in the Portland Daily Abstract (1906-1910)

INDEX-SUMMARY FIVE - BUILDINGS SORTED BY SIGNIFICANT FEATURES

Instructions:

"Significant Features" include style, building materials and technology, and cultural/social significance, as related to specific buildings in the database. Only partial data about each building is listed in this index/summary, so you must refer to Index/Summary Two (A) or (B) by looking up the building's name for more complete information and references. More buildings were identified with significant features in the database than are included in this index/summary, which was edited to remove most routine and ordinary examples. For example, the "style" which was most reported was "bungalow". Bungalow was so common a term and so vague as a stylistic reference, however that the buildings listed in this index/summary under the bungalow style are a very limited selection whose descriptions were unusually descriptive. A more complete list of buildings reported as bungalows can be compiled from the one-line summary comments which accompany each building reference in Index/Summary Two (A) or (B). Styles are listed as they were reported in the Portland Daily Abstract. Many of the references to building materials were also edited to exclude routine and less-significant applications. The "concrete" listings omit routine foundations, for example. The "technology" choice was limited to new or interesting applications of building technology, such as Astoria's first elevator. The "cultural" choice was used if some special cultural or social significance was reported, such as the relocation of Portland's Chinatown. The Significant Feature categories include the following:

Style (as reported):

"Art Nouveau"	"Gothic" types
"Bungalow"	"Japanese"
"California" types	Miscellaneous styles
"Classical" (Greek and Roman) types	"Mission"
"Colonial" types	"Queen Anne"
"Craftsman"	"Renaissance" types
"Dutch" types	"Southern Colonial"
"English", "English Cottage", "Old English" types (Tudor, Elizabethan)	"Spanish" and "Spanish Colonial"
"German"	"Swiss Chalet", "Swiss"

Building Materials:

art glass	concrete block
brick	concrete brick
cast stone	stone
ceramic tile	terra cotta
concrete

An Index and Summary of Oregon Building Information
in the Portland Daily Abstract (1906-1910)

INDEX-SUMMARY SIX - BUILDINGS SORTED BY USE (Houses excluded)

Instructions:

Each of the 9,780 buildings, structures, landscapes, and an object which is documented in this database was categorized by its function, or use. The "use" categories were adapted from a list used by the Oregon State Historic Preservation Office. Information in the Portland Daily Abstract was not always adequate to select a precise use. For example, a building's use was sometimes described as "barn", without additional information which would categorize it as "agriculture/barn". Consequently, both of these categories appear in the following list. Similarly, "garage" and "automobile garage" both appear. Index/Summary Six sorts the database into use categories, and the number of buildings within each category is noted; the 7,102 single-family residences (houses) are excluded. Only partial data about each building is listed in this index/summary, so you must refer to Index/Summary Two (A) or (B) by looking up the building's name for more complete information and references. The following uses are included:
