Oregon State System of Higher Education

The Oregon State System of Higher Education, as organized in 1932 by the State Board of Higher Education, following a survey of higher education in Oregon by the U. S. Office of Education, includes all the state-supported institutions of higher education. The several institutions are elements of an articulated system, parts of an integrated whole. The educational program is so organized as to distribute as widely as possible throughout the state the opportunities for general education and to center on a particular campus specialized, technical, and professional curricula closely related to one another.

The institutions of the State System of Higher Education are the University of Oregon at Eugene, Oregon State College at Corvallis, Portland State College at Portland, Oregon College of Education at Monmouth, Southern Oregon College at Ashland, Eastern Oregon College at La Grande, and Oregon Technical Institute at Klamath Falls. The University of Oregon Medical School and the University of Oregon Dental School are located in Portland. The General Extension Division, representing all the institutions, has headquarters in Portland and offices in Ashland, Corvallis, Eugene, La Grande, Monmouth, and Salem.

At Oregon College of Education, Southern Oregon College, and Eastern Oregon College, students may complete major work in teacher education or general studies or enroll in a preprofessional program.

Portland State College offers major work in general studies and selected liberal arts and professional fields as well as certain preprofessional programs.

At the University and Oregon State College, major curricula, both liberal and professional, are grouped on either campus in accordance with the distinctive functions of the respective institutions in the unified state system of higher education.

Terminal courses in technical and semiprofessional areas are offered at Oregon Technical Institute.

An interinstitutional booklet, Your Education, which outlines the curricula of the several institutions and contains other information, is available. For a copy, write to Division of Information, Board of Higher Education, P.O. Box 5175, Eugene, Oregon.

General Information

History of the University

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON was established by an act of the Oregon Legislature in 1872, but did not open its doors to students until four years later, in 1876. The founding of the University grew out of a Federal grant, authorized in the Donation Act of September 27, 1850, of two townships of land "to aid in the establishment of a university in the territory of Oregon." The territory then included the entire Oregon Country; it was specified that one of the townships was to be located north of the Columbia.

On July 17, 1854, the grant was changed by an act reserving two townships each for the newly separated Washington and Oregon territories. This grant was confirmed on February 14, 1859, when the Act of Congress admitting Oregon into the Union provided for a grant of seventy-two sections of land for the establishment and support of a state university. The Legislature, by an act of June 3, 1859, committed the people of Oregon to the application of the proceeds from this grant "to the use and support of a state university."

The settlement of Oregon and the accumulation of funds from the sale of these University lands progressed slowly. In 1850 the population of the entire Oregon Country was only 13,294. In 1860 the population of the state was 52,465, and in 1870, 90,993. There were already five denominational colleges in the state in 1860; and the United States census of 1870 reported that there were twenty "classical, professional and technical" institutions ("not public") in Oregon. The creation of a state university was deferred.

However, after a fund of $31,635 had accumulated from the sale of University lands, the Legislature on October 19, 1872 passed an act "to create, organize and locate the University of the State of Oregon." Eugene was chosen as the site after the Lane County delegation in the Legislature had offered to provide a building and campus worth $50,000. The Union University Association of Eugene, the organization promoting the institution, was given two years in which to construct this building.

Construction of the building, Deady Hall, began in May 1873. However, the genesis of the University and the economic troubles of 1873 coincided, and it was only after an intense struggle to keep the enterprise alive and a two-year extension of time for completion that the conditions specified in the act creating the University were declared fulfilled. The site and building were accepted by the state on July 28, 1876, and the University opened its first session on October 16, 1876. The first class was graduated in June 1878.

Deady Hall was the nucleus around which other University buildings later arose: Villard Hall, the second campus structure, was built in 1885.

The first University courses were limited almost entirely to classical and literary subjects; the demand for a broader curriculum was, however, gradually met by the addition of scientific and professional instruction. Around the original liberal arts college were organized the professional schools, beginning with the School of Law, established as a night law school in Portland in 1884 (in 1915 the School of Law was moved to Eugene and reorganized as a regular division of the University). The Medical School was established in Portland in 1887. The Graduate School was organized in 1900, the School of Music in 1902, the School of Education in 1910, the School of Architecture and Allied Arts and the School of Business Administration in 1914, the School of Journalism in 1916, and the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation in 1920. The Dental School, located in Portland, became a part of the University in 1945; its previous history as a privately supported institution dates from 1893. The School of Nursing, located on the Medical School campus in Portland, was organized in 1960 (a degree curriculum in nursing has been offered by the University since 1926; from 1932 to 1960 the program was administered through the Department of Nursing Education of the Medical School). The Honors College was established in 1960.

Since its founding, the following men have served the University as president: John Wesley Johnson, 1876-1893; Charles H. Chapman, 1893-1899; Frank Strong, 1899-1902; Prince Lucien Campbell, 1902-1925; Arnold Bennett Hall, 1926-1932; Clarence Valentine Boyer, 1934-1938; Donald Milton Erb, 1938-1943; Orlando John Hollis, acting president, 1944-1945; Harry K. Newburn, 1945-1953; Victor Pierpont Morris, acting president, 1953-1954; O. Meredith Wilson, 1954-1960; William C. Jones, acting president since 1960.

Income

THE STATE LAW creating the Board of Higher Education specified that this body was to "have and exercise control of the use, distribution and disbursement of all funds, appropriations and taxes, now or hereafter in possession, levied and collected, received or appropriated for the use, benefit, support and maintenance of institutions of higher education." Under this act, effective July 1, 1931, the Board administers all funds for all state-supported higher-educational activities, including the University of Oregon, on the basis of a unified budget.

Funds for the support of higher education in Oregon are derived primarily from the following sources: state appropriations for the operation of the institutions; specified sums from the national government assigned for definite purposes by Congressional acts; income from student tuition and fees; and other sources such as gifts, grants, sales, service charges, etc.

Campuses

THE MAIN CAMPUS of the University of Oregon is located in Eugene (population 51,000), 124 miles south of Portland, at the head of the Willamette Valley. Eugene is a progressive city with excellent schools, numerous churches, and strong civic and social organizations. The climate is mild, with moderate winters and cool summers. The average annual rainfall is 38½ inches, with the heaviest rainfall in the winter months, November, December, and January.

The Eugene campus occupies about 187 acres of land in the eastern part of the city (see map, facing page 4). The campus is bisected by Thirteenth Avenue. The first University buildings were erected north of Thirteenth, on what is known as the "old campus." Later expansions have been principally to the south and east.

Most of the buildings on the old campus are arranged in a quadrangle: Fenton Hall, Deady Hall, Villard Hall, Lawrence Hall, Allen Hall, and Friendly Hall. Johnson Hall (the Administration Building) is located across Thirteenth Avenue, facing the north quadrangle. South of Johnson Hall is an integrated group of buildings, including Gerlinger Hall (the women's gymnasium) and two dormitories, Hendricks Hall and Susan Campbell Hall.

A new quadrangle being developed to the west includes Commonwealth Hall, north of Thirteenth Avenue, and, to the south, Condon Hall, Chapman Hall, the Museum of Art, and the University Library. The Education Building and the Music Building are located south of this quadrangle.

Until the 1920s the east boundary of the campus was, roughly, University Street. Significant expansion beyond this boundary began with the erection of McArthur Court (the student athletic center) and the John Straub Memorial Building (a men's dormitory), and continued in the 1930s with the erection of the Physical Education Building and the Student Health Service Building. Recent additions in this area are the Science Building, the Anthropology Building, Emerald Hall (a temporary structure housing administrative and student-counseling offices), the Donald M. Erb Memorial Union, and several dormitories.

Since the end of World War II, extensive temporary housing facilities for students have been erected on or near the campus. These facilities include houses and apartments for married students, east of the main campus; a dormitory for men, south of the Education Building; and row-house apartments, occupying a 30-acre tract about six blocks southwest of the campus.

There are three notable works of sculpture on the campus. "The Pioneer," by Alexander Phimister Proctor, stands on the old campus, facing Johnson Hall; it was given to the University in 1919 by Joseph N. Teal. "The Pioneer Mother," also by Proctor, is located in the women's quadrangle; it was given to the University in 1932 by Vice-President Emeritus Burt Brown Baker, in memory of his mother. "Prometheus" (1958), by Jan Zach, north of the Museum of Art, is the gift of alumnae and student members of Gamma Phi Beta.

The Medical School, the Dental School, and the School of Nursing are located on an 80-acre campus on Marquam Hill in Portland. For further information see the Medical School and Dental School catalogs.

THE SERVICES of the University of Oregon Library are organized in broad subject divisions: Social Science, Science, Humanities, and General Reference and Documents. Each of the divisions has its own reading rooms, conveniently integrated with its book collections. All University students have free access to the book stacks.

The services of the subject divisions are supplemented by the Audio-Visual Department, which provides facilities for the production, preservation, and use of recordings, slides, films, and similar materials, and by the Special Collections Department, which is responsible for the development and care of collections of Pacific Northwest historical materials, rare books, manuscripts, and University archives.

The University Library was founded in 1882 through a gift of books, worth $1,000, selected and purchased by Henry Villard of New York City. Before 1882 the only library available to students was a collection of about 1,000 volumes owned by the Laurean and Eutaxian student literary societies; this collection was made a part of the University Library in 1900. In 1881 Mr. Villard gave the University $50,000 as a permanent endowment; a provision of the gift was that at least $400 of the income should be used for the purchase of nontechnical books for the Library.

In addition to the general Library collections, the University has a number of specialized libraries with permanent collections. The holdings of the several libraries as of January 1, 1961 are shown below:

|--|---------|
| General Library..... | 665,122 |
| Law Library..... | 52,314 |
| Gertrude Bass Warner Memorial Library..... | 889 |
| Municipal Reference Library..... | 18,970 |
| Medical School Library..... | 74,015 |
| Dental School Library..... | 7,607 |
| Total..... | 818,917 |

Other materials in the University Library include: 60,489 maps; 101,239 photos, pictures, and prints; 10,013 sound recordings; 55,196 slides; 454 film strips; 266 motion-picture films; 80,927 uncataloged pamphlets; and 464,588 manuscripts.

The Library facilities for undergraduate work are excellent; and strong collections for advanced study and research are being built in the various fields of liberal and professional scholarship. All of the books in the libraries of the institutions of the Oregon State System of Higher Education are available to the students and faculty of the University.

Some of the Library's resources of particular value for advanced study are: a collection of source materials on English life and letters in the seventeenth century; a collection of books, reports, and periodicals on English opinion and politics of the nineteenth century, including considerable material on English liberalism in its relation to public education; materials on the history of American education in the nineteenth century; a collection of pamphlets on the English corn laws; the Overmeyer Collection of published works on the Civil War; a collection of Balzaciana; unusually extensive and complete files of psychological periodicals; an extensive collection of Oregon and Pacific Northwest manuscripts, photographs, maps, pamphlets, books, and newspapers. The noncurrent records of the University of Oregon are deposited with the Library as University archives.

The Burgess Collection of manuscripts, incunabula, and rare books is the gift of Miss Julia Burgess, late professor of English at the University, and of friends of the institution.

The Douglass Room, established through a bequest from the late Matthew Hale Douglass, former librarian of the University, contains record collections, collections of music scores, and reference books in the field of music. The room is equipped with phonographs with earphone attachments for individual listening.

The Philip Brooks Memorial Library, the gift of Mrs. Lester Brooks, is a reference collection of standard sets of American and English authors; it is housed in a special room on the third floor of the Library building.

The Adelaid Church Memorial Room, a "browsing room" for recreational reading in the Student Union, is operated as a department of the University Library. Collections maintained in this room include the Pauline Potter Homer Collection of fine editions, illustrated books, books with fine bindings, and examples of the work of private presses.

The Municipal Reference Library, housed in the office of the Bureau of Municipal Research and Service in Commonwealth Hall, contains books, pamphlets, and other materials dealing with problems of local government.

The Law Library, housed in Fenton Hall, contains complete case reports of the National Reporter System, complete state reports from Colonial times to the establishment of the Reporter System, a substantial collection of English and Canadian case law, compilations of state and Federal statute law, standard legal digests and encyclopaedias, etc. Its periodical collection includes files of about 100 legal periodicals. An excellent collection of publications relating to Oregon territorial and state laws includes an extensive file of Oregon Supreme Court briefs.

The Gertrude Bass Warner Memorial Library of books on the history, literature, life, and particularly the art of Oriental countries is the gift of Mrs. Warner.

The School of Architecture and Allied Arts has a reference collection in Lawrence Hall. The collection includes the architecture library of the late Ion Lewis, Portland architect, given in 1929 by Mr. Lewis, and the library of William Whidden, given by his heirs.

The University Library issues a semiannual periodical, the CALL NUMBER, containing articles and notes of a broadly bibliographical nature, with special reference to its own collections.

Service. During the regular sessions the main Library is open on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.; on Fridays and Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; and on Sundays from 2:00 to 9:00 p.m. During vacation periods the Library is open from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Books other than reference books and those especially reserved for use in the Library may be borrowed for a period of two weeks, with the privilege of renewal if there is no other demand. Library privileges are extended to all University students and staff members, and may be granted to other persons upon application.

Library Fines and Charges. The following regulations govern Library fines and charges:

(1) A fine of 5 cents per day is charged for all overdue books other than reserve books and material circulated by special permission.

(2) The following fines are charged for violation of rules governing reserve books and material circulated by special permission: (a) for overdue books, 25 cents for the first hour and 5 cents for each succeeding hour, or fraction thereof, until the book is returned or reported lost (a maximum charge of $1.00 an hour may be made in case of flagrant violation of the rules); (b) for failure to return books to proper department desk, 25 cents.

(3) Books needed for use in the Library are subject to recall at any time. A maximum fine of $1.00 a day may be imposed for failure to return promptly.

(4) A service charge of 10 cents is added to all fines reported to the Business Office for collection.

(5) Borrowers losing books are charged the replacement cost of the book, plus the amount of fine incurred up to the time the book is reported missing. In addition, a charge of $1.00 is made to cover the cost of cataloging and processing the replacement copy.

(6) When a lost book, for which the borrower has been billed, is returned before a replacement has been ordered, a refund not exceeding the replacement cost plus the $1.00 cataloging and processing charge may be made, at the discretion of the librarian. In cases where a replacement has been ordered, any refunds to the borrower are at the discretion of the librarian.

Instruction. A program of study in library science is offered through the Department of Librarianship of the School of Education to prepare students for positions as school librarians and for intermediate positions in public libraries. The program includes a graduate major leading to the master's degree.

The department also offers a service course to acquaint students with the resources of the University Library and to aid them in the efficient use of these resources.

Unified Facilities. The library collections at the state institutions of higher education in Oregon have been developed to meet special needs on each campus; but the book stock of the libraries, as property of the state, circulates freely to permit the fullest use of all books. The library facilities of the several institutions are coordinated through a State System director of libraries. The director is also librarian of Oregon State College, Corvallis, where the central offices of the library system are located. An author list of books in the State College Library is maintained in the University Library.

Museums and Collections

MUSEUMS AND COLLECTIONS maintained at the University include the Museum of Art and the Museum of Natural History. Art exhibits are also shown in the gallery on the second floor of the Student Union.

The Museum of Art, housing the Murray Warner Collection of Oriental Art and other University art collections, was erected in 1930. The building and the garden court adjoining it, both dedicated to the memory of Prince Lucien Campbell, fourth president of the University, were financed through gifts from the citizens of Oregon.

The Warner Collection was given to the University in 1921 by Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner as a memorial to her husband, Major Murray Warner, with whom she had been collecting works of Oriental art from the time of their marriage in China in 1904 until his death in 1920. Mrs. Warner continued until her death in 1951 to augment and improve the collection and direct its exhibition. She also established a museum reference library for studies in Oriental art; the collection is now known as the Gertrude Bass Warner Memorial Library.

The Murray Warner Collection includes 3,196 accessioned objects, representing principally the cultures of China and Japan, but including some works of art from Korea, Cambodia, Mongolia, and Russia.

The first-floor galleries of the Museum of Art are reserved for the showing of traveling exhibitions, the display of special study material, and exhibitions of the work of local and Northwest artists.

ing the collections and the fields of knowledge represented. Qualified persons may have access to study specimens on application to the curators. The Museum of Natural History welcomes gifts to its collection.

Condon Museum of Geology. The Condon Museum of Geology consists of collections of rocks, minerals, and fossils. It grew out of the early collection made by Dr. Thomas Condon. The Condon Museum contains valuable material from the John Day fossil beds in central Oregon and suites of fossils, both vertebrate and invertebrate, from various regions in the western part of the American continent.

Herbarium. The Herbarium is well supplied with mounted specimens from Oregon and the Pacific Northwest, and has several thousand from eastern states and the Philippines. It includes the Howell Collection of 10,000 specimens, mostly from Oregon; the Leiberg Collection, presented to the University by John B. Leiburg in 1908, consisting of about 15,000 sheets from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and California; the Cusick Collection of 7,000 specimens; 1,200 sheets from the Philadelphia Academy of Sciences, obtained by exchange; and more than 25,000 sheets collected by the late Louis F. Henderson while curator of the Herbarium. These collections are housed for the most part in regulation steel herbarium cases, the gift of numerous friends in the state. Representative collections of the fossil flora of Oregon are being built.

Oregon State Museum of Anthropology. The anthropological collections of the University were designated by the 1935 Legislature as the Oregon State Museum of Anthropology. The collections consist of skeletal and cultural materials from both archaeological and contemporary sources. Of particular interest are the following gift collections: the Condon Collection of archaeological material, collected in Oregon by Dr. Thomas Condon, consisting of many specimens illustrative of the prehistoric civilization of Oregon and the Northwest; the Ada Bradley Millican Collection of basketry and textiles, containing many specimens from the Pacific Northwest and from the Southwest; the Mrs. Vincent Cook Collection of baskets, mostly from the Pacific Northwest; the Mrs. Annie Knox Collection of baskets from western Oregon; the Phoebe Ellison Smith Memorial Collection of Philippine artifacts; a collection of Philippine war implements given by Mrs. Creed C. Thompson Collection of fine Pacific Northwest and California baskets, presented by Mrs. Genevieve Thompson Smith; the Van de Velde Collection of Congolese iron and wood artifacts and musical instruments; the Alice Henson Ernst Collection of North Pacific Coast masks and related objects; and the Governor and Mrs. Isaac Lee Patterson Collection of Indian artifacts, given by Mrs. Lee Patterson.

Museum of Zoology. The University has about 6,600 specimens of vertebrates available for study. The majority of these are study skins of birds and mammals taken in various parts of Oregon and prepared by members of the Department of Biology. This collection has, in the past, been considerably enriched by contributions of individual specimens and private collections. Among the notable contributions are a collection of mounted birds and mammals presented by Dr. A. G. Prill, a collection of Oregon reptiles made by J. R. Wetherbee, and a collection of fishes made by J. R. Bretherton. In 1945 the University purchased Dr. Prill's complete collection, adding to the museum approximately 1,600 bird skins, about 2,000 sets of eggs, and many nests. Most of the skins are of Oregon birds, and provide excellent material for the study of variation and adaptation. Some of the birds represented are now rare visitants in Oregon, and in some cases the only specimens reported.

The museum also has a collection of fresh- and salt-water invertebrates of the state of Oregon. A small part of the collection, mainly Echinoderms and Molluscs, has been identified; but most of the specimens are as yet uncataloged.

Official Publications

THE 1932 LEGISLATIVE ACT placing all the Oregon state institutions of higher education under the control of one Board provided that all public announcements pertaining to the several institutions "shall emanate from and bear the name of the Department of Higher Education and shall be conducted in such a way as to present to the citizens of the state and prospective students a fair and impartial view of the higher educational facilities provided by the state and the prospects for useful employment in the various fields for which those facilities afford preparation." Official publications of the University of Oregon include:

University of Oregon Bulletin. The UNIVERSITY OF OREGON BULLETIN is published nine times a year by the State Board of Higher Education. Included in the BULLETIN are the official catalogs of the University and its several divisions.

University of Oregon Monographs. Research studies published by the University appear as a series known as UNIVERSITY OF OREGON MONOGRAPHS.

Comparative Literature. COMPARATIVE LITERATURE, a quarterly journal, is published by the University of Oregon in cooperation with the Comparative Literature Section of the Modern Language Association of America.

Oregon Law Review. THE OREGON LAW REVIEW is published quarterly under the editorship of the faculty of the School of Law as a service to the members of the Oregon bar and as a stimulus to legal research and productive scholarship on the part of students.

Oregon Business Review. The OREGON BUSINESS REVIEW is published monthly by the Bureau of Business Research. Its primary purpose is to report and interpret current business and economic conditions in Oregon and the Pacific Northwest.

Call Number. The CALL NUMBER is published semiannually by the University of Oregon Library. It contains articles and notes of a broadly bibliographical nature, with special reference to the Library's own collections.

Physical-Education Microcards. The University issues, through the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, several microcard series in the fields of health, physical education, recreation, and related subjects. The series include dissertations, theses, and other unpublished research materials, and out-of-print scholarly books and periodicals.

Municipal Research Bulletins. The publications of the Bureau of Municipal Research and Service, intended primarily as a service to city officials in the state of Oregon, are issued in four series, INFORMATION BULLETINS, LEGAL BULLETINS, FINANCE BULLETINS, and SPECIAL BULLETINS, published for the most part in mimeographed form.

Academic Regulations

Admission

TO BE ADMITTED to the University of Oregon a student must be of good moral character and must present evidence of acceptable preparation for work at the college level. Every person wishing to earn credit in the regular sessions of the University must file with the Director of Admissions: (1) an application on an official University form; (2) official transcripts of all high-school and college records.

Application and transcripts of records should be filed several weeks before the applicant intends to enter the University; late filing may delay or prevent registration. If a student fails to submit the required documents in complete and satisfactory form, his admission and registration may be canceled. All records submitted become the property of the University.

Students planning to enter the University in the fall term should file their applications for admission with the Director of Admissions not later than August 31. A late-filing fee of $10.00 is charged if applications are filed later than this date.

Admission to Freshman Standing

To be admitted to freshman standing in the University, a student must be a graduate of a standard or accredited high school and, in addition, meet certain qualitative educational standards. The qualitative requirements for residents of Oregon differ from those for nonresident students:

Resident Students. Students who are residents of Oregon, to be eligible for admission, must: (1) have a 2.00 grade-point average (C average) in all high-school subjects taken for graduation; or (2) attain a satisfactory score on the College Entrance Examination Board scholastic aptitude test; or (3) achieve a GPA of 2.00 on a full load of study (at least 9 term hours) in a regular collegiate summer sessions including a course in English composition and two or more courses from the fields of literature, social science, or science.

Nonresident Students. Students who are not residents of Oregon, to be eligible for admission, must: (1) have a 2.50 grade-point average in all high-school subjects taken for graduation; or (2) attain a satisfactory score on the scholastic aptitude test (nonresident students are not eligible for admission under the second alternative if their high-school GPA is less than 2.00).

A nonresident student who is unable to meet the regular requirements for admission to freshman standing may be able to qualify for admission as a transfer student on the basis of successful college level work in a summer session (see ADMISSION OF TRANSFER STUDENTS, page 66).

Credentials. A student applying for admission to freshman standing must submit to the Office of Admissions: (1) records of all school work taken beyond the eighth grade, certified by the proper school official on the official form used by his high school for this purpose; and (2) certified results of the following College Entrance Examination Board tests: (a) scholastic aptitude test, (b) achievement test in English composition, (c) achievement test in intermediate mathematics, and (d) achievement test in a foreign language, if he has studied a foreign language for two years in high school.* See also ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS, page 67.

Scores on the College Entrance Examination Board tests are used primarily as a basis for advising and placement. As indicated above, students may satisfy the University's qualitative standard for admission through a satisfactory score on the scholastic aptitude test.

The Office of Admissions will, on request, determine tentatively the eligibility of an application for admission prior to the completion of his last semester of high-school work on the basis of partial records. Before formal admission is granted, however, the applicant must file complete high-school records.

Advanced Placement Program. Students who have completed college-level studies in high school under the Advanced Placement Program sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board, and who have received satisfactory grades in examinations administered by the Board, may be granted credit toward a bachelor's degree in comparable University courses on admission to freshman standing. For further information, see page 106.

Admission of Transfer Students

Transfer students are persons admitted to the University of Oregon after having been registered in any other institution of collegiate grade or in a department or center of extension work, including the General Extension Division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

Since the University of Oregon requires its students to maintain a scholastic average of C (grade-point average 2.00) for "satisfactory" status in the University and for graduation, it also requires that students transferring to the University with regular standing from other collegiate institutions present records of at least C-average scholastic work and evidence of honorable dismissal. Transfer students who present fewer than 12 term hours of collegiate credit must also meet the requirements for freshman standing.

The amount of transferred credit granted depends upon the nature and quality of the applicant's previous work, evaluated according to the academic requirements of the University. Records from fully accredited institutions are evaluated before admission is granted.

No advanced standing is granted at entrance for work done in nonaccredited collegiate institutions. However, after three terms of satisfactory work in the University, an undergraduate student transferring from a nonaccredited institution may petition for credit in University of Oregon courses which are the equivalent of courses taken at the nonaccredited institution; validating examinations may be required. Petitions for such credit may be based only on regularly organized college-level courses.

Transfer students are required to file with the Office of Admissions: (1) complete official records of all school work beyond the eighth grade; and (2) a certified score on the College Entrance Examination Board scholastic aptitude test. College records must be certified by the registrar of the institution providing the record; if the student's high-school record is adequately shown on his college transcript, he need not obtain another record direct from his high school. If a student has taken the scholastic aptitude test on a previous occasion, he need not take it again, but may obtain and submit a transcript of his score from the College Entrance Examination Board.

Admission of Special Students

Students qualified by maturity and ability to do satisfactory University work, but who fail in some respect to meet the requirements for regular standing, may apply for admission as special students. Requirements for special-student admission include a satisfactory score in the College Entrance Examination Board scholastic aptitude test and the joint approval of the Director of Admissions and the dean of the college or school in which the applicant wishes to study. Special-student status is, however, not granted to upper-division students with less than a 2.00 grade.

* Information concerning scheduled test dates and the location of testing centers may be obtained from high-school counselors or from the College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, N. J., or Box 2789, Los Angeles, 27, Calif.

A special student should qualify for regular standing as soon as possible, by satisfactory University work and by the removal of any entrance deficiencies; if his grades when admitted were below a C average, he must raise his cumulative average to that level before being granted regular standing. A student may not continue for more than 45 term hours of University work under special-student classification without explicit permission (which is seldom granted). A special student may earn credits toward a degree; to qualify for a degree, however, he must complete at least 45 term hours of work after he has been granted regular standing. (In case a regular student changes to special status, work done while a special student will not apply toward a degree.)

Admission to Graduate Standing

For requirements and procedures for admission to graduate study see GRADUATE SCHOOL.

Entrance Examinations

TO PROVIDE THE FACULTY with a basis for reliable advice and assistance to students in the planning of their programs, the University requires all entering undergraduate students to submit certified scores on the College Entrance Examination Board's scholastic aptitude test; freshmen students are required to submit, in addition, scores on College Board achievement tests in the following fields: English composition, intermediate mathematics, a foreign language (if the student has studied a foreign language for two years in high school).

Students are expected to take these tests before entering the University. Students who are unable to arrange to take the tests before they arrive on the campus may, however, apply to the University Counseling Center for permission to take them on the campus. In such cases, a fee of $4.00 is charged for the scholastic aptitude test and a fee of $6.00 for the achievement tests.

All entering students, undergraduate and graduate, are also required to take a physical examination and provide evidence of immunization to certain contagious diseases (see page 84). The physical examination is given by a physician chosen by the student, who provides an examination report to the University Student Health Service.

Honors

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON offers special programs of study as a challenge to students of superior scholastic ability, and provides official recognition for students completing regular degree programs with outstanding scholastic records.

Honors College. The University of Oregon Honors College offers a four-year program of study leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (Honors College). For further information, see pages 105-106.

Upper-Division Honors. For superior students in the professional schools, the University offers, under the supervision of the Honors Council, an upper-division honors program leading to bachelor degree with honors in the student's major. Among the aims of the honors program are encouragement of independent study, the attainment of a broad understanding within a field of study, wide reading, and original or creative work; the programs developed in the several schools differ in approach in accordance with the different requirements for sound educational progression in the several fields.

Eligibility and Enrollment. The minimum requirements for admission to upper-division honors work are: (1) completion of 93 term hours of University work, (2) satisfaction of all lower-division requirements for a bachelor's degree, and (3) a cumulative grade-point average of at least 2.75 (higher requirements may be set by a school for its honors students). Other upper-division students may be admitted to honors work, on the recommendation of the head of their school and the approval of the Honors Council. Normally a student begins his honors work in the first term of his junior year; he enrolls with the chairman of the Honors Council when he begins honors work and each term during the period of his honors program.

Study Programs. The total study program of the honors student includes courses which satisfy University requirements for a degree and special honors courses. A maximum of 18 term hours of credit may be earned in independent studies (Research, Reading and Conference, Thesis). An honors student is required to maintain a grade-point average of at least 3.00 each term of his honors work.

Examination. Honors studies culminate in an examination, conducted by the school supervising the candidate's program, and given before May 25 of the student's senior year; the examining committee includes one member of the Honors Council. If the student's program includes a thesis or essay, a copy must be presented to the chairman of the Honors Council at least one week before the examination.

Recognition for High Scholarship. Candidates for the bachelor's degree who achieve a cumulative grade-point average of 3.75-4.00 receive the award of "Recognition for Highest Scholarship"; candidates who achieve a cumulative grade-point average of 3.50-3.74 receive the award of "Recognition for High Scholarship."

Master's Degree with Honors. Candidates for the master's degree who pass a final examination with exceptional merit may, by vote of the examining committee, be awarded the degree with honors.

Academic Procedure

THE REGULAR ACADEMIC YEAR throughout the Oregon State System of Higher Education is divided into three terms of approximately twelve weeks each. The summer session supplements the work of the regular year (see special announcements). Students may enter at the beginning of any term. It is important that freshmen and transferring students entering in the fall term be present for New Student Week (see page 79). A detailed calendar for the current year will be found on pages 8-9.

Students are held responsible for familiarity with University requirements governing such matters as routine of registration, academic standards, student activities, organizations, etc. Complete academic regulations are included in the separately published Time Schedule of Classes, a copy of which is furnished each student at registration.

Registration Procedure

All students must register in person at the beginning of each term; registration by mail or by proxy is not permitted. Complete registration instructions are contained in the Time Schedule. Students are officially registered and entitled to attend classes for credit only when they have completed the prescribed procedures, including the payment of term fees.

Students planning to return to the campus after absence of a term or more or after earning a degree should notify the Registrar's Office at least three weeks before registration, in order to allow time for the preparation of registration materials. If notice is not given, registration will be delayed, and the student may become subject to penalties.

All regular students are required to file official transcripts of any academic work taken at other institutions since their first enrollment in the University. The official records must be kept complete at all times; the withholding of any part of a student's academic record is considered a breach of ethics, and may result in the cancellation of registration and credits.

Academic Advising

Each student is assigned a faculty adviser, who assists him in planning his study program. Students should consult their advisers whenever they need help with academic problems. Adviser assignments for freshmen and sophomores are made from a University-wide group of lower-division advisers. Upper-division and graduate advisers are assigned by major schools and departments.

Definitions

A TERM HOUR represents three hours of the student's time each week for one term. This time may be assigned to work in classroom or laboratory or to outside preparation. The number of lecture, recitation, laboratory, or other periods required per week for any course may be found in the Time Schedule of Classes.

A COURSE is a subject, or an instructional subdivision of a subject, offered through a single term.

A YEAR SEQUENCE consists of three closely articulated courses extending through the three terms of the academic year.

A CURRICULUM is an organized program of study arranged to provide integrated cultural or professional education.

Course Numbering System

Courses in University of Oregon catalogs are numbered in accordance with the following system:

- 1- 49.* Remedial courses which carry no credit toward a degree.
- 50- 99.* Beginning courses in subjects taught in high school which carry credit toward a bachelor's degree.
- 100-299.* Lower-division courses.
 - 100-110, 200-210.* Survey or foundation courses which satisfy the lower-division group requirement.
- 300-499.* Upper-division courses.
 - 300-310.* Upper-division courses which satisfy an additional group requirement in the College of Liberal Arts.
 - 400-410.* Upper-division courses which may be taken through successive terms under the same number, credit being granted according to the amount of work done. Certain numbers in this bracket are reserved for special types of work: 401, Research or other supervised original work; 403, Thesis; 405, Reading and Conference;* 407, Seminar.

400-499, with designation (G) or (g). Upper-division courses which may be taken for graduate credit. Courses which may be taken for graduate major credit are designated (G); courses which may be taken for graduate minor credit only are designated (g).

500-599. Graduate courses. Seniors of superior scholastic achievement may be admitted to 500 courses on the approval of the instructor.

500-510. Graduate courses which may be taken through successive terms under the same number, credit being granted according to the amount of work done. Certain numbers in this bracket are reserved for special types of work: 501, Research or other supervised original work; 503, Thesis;† 505, Reading and Conference; 507, Seminar.

600-699. Courses of a highly professional or technical nature, which count toward a professional degree only (not toward advanced academic degrees such as M.A., M.S., Ph.D.).

Grading System

The quality of student work is measured by a system of grades, points, and grade-point averages.

Grades. Student work is graded as follows: A, exceptional; B, superior; C, average; D, inferior; F, failed; Inc, incomplete; W, withdrawn. Students ordinarily receive one of the four passing grades or F. When the quality of the work is satisfactory, but some minor yet essential requirement of the course has not been completed, for reasons acceptable to the instructor, a report of Inc may be made and additional time (normally not more than three terms) granted for completion of the work. Students may withdraw from a course by filing the proper forms in the Registrar's Office in accordance with University regulations.

No-Grade Courses. Certain University courses are designated no-grade courses. Students in these courses are rated "pass" or "not pass." To graduate from the University, a student must receive at least 150 term hours of credit in courses for which grades are given.

Grade-Point Average. Grade-points are assigned in relation to the level of the grade given, as follows: A, 4 points per term hour; B, 3 points per term hour; C, 2 points per term hour; D, 1 point per term hour; F, 0 points per term hour. The grade-point average (GPA) is the quotient of total points divided by total term hours for which grades are received. Marks of Inc, W, P, and NP are disregarded in the computation of the grade-point average.

Scholarship Regulations

The administration of the regulations governing scholarship requirements is vested in the Committee on Scholastic Deficiency of the faculty. This committee may disqualify a student from attending the University when it appears that his work is of such character that he cannot continue with profit to himself and with credit to the institution. In general, profitable and creditable work means substantial progress toward meeting graduation requirements. Any term or cumulative grade-point average below 2.00 is considered unsatisfactory, and may bring the student's record under review by the committee. Further details on committee procedures are published each year in the Time Schedule of Classes.

* Only students eligible for honors work may register for 405 Reading and Conference courses.

† In all divisions 503 Thesis courses are classified as no-grade courses (see below).

Fees and Deposits

STUDENTS AT THE UNIVERSITY* and at Oregon State College and Portland State College pay the same fees. In the fee schedule printed below, regular fees are those paid by all students under the usual conditions of undergraduate or graduate study; regular fees are payable in full at the time of registration. Special fees are paid under the special conditions indicated.

The Board of Higher Education reserves the right to make changes in the fee schedule without notice.

Payment of the stipulated fees entitles all students registered for academic credit (undergraduate and graduate, full-time and part-time) to all services maintained by the University for the benefit of students. These services include: use of the University Library; use of laboratory and course equipment and materials in connection with courses for which the student is registered; medical attention at the Student Health Service; use of gymnasium equipment (including gymnasium suits and laundry service); a subscription to the student daily newspaper; admission to athletic events; admission to concert and lecture series sponsored by the University. No reduction in fees is made to students who may not desire to take advantage of some of these privileges.

Regular Fees

Undergraduate Students. Undergraduate students who are residents of Oregon pay regular fees each term of the regular academic year, as follows: tuition, $10.00; laboratory and course fee, $46.00; incidental fee, $22.00; building fee, $12.00. The total in regular fees, which includes all laboratory and other charges in connection with instruction,† is $90.00 per term.

Undergraduate students who are not residents of Oregon pay the same fees as Oregon residents, and, in addition, a nonresident fee of $85.00 per term, or a total of $175.00 per term.

The regular fees for undergraduate students for a term and for a year may be summarized as follows:

| | Per Term | Per Year |
|--|----------|----------|
| Tuition | $ 10.00 | $ 30.00 |
| Laboratory and course fee..... | 46.00 | 138.00 |

| Total for nonresidents (who pay an additional nonresident fee of $85.00 per term)..... | $175.00 | $525.00 |

Graduate Students. The regular fees and tuition for graduate students total $90.00 per term. Students employed as graduate or research assistants or fellows pay fees totaling $34.00 per term. Graduate students do not pay the nonresident fee. Graduate students registered for 6 term hours of work or less pay the regular part-time fee. Payment of graduate fees entitles the student to all services maintained by the University for the benefit of students.

Deposits

All persons who enroll for academic credit (except staff members) must make a deposit of $10.00, payable once each year at the time of first registration. This is required for protection of the University against loss or damage of institutional

Refunds

Fee Refunds. Students who withdraw from the University and who have complied with the regulations governing withdrawals are entitled to certain refunds of fees paid, depending on the time of withdrawal. The refund schedule has been established by the State Board of Higher Education, and is on file in the University Business Office. All refunds are subject to the following regulations.

(1) Any claim for refund must be made in writing before the close of the term in which the claim originated.

(2) Refunds in all cases are calculated from the date the student officially withdraws from the University, not from the date when the student ceased attending classes, except in unusual cases when formal withdrawal has been delayed through causes largely beyond the control of the student.

Deposit Refunds. The $10.00 deposit, less any deductions which may have been made, is refunded about six weeks after the close of the academic year. Students who discontinue their work at the University before the end of the year may receive refunds, upon petition to the Business Office, about six weeks after the close of the fall or winter terms.

Regulations Governing Nonresident Fee

Under the regulations of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education, a minor student whose parents are bona fide residents of Oregon qualifies for enrollment under the resident fee; and a student whose domicile is independent of his father qualifies for enrollment under the resident fee if he presents convincing evidence that he established his domicile in Oregon three months prior to his first registration and that he was not a student at a collegiate institution during this period.

All other students are required to pay the nonresident fee, with the following exceptions: (1) a student who holds a degree from an accredited college or university (however, a nonresident student with a bachelor's degree enrolled in a curriculum at the University of Oregon Medical or Dental School leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Dental Medicine is required to pay the nonresident fee); (2) a student attending a summer session; (3) a student paying part-time fees; (4) a student who has been a resident of Hawaii or Alaska for the major portion of the two years immediately preceding the term for which exemption is granted in accordance with provisions of Oregon law.

A student who has been classified as a nonresident may be reclassified as a resident:

(1) In the case of a minor, if his nonresident parents have moved to Oregon and have established a bona fide residence in the state, or

(2) In the case of a student whose domicile is independent of that of his father, if the student presents convincing evidence that he has established his domicile in Oregon and that he has resided in the state for at least twelve consecutive months immediately prior to the term for which reclassification is sought.

A student whose official record shows a domicile outside of Oregon as prima facie a nonresident and the burden is upon the student to prove that he is a resident of Oregon. If his scholastic record shows attendance at a school outside of Oregon, he may be required to furnish further proof of Oregon domicile.

If any applicant has questions concerning the rules governing the administration of these policies, he should consult the Office of Admissions.

AT THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, an integrated program of student counseling and supervision of student life and group activities is administered through the Office of Student Affairs. The Dean of Students is assisted by associate deans with special responsibilities for: women's affairs, men's affairs, the University Counseling Center, and graduate placement. The Office of Admissions and the Registrar's Office also operate under the general direction of the Dean of Students.

The dean and his associates maintain close personal contacts with individual students and with student organizations, and are available at all times for advice and help on all matters pertaining to their welfare.

University Counseling Center. The University Counseling Center provides facilities for testing and counseling University students, to help them in making wise choices in their studies and in solving academic and personal problems. A special fee of $5.00 is charged for the full educational and vocational testing service of the Counseling Center.

Speech and Hearing Clinic. The Speech and Hearing Clinic, operating in conjunction with the Counseling Center, provides diagnosis, consultation, and treatment in connection with speech and hearing problems of University students.

* On leave of absence 1960-61.

Students are referred to the clinic either by the Counseling Center or by faculty advisers.

Reading Clinic. Some students, although they may not clearly recognize their disability, fail to get the most from their University work because of difficulties in reading. Frequently these difficulties are correctable. The Reading Clinic, operating in conjunction with the Counseling Center, provides an opportunity for scientific diagnosis and correction of student reading difficulties.

Corrective Physical Education Clinic. The Corrective Physical Education Clinic provides individual help to students in connection with training for relaxation, foot and posture difficulties, functional back strain, and similar problems.

International Student Adviser. A member of the staff of the Office of Student Affairs serves as a special adviser to students from abroad who are attending the University, to assist them with personal problems and with adjustments to the customs and procedures of American educational systems. The international student adviser is prepared to give advice and help in connection with visas, government regulations, scholarships, employment, and general orientation to American life. He is also prepared to advise American students planning study abroad.

University Placement Service. The University maintains a central Placement Service for the assistance of graduating students and alumni seeking new or better positions. The Placement Service serves students in all schools and departments in the University, including those trained in business and technical fields as well as in education and the liberal arts.

Students who have taken, or are currently enrolled for, at least 12 term hours of University work, and who are completing degree requirements, are provided initial placement service without charge. Alumni and former registrants who desire to use this service are charged a fee of $5.00 per year. Registration forms may be obtained upon request.

New Student Week

NEW STUDENT WEEK, a program of orientation for entering undergraduate students, is held annually the week before classes begin. During this period, new students are made familiar with the aims of higher education, the principles governing the wise use of time and effort, methods of study, and the ideals and traditions of the institution. Every effort is made to assist new students in getting the best possible start in their work. Full directions concerning New Student Week and registration procedure are sent to each student who is accepted for admission.

The University, recognizing that fraternities and sororities form a part of University life and provide living quarters for a substantial part of the student body, has, with the cooperation of these organizations, made provisions by which they may choose their members in an orderly fashion, with a minimum of interference with the beginning of University work.

A "welcome book," the ORE-NTER, is published annually in August and is sent to all new students who have been admitted to the University.

Student Living

COMFORTABLE, healthful, and congenial living conditions contribute much to the success of University life and work. Living conditions of the right kind aid students to do their best in their studies and contribute, through the experiences of group life, to the building of character and personality. Hence the University is vitally concerned with student housing. Halls of residence are maintained on the campus by the institution, and the living conditions of students residing outside the dormitories are closely supervised.

Many students live in fraternity houses accommodating groups of from twenty to fifty persons. Admission to these groups is by invitation only. Students also live in private homes and rooming houses near the campus. In several co-operative houses, groups of students enjoy the benefits of group living while keeping expenses at a minimum.

University Dormitories

The University maintains eight dormitories, accommodating 2,315 students. Living conditions are comfortable and conducive to successful academic accomplishment and to participation in the wholesome activities of campus life. During the academic year 1961-62, because of a shortage of accommodations, upper-division students from the Eugene community will not be permitted to live in the dormitories.

Susan Campbell Hall houses 142 women students in suites accommodating five students each. A suite includes a study room, a dressing room, and a sleeping porch with individual beds.

Carson Hall houses 333 women students, principally in rooms accommodating two occupants. Most of the furniture is of built-in construction.

Virgil D. Earl Hall houses 327 men students in five units: McClure, Morton, Sheldon, Stafford, and Young. Each unit has its own lounge, dining hall, and recreational area.

Hendricks Hall houses 142 women students in suites accommodating five students each. A suite includes a study room, a dressing room, and a sleeping porch with individual beds.

John Straub Hall houses 277 men students in six units: Alpha, Gamma, Hale Kane, Barrister Inn, Omega, and Sherry Ross. Each unit has its own club room. Sleeping porches with single beds accommodate four students each.

The Veterans Dormitory houses 352 men students in four units: Hunter, French, Nestor, and Sederstrom. Each unit has a lounge room.

Joshua J. Walton Hall is a coeducational dormitory, housing 650 students in ten units, each assigned to men or to women students: Adams, Clark, DeCou, Douglass, Dymont, Hawthorne, McAlister, Schafer, Smith, and Sweetser. Each unit has its own lounge, dining hall, and recreational area.

James W. Hamilton Hall houses 412 students in five units, each assigned to men or to women students: Barnes, Boynton, Cloran, McClain, and Tingle. Each unit has its own lounge, dining hall, and recreational area.

Linen (blankets, sheets, pillows, pillow cases), water glasses, ashtrays, study lamps, wastebaskets, wardrobe, and laundry facilities are provided in all dormitories. Student occupants must furnish towels and irons; men living in the Veterans Dormitory must also furnish study lamps.

University Dining Halls. The University maintains dining halls for students in John Straub Hall, Virgil D. Earl Hall, Walton Hall, and Carson Hall. Students living in dormitories take their meals in assigned dining halls. Men and women dine together in all dining rooms. Students in the dormitories are expected to dress for Wednesday and Sunday dinners.

Room Reservations. Students who plan to live in the dormitories should make room reservations as early as possible before the opening of the school year. Contracts for dormitory accommodations are for the entire school year. Application must be made on an official form, and must be accompanied by a room deposit of $50.00 of which $35.00 will be applied on the occupant's first board and room installment. The remainder of the deposit ($15.00), less any unpaid dormitory charges, will be returned six weeks after termination of dormitory occupancy.

Dormitory Living Expenses. Board and room rates in the University dormitories are as follows:

| | Board Per Month | Room Per Term— | |
|---|--------------------|-------------------|-----------------|
| | | Multiple Units | Single Rooms |
| Carson, Straub, Earl, Walton, Hamilton..... | $56.00 | $80.00 | $120.00 |
| Hendricks, Campbell..... | 56.00 | 65.00 | 97.50 |
| *Veterans..... | 56.00 | 62.00 | 80.00 |

Room rent is payable in two or three installments each term. The first installment is paid when the student arrives at the dormitory at the beginning of the term, the remainder on fixed dates later in the term. Board bills must be paid monthly in advance.

Students who do not pay board and room charges within ten days after payment is due are assessed a late-penalty fee of $1.00 for the first day (after ten) and $1.00 for each additional day until a maximum charge of $5.00 is reached. If dormitory charges are not paid within ten days after they are due, the student's registration may be canceled.

Dormitory Deposit Refund. If dormitory reservations are canceled, the $50.00 room deposit will be refunded only if the cancellation is made by August 15 if dormitory reservations are made for the fall term, or, if reservations are made for the winter or spring term, at least two weeks before the opening of the term.

Fraternities and Sororities

Fraternities and sororities provide comfortable living accommodations under University supervision. Members are chosen during stated rushing periods. Board and room costs are approximately the same as for students living in University dormitories.

In the summer, after formal notice of admission has been received, new students who are interested in fraternity or sorority membership should write to the Office of Student Affairs for full information, instructions, and a copy of rushing rules.

Fraternities on the Oregon campus are organized into the Interfraternity Council, which is a member of the National Interfraternity Conference. Sororities are organized into the Panhellenic Council, which is a member of the National Panhellenic Congress.

Sororities at the University are: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Phi, Alpha Xi Delta, Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Delta Zeta, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Kappa, Zeta Tau Alpha.

* Open to all men students; restriction of occupancy to veterans has been discontinued.

Fraternalities at the University are: Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Chi Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Tau Delta, Delta Upsilon, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Sigma Kappa, Pi Kappa Alpha, Pi Kappa Phi, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Chi.

Cooperative Houses

Students with urgent financial problems, excellent character, and superior scholarship may apply for membership in cooperative houses, where, by sharing housekeeping responsibilities, they are able to save about $15.00 a month on board and room costs. There are three cooperative houses for women, Highland, Rebec, and University; and three for men, Campbell Club, Canard Club, and Philadelphia House. Applications for membership must be made through the Office of Student Affairs; applications are subject to approval by the undergraduate membership of the house.

Although, under general University housing regulations, freshman students are required to live in the dormitories, permission to live in cooperative houses will be granted to freshmen if, for financial reasons, they would otherwise be unable to enter the University.

Ann Judson House, maintained by the Baptist Church but with membership open to young women of all religions, is operated as an independent dormitory, under University supervision. Applications for membership should be addressed to the Dean of Women.

Off-Campus Housing

The off-campus housing division in the Office of Student Affairs maintains a file of rooms, apartments, and houses available for rent. Students eligible to live off campus (see Housing Regulations, below) are advised to engage quarters personally after inspection and conference with the householder.

Housing for Married Students

Housing for married students is provided in 425 family-dwelling units owned or operated by the University. The units include a wide variety of accommodations. The rents range from $38.00 to $76.00 per month. Application should be made to the Married Housing Department, University Business Office.

Housing Regulations

- (1) Freshmen students are required to live in University dormitories (see, however, under COOPERATIVE HOUSES, above).
- (2) Undergraduate women students under 21 years of age are required to live either in the dormitories or in houses maintained by organized University living groups (sororities, cooperatives). Undergraduate women who will be 21 years of age prior to January 1 of the current academic year are eligible to live off campus in University approved housing provided they have parental approval.
- (3) Married students and students living with relatives in the Eugene community are excepted from rules (1) and (2); other exceptions are rare, and are made only for students working for room and board, or for whom rooms are not available in campus quarters.
- (4) Unmarried undergraduate students are not allowed to live in motor courts, or hotels, or separate houses.

(5) Students who rent off-campus quarters are expected to remain in these quarters for at least one term. If the student does not plan to stay for a full term, he should make certain that this is understood by his landlord before a rental agreement is made. Oregon law provides that a tenant or landlord wishing to terminate a rental agreement must give a 30-day written notice (unless otherwise agreed).

(6) All students living in dormitories must take their meals in the dormitory dining rooms.

(7) All dormitory housing is taken on a year basis; all other campus housing (fraternity, sorority, and cooperative) is taken on a term basis. Students may not move during a term without special permission from the Dean of Men or the Dean of Women.

Student Expenses

The average expenses incurred by students at the University during an academic year are shown in the table below. Some students with ample means spend more; but many students find it possible to attend the University at a lower cost. Board and room estimates are based on charges in the halls of residence. The incidental item will vary greatly with the individual. The expenses of the fall term are listed also, since there are expenses during this term not incurred during the winter and spring terms.

| | Fall Term | Academic Year |
|--|--------------|------------------|
| Institutional fees (for Oregon residents)..... | $ 90.00 | $ 270.00 |
| Books, supplies, etc..... | 30.00 | 75.00 |
| Board and room..... | 240.00 | 680.00 |
| Incidentals | 50.00 | 150.00 |
| | $ 410.00 | $1,175.00 |
| Total | | |

It should be remembered that, in making an estimate of the cost of a year at the University, a student usually has in mind the amount he will spend from the time he leaves home until he returns at the close of the year. Such an estimate would include travel, clothing, and amusements—items which vary according to the thrift, discrimination, and habits of the individual. These items are not included in the table.

THROUGH THE STUDENT HEALTH SERVICE the University does all in its power to safeguard the health of its students. The Health Service accomplishes its ends through health education, complete medical examinations for the detection of remedial defects, constant vigilance against incipient disease, medical treatment of acute diseases, and the maintenance of hygienic student living conditions.

The student health services in the institutions in the Oregon State System of Higher Education are supported by student registration fees. Every student registered for credit may receive general medical attention and advice at the Student Health Service during office hours. Limited hospital facilities are maintained for students whose condition requires hospitalization for general medical attention. Patients are admitted only upon the advice of the Health Service physician. Fifteen days is the maximum period of hospital service during any one academic year. When a special nurse is necessary, the expenses must be borne by the student. All expenses of, or connected with, surgical operations or specialized service must be borne by the student. Under no circumstances will the Health Service pay or be responsible for bills from private physicians or private hospitals. The privileges of the Health Services are not available to members of the faculty.

On the first floor of the Student Health Service building are modern clinical facilities, including examining room, physiotherapy department, minor surgery, laboratory, and X-ray department. On the second floor are two-bed and four-bed wards for hospital service. Limited emergency (night and holiday) service is also available on this floor.

Physical Examination and Immunizations. For protection of the public health, the Board of Higher Education requires of all students, as a condition for admission to the University: (1) a physical examination by a physician chosen by the student, and presentation of a record of this examination on an official form provided by the University; (2) an intradermal tuberculin test or chest X-ray by the Student Health Service at the time of registration; and (3) proof, to the satisfaction of the University physician, of (a) immunization against smallpox within five years and (b) diphtheria-tetanus immunization within four years. (In addition, poliomyelitis immunization within one year is recommended.)

If the student is enrolled in the University at the close of a five-year period following the first physical examination, a second examination is required; a second examination may be required after a shorter interval, at the discretion of the University physician.

Students who decline immunizations because of religious conviction may be admitted, but only on the condition that they or (in the case of minor students) their parents or guardians agree in writing to assume all expenses incident to their care or quarantine, should they acquire smallpox, diphtheria, or tetanus while students in the University.

Financial Aid

FOR STUDENTS who need financial aid, the University provides assistance in finding part-time and summer employment, loans from special funds provided by private donors, and scholarships and fellowships supported both by state funds and by private endowment. Federal and state educational aid is available for veterans of the Korean conflict; under certain conditions, children of deceased veterans of the two world wars and the Korean conflict may qualify for Federal educational grants.

Student Employment

Many students earn a large part of their University expenses by work in the summers and during the academic year; some students are entirely self-supporting.

The University assists those seeking part-time and vacation jobs through the Student Employment Service. Students wishing part-time jobs on the campus or in the Eugene community are advised to write to the Employment Service a few weeks before the opening of the fall term; in most cases, however, definite commitments for employment are made only after personal interviews with prospective employers.

Loan Funds

The University of Oregon administers student loan funds totaling approximately $370,000. These funds are available for two types of loans: regular loans for a period of six months to two years, and emergency loans of small amounts for a period of ninety days or less.

The loan funds held in trust by the University are governed by uniform principles and policies, administered by a Student Loan Committee. Applications for loans are made through the Office of Student Affairs. The following regulations govern student loans:

(1) Any student who has been enrolled in the University for at least one term and has a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00 may obtain an emergency loan for a period of three months or less; to be eligible for a long-term loan a student must have a GPA of 2.50.

(2) The service charge for emergency loans of $10.00 or less is 50 cents for one month, 75 cents for two months, and $1.00 for three months. The service charge for emergency loans of more than $10.00 is $1.00 for one month, $1.25 for two months, and $1.50 for three months. The service charge for all overdue emergency loans is 50 cents a month until paid in full.

(3) The interest rate for long-time loans is 4 per cent per year.

(4) No more than $600 will be lent to any individual from University loan funds.

(5) It is the policy of the University to encourage repayment of loans as soon as the borrower is able to pay. The maximum loan period is two years, with the privilege of renewal if the borrower has in every way proved himself worthy of this consideration. Payment of loans in monthly installments as soon as possible after graduation is encouraged. The interest on renewed loans is 4 per cent a year if the borrower is still a student at the University; the rate of interest on renewals made after the student leaves the University is 6 per cent.

(6) The University does not accept various forms of collateral which most money lenders require for the security of loans. The only security accepted for long-time loans is the signature of two responsible property owners, in addition to that of the student borrower. The cosigners must submit evidence of their ability to pay the note—by filing a financial statement or by giving bank references. One cosigner must qualify by bank reference. It is desirable that one of the cosigners be the parent or guardian of the borrower. If a student is married, his or her spouse must sign the loan application.

(7) The signature of the borrower is the only security required for an emergency loan.

(8) In considering applications, the members of the Student Loan Committee give weight to the following considerations: (a) the student's scholastic record; (b) his reputation for reliability, honesty, and industry; (c) need for aid and probability of wise expenditure; (d) amount of present indebtedness; (e) ability to repay; (f) effort which the student has made to assist himself.

(9) Except in the case of a few funds which are specifically restricted to University students at Eugene, students at the Medical School, the Dental School and the School of Nursing are eligible for loans from University student loan funds on the same basis as students on the campus at Eugene.

The first University loan fund was founded in 1901 through the generosity of William M. Ladd of Portland. Other early contributors were A. S. Roberts of The Dalles and the Class of 1904. Although for a number of years the total amount of the fund was only a little over $500, its benefits were large. Through it many students were enabled to complete their University work who otherwise could not have done so. In 1909 Senator R. A. Booth of Eugene became interested in the loan fund and through his efforts a number of others made substantial donations. Among these early donors were: Theodore B. Wilcox and J. C. Ainsworth of Portland, John Kelly of Eugene, W. B. Ayer of Portland, the classes of 1911 and 1913, Mrs. Ellen Condon McCornack, Ben Selling of Portland, and the estate of the late D. P. Thompson of Portland. In recent years the University student loan funds have grown very rapidly through gifts, bequests, and accumulated interest.

Loans are also available to University of Oregon students and students in other institutions from funds administered through agencies outside the University. Information concerning these funds may be obtained in the Office of Student Affairs.

Special University loan funds administered under conditions differing from those stated above include the following:

American Bankers' Association Loan Scholarship. The American Bankers' Association awards annually a $250 loan scholarship to a senior student in business administration. The award is made by a faculty committee of the School of Business Administration.

The act allows a maximum loan of $1,000 per year for a maximum of $5,000 to a student. Special consideration is given, first, to superior students who plan to enter primary or secondary teaching in public schools and, second, to students who plan to enter the fields of science, mathematics, and modern foreign languages. For students who enter the teaching profession on the primary or secondary level, one-tenth of the total indebtedness will be forgiven for each full year of teaching for a maximum of 50 per cent of the loan. Further information may be obtained in the Office of Student Affairs.

Mary Spiller Scholarship Loan Fund. The Mary Spiller Scholarship Loan Fund of $5,000 has been established by the State Association of University of Oregon Women in honor of Mrs. Mary P. Spiller, the first woman member of the faculty. The income from the fund is available for scholarship loans.

Scholarships and Fellowships

Scholarships and fellowships are available to University students of ability and promise. Most of these awards have been established through the generosity of private donors. The scholarships and fellowships listed below have a value at least sufficient to cover the cost of tuition and laboratory and course fees at the University, and are open to competition by all students or by specified groups of students. A number of partial scholarships and special funds for the assistance of needy students are also available; information concerning these funds may be obtained from the Office of Student Affairs.

Scholarship and fellowship awards are administered through a faculty Committee on Scholarships and Financial Aid. A student applying for a particular scholarship is given consideration for all scholarships for which he may be eligible.

Application for any scholarship administered by the University of Oregon may be made on a form furnished by the Oregon State System of Higher Education; copies of the form may be obtained from high-school principals. Applications should be addressed to Dr. Kenneth S. Ghent, chairman of the Committee on Scholarships and Financial Aid, and should be filed not later than March 1.

THE ERB MEMORIAL STUDENT UNION is a building dedicated to making the extracurricular work of students an integral part of their education. It provides group meeting rooms, a lounge area, soda bar, cafeteria and dining service, an art gallery, a large ballroom, and a Browsing Room, a branch of the University Library. Student activity offices are on the third floor. For recreation there is a "listening room" for classical music, a room for jazz, a piano practice room, an eight-lane bowling alley, pool and billiard tables, and table tennis and shuffleboard facilities. Also housed in the building are the offices of the Alumni Association, a branch of the U. S. Post Office, and a four-chair barber shop.

The Student Union was erected and furnished at a total cost of about $2,130,000. It was financed solely through gifts from alumni and friends of the University, student building fees, and the sale of bonds to be retired from future building fees. The building is named in memory of Dr. Donald M. Erb, President of the University from 1938 until his death in 1943.

Extracurricular Activities

THE UNIVERSITY recognizes the value of extracurricular student activities as part of a college education: formation of habits of civic responsibility and leadership through participation in student government and in the activities of student clubs and societies; the broadening of outlook and sympathies through varied human associations; and cultural development through participation in the intellectual and aesthetic life of the campus.

Regulations Governing Activities Participation. The following regulations govern eligibility for participation in student extracurricular activities:

(1) A student who has been suspended or expelled from the University, or who has been disqualified for enrollment because of poor scholarship, is denied all privileges of the institution and of all organizations in any way connected with it; he is not permitted to attend any social gatherings of students, or to reside in any fraternity, sorority, club house, or dormitory.

(2) No student may accept an elective or appointive position in any extracurricular or organization activity until he has obtained a certificate of eligibility from the administrative office of the Student Union. A student is automatically removed from any such office when he becomes ineligible for this certificate. For eligibility, a student:

(a) Must be currently enrolled as a regular student in good standing, carrying at least 12 term hours of work (a lighter load is permitted seniors if their graduation will not be delayed.)

(b) Must have completed at least 12 term hours of work with a GPA of at least 2.00 during his last previous term in the University. (Incomplete may be counted as part of these 12 hours, but only to establish eligibility during the term immediately following the term for which the INC was reported.)

(c) Must have a cumulative GPA of at least 2.00.

(d) Must have attained upper-division standing if he has been in residence for six terms or the equivalent.

(3) The rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association govern in questions of athletic eligibility.

Associated Students. The students of the University are organized for self-government into the Associated Students of the University of Oregon. The Senate, composed of thirty members elected from the student body and two faculty members, is the central governing body of the A.S.U.O. Members of the Senate and students appointed by it have places on University committees dealing with all phases of student activities, ranging from the Student Union Board to the Discipline Committee.

The program of the Erb Memorial Student Union is governed by a Student Union Board appointed by the President of the University. The Board has twenty-one members, of whom eighteen are voting members, including sixteen students and two members of the faculty.

The Associated Women Students, a group within the general student organization, sponsors and supervises activities of women students.

Each entering class forms an organization which retains its identity throughout its four years at the University and after graduation. Class reunions are held regularly by alumni.

Lectures. The regular University curriculum is supplemented by University assemblies at which visiting speakers address the general student body and by frequent public lectures by faculty members and visiting scholars. Special lectures are sponsored by the Assembly and Lectures Committee and by various departments.

Forensics, Dramatics, Radio-TV. Forensics, drama, and radio-television activities are fostered on the campus not only for their value to those participating but also for their intellectual and cultural value for the University community.

The Associated Students, in cooperation with the Department of Speech, sponsors a varied speech-activities program providing opportunity for both men and women to participate in debate, oratory, and extempore speaking and in a state-wide discussion program on current topics.

The University Theater, utilizing the facilities of four producing areas, provides opportunities for artistic expression in all types of theater activity. Occasionally, plays are taken on tour.

Experience in radio broadcasting is provided through participation in the operation of the University's own FM stations, KWAX, and through assistance with programs broadcast directly from the University studios of KOAC, the state-owned stations in Corvallis. Regularly scheduled broadcasts over KOAC-TV, from the University's fully equipped studios, provide an opportunity for student participation in television production.

Art, Music, and Dance. The University gives special encouragement to extracurricular activities in art, music, and the dance. The School of Architecture and Allied Arts presents regular exhibitions of student work and loan exhibitions of the work of outstanding architects, artists, and craftsmen, and an annual series of lectures by visiting artists, architects, and art historians. Concerts, recitals, and dance programs, sponsored by the School of Music, the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, and student organizations, play a central part in the cultural life of the University community.

The University Symphony Orchestra, an organization of about seventy student musicians, presents several concerts each year. In addition to its own concert series, the orchestra supports faculty and advanced student soloists, and cooperates with choral organizations in oratorio productions.

The University Chorus includes in its membership more than 400 students, faculty members, and townspeople who are interested in the study and interpretation of great choral literature. The University Singers, a group of 60 voices, presents concerts on the campus and in communities throughout the state.

Membership in the University bands is open to both men and women students from all divisions of the University. The Symphony Band, a select group of student musicians, presents a number of concerts each year on the campus and in communities throughout the state. The Concert Band offers membership to all students without auditions. The Marching Band, composed of members selected from the Symphony and Concert bands, performs at varsity football games. The Pep Band, a smaller group, performs at basketball games and rallies.

Students of the dance as a performing art create and produce original dances, and prepare workshops, demonstrations, and dance programs for campus and community presentation.

The Associated Students bring artists of international fame to the campus each year for concerts, to which all students have free admission. Free public recitals are also given by members of the faculty of the School of Music and by advanced music students.

Honors College

ROBERT D. CLARK, Ph.D., Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

H. T. KOPLIN, Ph.D., Director of the Honors College; Assistant Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

THE HONORS COLLEGE offers a four-year undergraduate program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (Honors College). The College is designed to provide full opportunity for the superior student to develop his highest potential in liberal education and specialized training; it is open to students majoring in liberal arts or in professional schools.

Admission. Application for admission to the Honors College is invited from students in the top tenth of their high-school classes, who have had four years of work in English, three years in social science, and two years each in mathematics, science, and foreign language. Students of high ability who lack some of these qualifications, but who believe they are capable of honors work at the University, are also invited to apply.

Applicants must submit scores on College Entrance Examination Board tests, including aptitude tests and achievement tests in English, mathematics, and a foreign language. With the approval of the director of the Honors College, the examination in foreign language may be waived in special cases, e.g., if the student's high school does not offer adequate work in the field.

Students applying for admission to the Honors College must also make separate application for admission to the University. Both University and Honors College application forms may be secured from the Office of Admissions.

Admission of transfer students and students already enrolled in the University is based on the student's college records.

Degree Requirements. The degree of Bachelor of Arts (Honors College) is conferred on students who satisfy the following requirements:

(1) Proficiency in a foreign language equivalent to that reached in the second-year college course.

(2) A satisfactory record on comprehensive examinations in each of six core areas. The courses which prepare for the comprehensive examinations are:

- (a) History—History (Honors College) (Hst 107, 108, 109).
- (b) Literature—Literature (Honors College) (AL 101, 102, 103).
- (c) Social Science—Introduction to the Social Sciences (SSc 201, 202, 203); or Principles of Economics, honors section (Ec 201, 202, 203).
- (d) Science—Physical Science Survey, honors section (GS 104, 105, 106); or Biological Science (Honors College) (GS 201, 202, 203); or General Chemistry, honors section (Ch 201, 202, 203); or General Physics, honors section (Ph 201, 202, 203).
- (e) Philosophy—Problems of Philosophy (Phl 201), Elementary Ethics (Phl 202), Elementary Logic (Phl 203), honors sections.
- (f) Mathematics—Introductory College Mathematics, honors section (Mth 105, 106, 107) or Analytic Geometry and Calculus (Mth 204, 205, 206).

With the consent of his adviser, a liberal arts major may omit one of the six core areas and a professional-school major may omit two. Students may prepare for the comprehensive examinations in the core areas by taking the designated courses or through independent study. A student who prepares without formal course work, and passes the comprehensive examination, may receive credit in the corresponding course. A student who receives full college credit, through the Advanced Placement Program, for a course included in the Honors College core program, satisfies the requirement in that field and is excused from the comprehensive examination.

(3) Two terms in Colloquium (HC 404) in the junior or senior year. Colloquia provide seminar-type instruction for students of varying backgrounds, focusing for one term on a common topic outside the students' major fields.

(4) Completion of an honors program in the student's major. The requirements vary, depending on the major.

(5) Satisfactory performance in a final comprehensive oral examination covering the student's major and related work.

Honors College students must also satisfy general University requirements for the bachelor's degree (other than the group requirement) and the requirements in their major.

An Honors College student majoring in a professional field may qualify for both the B.A. (Honors College) and a professional bachelor's degree.

Curriculum. In addition to the courses listed above, the Honors College curriculum includes honors work in English composition, honors sections in several other fields (including foreign languages, United States history, speech, accounting, and statistics), and opportunities for departmental honors work in seminars, research projects, thesis, and reading and conference.

The Honors College student takes approximately two-thirds of his work in honors classes and the remainder in regular University courses.

Honors College Center. An Honors College Center has been established in Friendly Hall. The center includes small study rooms, a colloquium meeting room, a small library, the office of the Honors College, and a common room where students may meet and talk informally.

Advanced Placement Program. Students who complete college-level work in high school under the Advanced Placement Program sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board and who receive satisfactory grades in examinations administered by the Board may, on admission to the University, be granted credit toward a bachelor's degree in comparable University courses. The University's participation in this program is supervised by the Honors College.

The fields included in the Advanced Placement Program are: English composition, literature, American history, European history, biology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, French, German, Spanish, and Latin. In the field of mathematics, the University sponsors a special advanced placement program which differs in some respects from the College Board program; students completing this program may also receive credit toward a degree if they receive superior grades in examinations administered by the Department of Mathematics.

College of Liberal Arts

ROBERT D. CLARK, Ph.D., Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

ROLAND BARTEL, Ph.D., Assistant Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

H. T. KOPLIN, Ph.D., Director of Honors College; Assistant Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

MARSHALL D. WATTLES, Ph.D., Assistant Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

LEROY H. KLEMM, Ph.D., Special Assistant to the Dean.

THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS represents the ancient and continuing effort of men to extend the range of their experience beyond the narrow limits of the time and place in which they find themselves at birth. To achieve and enjoy such a freedom, men must know all they can about themselves and their environment, both physical and social. The liberal arts and sciences are a group of studies designed for the exploration of man's nature and his position in the world.

By the help of some of these studies, we are able to compare our own experiences with those of men in other times, places, and circumstances, and thus share in the inherited wisdom and satisfactions of mankind. Through others, we deepen and extend our knowledge of our physical environment. Knowledge—scientific, historical, and literary—is the indispensable condition of the good life of free men.

The instructional departments included in the college are: Anthropology, Biology, Chemistry, Economics, English, Foreign Languages, Geography, Geology, History, Home Economics, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Religion, Sociology, and Speech. All the departments, except the departments of Home Economics and Religion, offer major curricula leading to baccalaureate and graduate degrees.

The University of Oregon Bureau of Municipal Research and Service is administered as a department of the College of Liberal Arts.

Entrance Requirements. There are no entrance requirements, beyond the general entrance requirements of the University, for students intending to choose a major within the College of Liberal Arts.

Students intending to major in any of the natural sciences are, however, advised to present at least two units of high-school mathematics and two units of high-school science. Experience has proved that students who lack this preparation are handicapped in University work in science. Students planning to major in chemistry, mathematics, or physics or planning to prepare themselves for entrance to a medical school will find it to their advantage to take intermediate algebra, plane geometry, and trigonometry in high school.

Degree Requirements. For a bachelor's degree with a major in the College of Liberal Arts, a minimum of 186 term hours of University work is required, including:

(1) A minimum of four sequences in liberal arts courses numbered from 100 to 110 or 200 to 210, in satisfaction of the general University lower-division group requirement (for a complete statement of the regulations governing this requirement, see page 68).

(2) In addition, two sequences in liberal arts courses numbered from 100 to 110, 200 to 210, or 300 to 310.* Of the total of six sequences elected for the satis-

* Requirement (2) does not apply to students who are admitted to the University of Oregon Medical School or Dental School from other accredited institutions and who are candidates for a baccalaureate degree from the University of Oregon.

fraction of requirements (1) and (2), two must be chosen from each of the three groups, arts and letters, social science, and science; the two sequences in social science and in science must be from different departments.

(3) A minimum of 62 term hours in upper-division courses.

(4) A minimum of 36 term hours in the student's major field, at least 24 of which must be in upper-division courses. Some departments require more than the 36-hour minimum. For certain interdepartmental majors the major requirement is approximately 72 term hours of work distributed in several departments.

A detailed statement of University requirements for the bachelor's degree may be found on pages 68-70. Special requirements of the several major curricula of the college are stated in the departmental sections below. For requirements for advanced degrees, see GRADUATE SCHOOL.

A complete list of sequences approved for the satisfaction of requirement (1) above is printed on pages 70-71. The 300-310 sequences which may be taken for the satisfaction of requirement (2) above are listed below:

The Honors College also supervises the University's participation in the Advanced Placement Program sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board. See pages 105-106.

General Arts and Letters

THE PROGRAM IN GENERAL ARTS AND LETTERS includes (1) a series of courses concerned with broad literary interrelations and with foreign literatures in translation and (2) a major curriculum in general arts and letters leading to the bachelor's degree.

The curriculum in general arts and letters is designed for students who wish to build a program of general studies around a core of literature. The work of the first two years serves as an introduction to the main aspects of Western culture. In the last two years the more intensive study of the history of ideas, of literary movements, and of art forms serves to interpret modern trends in civilization.

The major in general arts and letters leads to the Bachelor of Arts degree. The following courses are required:

General Science

THE PROGRAM IN GENERAL SCIENCE includes a series of courses of broad interdepartmental scope and a major curriculum in general science leading to the bachelor's degree.

The curriculum in general science is intended for students who wish to build a program of cultural studies around a central interest in science as an aspect of civilization, for students preparing for professional careers in science (such as medical research) for whom a departmental science major may be too narrow and highly specialized, and for prospective science teachers. The standard three-year premedical or pre dental curriculum, followed by a year of work in a medical school or two years of work in a dental school, meets all of the requirements for the bachelor's degree in general science.

The general science major leads to the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree. The special requirements are—a minimum of 72 term hours in science (biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, physics), distributed as follows: (1) Four year sequences, numbered 100-110 or 200-210, one in each of four science departments. (2) A minimum of 24 upper-division hours in science, including not less than 9 term hours in each of two science departments.

LOWER-DIVISION COURSES

Lectures, readings, and discussions of selected topics in the history of science, considered as a part of the cultural history of Western civilization in the period 1500-1900.

General Social Science

THE PROGRAM IN GENERAL SOCIAL SCIENCE includes a series of courses of broad interdepartmental scope and a major curriculum in general social science leading to the bachelor's degree.

The curriculum in general social science is designed for students who wish broad cultural training, and for prospective teachers for whom a departmental major may be too highly specialized. In addition to satisfying the general University requirements, students following this program must take a minimum of 72 hours in social science courses. This work must include four lower-division year sequences, one in each of four of the following fields: anthropology, economics, geography, history, philosophy, political science, psychology, religion, sociology. Introduction to the Social Sciences (Honors College) (SSc 201, 202, 203) may be substituted for any one of the four required sequences. The upper-division work must include two one-year sequences (not less than 18 hours) in one social science department, and one one-year sequence (not less than 9 hours) in each of two other social science departments.

LOWER-DIVISION COURSES

SSc 104, 105, 106. Social Science and Social Policy. 3 hours each term.

THE COURSES offered by the Department of Anthropology are planned to provide a broader and deeper understanding of human nature and society for students in other fields, as well as integrated programs for students majoring in anthropology.

A high-school student planning to major in anthropology is advised to take two years of high-school mathematics, preferably algebra. He should also come to the University with a sound background in English, so that he can read with understanding and express himself with clarity.

Majors in anthropology are required to take the following lower-division courses: General Anthropology (Anth 101, 102, 103) or Introduction to Cultural Anthropology (Anth 207, 208, 209); General Psychology (Psy 201, 202); Psychology of Adjustment (Psy 204) or Applied Psychology (Psy 205).

At the upper-division level the following courses are required of majors: Peoples of the World (Anth 314, 315, 316); Physical Anthropology (Anth 320, 321, 322); World Prehistory (Anth 411, 412, 413); and one area course at the 400 (G) level. Students planning to do graduate work should take two years of German and two years of a second foreign language, preferably French or Spanish. To insure a broad liberal education, it is strongly recommended that the student limit his undergraduate work in anthropology to a maximum of 51 term hours.

The department offers graduate work leading to the Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Graduate instruction includes work in the fields of archaeology, ethnology, linguistics, and physical anthropology. To qualify for a master's degree, students must demonstrate competence in all these fields.

The carefully selected anthropological collections of the Museum of Natural History provide excellent material for class instruction, particularly in the culture of the American Indian.

THE DEPARTMENT OF BIOLOGY offers an undergraduate program providing a broad and fundamental knowledge of the various fields of animal and plant biology. The program is planned to provide an understanding of the living world as a part of a liberal education, to prepare the student for professional careers in industry, government, and secondary education, and to provide preparation for graduate work leading to careers in higher education, research, and the medical sciences.

Modern biology is a quantitative science; students planning to specialize in biology should include in their high-school preparation as much mathematics as possible, including at least algebra and geometry. Preparation in English is essential, and work in French, German, chemistry, and physics is highly desirable. The standard curricula for majors are as follows:

Honors. Biology majors of superior ability may enroll in the Honors College for a four-year undergraduate program planned to provide full opportunity for the development of their highest potential in liberal education and specialized training. The program leads to the degree of Bachelor of Arts (Honors College).

Biology majors in the Honors College enroll in Biological Science (Honors College) (GS 201, 202, 203) instead of Bi 101, 102, 103, and in special tutorial sections of Bi 324, Bi 325, Bi 326, Bi 332, 333, and Bi 334, and may be admitted to graduate (500) courses in the department. Honors students are required to present a thesis, based on original observations or experiments, in place of all or part of upper-division electives in biology, and must take a final examination based on the thesis but covering also the student's general knowledge of biology.

Graduate Work. The department offers graduate work leading to the Master

* Open only to students who enter a medical or dental school at the end of their junior year; other premedical or pre-dental students must complete the curriculum in general biology or quantitative biology.

† Open only to students who complete requirements for secondary-school certification before graduation; other students must complete the curriculum in general biology or quantitative biology.

of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Candidates for the master's degree are expected to meet undergraduate major requirements, as determined by their undergraduate records and by examination, before advancement to candidacy for the degree.

Facilities are available for graduate study in botany (plant morphology, anatomy, taxonomy, and physiology), ecology (plant and animal), genetics, marine biology, microbiology, physiology (comparative, general, and mammalian), and zoology (cytology, embryology, invertebrate, and vertebrate).

Institute of Marine Biology. The University operates for the Oregon State System of Higher Education an Institute of Marine Biology at Charleston on Coos Bay on the Oregon Coast. The institute is located in a setting providing access to an unusual variety of richly populated marine and terrestrial habitats. Under the guidance of an interinstitutional advisory committee, the institute serves all units of the State System. A program of undergraduate and graduate studies is offered during the summer session.

Institute of Molecular Biology. A program of research and research instruction in areas of biology where phenomena can be understood in terms of the structure of molecules is conducted through the University of Oregon Institute of Molecular Biology. See INSTITUTE OF MOLECULAR BIOLOGY.

UNDERGRADUATE COURSES in chemistry are planned to provide a broad knowledge of the field as a part of the University's program of liberal education, and to provide a substantial foundation in chemistry for students interested in (1) a career in industrial chemistry, (2) advanced work in chemistry or other sciences, (3) premedical or pre dental studies, or (4) teaching in colleges or the secondary schools.

The high-school preparation of a prospective chemistry major should include as much mathematics as possible. One year each of algebra and geometry are a minimum. Students entering with insufficient preparation in mathematics must remedy their deficiencies in elementary courses offered by the University. Substantial preparation in English, social science, literature, and modern foreign languages is expected. High-school work in chemistry and physics is desirable but not required.

The recommended curriculum for majors includes the following courses in chemistry and related fields (variations in order may be approved by the department):

Freshman Year. General Chemistry and Inorganic Qualitative Analysis (Ch 201, 202, 203, Ch 204, Ch 325, 326); a year sequence in mathematics (students will be registered in a mathematics course for which they have adequate preparation; as a basis for placement, high-school records are supplemented by a placement examination); German.

* Offered at the Institute of Marine Biology.

† On sabbatical leave 1960-61.

‡ On leave of absence 1960-61.

Sophomore Year. Organic Chemistry (Ch 334, 335, 336); General Physics Ph 201, 202, 203); Differential and Integral Calculus (Mth 201, 202, 203), if not taken in the freshman year; German.

Junior Year. Quantitative and Instrumental Analysis (Ch 320, 322, 323); Physical Chemistry, lectures and laboratory (Ch 441, 442, 443, Ch 444, 445).

Senior Year. Qualitative Organic Analysis (Ch 435); Research (Ch 401) or an additional year sequence in chemistry at the senior level.

The additional advanced sequence in the senior year may be elected from such courses as Advanced Inorganic Chemistry (Ch 411, 412), Biochemistry (Ch 461, 462, 463, Ch 464, 465, 466), Chemical Thermodynamics (Ch 551, 552). Qualified student must have earned a minimum GPA of 2.00 courses in chemistry, physics, and mathematics.

The recommendations for the major outlined above meet the specifications of the Committee on Undergraduate Training of the American Chemical Society. Upon notification by the Department of Chemistry, the society issues certificates to students who successfully complete the recommended curriculum. Students who desire a less specialized major, without American Chemical Society certification, may omit Organic Qualitative Analysis (Ch 435), the extra sequence in the senior year, and German.

To be recommended for the bachelor's degree with a major in chemistry, a student must have earned a minimum GPA of 2.00 in courses in chemistry, physics, and mathematics.

For those who intend to teach in secondary schools the department recommends the following as minimum preparation: General Chemistry (Ch 201, 202, 203, Ch 204, 205, 206); Organic Chemistry (Ch 334, 335); Elementary Quantitative Analysis (Ch 320). These courses provide some acquaintance with several fields of chemistry. Additional courses for secondary-school teachers are offered during the summer sessions.

Graduate Study. The Department of Chemistry offers graduate work leading to the Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. Detailed information is published in the Graduate School Catalog.

The department is prepared to accept Ph.D. candidates for work in the following fields of chemistry: physical chemistry, organic chemistry, theoretical chemistry, biochemistry, and inorganic chemistry.

Dentistry, Preparatory

THE COUNCIL ON DENTAL EDUCATION of the American Dental Association has established the following minimum requirements for admission to approved dental schools: at least 90 term hours of collegiate courses, including one year of English, one year of general chemistry, one year of biology or zoology, one year of physics, and one-half year of organic chemistry; a grade-point average of at least 2.00.

The University offers a three-year pre dental curriculum, which satisfies these requirements, to prepare students for admission to the University of Oregon Dental School or other accredited dental schools. The completion of this curriculum and two years of dental-school work satisfies all requirements for a bachelor's degree from the University with a major in general science. With the proper choice of electives in the pre dental curriculum, the student may qualify for a bachelor's degree with a major in biology. Although a bachelor's degree is not prerequisite to a professional degree in dentistry, the University of Oregon Dental School and most other dental schools recommend that their students qualify for this degree.

Pre dental students are advised to begin correspondence with the University of Oregon Dental School or the dental school they plan to attend during the spring term of their first year at the University. Aptitude tests given by the American Dental Association and by the Dental School should be taken not later than the fall term one year before admission. The Oregon test is given only in August; applications to take this test must be made well in advance of the scheduled date of the test. Pre dental students should consult the Dental School Catalog for dates.

East Asian Studies

THE CURRICULUM IN EAST ASIAN STUDIES is a program of area training through selected courses dealing with the Far East. The primary emphasis is upon the Chinese culture sphere, with special attention to Japan. The program is designed to provide necessary basic knowledge for students interested in commercial, governmental, journalistic, or educational work relating to the region, for students preparing for graduate work in East Asian studies, or for those who wish to broaden their understanding of the interrelated world in which they live. The curriculum is administered by an advisory committee, of which Dr. Theodore Stern, associate professor of anthropology, is chairman.

The major in East Asian studies leads to the Bachelor of Arts or the Bachelor of Science degree. Those planning graduate work in the area are advised to take the B.A. program. The requirements are as follows:

(1) All majors must take the following: Far East in Modern Times (Hst or PS 391, 392, 293); Geography of East Asia (Geog 451); Peoples of Southern and Eastern Asia (Anth 438, 439, 440).

(2) The candidate for the B.A. degree must take 39 term hours from groups (a) and (b), below, of which not more than 24 term hours may be selected from group (b); it is recommended that Chinese or Japanese be offered for the satisfaction of the language requirement. The candidate for the B.S. degree must take 24 term hours from groups (a) and (b), of which not more than 12 term hours may be selected from lower-division courses in group (b).

(a) Lecture-course group: Introduction to Japanese Literature (AL 301, 302, 303); Introduction to Chinese Literature (AL 307, 308, 309); Peoples of Interior Asia (Anth 437); Geography of South and Southeast Asia (Geog 452, 453); Government and Politics of South and Southeast Asia (PS 337, 338); Far Eastern Governments and Politics (PS 330, 331, 332); History of Oriental Art (AA 446, 447, 448); Economic Problems of the Pacific (Ec 345); Religions of Mankind (R 303); History of China (Hst 494, 495, 496); History of Japan (Hist 497, 498, 499); seminars.

(b) Language-course group: First-Year Japanese (OL 60, 61, 62); Second-Year Japanese (OL 80, 81, 82); First-Year Chinese (OL 50, 51, 52); Second-Year Chinese (OL 70, 71, 72); Readings in Japanese (OL 405); Readings in Chinese (OL 405).

Graduate Work. The University also offers an interdisciplinary program of graduate work in East Asian studies in conjunction with work leading to the Master of Arts degree with a departmental major. The student completes 45 term hours of graduate work in a department, and, in addition, 30 term hours in East Asian studies, including a seminar in the East Asian field. His thesis applies the methodology of a departmental discipline to an East Asian subject. The program leads to two M.A. degrees, one in the departmental major field and the second in East Asian studies. The candidate must demonstrate mastery, equivalent to the attainment expected after two years of college study, of an East Asian language relevant to his program.

THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH offers instruction in English and American literature and in writing. Its lower-division courses are designed to supply the training essential for good writing, to serve as an introduction to humanistic studies, and to impart the fundamental knowledge requisite for a major in English. Its upper-division courses are designed to develop an intelligent and just appreciation of literature, to give some insight into the continuity of literature and the interrelation of literary movements, and to provide the opportunity for a well-rounded knowledge of the history of English and American literature and of the English language.

Major Requirements. The Department of English expects its majors to acquire, in addition to a knowledge of English literature, a general knowledge of philosophy and history and a reading knowledge of at least one foreign language. The general major requirements for the degree of Bachelor of Arts in the Department of English are as follows:

- (1) Satisfaction of the University language requirements for the B.A. degree.
- (2) English History (Hst 304, 305, 306), History of Western Civilization (Hst 101, 102, 103), or History (Honors College) (Hst 107, 108, 109).
- (3) Survey of English Literature (Eng 101, 102, 103), Appreciation of Literature (Eng 104, 105, 106), World Literature (Eng 107, 108, 109), or Literature (Honors College) (AL 101, 102, 103); and Shakespeare (Eng 201, 202, 203).
- (4) A total of 36 hours in upper-division courses in the department, including 3 hours in the Middle Ages, 9 in other literature before 1800, and 9 in literature since 1800 (these hours need not be taken in period courses). Within the framework of these requirements, the student should construct, subject to his adviser's approval, a balanced and coherent program consistent with his personal interests and vocational needs. Programs centering on English literature, American literature, or creative writing are suggested, but other patterns are not excluded. Prospective high-school teachers should keep state certification requirements in mind (see SCHOOL OF EDUCATION).

Graduate Work. The Department of English offers graduate work in English literature, American literature, and the English language, leading to the Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy degrees, and a graduate program in creative writing leading to the M.A. or Master of Fine Arts degree.

The emphasis, in the programs leading to the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees, is upon literary studies. Candidates are expected to have a comprehensive knowledge of English and American literature and a reading knowledge of the English language in all periods of its development.

* Resigned Dec. 31, 1960.

The department may allow, upon petition, the waiving of the requirement for a thesis for the M.A. degree.

For the Ph.D. degree, the department recommends an elementary knowledge of Latin or Greek in addition to the required reading knowledge of two modern languages.

The graduate program in creative writing includes studies in English and American literature, in aesthetics, and in the history and criticism of art, music, and drama, and the production of a sustained piece of writing of high literary merit.

THE DEPARTMENT OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES offers instruction in Chinese, French, German, Greek, Italian, Japanese, Latin, Norwegian, Russian, Spanish, and Swedish. The undergraduate course offerings have been planned to provide: (1) an introduction to the nature and structure of language as a basic aspect of human culture; (2) an introduction to the principal literatures of the world; (3) major programs in Greek, Latin, French, German, Spanish, and Russian; (4) a reading knowledge of languages required of candidates for advanced degrees; and (5) proficiency in speaking, understanding, and writing of French, German, Italian, Russian, and Spanish.

Major Requirements. Departmental requirements for the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in the Department of Foreign Languages are as follows:

Classical Languages. Twenty-four term hours in Greek or Latin beyond the second-year sequence; History of Greece (Hst 411), History of Rome (Hst 412, 413). Majors in Greek or Latin are normally expected to take work in the other classical language or in French or German.

French, German, Russian, or Spanish. Thirty term hours beyond the second-year sequence—normally survey of literature, composition and conversation, and two additional upper-division year sequences (at least one a literature sequence).

Romance Languages, Modern Languages, Classical and Modern Languages. Thirty term hours beyond the second-year sequence in one language and 15 term hours beyond the second-year sequence in a second language, including two upper-division literature sequences in the first language and one in the second.

Graduate Study. The Department of Foreign Languages offers programs of graduate study leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Greek, Latin, Classical languages, German, French, Spanish, and Romance languages, and to the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Romance languages. For the master's degree, courses are offered in the languages and literatures of Greece, Rome, France, Germany, Spain, and Spanish America; preferably, the student's program should include work in two of these fields. For the doctorate, opportunities for advanced study are provided in the French and Spanish fields, supplemented by offerings in Italian, German, and Classical languages. The doctoral program is intended primarily to prepare college teachers and research scholars. Doctoral studies may center in the investigation of a single problem, the results of which are embodied in the dissertation, or may be more broadly cultural, with less emphasis on research.

The resources of the University Library for research in classical languages, French, Spanish, and German are adequate for the department's graduate programs; in some fields they are outstanding. The Library's holdings of learned journals are extensive; one journal, COMPARATIVE LITERATURE, is edited in the department.

State Teacher's Certificate. Foreign-language majors who plan to teach in the secondary schools must satisfy the education and subject requirements for a state teacher's certificate (see SCHOOL OF EDUCATION).

THE DEPARTMENT OF HISTORY offers instruction in American, European, British, and East Asian history, and major programs designed for general education and in preparation for public-school teaching and for graduate study and research.

Requirements for the Bachelor's Degree. For a bachelor's degree with a major in history a student must complete a minimum of 42 term hours in history courses, of which 24 must be upper-division, including at least 9 hours of 400-level courses (15 upper-division hours must be taken at the University of Oregon). Specific requirements are as follows:

(1) History of Western Civilization (Hst 101,102,103), or History (Honors College) (Hst 107, 108, 109), or, with consent of adviser, 15 hours of upper-division European history, including courses both before and after 1600.

(2) A year sequence in United States history.

(3) Not less than two terms (6 hours) of upper-division courses in each of two fields selected from the following: (a) Europe before 1600, (b) Europe after 1600, (c) United States, Far East, or Latin America.

(4) At least one term of Seminar (Hst 407) or Colloquium (Hst 408).

(5) A 2.50 grade-point average in history courses.

* On leave of absence 1960-61.

History majors should take work in allied fields that will contribute to a well-balanced liberal education. The department recommends work in foreign language and literature extending, if possible, beyond the second-year level and leading to a thorough reading knowledge of a language.

Honors in History. Students who meet the requirements of the Honors College (see page 105) and obtain the approval of the department may enroll in a program leading to the bachelor's degree with honors in history. In this program, regular course work is supplemented by a junior honors seminar and, during the senior year, by informal reading in a special field of history and the writing of a senior honors essay. At the end of his senior year, the honors student is given an oral examination with emphasis on two selected fields of history and the honors essay. The student may choose his honors fields from (1) ancient Greece and Rome, mediaeval Europe, or Europe in the Renaissance and Reformation, (2) modern Europe, (3) the United States, (4) the Far East or Latin America; one field must be chosen from (1) or (2).

The department recommends that candidates for honors elect additional informal work in seminars or reading and conference. Arrangements can normally be made for enrollment for extended reading in connection with upper-division courses in history.

Graduate Work. The department offers graduate instruction leading to the degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. For requirements for graduate degrees, see GRADUATE SCHOOL. A detailed statement of departmental requirements may be obtained in the department office.

Home Economics

Professor: MABEL A. WOOD (department head).

Assistant Professors: FAITH JOHNSTON, LOIS E. NELSON, FRANCES VAN VOORHIS, MARGARET J. WEISE.

LOWER-DIVISION and service courses in home economics are offered at the University. By action of the State Board of Higher Education in 1932, all major work in the Oregon State System of Higher Education leading to baccalaureate and advanced degrees in home economics was confined to the School of Home Economics at Oregon State College, and lower-division work (instruction in the freshman and sophomore years) was assigned to both the State College and the University.

The lower-division work in home economics is essentially the same at both institutions. While it is recommended that students intending to major in home economics enter the institution at which major work is offered at the beginning of their freshman year, they may, if they wish, spend their freshman and sophomore years at the University, and transfer to the State College for their major work at the beginning of the junior year, without loss of credit and with fundamental requirements for upper-division standing fully met.

At both institutions, the lower-division program is intended, not only to lay the foundation for specialization in home economics, but also to serve the needs of students majoring in other fields. In addition to lower-division work, the University offers upper-division service courses in home economics.

The foods and clothing laboratories of the Department of Home Economics are designed and equipped in accordance with the best modern standards for instruction in these fields.

MATHEMATICS COURSES at the University are designed to provide the training in rigorous thinking and analytical processes which is fundamental to a liberal education; to provide basic mathematical and statistical training for students in the social, biological, and physical sciences and in the professional schools; to prepare prospective teachers of mathematics; and to provide advanced and graduate work for students specializing in the field.

Preparation for Major Work. Students planning to major in mathematics at the University should take high-school courses in algebra (at least one and one-half years) and plane geometry and, if possible, courses covering trigonometry, solid geometry, and more advanced topics.

Majors usually begin University work in mathematics with Introductory College Mathematics (Mth 105, 106, 107) or Analytic Geometry and Calculus (Mth 204, 205, 206). The latter sequence is recommended for well-prepared freshmen whose high-school program includes trigonometry. Students not prepared for one of the above sequences must make up their deficiencies in one or both of the following courses: Elements of Algebra (Mth 10), Essentials of Mathematics (Mth 101).

Students may enter Mth 204, 205, 206 upon completion of Mth 106; students electing Mth 101, 102, 203 must take Mth 106, 107 if they wish to enroll for Differential and Integral Calculus (Mth 201, 202, 203).

Science Group Requirement. The following sequences are correlated to make up an integrated year's work to satisfy the science group requirement; Mth 101, 105, 106; Mth 101, 105, 108; Mth 105, 106, 107; Mth 105, 106, 108; Mth 105, 106, 204; Mth 201, 202, 203; Mth 204, 205, 206; Mth 301, 302, 303. Majors in business administration should choose a sequence which includes Mth 108.

Mth 204, 205, 206 is the recommended sequence for all exceptionally well-prepared students. Mth 105, 106, 107 is the standard sequence for students who enter with one and one-half years of high-school algebra, and who intend to major in mathematics, the physical sciences, or architecture, or to take more than one year's work in college mathematics. The department will recommend suitable sequences in the light of the individual student's interests and mathematics placement-test score.

Requirements for Bachelor's Degree. To qualify for a bachelor's degree with a major in mathematics, a student must complete 48 term hours of work in the field, including Differential and Integral Calculus (Mth 201, 202, 203) or

* On leave of absence 1960-61.

Analytic Geometry and Calculus (Mth 204, 205, 206) and at least 24 term hours in upper-division mathematics courses exclusive of Mth 313 and Mth 425, 426, 427. Not more than 15 hours selected from Mth 301, 302, 303, Mth 441, 442, 443, and Mth 447, 448, 449 may be counted toward the minimum major requirement.

Students preparing for graduate work in mathematics should include in their programs: Mth 412, 413, 414; Mth 421, 422, 423; Mth 431, 432, 433; and Mth 447, 448, 449. Students preparing for graduate work in statistics should follow the same program. Attainment of a reading knowledge of at least one of the following languages is highly recommended: French, German, Russian.

Recommendations for Prospective Teachers. Students intending to teach high-school mathematics must plan their programs to include the courses required for certification (see SCHOOL OF EDUCATION). To receive the unqualified recommendation of the department, prospective mathematics teachers should also complete Fundamentals of Algebra (Mth 341, 342, 343) or Linear Algebra and Coordinate Geometry (Mth 315, 316) and Number Theory (Mth 317); Fundamentals of Geometry (Mth 344, 345); Fundamentals of Statistics (Mth 346); and one term of calculus (Mth 201 or Mth 205). More-advanced regular session courses with similar content and special upper-division courses offered during summer sessions are acceptable substitutes for courses listed above.

Students preparing for elementary-school teaching should take Mathematics for Elementary Teachers (Mth 51, 52).

Medicine, Preparatory

A PREMEDICAL CURRICULUM, including courses prescribed by the American Medical Association for entrance to standard medical schools, is offered at the University. The program is supervised by a special advisory committee, of which Dr. R. T. Ellickson, professor of physics, is chairman.

For entrance to a standard medical school, the student must not only complete certain prescribed work but also show an aptitude for medical studies. The Medical College Admission Test is given each year to all students who expect to apply for admission to a medical school. The test should be taken in the fall, one year before admission to medical school. Application to take the test must be made well in advance of the scheduled date. Further knowledge of the student's ability is obtained through conferences between the student and his instructors and authorized premedical advisers.

For admission to the University of Oregon Medical School, the student must have completed satisfactorily 138 term hours of college work, exclusive of military science. The following subjects are prescribed:

| | Term Hours |
|---|------------|
| Chemistry | 24 |
| General inorganic, which may include qualitative analysis..... | 12 |
| Quantitative analysis, emphasis on volumetric analysis..... | 4 |
| Organic | 8 |
| Biology | 15 |
| General biology or zoology..... | 9 |
| Comparative anatomy, embryology, or genetics (in order of preference) 6 | |
| Physics | 12 |
| Mathematics | 6 |
| English | 9 |

Foreign language is not specifically required for admission to the Medical School, but some knowledge of a major modern foreign language (German, French, Russian, Spanish) is highly recommended as a part of the cultural training of a physician. Students anticipating research in the medical sciences should obtain a basic knowledge of German and French. The premedical student should keep in mind that some medical schools require credit in foreign language for admission.

The work in organic chemistry must include the chemistry of both aliphatic and aromatic compounds. Biochemistry will not be accepted toward meeting the requirement. At least 25 percent of all the required work in chemistry must be laboratory work.

Human anatomy is not accepted toward meeting the minimum requirements in biology.

The work in physics must include the divisions of mechanics, heat, sound, light, and electricity.

The work in mathematics should be of standard college grade, and include subjects such as algebra, elementary analysis, trigonometry, or calculus.

Recommended Elective Subjects. The student preparing to study medicine is advised to plan a balance in elective courses between courses in liberal arts and courses, beyond the minimum requirements, in subjects prescribed for admission to the Medical School. Subjects suggested are: history, economics, sociology, psychology, English, public speaking, and foreign languages.

The University of Oregon Medical School also requires that the student who enters without a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree must complete the work for one of these degrees at the University of Oregon or at the institution at which he received his premedical preparation, before entering upon the work of the third year at the Medical School. Under University regulations, a maximum of 48 term hours of work in medicine may be counted as credit earned in residence toward the bachelor's degree.

Before entering the Medical School, the student should satisfy all requirements for a degree (including University requirements and major requirements in the College of Liberal Arts) that cannot be satisfied at the Medical School. The following premedical curriculum meets the requirements stated above:

Professor: JEAN E. BOYLE (director).

Associate Professor: GUHLI J. OLSON (in charge of prenursing program).

THE UNIVERSITY offers on the Eugene campus a three-term prenursing curriculum to prepare students for admission to the University of Oregon School of Nursing on the campus of the Medical School in Portland. The professional program requires three additional years of work, plus a summer session after the sophomore year, on the Medical School campus. On completion of the program, the student is granted the Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Oregon.

The minimum requirements for admission to the School of Nursing are as follows:

- (1) Completion of a required freshman program at the University of Oregon, or at any accredited junior college, college, or university whose program is acceptable for transfer of credit to the University of Oregon.
- (2) A grade-point average of at least 2.00 for the freshman-year program.
- (3) A satisfactory rating on the National League for Nursing Prenursing and Guidance Examination. This examination should be taken early in the student's freshman year; application to take the examination should be made well in advance. Prenursing students should consult their prenursing adviser or write to the School of Nursing concerning examination dates.

Application for admission to the School of Nursing should be made after the completion of the freshman prenursing program. FOR CITIZENS, for prospective public servants, and for future teachers and research workers, the Department of Political Science offers instruction in politics and government in the local community, the state, the nation, and among nations.

At the lower-division level, the department offers two terms of study of American national government (PS 201, 202), followed by a third term devoted to either state and local government (PS 203) or to international relations (PS 205). Majors in political science are ordinarily required to complete PS 201, 202 and one of the third-term options.

The advanced courses and seminars offered by the department fall into six fields: (1) American government and public law (PS 314, 315, 316, PS 484, 485, 486, PS 487, 488, 489); (2) political parties and public opinion (PS 414, 415, 416); (3) public administration (PS 411, 412, 413); (4) foreign and comparative governments (PS 330, 331, PS 337, 338, PS 424, PS 425, PS 426, PS 427, 428); (5) international relations (PS 320, 321, PS 322, PS 391, 392, 393, PS 420, 421, PS 442, PS 440, 441, 442); and (6) political theory (PS 430, 431, 432, PS 433, 434, 435).

For the bachelor's degree, majors in political science are required to take courses in at least three of these fields and, in addition, Principles of Political Science (PS 311) and a senior seminar (PS 407).

For the master's degree, the student is expected to build his program of study so that he will become familiar with (1) the content and uses of political theory, (2) characteristics of political institutions and behavior, and (3) a major field of public policy or public law. With the usual undergraduate preparation in political science, a student may ordinarily achieve the required competence through an advanced year's sequence or seminar work in three of the six fields listed above. A year of course or seminar work in another social science is recommended. A thesis is required for the demonstration of the student's ability in independent analysis and presentation of complex materials.

* On sabbatical leave 1960-61.

† On leave of absence 1960-61.

Doctoral candidates are expected to show a comprehensive knowledge of political science and substantial understanding of a related field in another social science. Comprehensive written and oral examinations test the student's grasp of political theory, institutions and behavior, and policy and public law. The dissertation is a measure of the student's depth of study, and is expected to be a significant original contribution to knowledge.

THE UNDERGRADUATE COURSES in psychology offered by the University are designed to serve several different objectives: to provide a sound basis for later professional or graduate training in psychology; to satisfy the needs of students, majors and nonmajors, who are interested in psychology primarily as a part of a broad liberal education; and to provide a background in psychological principles and techniques as intellectual tools for work in other social sciences and in such professional fields as education, business, and journalism.

The courses are planned with the thought that all students, regardless of their majors, will have to deal responsibly with many significant psychological problems in their relations with other people, in their later experiences as parents, in their own individual decisions, and in their efforts to understand the processes and problems of modern society.

A minimum of 9 term hours of lower-division work in psychology is a prerequisite for all upper-division courses—except that General Sociology (Soc 204, 205) may serve as the prerequisite for Social Psychology (Psy 334, 335) or Introduction to Industrial Psychology (Psy 447). Additional prerequisites are required for most courses at the 400 level.

To graduate with a major in psychology, a student must complete a minimum of 36 term hours in the field, including at least 24 upper-division hours. Six term hours in statistics may be included in the major requirement. Unless exception is granted by the department, majors are required to take General Psychology Laboratory (Psy 208, 209, 210) or equivalent upper-division laboratory work in psychology. The courses presented in satisfaction of the 36-hour minimum requirement must be completed with a grade average of C or better.

Preparation for Graduate Study. Majors in psychology should recognize that a bachelor's degree is seldom a sufficient qualification for professional work, and that even the simpler professional openings require at least a year of graduate study.

Students should not undertake graduate work unless their grades in undergraduate psychology courses and courses in related fields have averaged somewhat better than B.

Students intending to do graduate work in psychology are urged to take not more than 48 term hours of work in the field as undergraduates. The undergraduate program should include courses at the 300 and 400 (g) levels which cannot be taken for graduate credit in psychology, rather than courses at the 400 (G) level. Prospective graduate students should take a course in statistics, preferably in the junior year. Undergraduate work should be planned to provide a rich background in related fields. If a student's graduate program is to emphasize experimental psychology, his undergraduate work should include courses in biology, mathematics, physics, and chemistry. If his graduate work is to emphasize the clinical or social aspects of psychology, his undergraduate program should include courses in anthropology and other social sciences, and should include some physiology. Students who may wish to do professional psychological work in the public schools, e.g., special education or guidance, should take the required background courses in the School of Education.

Any student who intends to work for the Doctor of Philosophy degree should acquire a reading knowledge of two foreign languages, preferably German and French or Russian.

Graduate Work. The department offers graduate work leading to the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy. Areas of specialization include comparative, learning, perception, quantitative methods, developmental, individual differences, personality, social, clinical, child-clinical, and counseling. The department maintains, in addition to a general experimental laboratory, a child-study center and child-guidance clinic and rat and monkey laboratories.

A thesis is required for all advanced degrees. Further information concerning the graduate program in psychology may be obtained on request to the department. For general regulations governing graduate work at the University, see GRADUATE SCHOOL.

All students applying for admission for graduate work in psychology must take either the Miller Analogies Test or the Graduate Record Examination (Verbal and Quantitative). Data from one of these tests must be submitted to the department before admission will be approved.

Students beginning graduate work in psychology are required to take a year proseminar providing a survey of all the fields of psychology at an advanced level.

Combined programs with speech correction, special education, or anthropology may be arranged.

Clinical and Counseling Psychology. The University offers special programs leading to the Ph.D. degree in clinical and counseling psychology. The clinical and counseling programs differ mainly in part of the practicum training. Counseling students may, however, place emphasis on courses dealing with vocations, industrial problems, educational administration, and personnel relations, while clinical students may place emphasis on courses dealing with psychopathology and with physiological and medical topics.

Students in these programs should plan their work to prepare themselves both in academic subjects for the Ph.D. preliminary examinations and for practical work in clinical and counseling settings. Practicum facilities in the University Counseling Center, the University Child Guidance Clinic, and the Oregon State Hospital in Salem are used extensively in all stages of training. Opportunities for supervised experience are also available in the University School Psychological Services and Speech clinics, the Fairview Home in Salem, and the Community Child Guidance Clinic and the Oregon Psychiatric Services for Children in Portland. A number of traineeships are available in Veteran Administration facilities in Roseburg and Portland. The University's doctoral programs in counseling and clinical psychology are approved by the American Psychological Association.

School Psychologist Program. A special undergraduate and graduate program is offered, through the cooperation of the Department of Psychology and the School of Education, to prepare students for positions as school psychologists. The undergraduate work leads to a bachelor's degree with a major in psychology and to a provisional teaching certificate, which qualifies the student for the teaching experience required for certification as a school psychologist. The graduate work leads to a master's degree with a major in psychology and satisfies all requirements for the Oregon school-psychologist certificate; a minimum of five terms of graduate study is needed for the completion of the program. It is not possible to take all the required work in summer sessions.

The student's program is planned in consultation with his adviser; the courses included depend, to some extent, on the individual student's background of education and experience. The number of trainees who can be accommodated in the essential clinical-experience courses is strictly limited. Students wishing admission to these courses should consult one of the program advisers not later than the beginning of the first year of graduate work.

Rehabilitation Counseling. The Department of Psychology and the School of Education sponsor jointly a two-year program of graduate training in rehabilitation counseling leading to a master's degree. The program is administered through the Center for Social Service Training and Research.

SOCIOLOGY is the analytical study of the development, structure, and function of human groups and societies. It is concerned with the scientific understanding of human behavior as it relates to, and is a consequence of, interaction within groups.

The undergraduate program in sociology at the University is designed:

(1) to prepare students for graduate work leading to professional careers in the field; (2) to provide a basic background for those preparing for careers in personnel work, journalism, organizational management, social work and public welfare, city and regional planning, teaching of social studies, and research in human relations; and (3) to provide a scientific basis, in knowledge and understanding, for constructive adult citizenship.

The graduate program, leading to the Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees, provides intensive study designed to train professional sociologists fully qualified for teaching, research, and administrative positions in sociology and related fields.

Alpha Kappa Delta, a national sociology honorary society, has a chapter on the University campus; all students who have completed their junior year and have had at least 20 hours of sociology with a grade-point average of 3.00 or higher are eligible for membership. Membership in the Sociology Club is open to all sociology majors and to other students of the social sciences.

Requirements for Bachelor's Degree. Candidates for the bachelor's degree with a major in sociology must satisfy all general requirements of the University and the College of Liberal Arts and complete the following required courses in sociology:

| | Term | Hours |
|--|-------|-------|
| General Sociology (Soc 204, 205, 206)..... | 9 | |
| World Population & Social Structure (Soc 308)..... | 3 | |
| American Society (Soc 309)..... | 3 | |
| Introduction to Social Research (Soc 327)..... | 3 | |
| Social Psychology (Soc 334, 335)..... | 6 | |
| Upper-division sociology electives..... | 12-24 | |

Courses presented in satisfaction of the minimum 36-hour major requirement must be completed with a grade average of C or better. All majors are expected to attain a broad background in the social sciences. Not more than 48 hours in sociology may be counted toward the bachelor's degree.

A special program has been developed for students in the Honors College who wish to major in sociology. For these students Introduction to the Social Sciences (Honors College) (SSc 201, 202, 203) is prerequisite to upper-division work in sociology.

Graduate Work. Early in their undergraduate years students who are interested in graduate preparation for careers as professional sociologists should consult with a sociology adviser about the department's undergraduate preparatory program for research and teaching. Requirements in this program include: (1) satisfaction of the language requirement for the B.A. degree; (2) a three-term sequence in mathematics; (3) Soc 450, Soc 451, Soc 452; (4) at least one three-term sequence at the upper-division level in two of the following fields—anthropology, economics, political science, psychology.

All students applying for admission for graduate work in sociology must submit to the department letters of recommendation from three persons qualified to evaluate their academic achievement, transcripts of all work done at the college level, and scores on the Miller Analogies Test. These materials must be submitted at least one month before the student plans to begin graduate work.

Students are not advised to seek an advanced degree in sociology unless they have achieved a grade-point average of 3.00 or better in their undergraduate work in the field; students whose undergraduate major has been in another field should have a grade-point average of 3.00 in all social science courses taken.

Candidates for advanced degrees will be expected to achieve a general knowledge of the entire field of sociology and special competence in selected areas of concentration. The areas of concentration are: (1) general theory, (2) methodology, (3) social psychology, (4) formal organization, (5) marriage and the family, (6) social stratification, (7) population and ecology, (8) deviant behavior, (9) industrial sociology, (10) belief and value systems, (11) community organization and analysis, (12) organization of societies.

All candidates for advanced degrees must include in their programs the areas of general theory and methodology. Candidates for the master's degree must select three additional areas and candidates for the doctor's degree four additional areas, including organization of societies. With the approval of his advisory committee, a candidate may select an area of concentration not included in the list given above.

As an exception to these requirements, a graduate student who wishes to acquire a broad knowledge in sociology and related social sciences for the purpose of teaching general social science may, with the approval of his advisory committee, arrange a more general program of study. Such candidates must demonstrate a breadth of knowledge in sociology and in one or more related disciplines.

All graduate students in sociology must have preparation in statistics and research methods equivalent to Mth 425, 426, 427 and Soc 447, 448, 449, with the exception that a student working toward a terminal master's degree may, with the approval of his adviser, satisfy the requirement with Soc 447 and Mth 425. Masters' candidates who lack this preparation must satisfy the requirement in addition to course work normally required for a graduate degree.

Candidates for the master's degree, especially the M.S., are advised to develop a strong area of concentration in a related discipline. All masters' candidates are required to present an acceptable thesis.

Candidates for the doctor's degree must demonstrate clearly their basic and serious commitment to a professional career in the social sciences, with particular emphasis on sociology. The department encourages interdisciplinary studies, and provides opportunity for the development of original programs of study designed to broaden the student's professional preparation.

The qualifying examination for the doctor's degree covers the basic fields of sociology; the work required for the master's degree will usually prepare the candidate for this examination. The preliminary examination covers the selected areas of concentration and a cognate or minor field outside the department. It is an intensive test of the candidate's mature grasp of the field and his capacity for constructive and imaginative scholarly growth; it is a written examination, given over a period of several days.

The doctoral candidate's dissertation must embody the results of research and show evidence of originality and ability in independent investigation. It is recommended that work on the dissertation be begun early in the doctoral program, so that the candidate's research experience will be an integral part of his total program of study.

Candidates for advanced degrees who choose sociology as a minor must demonstrate competence in the general field of sociology and a depth of knowledge in one of the areas of concentration.

A brochure providing additional information about the graduate program in sociology may be obtained upon request to the department. For detailed requirements for graduate degrees, see GRADUATE SCHOOL.

THE DEPARTMENT OF SPEECH offers major curricula leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees, with opportunities for study in rhetoric and public address, radio and television broadcasting, speech and hearing therapy, and theater.

Work in speech is also offered for students majoring in other fields. For these students, the department directs its efforts toward two principal objectives: (1) the development of the ability to communicate thought and feeling; and (2) the improvement of powers of appreciation and evaluation in listening.

Practical experience in the various phases of the departmental program is provided through the University Theater, the University Symposium and forensic activities, the University Broadcasting Studios, and the Speech and Hearing Clinic.

In the planning of its major undergraduate programs, the Department of Speech recognizes three principal objectives:

(1) The achievement, by all of its major students, of a broad liberal education. The following major requirements relate to this objective:

(a) To complement work in the department, the student must elect courses in other departments which are of substantial value in relation to his major program, including at least 18 term hours in upper-division courses in a single related field.

(b) A maximum of 60 term hours of work in speech may be included in the student's program for a bachelor's degree.

THE SCHOOL OF ARCHITECTURE AND ALLIED ARTS offers instruction leading to baccalaureate and advanced degrees in the fields of architecture, interior architecture, landscape architecture, urban planning, drawing and painting, sculpture, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and metalsmithing, art history, and art education. All lower-division courses in the school, and all courses in art history, may be elected by nonmajors.

The school is organized as an integrated unit, without formal departmentalization. This form of organization reflects and facilitates the school's policy of cooperative teaching to bring the resources and insights of the several arts to bear on common problems of design.

Admission. The major curricula in the fields listed above are organized on an upper-division and graduate basis. Freshman students intending to major in any of these fields are enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and pursue, for two years, a program combining liberal arts courses with introductory preprofessional courses in the School of Architecture and Allied Arts.

The lower-division preprofessional courses are planned to provide continuity of training and experience in the several major fields throughout the student's undergraduate years. Educational continuity is further insured through the assignment of members of the faculty of the School of Architecture and Allied Arts as advisers to preprofessional students.

Before admission as professional majors, students must satisfy all lower-division requirements of the University and the College of Liberal Arts.

Students transferring to the University from other collegiate institutions for work in the School of Architecture and Allied Arts must satisfy the regular lower-division requirements, including both liberal arts and preprofessional requirements, before admission as professional majors. Students transferring from institutions outside the Oregon State System of Higher Education must have earned a 2.50 grade-point average for all courses for which credit is transferred. Credit may be transferred for courses that are the equivalent of University offerings; but transfer students wishing credit, toward major requirements, for upper-division professional work completed at another institution must first submit evidence of ability for performance at an advanced level.

Facilities. The school is housed in Lawrence Hall, named in memory of Ellis F. Lawrence, first dean of the School of Architecture and Allied Arts. The building contains drafting rooms, exhibition rooms, studios, classrooms, a library, and staff offices.

The school provides desks, easels, and certain materials that are not readily available for individual purchase. Students supply their own instruments and drawing materials; these materials are obtainable from a branch of the University Co-operative Store maintained in Lawrence Hall.

The Architecture and Allied Arts Library is a reference collection of about 4,500 books, administered as a branch of the University Library.

All work done by students is the property of the school unless other arrangements are approved by the instructor.

Graduate Work. The School of Architecture and Allied Arts offers graduate work leading to master's degrees in architecture, landscape architecture, urban planning, drawing and painting, sculpture, ceramics, weaving, art education, and art history. Graduate programs may emphasize either creative work or technical, theoretical, and historical studies. The following degrees are granted:

Master of Architecture—for creative work in architectural design or urban planning.

Master of Landscape Architecture—for creative work in landscape design or urban planning.

Master of Fine Arts—for creative work in drawing and painting, sculpture, ceramics, or weaving.

Master of Arts, Master of Science—for historical and theoretical studies in the visual arts, art education, and urban planning.

Graduate work in the school is governed by the regulations of the University Graduate School and by special requirements of the School of Architecture and Allied Arts. These special requirements, which apply particularly to graduate work of a creative nature leading to the M.Arch., M.L.Arch., or M.F.A. degree, are as follows:

(1) A student applying for admission for creative work at the graduate level must submit to the dean of the School of Architecture and Allied Arts photographs of recent work or other materials indicating creative ability.

(2) The student's qualifying examination, required by the Graduate School before the completion of 15 term hours of graduate work, must include a display of creative work done both before and after admission to graduate standing.

(3) The requirements for the M.Arch., M.L.Arch., and M.F.A. degree include the completion of a creative terminal project. The student's plan for his terminal project must be approved by his graduate committee before it is undertaken.

(4) On the completion of his terminal project, the student must submit as a supplement three copies of a typewritten report describing the development of the project, the materials and equipment employed, and the technical procedures followed, and giving other essential information bearing on the project; the report should be documented by photographs.

(5) After the completion of the terminal project, but before his final examination, the student must install a public exhibition presenting the several parts of the project. The School of Architecture and Allied Arts reserves the right to retain any part of the material exhibited as an indefinite loan.

(6) After the installation of the exhibition, but before public showing, the project is given a final review by the graduate committee, in the presence of the candidate. The review is accompanied by an oral examination of the candidate, which may be supplemented by a written examination.

Architecture

THE CURRICULUM IN ARCHITECTURE, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Architecture, is a three-year program following two years of preprofessional work. The preprofessional program includes lower-division courses which provide acquaintance with the more elementary aspects of architecture; these courses are organized to insure continuity with the professional work begun in the third year. The following courses are required for admission to an upper-division major in architecture:

| | Term Hours |
|--|------------|
| Design Studio I (AA 187)..... | 6 |
| Painting (AA 290)..... | 6 |
| Elementary Sculpture (AA 293)..... | 6 |
| Architectural Design (AA 287)..... | 6 |
| Construction Materials (AA 121)..... | 2 |
| Interior Design (AA 288)..... | 2 |
| Landscape Design (AA 289)..... | 2 |
| Graphics (AA 211, 212, 213)..... | 6 |
| Survey of Visual Arts (AA 201, 202, 203)..... | 9 |
| *Mathematics (Mth 105, 106, 107 or Mth 201, 202, 203)..... | 12 |
| *Essentials of Physics (Ph 101, 102, 103)..... | 9 |
| Social science | 9 |

Because the upper-division program is planned in continuity with the basic courses offered during the first two years, students intending to major in architecture at the University of Oregon are strongly advised to enter the University as freshmen, in order to profit by this continuous training. In special cases, however, students transferring from other institutions, with preprofessional preparation differing in some respects from the pattern indicated above, may be admitted to the professional curriculum.

The major option in design includes the following required courses:

| Third Year | Term Hours |
|---|------------|
| Architectural Design (AA 387)..... | 12 |
| Mechanical Equipment of Buildings (AA 320, 321, 322)..... | 9 |
| Theory of Structures I (AA 369, 370, 371)..... | 12 |
| History of Architecture I (AA 337, 338, 339)..... | 9 |
| City Planning I (AA 353, 354, 355)..... | 6 |
| Fourth Year | |
| Architectural Design (AA 487)..... | 15 |
| Theory of Structures II (AA 469, 470, 471)..... | 9 |

| Ethics & Practice (Architecture) (AA 529)..... | 2 |
| Working Drawings, Specifications & Estimating (AA 417, 418, 419)..... | 6 |
| Architecture & art electives..... | 15 |

The requirements for the structural option include the courses listed above and, in addition:

* Satisfies also science group requirement in liberal arts.

| | Term Hours |
|---|------------|
| Differential and Integral Calculus (Mth 201, 202, 203)..... | 12 |
| Theory of Structures III (AA 472, 473, 474)..... | 12 |

The following regulations govern the curriculum in architecture and the granting of the degree of Bachelor of Architecture:

(1) A student may obtain each year credits in excess of those called for in the curriculum, by demonstrating through examination that he has professional training, through experience or otherwise, which will justify the granting of additional credit and more rapid progress toward the degree.

(2) The student must earn 220 term hours of credit, of which 147 hours must be in the School of Architecture and Allied Arts. He must have completed all of the professional work of the five-year program, and must have satisfied all University requirements for graduation. A minimum of one year of residence is required.

(3) A student may take elective subjects in addition to the electives scheduled in the curriculum, provided his record for the preceding years shows no grade below C.

(4) Before the professional degree is granted, the student must complete satisfactorily each division of design. By special permission of the dean, a student may be allowed to do the work required in the courses in design as rapidly as he is able. By arrangement with the Registrar, credit for work done in these courses before formal registration will be entered in the student's record when certified by the dean.

(5) The five-year program is planned for students of average preparation and ability. Students with superior preparation and ability may, through examination as provided under Rule 1, or by presenting work in design as provided under Rule 4, complete the required number of hours of professional work and graduate in less than five years.

Graduate work is offered in architecture, leading to the Master of Architecture degree. For requirements, see pages 200-201.

The curriculum in architecture is accredited by the National Architectural Accrediting Board.

Business and Construction. Under the joint supervision of the School of Architecture and Allied Arts and the School of Business Administration, the University offers a five-year program of study for students who plan to enter the construction industry. The program, which leads to a bachelor's degree with a major in business administration, combines training in business methods and in the structural phases of architecture. For requirements see SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.

The lower-division prebusiness courses are planned to provide continuity of training throughout the student's undergraduate years. Educational continuity is further insured through the assignment of members of the faculty of the School of Business Administration as advisers to prebusiness students.

Before admission as a professional major in business administration, the student must satisfy all lower-division requirements of the University and the College of Liberal Arts, must maintain a C average in English Composition (Wr 111, 112, 113), and must complete the following required courses :

Reading knowledge of foreign languages is not required, but may, at the discretion of the student's committee, be substituted for the minor field outside the fields of business and economics.

The doctoral program normally requires three years of study beyond the bachelor's degree; completion of formal requirements for a master's degree is not required.

Bureau of Business Research. The Bureau of Business Research conducts a continuing program of research in economic and business problems. The program includes the regular collection of economic data for the state of Oregon and intensive investigation of particular problems. The program is supported in part through grants from Federal, state, and local governmental agencies, foundations, trade associations, private business firms, etc. Selected graduate students are offered the opportunity for valuable training through working on research problems. The bureau publishes the monthly OREGON BUSINESS REVIEW, which is sent free on request to any resident of Oregon. The results of the bureau's research and data collection are available to individuals and business firms on request. Some of its publications are for sale, others are distributed free of charge.

Dental School

HAROLD J. NOYES, D.D.S., M.D., Dean of the Dental School.

LOUIS G. TERKLA, D.M.D., Assistant to the Dean.

ERNEST A. HURLEY, D.M.D., Registrar ; Assistant to the Dean.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON DENTAL SCHOOL, located in Portland, was established through an act of the 1945 Oregon Legislature; the act accepted the gift of the property of the North Pacific College of Oregon, and incorporated the college into the Oregon State System of Higher Education as a school of the University. The North Pacific College was the outgrowth of the merger in 1900 of the Tacoma Dental College (founded in 1893) and the Oregon College of Dentistry (founded in 1898).

The Dental School offers a professional curriculum in dentistry, leading to the degree of Doctor of Dental Medicine, graduate programs leading to the Master of Science degree with majors in the fields of anatomy, bacteriology, biochemistry, oral pathology, pedodontics, pharmacology, and physiology, and a two-year program in training for dental hygienists.

The professional curriculum in dentistry is organized to provide the basic scientific knowledge, the mechanical skills, and the clinical experience essential for competence and success in the profession. The curriculum requires four years of didactic and clinical training, following three academic years of preprofessional work in liberal arts in an accredited college or university. The University offers, on the Eugene campus, a three-year predental curricula which satisfy the admission requirements of the Dental School (see pages 125-126).

Students completing the two-year dental-hygiene program may, by taking two additional years of work on the Eugene campus, satisfy the requirements for the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in health education.

Detailed information concerning the Dental School is published in a separate catalog; copies will be furnished on request.

THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION offers undergraduate and graduate work in teacher education at both the elementary and secondary levels, instruction, principally at the graduate level, in the fields of school administration, school psychological services, and higher education, and, through the Department of Librarianship, basic professional training for school and public libraries.

The School of Education is accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education for the preparation of elementary and secondary school teachers, school administrators, and specialists in school personnel services; the approved programs include the school's undergraduate programs and graduate programs leading to the master's and doctor's degree.

Admission to Courses in Education. Students may be admitted to courses in education only with the consent of the School of Education. A grade-point average of 2.00 for the student's first two years of University work is required for admission to all 300 courses. Ed 310 and Ed 312 are prerequisite to all 400 and 500 courses in education, unless an exception is indicated in the course description.

Undergraduate Professional Program. In planning its program, the School of Education has recognized three qualifications for a good teacher: (1) a broad and liberal education; (2) mastery of subject matter; (3) an understanding of child and adolescent psychology and of professional problems and techniques.

To encourage prospective secondary-school teachers to devote their first two years at the University exclusively to liberal arts and to basic work in the subject fields, the University of Oregon has organized its professional instruction in education on an upper-division and graduate basis, and requires junior standing for admission to major work in the School of Education. Lower-division students planning to major in education enroll in the College of Liberal Arts.

Students preparing for secondary-school teaching are also encouraged to complete their work for a bachelor's degree with a major in a subject field—taking as electives the professional courses in education required for teacher certification. An undergraduate major program in education is, however, available, principally for students preparing for elementary-school teaching. The program leads to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, or Bachelor of Education degree.

Before the end of their senior year, undergraduate education majors should take sufficient elective work in education, in addition to courses required for certification, to satisfy the 36-hour major requirement for a baccalaureate degree. General Psychology (Psy 201, 202) may be counted toward the satisfaction of the major requirement, but may not be counted toward the professional requirement or for a departmental degree with a major in a subject field or in education.

Graduate Program. Professional work in education beyond the undergraduate courses required for certification is offered principally at the graduate level. Specialized graduate work is offered in school administration and supervision, school psychological services, curriculum and instruction, elementary education, secondary education, higher education, history and philosophy of education. Graduate work in education leads to the following degrees: Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Education, Doctor of Philosophy, Doctor of Education.

Special programs of graduate study are also offered toward the satisfaction of the Oregon state requirement of a fifth year of college work for regular high-school teacher certification. The student may qualify, on the completion of the fifth year, for an interdisciplinary M.A. or M.S. in a program planned especially for teachers or for a departmental degree with a major in a subject field or in education.

Bureau of Educational Research. Through the Bureau of Educational Research, the School of Education provides consultant and field services for the school districts of the state. School Psychological Services

THE SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGICAL SERVICES PROGRAM, administered through the DeBusk Memorial Center, coordinates instruction in corrective and remedial education, special education, educational psychology, school counseling, rehabilitation counseling, and juvenile correction.

The program, in all of its phases, is interdisciplinary in character, involving cooperation of the faculties of the School of Education and of several departments of the College of Liberal Arts. The courses listed below are those for which the School of Education has the principal responsibility; students working in the several fields also take selected courses offered in the College.

The school psychological services program is planned principally for graduate students working toward master's and doctor's degrees; however, many of the courses are also adapted to the needs of students completing the general requirements for teacher certification. The program of the individual student is developed in the light of his background, experience, and professional objectives.

In all fields, supervised practical experience is provided in schools and other agencies concerned with learning and adjustment problems of children and adults. With the cooperation of these agencies, opportunities for such experience have been arranged in a wide variety of settings.

Practicum instruction is organized on two levels. Students who are receiving their first experience in a field and require relatively close supervision are enrolled in Ed 409; advanced students who are able to work more independently are enrolled in Ed 509.

The programs in rehabilitation counseling and in juvenile correction are administered through the Center for Social Service Training and Research. Both programs lead to the master's degree, and normally require two years for completion. For further information see CENTER FOR SOCIAL SERVICE TRAINING AND RESEARCH.

The DeBusk Memorial Center is named for its founder and first director, the late Dr. Burchard W. DeBusk.

THE SCHOOL OF HEALTH, PHYSICAL EDUCATION, AND RECREATION is responsible for three programs: (1) service courses in health education and physical education for men and women; (2) intramural sports for men and women; (3) professional study, both undergraduate and graduate, in the fields of health education, physical education, dance, and recreation management.

Service Courses. Courses providing instruction in recreational skills and in the principles of physical conditioning and health are offered for all University students.

The University graduation requirements for all students include five terms of physical education and a course in health education, unless the student is excused by the dean of the school.† Students may be exempted from one or more terms of the physical-education requirement on the basis of proficiency examinations.

Courses which satisfy the physical-education requirement are: PE 180 for women, PE 190 for men; not more than one hour of credit may be earned in these courses in any one term. The student's program in physical education is adjusted to his needs and abilities; whenever possible, the work is adapted to remedy physical disabilities. Majors and other students preparing for the teaching of physical education in the schools satisfy the requirement with a series of professional activity courses.

* On sabbatical leave, fall term, 1960-61.

† Students who have completed six months of active military service in the Armed Forces of the United States are exempt from three terms of the physical-education requirement.

Men students satisfy the health-education requirement with HE 150 or HE 250. Women students satisfy the requirement with HE 250.

Elective service courses (regularly scheduled classes) in physical activities are offered for juniors and seniors. A total of not more than 12 term hours may be earned toward graduation in lower-division and upper-division service courses in physical education. Not more than one hour of credit may be earned in any one term.

Intramural Sports. The School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation sponsors a comprehensive program of intramural sports. A primary purpose of the program is to encourage sportsmanship and friendly relations among the students of the University through athletic competition. Individual and group competitive sports for men are organized under the guidance of the department for men. The department for women provides a wide variety of sports for women students. Student leadership for women's athletics is furnished by the Women's Recreational Association.

Undergraduate Study. Undergraduate major programs are offered in the fields of health education, physical education, dance, and recreation management. Graduates of the school hold positions as: athletic coaches; high-school teachers of physical education and health education; directors of high-school athletics; supervisors of health and physical education; community recreation and playground directors; leaders in Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A., and other youth-organization work; directors of restricted and corrective physical education; workers in the field of physical therapy; college and university teachers and research workers in child growth, health education, and physical education.

Honors Program. Students in the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation may participate in the honors program described on pages 71-72. Work in regular courses is supplemented by independent study supervised by a member of the faculty.

Graduate Study. The School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation offers graduate work leading to the Master of Arts, Master of Science, Doctor of Education, and Doctor of Philosophy degrees.

Candidates for the master's degree may major in one of the following seven areas or in a combination of related areas: (1) administration of programs, buildings, and grounds; (2) school health education; (3) corrective activities and physical therapy; (4) recreation management; (5) anatomy, kinesiology, and physiological training and conditioning factors; (6) morphological, physiological, and motor aspects of child growth; (7) measurement and evaluation in physical education.

Ph.D. and D.Ed. candidates are expected to concentrate in one of the following fields of specialization: (1) administration; (2) health education; (3) child growth and development; or (4) corrective physical education. The Ph.D. dissertation must be an original contribution to knowledge.

Fees. Payment of regular University registration fees entitles every student to the use of gymnasium, pools, and showers, to the use of gymnasium and swimming suits and towels, and to laundry service, whether or not they are registered for physical-education courses. Students are urged to make full use of the gymnasium facilities for exercise and recreation.

Facilities. The University's buildings and playfields devoted to physical-education instruction and recreation occupy a 42-acre tract at the southeast corner of the campus. The Physical Education Building provides offices, classrooms, study halls, and research laboratories for the school and gymnasium facilities for men. The building is planned especially for the professional training in physical education, as well as for the recreational needs of students. The men's swimming pool is adjacent to the Physical Education Building.

The women's gymnasium and the women's swimming pool are in Gerlinger Hall, west of the Physical Education Building across University Street. There are playing fields for women south and west of Gerlinger.

Adjoining the Physical Education Building to the south is McArthur Court, the basketball pavilion and athletic center of the Associated Students. McArthur Court seats over 10,000 spectators.

Playing fields located east and south of the Physical Education Building provide excellent facilities for outdoor class instruction and for intramural and intercollegiate sports. Hayward Stadium, the Associated Students' athletic field, has seats for 23,000 spectators. North of Hayward Stadium are six standard concrete tennis courts. Eight additional courts are located south of the Education Building.

Physical Education

THE BASIC UNDERGRADUATE CURRICULUM in physical education, leading to the Bachelor of Science or Bachelor of Physical Education degree, provides a strong program of professional work. During his freshman and sophomore years, the student obtains a sound foundation in the liberal arts and in the sciences basic to professional studies, supplemented by introductory instruction in physical-education theory and activities. The upper-division program is devoted principally to professional studies.

The basic program is planned to satisfy the usual needs of the student planning to teach physical education in the public schools; it includes sufficient work in health education to enable him to qualify for positions which require the teaching of both physical education and health education. Modifications of this program may be arranged for students with special interests in such fields as the dance, social studies, and physical therapy.

Superior students who are interested in preparing for careers in the scientific and research aspects of physical education may arrange a program in which greater concentration in biology, physiology, chemistry, and mathematics is substituted for certain courses directly related to preparation for secondary-school teaching.

Social Science Option. Majors in physical education who wish to place an emphasis on the social sciences in their studies in the liberal arts may, with the approval of the dean of the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, substitute selected social science courses for a portion of the science requirement in the basic undergraduate curriculum.

Dance Option. The dance option combines professional work in physical education with special instruction in dance and related arts. There are excellent vocational opportunities in the fields of physical education and recreation for persons whose professional training includes this instruction. In addition to the dance option, the School of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation offers a major curriculum in the dance as a contemporary art form (see page 272).

Pre-Physical Therapy Option. Standard schools of physical therapy, which are usually operated in conjunction with medical schools, have admission requirements with strong emphasis on foundation work in the basic sciences. The sciences included in the basic curriculum in physical education, together with the understanding of body movement and exercise activities gained in professional physical-education courses, provide excellent preparation for physical-therapy training. Students interested in this work may arrange a special program, within the general framework of the physical-education major, but excluding courses especially designed to meet the requirements for a teacher's certificate.

School of Journalism

CHARLES T. DUNCAN, M.A., Dean of the School of Journalism.

Professors: C. T. DUNCAN, W. C. PRICE, W. F. G. THACHER (emeritus), G. S. TURNBULL (emeritus).

Associate Professors: R. C. HALL (emeritus), J. L. HULTENG, R. M. WALES, C. C. WEBB.

A DEPARTMENT OF JOURNALISM was organized at the University of Oregon in 1912, and was raised to the rank of a professional school in 1916. The school is accredited by the American Council on Education in Journalism.

Admission. The major program in journalism is organized on an upper-division and graduate basis. Two years of work in liberal arts and satisfaction of University lower-division requirements are required for formal admission. During his freshman and sophomore years, a student planning to specialize in journalism pursues a preprofessional program which will insure a sound educational basis for professional study at the upper-division level.

Introduction to Journalism (J 211, 212, 213) is required of all prejournalism students. The following basic courses are open to sophomores: Mechanics of Publishing (J 321); Reporting (J 361); Principles of Advertising (J 341); Copy Editing I (J 371).

Prejournalism students are advised: (1) to complete as many as possible of the courses in liberal arts which are required and recommended by the school; (2) to gain proficiency in the use of the typewriter; and (3) to participate in extracurricular journalistic activities.

A grade-point average of 2.25 is required for admission to upper-division major work in journalism.

Requirements for Bachelor's Degree. In its requirements for an undergraduate major, the School of Journalism places strong emphasis on courses which will provide a broad liberal education. The requirements in liberal arts are as follows:

Lower Division—(1) English or American literature, 18 term hours, or 9 hours of literature and a year of a foreign language; (2) history, 9 term hours; (3) economics and political science, 9 term hours in each of these fields, or 9 hours in one of these fields plus 9 hours in anthropology, geography, philosophy, psychology, or sociology.

Upper Division—Three terms (9 term hours) of related upper-division courses in each of two of the following fields: anthropology, economics, geography, history, literature, philosophy, political science, psychology, sociology, science (advertising students may offer, in place of work in one of these fields, acceptable upper-division courses in business administration).

The minimum requirement for a major in journalism is 33 upper-division term hours in professional courses; the maximum allowed within the first 186 term hours of an undergraduate program is 46 term hours. All majors must write a senior thesis, for which 6 term hours of credit is granted.

In consultation with his adviser, a journalism major selects professional courses to provide a measure of concentration in his field of particular interest. Preparation for professional careers is offered in the following fields of journalism: advertising, magazine, newspaper, photo-journalism, radio, television, journalism teaching in the secondary schools.

To be recommended for the bachelor's degree with a major in journalism, the student must have earned a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.25.

Graduate Study. The School of Journalism offers work leading to the Master of Arts or Master of Science degree. Programs are provided for candidates with considerable journalistic experience and for those with little experience, under the following plans:

Plan A. Thesis required. Designed for students with an extensive background in journalism. The candidate may, on request, be permitted to satisfy the major requirement with less than the normal 30 term hours of work in journalism.

Plan B. Thesis optional. Designed for students with little or no journalistic background. The candidate may take a maximum of 40 term hours of work in journalism. If he elects not to write a thesis, he must submit three term papers, written under the supervision of his adviser.

Facilities. The School of Journalism is housed in Eric W. Allen Hall, a three-story brick structure erected in 1954 and named in memory of the late Eric W. Allen, the first dean of the School of Journalism. Fully equipped laboratories are provided for newswriting, editing, advertising, radio-television news, and advertising (the school has its own broadcasting studios), photography, and typography. Current files of newspaper and trade publications are maintained in the Journalism Reading Room; the University Library has an excellent collection of the literature of mass communications. The School of Journalism receives the regular newspaper, radio-television, and teletypewriter monitor services of the Associated Press and the United Press. Offices of the OREGON DAILY EMERALD, the University student newspaper, are located on the third floor of Allen Hall. The Eric W. Allen Seminar Room, furnished by contributions from friends and alumni of the school, is a center for meetings of journalism seminars and student groups.

The Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association and the Oregon State Broadcasters Association have their offices in Allen Hall. The school and these associations cooperate in providing placement services for journalism graduates. The Oregon Scholastic Press also has its headquarters in Allen Hall.

Scholarships, Awards, and Financial Aid. The following scholarships and fellowships, established specifically for students in journalism, are awarded annually: Eugene Register-Guard Allen Scholarships, Crown Zellerbach Scholarships, Mainwaring Memorial Scholarship, Oregon Scholastic Press Scholarships, Pendleton East Oregonian Scholarship, Sweet Memorial Scholarship (for descriptions, see pages 89-94).

The following prizes and awards are given annually for proficiency in journalistic studies and activities: Harpham Prizes in Journalism, Hillsboro Argus Award, Oregon Press Women Book Prize, Sigma Delta Chi Scholarship Award, T. Neil Taylor Awards in Journalism, Turnbull-Hall Award (for descriptions see pages 97-99).

The interest from a $15,000 endowment fund, bequeathed to the University by the late Mrs. C. S. Jackson, widow of the founder of the Oregon Journal, provides no-interest loans to men students majoring in journalism.

ORLANDO J. HOLLIS, B.S., J.D., Dean of the School of Law.
LOIS I. BAKER, M.A., Law Librarian.

Professors: O. J. HOLLIS, C. G. HOWARD (emeritus).
Associate Professors: W. M. BASYE, R. S. KELLEY, F. R. LACY, H. A. LINDE.
Assistant Professor: R. S. SUMMERS.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON SCHOOL OF LAW was established in 1884 as a night law school in the city of Portland. It was moved to the Eugene campus in 1915 and reorganized as a regular division of the University. The School of Law was admitted to the Association of American Law Schools in December 1919; the standards of the school were approved by the American Bar Association in August 1923.

Admission to the School of Law. The minimum requirement for admission to the School of Law is three-fourths of the total credit required for a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree from the institution at which the student completes his prelegal work—but not less than 140 term hours (the requirement for a student completing his prelegal work at the University of Oregon). The minimum requirement may include no work taken by correspondence, and may include a maximum of 14 term hours in nontheory courses in military science, hygiene, domestic arts, physical education, vocal or instrumental music, or other subjects of a nontheoretical nature.

The student's prelegal program must include: (1) courses satisfying all lower-division requirements of the University and the College of Liberal Arts; (2) the basic college course in accounting (Ac 211, 212, 213 or equivalent); (3) a minimum of 36 term hours of credit in courses in the general field of social science. An applicant who has a baccalaureate degree need not comply with requirement (1) above.

For admission to the School of Law, a student must have, for all prelegal work, a cumulative grade-point average of at least 2.25 (computed in accordance with the system of grade-point-average determination used by the University of Oregon). This requirement applies to all applicants, including those who hold degrees.

Applicants for admission to the School of Law must take the uniform Law School Admission Test administered by the Educational Testing Service, and have a report of the test score sent to the School of Law prior to the first day of August preceding the fall term for which admission is sought. Inquiries concerning the dates, places, and fee for the Law School Admission Test should be addressed directly to the Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, N.J.

All students intending to enter the School of Law must file a formal application for admission with the dean of the school, from whom official application forms may be obtained.

A student intending to transfer to the University of Oregon from another institution and to enter the School of Law must also submit, to the dean of the school, complete records of all school work beyond the eighth grade. For failure to submit complete records, the University may cancel the student's registration. This regulation applies to work taken at other law schools, whether or not the student wishes to transfer credit.

Admission to the School of Law is restricted to students who are candidates for a professional law degree. Students are admitted to the professional study of law only at the opening of the fall term of each academic year.

Prelegal Program. Students pursuing prelegal studies at the University of Oregon are enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts during the three years of the required preparatory program. They are, however, assigned academic advisers from the faculty of the School of Law. The student is allowed considerable freedom of choice in selecting his courses, as long as his program provides a substantial cultural background. The prelegal adviser, after considering the student's high-school record and any available evidence of his native abilities, assists him in working out a program that will provide such a background. The student's program should include courses which will enable him to meet all lower-division requirements by the end of the second year of his prelegal studies.

Law students may qualify for a nonprofessional baccalaureate degree after the satisfactory completion of prelegal requirements and one year of professional work in the School of Law, provided that they have satisfied all general University requirements for such a degree. For a nonprofessional degree, the major requirement in law is 36 term hours (unweighted) in professional courses. The dean of the School of Law will not recommend a student for the B.A. or B.S. degree with a major in law who has been awarded, or is a candidate for, either of these degrees with a major in another field.

Registration and Fees. Law students register and pay their fees at the times set in the University calendar for registration. Law students pay the regular fees prescribed for all students.

Curriculum and Degrees. The School of Law offers a standard professional curriculum leading to the Bachelor of Laws or Doctor of Jurisprudence degree. A total of three years of resident professional study in the University of Oregon or another law school of recognized standing is required for a law degree, of which, normally, the two last years must be in residence in the University of Oregon. The curriculum is arranged, as far as possible, to present the fundamental topics of the law during the first year, and the more specialized subjects during the second and third years.

Since the school owes its primary responsibility to the people of the state of Oregon, special emphasis is placed on Oregon substantive law and on Oregon procedure. Courses based upon the common law are organized to provide the student a thorough foundation in the fundamental principles of the common law, and an understanding of the modification of these principles in Oregon by judicial decisions and statutes.

In the list of courses on pages 290-293, elective courses are indicated with an asterisk (*). All other courses are required. The school reserves the right to make any desirable or necessary changes in courses as listed and described.

The School of Law reserves the right to withhold recommendation for the granting of a degree to any student who, in the opinion of the faculty of the school, does not possess the character and abilities essential to the maintenance of the public trust in the legal profession. Regular class attendance is required of students in the School of Law. Credit for any course may be denied for irregular attendance.

An honor system, which has been in operation in the School of Law for more than thirty-five years, is applicable to all students in the school. The system is explained to first-year students at an assembly at the opening of the fall term of each year.

The requirements for the LL.B. and J.D. degrees are as follows:

Bachelor of Laws. Students who have met the requirements for admission to the School of Law, and who have successfully completed courses in law aggregating 123 hours and have otherwise satisfied the requirements of the University and the School of Law, will be granted the degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.). For the LL.B. degree the student must have a minimum grade-point average of 2.00 over the full three years of his work in the School of Law.

Doctor of Jurisprudence. The degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence (J.D.) will be granted to students who, in addition to satisfying the requirements for an LL.B. degree:

- (1) Obtain (at least one year before completing work for the law degree) the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Business Administration, or an equivalent degree from this University or some other institution of recognized collegiate rank.

- (2) Earn a minimum grade-point average of 3.00 in the School of Law.

- (3) Complete 3 term hours in Thesis (L 503), involving the preparation, under the direction of the faculty of the School of Law, of a thesis or series of legal writings of high merit.

- (4) Comply with such other requirements as the law faculty may from time to time impose.

Transferred Credit. A student as a general rule may transfer not to exceed one year of credit earned in another law school of recognized standing, provided that, at the time he was admitted to the law school from which he wishes to transfer credit, he could have met the then-existing admission requirements of the University of Oregon School of Law. In exceptional cases only, a student may be permitted to transfer not to exceed two years of credit. The right to reject any and all such credit is reserved.

Application for admission by a student who has attended another law school will not be considered unless: (1) the school from which transfer is sought is on the list of schools approved by the American Bar Association and is a member of the Association of American Law Schools; (2) the student is eligible for re-admission in good standing to the school previously attended; and (3) the student's cumulative grade-point average for all professional law courses completed is at least 2.00, when computed on the basis of the system of grade-point-average determination used by the University of Oregon. Transferred credit will be accepted, however, only if the student's professional law-school record is of high quality.

In determining whether a student who has transferred credit from another law school has satisfied the 2.00 grade-point-average requirement for the LL.B. degree, only grades earned at the University of Oregon will be considered.

In determining whether a student who has transferred credit from another law school has satisfied the 3.00 grade-point-average requirement for the J.D. degree, the following rules are applied: (1) If the grades earned elsewhere, when expressed in terms of the University grading system, are not equivalent to a grade-point average of 3.00, then both the grades earned elsewhere and the grades earned at the University will be considered in determining whether the student has a minimum average of 3.00. (2) If the grades earned elsewhere, when expressed in terms of the University grading system, are equal to or better than a grade-point average of 3.00, then only the grades earned at the University will be considered in determining whether the student has a minimum average of 3.00.

Facilities. The School of Law is housed in Fenton Hall, a three-story brick structure, with a fireproof annex in which the main book collection of the Law Library is located. Fenton Hall, named in honor of the late William David Fenton, Oregon attorney and benefactor of the school, was formerly the University Library. The building was extensively remodeled in 1938 to provide a permanent home for the School of Law. A new Law Library reading room with modern facilities was provided in 1953.

The holdings of the Law Library total 52,314 volumes, including complete case reports of the National Reporter System, complete state reports from colonial times to the establishment of the Reporter System, a substantial collection of English and Canadian case law, codes and compilations of state and Federal statute law, standard legal digests and encyclopaedias, etc. Its periodical collection includes files of about 335 legal journals. An excellent collection of publications relating to Oregon territorial and state law includes an extensive file of Oregon Supreme Court briefs.

The Law Library reading rooms are adjacent to the stacks, allowing students direct and easy access to the book collections.

Oregon Law Review. The OREGON LAW REVIEW is published quarterly under the editorship of the faculty of the School of Law, with the assistance of a student editorial staff, as a service to the members of the Oregon bar and as a stimulus to legal research and productive scholarship on the part of students. The LAW REVIEW has been published continuously since 1921.

Legal Aid. Members of the third-year law class each year have the opportunity to participate on a voluntary, noncredit basis in the legal-aid program operated by the Lane County Bar Association. For several years the voluntary cooperation of third-year students has been 100 per cent.

Oral Case Analysis Contest. Law students entering the Lane County Bar Association Oral Case Analysis Contest are afforded the unique opportunity of discussing a recent case or legal topic of interest with an audience composed entirely of lawyers. Any registered law student may enter the contest. The Lane County Bar Association offers each year cash prizes of $65, $40, and $25 to the three students judged to have made the best presentations at the weekly luncheon meetings of the bar association.

Order of the Coif. The Order of the Coif, national law-school honor society, maintains a chapter in the University of Oregon School of Law. The Order of the Coif was founded to encourage high scholarship and to advance the ethical standards of the legal profession. Members are selected by the faculty during the spring term each year from the ten per cent of the third-year class who rank highest in scholarship. Character, as well as scholarship, is considered in selecting members.

Fellowships and Scholarships. The following fellowships and scholarships are awarded to students in the School of Law: Henry E. Collier Law Scholarships, Lorianne Conlee Fowler Law Scholarship, Charles G. Howard Law Scholarships, James T. Landye Scholarship, Law School Alumni Scholarships, Paul Patterson Memorial Fellowship. For descriptions, see pages 88-92.

Prizes and Awards. The following prizes and awards are given annually to students in the School of Law: American Jurisprudence Prizes; Bancroft-Whitney Prize; Bender-Moss Prize; Bureau of National Affairs Prize; Nathan Burkan Memorial Prizes; Lane County Bar Association Prizes; Lawyers Cooperative Prize. THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON MEDICAL SCHOOL, located in Portland, was established in 1877. The medical department of Willamette University was merged with the Medical School in 1913. The Medical School buildings occupy a 109-acre campus on Marquam Hill, southwest of the city center.

Curriculum in Medicine. The Medical School offers a standard professional curriculum in medicine leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

A student entering the Medical School without a Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree must complete the work required for one of these degrees at the University of Oregon or at the institution at which he received his premedical preparation, before entering upon the work of the third year in the Medical School.

The University of Oregon and most of the colleges and universities of the Pacific Northwest recognize credit earned by a student during his first two years at the Medical School as credit earned in residence toward the bachelor's degree.

A suggested premedical curriculum for students planning to enter the Medical School is presented on pages 166-168 of this Catalog.

Curriculum in Medical Technology. The University offers a four-year curriculum in medical technology, leading to a bachelor's degree. The student takes three years of work on the Eugene campus and one year at the Medical School. See page 166 of this Catalog.

Medical School Catalog. A separate catalog, containing detailed information concerning the curriculum in medicine may be obtained on request.

Instruction is offered in the following fields: organ, piano, violin, cello, orchestral and band instruments, voice, instrumental and choral conducting, music theory, composition, music literature and history, and music education.

A department of music was established at the University of Oregon in 1886. The School of Music was organized in 1902. The school was admitted to membership in the National Association of Schools of Music in 1930; requirements for admission and for graduation are in accordance with the standards of that association.

Admission. The major curricula in music are organized on an upper-division and graduate basis. Freshman students intending to major in music are enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts and pursue, for two years, a program combining liberal arts courses with introductory work in music theory, music literature, and applied music.

The lower-division courses in music are planned to insure continuity of training and experience throughout the student's undergraduate years. Educational continuity is further insured through the assignment of members of the faculty of the School of Music as advisers to students preparing for a music major.

Before admission as majors, students must satisfy all lower-division requirements of the University and the College of Liberal Arts, and must complete the lower-division courses in music listed under "Curricula in Music" below as requirements for admission to the several major curricula.

Facilities. The School of Music is housed in three adjoining buildings, each planned to serve one of the three principal functions of the school—instruction, practice, and performance. The landscaped grounds surrounding the buildings include an outdoor theater. The instruction wing, completed in the fall of 1949, is a modern brick and concrete structure, acoustically treated with sound-absorbing materials. In addition to school offices, it contains sixteen teaching studios, three large classrooms, and a lecture and rehearsal room seating 100 persons. All teaching studios are equipped with Steinway grand pianos. The practice wing contains forty practice rooms equipped with upright pianos. The auditorium wing seats

600 persons, and has a stage large enough to accommodate a full symphony orchestra; the auditorium is equipped with a four-manual Reuter organ. An annex to the auditorium wing provides band and orchestra rehearsal rooms, a recording room, and twelve practice rooms. The University Theater, on the north campus, provides facilities for the production of opera.

A music library is maintained in the Douglass Room in the University Library. The collections include music scores, the complete works of many of the masters, reference books, and an extensive collection of recordings. The room is equipped with phonographs with earphone attachments for individual listening. The music library is partially supported through a bequest from the late Matthew Hale Douglass, former librarian of the University. The collections also include gifts from the Carnegie Corporation, Phi Beta, and Mu Phi Epsilon.

Musical Organizations. The University Chorus, the University Singers, the University Symphony Orchestra, the University Concert Band, and smaller ensembles offer membership to all students in the University who can qualify. These organizations afford unusually good opportunities, under the direction of members of the faculty of the School of Music, for sight reading and for experience in choral, orchestral, and band routine. The value of thorough and careful study of a large amount of choral and instrumental literature through membership in such organizations cannot be overestimated by the serious student of music.

Concerts and Recitals. Every opportunity possible is provided for students to hear good music and to acquire the experience of public appearance. Faculty and student recitals are presented throughout the year. Concerts are given by the musical organizations listed above.

Music majors are required to attend at least sixty-five per cent of the concerts and recitals sponsored by the School of Music.

Students of the University are admitted free to the concerts of the Eugene and University Civic Music Association. This association brings artists of international fame to the campus each year for concerts.

Music Fees. Special fees are charged for instruction in applied music, in addition to regular registration fees. These fees are due at the time of registration each term.

The applied-music fees for instruction in piano, voice, violin, cello, and organ are: one lesson a week, $30.00 per term; two lessons a week, $50.00 per term.

The applied-music fees for instruction in wind and percussion instruments are: one lesson a week, $20.00 per term; two lessons a week, $40.00 per term.

Practice rooms may be reserved for the following fees: $4.00 per term for one hour a day; $7.00 per term for two hours; $10.00 per term for three hours; $12.00 per term for four hours. The organ practice fee is $20.00 per term for one hour a day.

Curricula in Music

THE SCHOOL OF MUSIC offers undergraduate curricula leading to the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, and Bachelor of Music degrees, and graduate work leading to Master of Arts, Master of Science, and Master of Music degrees. The instructional program is planned to develop over-all musicianship.

The work outlined in the curricula listed below is designed to provide a substantial foundation upon which to build a professional career in music.

Students are advised not to concern themselves in advance with the details of their study programs. The student's faculty adviser, assigned at the beginning of his freshman year, will explain fully general University requirements, school requirements, and desirable electives. Ample time is available for a thorough consideration of each student's qualifications and needs.

The courses listed in the curricula outlined below are minimum requirements. Additional courses may be required to satisfy individual needs.

For regular certification in Oregon, the student must complete five years of collegiate preparation, including 45 term hours of upper-division and graduate work after receiving the bachelor's degree.

Curriculum in Applied Music. This curriculum is designed for students whose talents justify intensive professional training in music, with emphasis on performance and preparation for studio teaching. One of the applied-music subjects (organ, piano, violin, cello, legitimate orchestral or band instrument, or voice) must be carried through the student's four undergraduate years. Students majoring in voice must complete at least two years of one foreign language (French, German, or Italian). The following upper-division courses are required:

Before graduation, all candidates for the B.Mus. degree must be able to play at sight piano accompaniments of moderate difficulty.

Curriculum in Music Theory and Composition. This curriculum, leading to the B.Mus. degree, is planned for students whose major interest is in creative work, and whose talent justifies intensive training in music theory and composition. The following upper-division courses are required:

| | Term | Hours |

Before graduation they must also be able to play at sight piano accompaniments of moderate difficulty.

Graduate Work. The School of Music offers graduate work leading to master's degrees in the following fields: music theory and composition, applied music (instrumental and vocal), and music education. The following degrees are granted:

Master of Arts, Master of Science—historical and theoretical studies and music education.

Master of Music—theory and composition, applied music.

An interdisciplinary program leading to the M.A. or M.S. degree may be arranged by students preparing for public school teaching who wish to combine work in music education with work in another teaching field. Candidates for the degree of Doctor of Education in the School of Education may choose music education as a field of major interest.

Application for admission to graduate study in the School of Music must be made both to the University Director of Admissions and to the dean of the School of Music. Transcripts of the student's previous college work must be submitted, with the application, both to the Director of Admissions and to the dean.

During fall-term registration week, all entering graduate students in music, including graduates of the University of Oregon, are required to take a series of examinations to test the adequacy of their preparation for graduate study. Deficiencies shown by the examinations must be removed, through undergraduate courses, before the student is admitted to full graduate standing and candidacy for a graduate degree.

School of Nursing

JEAN E. BOYLE, M.N., Director of the School of Nursing.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON has offered professional instruction in nursing in Portland since 1919; a degree curriculum was established in 1926. Until 1932 the program in nursing was administered through the Portland Division of the School of Sociology and the Portland School of Social Work. When the social-work program was discontinued in 1932, instruction in nursing was transferred to the University of Oregon Medical School, where it was offered through the Department of Nursing Education. A graduate program, leading to the Master of Science degree, was established in 1955. In the fall of 1960, the department was reorganized as the University of Oregon School of Nursing.

The School of Nursing offers three professional programs: (1) a four-year basic program, leading to the B.S. degree, which prepares graduates for beginning positions in all fields of professional nursing, including public health nursing; (2) a program for registered nurses who are graduates of diploma nursing schools, leading to the B.S. degree; and (3) a graduate program, leading to the M.S. degree, to prepare qualified professional nurses for teaching positions in nursing.

The first year of the basic degree program is offered on the Eugene campus of the University of Oregon (see pages 168-169) and by other accredited colleges and universities. The following three years of the basic program and all other nursing programs of the School of Nursing are offered on the campus of the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland. The School of Nursing utilizes the teaching resources of the hospitals and clinics of the Medical School and of the General Extension Division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

The programs of the School of Nursing are accredited by the National Accreditation Service and the Oregon State Board of Nursing; the school is a member of the Department of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League for Nursing.

Detailed information concerning the School of Nursing is published in a separate catalog, copies of which will be furnished on request.

Department of Military and Air Science

HORACE D. NEELY, B.S., Colonel, U.S. Air Force; Head of Department; In Charge of Air Force R.O.T.C. Program.

LOUIS D. FARNSWORTH, JR., B.S., Colonel, U.S. Army; In Charge of Army R.O.T.C. Program.

THE DEPARTMENT OF MILITARY AND AIR SCIENCE is organized as a regular instructional division of the University. The department consists of a U.S. Army Instructor Group, Senior Division Reserve Officers' Training Corps, offering instruction in military science and tactics, and a unit of the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, offering instruction in air science.

The mission of the Department of Military and Air Science is to select and prepare students, through a program of instruction at the University of Oregon, to serve as commissioned officers in the United States Army or the United States Air Force, and to promote a better understanding of problems and policies of national security. The program includes a two-year Basic Course and a two-year Advanced Course.

Basic Course. The two-year Basic Course is a lower-division (freshman and sophomore) requirement for all men students who are under 23 years of age on first enrollment in the University and who are citizens of the United States, unless excused. Student members of reserve or National Guard units are not exempt from the Basic Course requirement; students who have completed six months of active military service in the armed forces of the United States are exempt, but this exemption does not waive Basic Course requirements of the Army and Air Force for entry into the Advanced Course; veterans are urged to check with the Army or Air Force divisions of the department to determine their individual status in relation to the Advanced Course. As further grounds for exemption, consideration is given to physical incapacity and to conscientious objection to military service. The requirement may be waived or reduced for students who enter the University with advanced standing or prior R.O.T.C. training.

Advanced Course. The third and fourth years of military instruction, plus a summer training period, constitute the Advanced Course. Completion of the Advanced Course and academic requirements for graduation qualifies the student for appointment as a commissioned reserve officer.

The summer training period is conducted at one of the regular installations of the Army or Air Force; the training provides application of theory and familiarization with weapons, operations, organizational methods, and installational activities. This training is normally taken in the summer between the junior and senior years.

Students enrolled in the Advanced Course are paid commutation in lieu of subsistence for a total period not to exceed 595 days (the current rate is 90 cents a day). All payments are in addition to benefits received by veterans under the G.I. Bill of Rights. Advanced Course students are issued all required textbooks and uniforms. Students attending summer camp are rationed and quartered, are paid at the rate for enlisted men and airmen of the first grade, and receive a travel allowance of 5 cents a mile to and from camp.

Admission to Advanced Course. Selections for enrollment in the Advanced Course are made from among applicants who meet certain minimum requirements. For eligibility, the student must:

- (1) Be accepted by the University of Oregon as a regularly enrolled student.
- (2) Be selected for advanced training by R.O.T.C. and University officials with the concurrence of the President of the University of Oregon.
- (3) Be able to complete all requirements for appointment as a second lieutenant before reaching 28 years of age. (If scheduled for Air Force flight training, the student must be able to complete all requirements for appointment as a reserve officer before reaching the age of 26 years, 6 months.)
- (4) Have successfully completed such survey or general screening tests as may be prescribed.
- (5) Have completed, or received a waiver of, Basic Course requirements.
- (6) Be a citizen of the United States.
- (7) Be physically qualified for appointment as a commissioned officer.
- (8) Execute a written agreement with the United States government to complete the Advanced Course, including attendance at summer camp, and to satisfy the service obligation after graduation.

Relation of R.O.T.C. to Selective Service. Enrollment in the R.O.T.C. does not waive the requirements for registration under the Universal Military Training and Service Act of 1951; all students who are 18 years of age must register with their local draft boards. Students who can qualify as prospective candidates for the Advanced Course may be granted R.O.T.C. deferment after completion of one term of the Basic Course. R.O.T.C. deferment continues through the completion of the Advanced Course and of academic requirements for a bachelor's degree, provided the student remains in good standing. Students receiving R.O.T.C. deferment are required to satisfy their service obligation as commissioned officers after graduation and appointment.

THE MILITARY SCIENCE PROGRAM has as its principal objective the production of junior officers who, by their education, training, and inherent qualities, are capable of filling positions of leadership in the active and reserve components of the United States Army. For students who take only the Basic Course, a second objective is to provide a broad concept of the role and problems of the United States Army and the part it plays in national defense.

Students who complete the Advanced Course, receive a baccalaureate degree from the University, and qualify for designation as distinguished military graduates may apply for appointment as commissioned officers in the regular Army.

Administrative Specialists: TECHNICAL SERGEANT V. B. THORNTON, STAFF SERGEANT R. I. FOGG, STAFF SERGEANT L. L. TURNER, STAFF SERGEANT C. B. WOOD, AIRMAN FIRST CLASS G. F. McCAULEY.

THE AIR SCIENCE CURRICULUM has been designed to prepare students to assume the duties and responsibilities of junior officers in the Air Force. It consists of two major activities: (1) leadership laboratory; (2) classroom instruction.

The leadership laboratory provides the student with guided learning experiences in the application of leadership principles. All Air Science students are required to take one hour of leadership laboratory each week.

Air science students in the Basic Course must also satisfy the following classroom requirements:

(1) During the fall and winter terms of the first year and during the spring term of the second year—any regular University course, carrying 2 or more term hours of credit, which satisfies the University group requirement for the bachelor's degree.

(2) During the spring term of the first year and the fall and winter terms of the second year—classroom instruction by members of the air science faculty.

Air science students in the Advanced Course must also satisfy the following classroom requirements:

(1) Throughout the two years of the Advanced Course, classroom instruction by the air science faculty.

(2) In addition, two courses in the Department of Speech during the third year, and two courses in the Departments of Political Science and Geography during the fourth year.

Between the junior and senior years, students attend a four-week summer camp.

During the senior year, students programmed for Air Force pilot training take flight training at a local F.A.A.-approved civilian flying school. The purpose is to provide flight instruction of sufficient scope to qualify the student in the basic principles of flying in aircraft of 65-200 horsepower. Flight training includes solo flying by the students.

The student qualifies for appointment as a commissioned reserve officer upon completion of the Advanced Course and the award of the baccalaureate degree. Students designated as distinguished military graduates may apply for appointment in the regular Air Force.

Graduate School

HARRY ALPERT, Ph.D., Dean of the Graduate School.

Graduate Council

HARRY ALPERT (chairman), C. B. BEALL, C. L. CONSTANCE, WALTER GORDON, C. W. HINTZ, P. B. JACOBSON, C. E. JOHNSON, R. W. LEEPER, R. M. NOYES, J. W. SHERBURNE, P. O. SIGERSETH, L. R. SORENSON, KESTER SVENDSEN, E. S. WENGERT, W. L. YOUNGQUIST.

THE PRIMARY AIM in the discipline of undergraduate education is to prepare the student for cultured living and intelligent citizenship, and to acquaint him with techniques leading to a professional career. In graduate study the dominant aim is the development of the scholar, capable of original thinking and of creative achievement in the advancement and extension of knowledge. Hence, a graduate degree indicates more than the mere completion of a prescribed amount of advanced study; it indicates that the student has shown both promise and performance in some field of independent scholarship.

At the University of Oregon, all study beyond the bachelor's degree, except strictly professional work in law, medicine, and dentistry, is administered through the Graduate School. The formulation of the graduate programs of individual students and the working out and direction of these programs are the responsibilities of the instructional department, subject, however, to the general rules and requirements of the Graduate School.

Research. Through its Office of Scientific and Scholarly Research, and with advice and assistance from the faculty Research Committee, the Graduate School administers the University's program for the encouragement and support of research by members of its faculty. See pages 322-325.

General Regulations

THE UNIVERSITY recognizes two classes of graduate students: (1) students enrolled in the Graduate School for work toward a graduate degree, and (2) students enrolled for postbaccalaureate studies without intent to earn a graduate degree. Students of the first class follow programs organized in conformity with the rules stated below. Students of the second class enroll for the courses they desire, with the understanding that the University is under no implied obligation to accept credit earned toward a graduate degree. Whether a student is adequately prepared to enroll for any graduate course is determined by the instructor in charge and the head of the department concerned.

Admission. The requirements for admission to the Graduate School for postbaccalaureate studies or for work toward a graduate degree are:

Admission for Postbaccalaureate Studies. Graduation from an accredited college or university. Such admission carries no commitment that any credit earned under postbaccalaureate status may later be applied toward a graduate degree.

An applicant for admission for postbaccalaureate studies must submit: (1) two copies of an application on an official University form—one copy to be sent to the Office of Admissions and the second copy to the school or department in which the applicant plans to study; and (2) one copy of an official transcript of his college record, to be sent to the Office of Admissions.

Admission for Work toward a Graduate Degree. Graduation from an accredited college or university with a record showing ability to maintain satisfactory scholastic progress in graduate studies. A cumulative undergraduate grade-point average of 2.50 is the minimum normally acceptable. A student with a lower undergraduate GPA or with a record of graduate work below University standards at another institution may be admitted only if supplementary information, such as a graduate aptitude score, provides evidence of ability; all applications for exceptions to the general rule are reviewed by the Graduate Admissions Committee.

In certain fields, there are additional requirements for admission to study toward a graduate degree. The applicant should check the Catalog statement on graduate work of the department or school in which he plans to study.

* See also "Interdisciplinary Master's Programs," pages 315-316.

An applicant for admission for work toward a graduate degree must submit: (1) two copies of an application on an official University form, and (2) two copies of an official transcript of his college record. One copy of these credentials should be sent to the Office of Admissions and the second copy to the school or department in which the applicant plans to study.

The Graduate Admissions Committee reviews requests for transfer from postbaccalaureate status to regular graduate standing with the privilege of working toward a graduate degree. Such requests are judged on the basis of the student's undergraduate record, grades in graduate courses, and scores on the Miller's Analogy Test, the Graduate Record Examination, or a similar objective test.

Students with degrees from nonaccredited institutions may be admitted to the University as special students, and may be granted graduate standing after the successful completion of one term of full-time graduate work.

Provisional graduate standing is occasionally granted, as a temporary classification, pending the submission of complete official records, if the applicant files evidence that he has a bachelor's degree and will be able to qualify for regular graduate standing.

Preparation Required for Graduate Study. Preparation for a graduate major must be an undergraduate major in the same subject or a fair equivalent. Preparation for a graduate minor must be at least a one-year sequence of upper-division work in addition to foundational courses in the subject. Graduate credit may not be earned in courses for which the student does not show proper preparation by previous record or special examination.

Reservation of Graduate Credit. A senior student in the University who has satisfied all requirements for a bachelor's degree except 6 term hours of credit or less may, on petition to the Graduate School, be allowed to reserve credit in graduate courses for which he is registered for later application as part of his graduate program. The petition must be filed not later than two weeks after the beginning of the term in which the courses are taken.

Study Program and Load. Graduate students beginning studies toward a degree are expected to work out, in tentative form at least, a complete program leading toward the degree desired. This program should allow sufficient time for completion of the thesis. Work on the thesis should be begun as early as possible.

The maximum study load in the regular session is 16 term hours for a student devoting all of his time to graduate study, and 12 term hours for a graduate assistant or fellow. The maximum study load in the summer session is 13 term hours for a student devoting full time to graduate study.

Grade Requirement. A graduate student is required to earn at least a B grade average to qualify for a graduate degree; no graduate credit is granted for courses in which the student earns a grade of D. A grade-point average of less than 3.00 at any time during the student's graduate studies is considered unsatisfactory, and may result in disqualification by the dean of the Graduate School after consultation with the student's major department or school; disqualification means reduction to postbaccalaureate status. If the GPA of a graduate student working toward a graduate degree or pursuing postbaccalaureate studies falls below 2.00, his record is subject to review by the Scholastic Deficiencies Committee of the University faculty.

Graduate Courses. All courses numbered in the 500s carry graduate credit, as do those in the 400s which have been approved by the Graduate Council. Approved courses in the 400s are designated in this Catalog by (G) or (g) following the course title. Courses designated (G) may form a part of either a major or a minor; courses designated (g) may be taken toward a minor only. Graduate students taking courses in the 400s are expected to do work of a higher order and broader scope than the work of undergraduate students in the same courses. Undergraduate enrollment in the 400 courses designated (G) is generally restricted to seniors; undergraduate enrollment in 400 courses designated (g) is generally restricted to juniors and seniors.

Students completing a satisfactory graduate thesis receive credit for this work, on a no-grade basis, through enrollment in Thesis (503).

Fees and Deposits. The regular fees and tuition for graduate students total $90.00 per term. Students holding graduate or research assistantships or fellowships pay a special reduced fee of $34.00 per term. Students enrolled in the Graduate School do not pay the nonresident fee. Graduate students registered for 6 term hours of work or less pay the regular part-time fee. Payment of graduate fees entitles the student to all services maintained by the University for the benefit of students.

Graduate students must make a $10.00 deposit once each year at the time of first registration; the deposit is required as a protection to the University against the loss or damage of institutional property.

A special fee of $20.00 is paid by all students who are granted the Ph.D., D.B.A., or D.Ed. degree to cover the cost of the reproduction of their theses on microfilm or microcards.

Master of Arts and Master of Science

Credit Requirements. For the M.A. or M.S. degree, the student must complete an integrated program of study totaling not less than 45 term hours in courses approved for graduate credit. Integration may be achieved either through a departmental major or through a program of interdisciplinary studies (see pages 315-316).

For the master's degree with a departmental major, a minimum of two-thirds of the work (30 term hours) must be in the major. One-third (15 term hours) may be in: (1) a related minor; (2) appropriate service courses; (3) suitable complimentary courses in the major; or (4) some combination of (2) and (3). The student's program must include at least 30 term hours of work in subjects having no direct connection with his thesis. A strong minor is recommended, especially for candidates for the M.S. degree.

Residence Requirement. The residence requirement for the M.A. and M.S. degrees (and all other master's degrees except the M.B.A. and M.Ed.) is 30 term hours of work on the Eugene campus or at the Medical School, Dental School, or School of Nursing in Portland.*

Transferred Credit. Credit earned at other accredited institutions, or in the General Extension Division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education, may be counted toward the master's degree under the following conditions: (1) the total of transferred credit may not exceed 15 term hours; (2) the courses must be relevant to the degree program as a whole; (3) the transfer must be approved by the student's major department and the Graduate School; (4) the grades earned must be A or B. Graduate credit is not allowed for correspondence courses. Credit granted for work done at another institution is tentative until validated by work in residence (see also "Time Limit" below).

Language Requirements. For the M.A. degree, the student must show, by examination or by adequate undergraduate courses (completion of the second-year college course), a reading knowledge of one foreign language, preferably French or German. By petition to the dean of the Graduate School, a student may be permitted to substitute another language, if it is equally relevant to his program of graduate studies. For the M.S. degree there is no foreign-language requirement, unless a language is required by the school or department.

* Candidates for the M.S. degree with a major in health, physical education, and recreation may apply, toward the satisfaction of the residence requirement, a maximum of 18 term hours earned in courses in the Portland summer session taught by members of the University faculty.

Course Requirements. For the M.A. or M.S. degree with a departmental major, at least one year sequence in the 500-599 series (normally of seminar or research nature and carrying approximately 3 hours of credit per term) is required.

Time Limit. All work toward the master's degree (including work for which credit is transferred from another institution, thesis, and the final examination) must be completed within a period of seven years.

Qualifying Examination. To become a candidate for a master's degree, the student must pass a qualifying examination designed to test his basic training and his ability to pursue studies at the graduate level in his chosen field. This examination may be oral or written or both, and may cover any work done at another institution for which transfer of credit is requested. It is expected that the examination be taken before the student has completed 15 term hours of graduate work. If satisfactory knowledge and ability are demonstrated, the student is formally advanced to candidacy for the degree sought, subject to the approval of the dean of the Graduate School.

A graduate of the University who has taken the bachelor's degree with honors in the field of his graduate major is ordinarily exempt from the qualifying examination.

Thesis. In some fields, all candidates for the M.A. or M.S. degree are required to present a thesis; in others the thesis is optional.

If a thesis is presented, the student must file in the Graduate Office, not less than two weeks before the date of his final oral examination, six copies of a thesis abstract not exceeding 500 words in length. Three copies of the complete thesis must be distributed by the candidate to the members of his examining committee. At the conclusion of the final examination, these copies are filed unbound in the Graduate Office, and are bound at the expense of the University. Two copies are deposited in the Library, and one becomes the property of the major department. One of the Library copies is available for general circulation.

Full information concerning the prescribed style for theses may be obtained in the Graduate Office. Copies of theses will not be accepted by the Graduates School unless they meet satisfactory standards of form and style.

Students are not allowed to register for the final hours of Thesis unless it is very probable that the thesis will be completed within the term.

Final Examination. A final examination is required of every candidate for a master's degree. For students presenting a thesis, the examination is oral and of not less than two hours' duration. For students not presenting a thesis, an oral examination of not less one hour and a written examination are required.

The examining committee consists of at least three members, nominated by the student's adviser, subject to the approval of the dean of the Graduate School, who is ex officio a member of all examining committees.

A student passing a final examination with exceptional merit may, by vote of the examining committee, be awarded a master's degree with honors.

Interdisciplinary Master's Programs

In addition to specialized graduate work in the traditional fields of learning, the University provides opportunities for integrated interdisciplinary studies leading to the M.A. or M.S. degree—including both programs planned in the light of the individual student's interests and established programs of interdisciplinary studies organized and administered through interdepartmental faculty committees.

Graduate students pursuing a program of interdisciplinary studies may supplement courses offered by the several departments and schools with individualized studies, for which they may enroll under the following course numbers:

ISt 501. Research. Hours to be arranged.

ISt 503. Thesis. Hours to be arranged.

Established interdisciplinary programs have been approved by the Graduate Council in the following fields: international studies, overseas administration, East Asian studies, juvenile correction, and teaching.

The requirements for an M.A. or M.S. degree in interdisciplinary studies are the same as those for the departmental master's degree, except those requirements relating to major or minor fields.

The program is supervised by the Committee on Interdisciplinary Studies, of which Dr. Lloyd R. Sorenson, associate professor of history, is chairman.

Master's Program for Teachers. A special program of graduate study for students working toward the satisfaction of the Oregon state requirement of a fifth year of college work for final high-school teacher certification is offered as one of the University's programs of interdisciplinary studies. Enrollment is open to any person eligible for admission to the Graduate School; the student must, however, have a reasonable background of undergraduate study in the fields in which he proposes to work, and must complete prerequisites for specific courses. The requirements for a master's degree in the program for teachers are as follows:

(1) A total of between 45 and 51 term hours in graduate courses, distributed in accordance with (a) and (b) below:

(a) A total of 36 term hours in subject fields (work in liberal arts departments or professional schools other than education), distributed in accordance with one of the following options:

Option 1. Between 12 and 21 term hours in each of two subject fields.

Option 2. A minimum of 36 term hours in one of the following fields: art, biology, business administration, English, French, history, health and physical education, mathematics, music, Spanish.

Option 3. A minimum of 36 term hours in the composite field of social studies or the composite field of science. A program in social studies may include work in the fields of anthropology, economics, geography, history, political science, psychology, and sociology. A program in science may include work in the fields of biology, chemistry, geology, mathematics, and physics.

In each of the options listed above, at least 6 term hours of work must be taken in 500 courses. The student's program must be planned to provide well-rounded knowledge, and must not be made up of scattered, unrelated courses. For Options 1 or 2, 18 term hours in each of subject fields involved must be presented as an undergraduate prerequisite. For Option 3, the prerequisite is 36 term hours in the composite field involved.

(b) Between 9 and 15 term hours in graduate courses in the field of education, the number of hours to be determined on the basis of the amount of work in education completed by the student as an undergraduate.

(2) Satisfaction of the regular requirements of the Graduate School, except that no thesis is required. The combined total of work transferred from other accredited institutions and work done in the General Extension Division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education cannot exceed 15 term hours.

Master of Business Administration

The Master of Business Administration is a professional degree, granted on the completion of graduate programs designed for students interested in careers in managerial or other professional aspects of business. A qualifying examination is required before the student has earned more than 15 term hours of credit. The student's course work must include work in three areas of concentration; comprehensive written examinations covering these fields are required on the completion of the program. The student is also expected to enroll for graduate core studies designed to insure a broad background in managerial techniques and problems.

At the discretion of his advisory committee, the student either submits a thesis or prepares three business reports as a part of his regular class work; a final oral examination, based on the thesis or research reports, is required.

Candidates for the M.B.A. degree may earn a maximum of 36 term hours of graduate credit in courses in the Portland Center of the Oregon State System of Higher Education, provided the courses are taught by instructors approved for graduate instruction by the dean of the School of Business Administration. Candidates who satisfy the residence requirement with work in the Portland Center are required to write a thesis.

Master of Education

The Master of Education is a professional degree in the field of education. Programs of study leading to this degree are designed to provide graduate training for teachers in either the elementary or the secondary schools. At the discretion of the faculty of the School of Education, the candidate may be required to submit a report of a field study. A written comprehensive final examination in the student's field of specialization is required.

The residence requirement for the M.Ed. degree is 24 term hours of graduate work on the University campus or in the Portland summer session.

Master of Fine Arts

Work leading to the Master of Fine Arts degree is offered in five fields: drawing and painting, sculpture, ceramics, weaving, and creative writing.

The requirements for the M.F.A. degree in the visual arts include the completion of an extended creative project of professional character, instead of a thesis. After a qualifying examination, a minimum of three terms are devoted to the terminal creative project and related course work. Since, however, the degree is awarded primarily for creative achievement, there is considerable individual variation in the time required.

Requirements for the M.F.A. degree in creative writing include: (1) 22 term hours of graduate work in English and American literature; (2) 32 hours of work in the history and criticism of art, music, and drama and in aesthetics; (3) a reading knowledge, at the literary level, of one foreign language; (4) the production of a sustained piece of imaginative writing of high literary merit as a "thesis"; and (5) examination on the theory and history of the genre of the candidate's thesis.

Master of Architecture

The requirements for the degree of Master of Architecture are listed on pages 200-201.

Master of Landscape Architecture

The requirements for the degree of Master of Landscape Architecture are listed on pages 200-201.

Master of Music

Work leading to the degree of Master of Music is offered in the following fields: composition, theory, instrumental music, vocal music, and music education. To be admitted to candidacy for the M.Mus. degree in the field of composition, the student must demonstrate the requisite skills and abilities for creative work, and must submit two original compositions. To be admitted to candidacy in the field of instrumental or vocal music, the student must demonstrate the requisite skills and abilities for professional performance, and must submit a complete repertory. The student of vocal music must demonstrate a reading knowledge of at least two foreign languages and satisfactory diction in a third. To be admitted to candidacy in the field of theory, the student must demonstrate adequate preparation in theory, counterpoint, advanced harmony, and form and analysis. Students in the field of instrumental music education must demonstrate a working knowledge of all band and orchestra instruments; vocal music-education students must demonstrate functional facility in voice and piano. The "thesis" for the M.Mus. degree may be a research paper, an original composition in the large form, or a public instrumental or vocal performance.

Doctor of Philosophy

General Requirements. The degree of Doctor of Philosophy is granted primarily for attainments and proven ability. Requirements of time and credit are secondary; but no candidate will be recommended for the degree until he has satisfied the minimum requirements of residence and study.

A student whose academic work, both undergraduate and graduate, has been primarily at the University of Oregon will ordinarily be required to take graduate work at another institution before being accepted as a candidate for the Ph.D. degree. Exceptions to this rule may be made by the dean of the Graduate School upon recommendation of the major school or department.

Qualifying Examination. Early in his doctoral program, the student takes a qualifying examination as prescribed by the major school or department. This examination may cover any work done at another institution for which transferred credit is requested. An exceptionally good performance on the final examinations for the master's degree may be accepted as satisfying the qualifying-examination requirement.

Doctoral Program. The student plans his doctoral program with the assistance of his major adviser. As soon as he has passed his qualifying examination, his program is presented for approval to an advisory committee, appointed by the dean of the Graduate School. The committee determines the amount of work the student is expected to do outside his major school or department, in light of his background and objectives.

Residence. For the Ph.D. degree, at least three years of full-time work beyond the bachelor's degree are required, of which at least one year (usually the last) must be spent in residence on the Eugene campus of the University of Oregon or at the University of Oregon Medical School in Portland.

Comprehensive Examinations. The student working toward the Ph.D. degree must pass a group of comprehensive preliminary examinations (oral or written or both) not less than one academic year before he expects to complete work for the degree. These examinations are expected to cover all areas of concentration and may cover any supporting area if this seems desirable to the advisory committee. Advancement to candidacy is contingent on passing these examinations. The student is not eligible to take the examinations until he has satisfied the language requirement and has taken substantially all the course work for the degree.

Language Requirements. For the Ph.D. degree, a student must demonstrate by formal examinations a reading knowledge of two languages other than his native language. The candidate's advisory committee, with the approval of the graduate dean, will certify the two languages most appropriate to his program. Examinations in these two languages must be passed before the comprehensive examination may be taken.

Thesis. Every candidate for the Ph.D. degree must submit a thesis embodying the results of research and showing evidence of originality and ability in independent investigation. The thesis must be a real contribution to knowledge, based on the candidate's own investigations. It must show a mastery of the literature of the subject, and be written in creditable literary form. It is expected that the preparation of an acceptable thesis will require at least the greater part of an academic year.

Three copies of the thesis, approved by the adviser, must be distributed by the student, unbound, to the members of his examining committee not less than four weeks before the time set for his final examination; at the conclusion of the examination, these copies with required revisions, if any, are deposited in the Graduate Office. Copies of the thesis will not be accepted by the Graduate Office unless they meet satisfactory standards of form and style. Seven copies of an abstract of the approved thesis (not longer than 600 words) must be filed in the Graduate Office four weeks before the examination.

Final Examination. The final examination for the Ph.D. degree may be written in part, but must include an oral examination, usually of three hours' duration. The oral examination is open to all members of the faculty and to advanced graduate students. The date of the oral examination is publicly announced at least one week before it is held. The examining committee consists of the candidate's advisory committee and other members, including at least one not directly connected with the major department. The committee is nominated by the major department or school, subject to the approval of the dean of the Graduate School.

In the oral examination the candidate is expected to defend his thesis and to show a satisfactory knowledge of his major field. The written examination, if given, is expected to cover aspects of the major field with which the thesis is not directly concerned.

Doctor of Business Administration

The requirements for the degree of Doctor of Business Administration are listed on page 219.

Doctor of Education

General Requirements. The degree of Doctor of Education is granted in recognition of mastery of theory, practice, and research in professional education or in health and physical education. There is no specific foreign language requirement for the D.Ed degree; however, a student whose fields of training or whose research project calls for a reading knowledge of one or more foreign languages may be required to demonstrate the needed linguistic ability. With the exceptions indicated in this section, the general requirements with respect to the qualifying examination, residence, comprehensive examinations, thesis, and final examinations for the D.Ed. degree are the same as those listed above for the Ph.D. degree.

Thesis. The doctoral dissertation may be either a report of research which makes an original contribution to knowledge or a study in which the student deals with knowledge already available and produces a constructive result of importance and value for educational practice. The dissertation proposal should be developed early in the doctoral program.

Advancement to Candidacy. Advancement to candidacy for the D.Ed. degree is based on proficiency shown in comprehensive examinations and the recommendation of a doctoral advisory committee. The comprehensive examinations may be taken only after the student has (1) been admitted to the degree program, (2) completed approximately two-thirds of the total course work in his program, (3) obtained approval of his dissertation proposal by his advisory committee, and (4) received the consent of his adviser to take the examinations.

Assistantships, Scholarships, Fellowships

TEACHING AND RESEARCH assistantships, scholarships, and fellowships are awarded annually to graduates of accredited universities and colleges who have superior records in their undergraduate work. All persons holding these positions are expected to register in the Graduate School, and to become candidates for advanced degrees. Applications should be made before March 1. Application blanks are furnished on request by the Graduate School.

The University will welcome the submission of Graduate Record Examination scores by students applying for assistantships, scholarships, or fellowships. For information about this examination, write to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., or 4640 Hollywood Blvd., Los Angeles 27, California.

Graduate Assistantships. Graduate assistants render services amounting to not more than 15 hours a week—reading papers, handling laboratory and quiz sections, etc. They are permitted to enroll for a maximum of 12 term hours of course work. Stipends range from $1,100 to $1,800 a year. Graduate assistants pay a special reduced fee of $34 per term.

Research Assistantships. Research assistants aid faculty members in carrying on research projects. Compensation, fees, and enrollment limitations are the same as for graduate assistants.

Teaching and Research Fellowships. Fellows are normally candidates for the doctorate, with at least one year of superior work toward that degree completed. Teaching fellows give instructional assistance in their department. The duties of research fellows are similar to the duties of research assistants; fellows are, however, expected to assume greater responsibility in connection with the research projects to which they are assigned. Fellows are allowed to enroll for a maximum of 12 term hours of course work. Stipends range from $1,400 to $2,000 a year. Fellows pay a special reduced fee of $34 per term.

State Scholarships. A limited number of scholarships covering tuition and laboratory and course fees are available to graduate students. All applicants, to be eligible, must be in need of financial assistance, and must show evidence of superior scholarship. Application should be made to the chairman of the Committee on Scholarships and Financial Aid, on official blanks furnished by his office, and must be filed before March 1.

Other Scholarships and Fellowships. Other scholarships and fellowships available to University graduate students are listed on pages 87-95. See especially: Robert A. Booth Fellowship in Public Service, Thomas Condon Fellowship in Paleontology, Maud Densmore Music Fellowship, Haskins and Sells Teaching Fellowships in Accounting, Ion Lewis Scholarship in Architecture, Fred Meyer Foundation Research Fellowship, Arthur P. Pratt Scholarship, Price Waterhouse Scholarship, F. G. G. Schmidt Fellowship in German, Weyerhaeuser Fellowship, Zimmerman Scholarship.

Special Fellowship Programs. Graduate students at the University of Oregon are eligible for fellowship awards granted by the National Science Foundation, the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, and other national agencies, and for fellowships awarded under the National Defense Education Act. Information concerning these programs may be obtained in the Graduate Office.

Loans. Graduate students are eligible for loans from University loan funds (see pages 85-86) and from funds available under the National Defense Education Act of 1958.

Graduate Work in Portland

GRADUATE WORK leading to degrees from the University is offered in Portland at the University of Oregon Medical School, the University of Oregon Dental School, and the University of Oregon School of Nursing, and through the General Extension Division of the Oregon State System of Higher Education.

Medical School. The Medical School offers graduate instruction leading to the M.A., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees in the medical sciences (anatomy, bacteriology, biochemistry, pathology, pharmacology, and physiology). In addition to opportunities for graduate study and research in the preclinical departments, arrangements may be made for special study of clinical problems by experimental methods, through the cooperation of the preclinical and clinical departments; in some cases, students undertaking such studies may qualify for graduate degrees. Graduate degrees earned at the Medical School are conferred by the University, on the recommendation of the faculty of the Medical School.

Dental School. The Dental School offers graduate work leading to the M.S. degree for students planning careers in dental education and research. Graduate major programs are offered in the fields of anatomy, bacteriology, biochemistry, oral pathology, pedodontics, pharmacology, and physiology. Graduate degrees earned at the Dental School are conferred by the University, on the recommendation of the faculty of the Dental School.

School of Nursing. The School of Nursing offers graduate work leading to the M.S. degree to prepare qualified professional nurses for teaching positions in nursing. Graduate degrees earned in the School of Nursing are conferred by the University, on the recommendation of the faculty of the School of Nursing.

Portland Center. Part of the requirements for a master's degree from the University may be completed in the Portland Center of the General Extension Division of the State System of Higher Education, in fields where adequate course offerings are available for an integrated program.

Research

THE UNIVERSITY'S PROGRAM for the encouragement and support of research by members of its faculty is administered through the Office of Scientific and Scholarly Research of the Graduate School, with advice and assistance from the faculty Research Committee. The Office of Scientific and Scholarly Research also serves as a coordinating agency in connection with University relations with foundations and government bodies which provide grants for research projects and supervises the programs of the University research divisions listed below. Research programs are also conducted through the Bureau of Municipal Research and Service (page 197), the Bureau of Business Research (page 219), and the Bureau of Educational Research (page 242).

Institute of Molecular Biology

AARON NOVICK, Ph.D., Director of the Institute of Molecular Biology; Professor of Biology.

FRANKLIN W. STAHL, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Biology.

GEORGE STREISINGER, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Biology.

THE INSTITUTE OF MOLECULAR BIOLOGY conducts research and provides research instruction in areas of biology where phenomena can be understood in terms of the structure of molecules, such as a nucleic acids and proteins. Since research in molecular biology may involve several scientific disciplines, members of the staff of the Institute hold joint appointments in chemistry, biology, or physics.

Current research projects in the Institute are concerned with such topics as genetic recombination and mutation in bacteria and bacterial viruses, the genetic control of protein synthesis, the regulation of the rate of protein formation, and some other aspects of the mechanisms of protein synthesis.

The Institute sponsors seminars, special lectures, visiting professorships, and instruction in research, but does not conduct a formal teaching program. Members of the Institute staff offer courses in their fields of competence through the departments with which they are affiliated.

Research instruction is offered at both the graduate and postdoctoral levels. With the approval of the department concerned, graduate students in biology, chemistry, or physics may do research in the Institute as a part of their programs leading to graduate degrees. Research advisers may be either members of the Institute staff or members of the departmental faculties interested in molecular biology. The Institute provides facilities and a limited number of fellowships for student research.

Institute of Theoretical Science

TERRELL L. HILL, Ph.D., Research Associate; Professor of Chemistry.

JOHN L. POWELL, Ph.D., Research Associate; Professor of Physics.

THE INSTITUTE OF THEORETICAL SCIENCE provides a center for research leading to the understanding of natural processes in terms of logically constructed conceptual systems, and to the synthesis of the specialized research of physicists, chemists, biologists, and other natural scientists.

Theoretical science may be defined to include: (1) the discovery and description of the fundamental laws which govern the behavior of the elementary constituents of natural systems; (2) the theoretical description of complex systems, arising through the mutual interaction of a large number of simple systems of which we have a basic theoretical understanding; and (3) the utilization of the conceptual and analytic tools of the theoretical scientist in applied research.

ALBERT T. BHARUCHA-REID, B.S., Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

ROBERT E. ODEH, M.S., Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

DONALD R. TRUAX, Ph.D., Assistant Professor of Mathematics.

THE STATISTICAL LABORATORY AND COMPUTING CENTER conducts research in the development of new statistical and numerical procedures and provides a consulting service for graduate students and members of the faculty in the fields of statistical and numerical analysis. The Computing Center maintains an IBM 1620 electronic computer, which is available to the faculty and students of the University for research and instruction. The staff offers seminars in programming for the 1620 computer. Users of the computer provide necessary programs and are responsible for the actual running of these programs.

THE INSTITUTE OF INTERNATIONAL STUDIES AND OVERSEAS ADMINISTRATION is responsible for the development and coordination of University activities in the field of international affairs. Its primary functions are: (1) to develop programs of research, teaching, and administration, in cooperation with private and governmental agencies, and to arrange for the conduct of these programs by University personnel, both on the campus and overseas; (2) to assist the Committee on International Studies and Overseas Administration in the administration of graduate study in international affairs and to provide research training for graduate students; and (3) to serve as the University's center for other faculty and student activities concerned with international affairs.

The Institute sponsors and supervises research related to graduate theses and dissertations; in the development of research conducted by members of its staff, it seeks to organize these studies to utilize collaborative assistance by graduate students and to provide substantial training in research methods and techniques. It also conducts graduate seminars to provide for students and members of the faculty an opportunity to share ideas and experiences with visiting lecturers, special consultants, and among themselves. In addition to its campus programs, the Institute arranges opportunities, for advanced students, for overseas study and administrative experience on foreign projects for periods of six months to a year.

The Institute conducts the University's annual Summer World Affairs Program, designed especially for teachers and community leaders, and the program of the Oregon High School International Relations League, and assists in the student-sponsored World Affairs Week and the Model United Nations program.

Institute for Community Studies

ROBERT E. AGGER, Ph.D., Deputy Director of the Institute for Community Studies; Associate Professor of Political Science.

JOHN M. FOSKETT, Ph.D., Deputy Director of the Institute for Community Studies; Professor of Sociology.

THE INSTITUTE FOR COMMUNITY STUDIES conducts and encourages basic research designed to explore the structure of American communities as social and political systems and to relate selected forms of behavior to such systems. Emphasis is placed on the policy-formulation processes in such areas as education, voluntary associations, local government, health, business association, etc.

The Institute provides facilities for individual research by members of the faculty and for cooperative projects, together with opportunities for continuing communication, criticism, and reports of progress by participating scholars. It also provides research training for graduate students in connection with Institute projects, with emphasis on the development of specific research designs as a basis for graduate dissertations.

The Institute conducts seminars for the discussion of matters of common interest to members of its staff and graduate students, including the background of research and research methods in community analysis, problems in design of cooperative research projects, and reports on research in progress.

Center for Social Service Training and Research

PHIL H. SCHOGGEN, Ph.D., Co-Director of the Center for Social Service Training and Research; Assistant Professor of Psychology.

ROY E. BUEHLER, Ph.D., Co-Director of the Center for Social Service Training and Research; Associate Professor of Psychology.

THE CENTER FOR SOCIAL SERVICE TRAINING AND RESEARCH administers programs of graduate instruction and research conducted by the University in the fields of juvenile correction, rehabilitation counseling, and related areas.

Rehabilitation Counseling. The program in rehabilitation counseling includes a two-year program of graduate work leading to a master's degree. The program, offered through the cooperation of the Department of Psychology and the School of Education, is designed to provide the student with a well-rounded background for professional employment as a counselor in a state or private agency concerned with the problems of physically or mentally handicapped persons. Courses in psychology, education, and sociology are supplemented by study of medical, legal, and other aspects of rehabilitation and by supervised experience in rehabilitation agencies. Financial assistance to full-time students in this program is available through traineeships provided by the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Juvenile Correction. In the field of juvenile correction, the University offers through the Center for Social Service Training and Research, a two-year interdisciplinary program of graduate study, leading to the master's degree, to prepare students for professional careers in the prevention and correction of juvenile delinquency in a variety of institutions and agencies. The Center also sponsors, in cooperation with the Oregon Juvenile Judges Association, an annual summer school on juvenile delinquency for the personnel of juvenile correctional programs. The research program includes studies of the etiology, prevention, and correction of juvenile behavioral problems.

Summer Sessions

PAUL B. JACOBSON, Ph.D., Director of Summer Sessions.

AN EIGHT-WEEK SUMMER SESSION supplements the regular sessions of the University. The summer program includes both undergraduate and graduate courses; special attention is given to the needs of teachers in the public schools.

Formal admission to the University is not required for enrollment in summer courses. However, credit for summer work will not be counted toward a degree from the University until the student qualifies for admission in accordance with regular procedures (see pages 65-67).

A high-school graduate who does not qualify for admission to freshman standing on the basis of his high-school grade average or his score on a standard college aptitude test may qualify by demonstrating his ability to do University work through the successful completion of a full load of study in the summer session (see page 65).

The 1961 summer session opens on June 20 and closes on August 12. For the 1962 summer calendar, see page 9.

Detailed announcements of summer courses are published in a special Summer Session Catalog, issued annually in March. Copies will be furnished on request to the director of summer sessions.
