of parks and conservator of natural resources, founder of new communities, trustee of a distinguished private university and community institutions.

Glenn Jackson has demonstrated the conviction that men, individually and in community, are politically emancipated only as they are economically free. He is dedicated to the American social philosophy of imaginative and creative economic growth with constant overtones of social responsibility and constructive stewardship.
