LAND USE CHAPTER
1. LAND USE CHAPTER

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this legislative amendment is to update information in the Land Use Chapter. The update flows from a recent Residential Buildable Lands Inventory conducted in the Tri City Area of the Myrtle Creek Urban Growth Boundary.

BACKGROUND:

Tri City has seen steady development over the years. In 2010, a bridge will be built across the South Umpqua River, in the area between Exit 106 (Weaver Road) and Old Pacific Highway in the area of Wecks Road. These two facts create a need for understanding more thoroughly the land use and development needs in Tri City. The last inventory of land use and development in Tri City was done in 1987.

AMENDMENT:

Through this legislative amendment process, inventory numbers in the Land Use Chapter of the Douglas County Comprehensive Plan will be updated. The numbers will be updated based on the Residential Buildable Lands Inventory created by Douglas County Planning Department staff.

TRI CITY FINDINGS

14. The land use plan allocates land for various uses and by acres as follows:

15. The location of the South Umpqua River to the northwest and hills on the southeast has formed Tri City's linear development pattern along Old Pacific Highway (formerly State Highway 99). The community is approximately 3.6 miles long and encompasses approximately 450 acres.

16. Population increased in Tri City at a rate of 5.8 percent between 1970 (2,000 people) and 1980 (3,450). Since 1980, population has declined to 3,060 people in 1985. 584 dwelling units have been built in Tri City.

EXISTING LAND USE

Existing Population and Developed Acreage

57. The Tri City Urban Area is one of the fastest growing areas in Douglas County. Between 1970 and 1980 the population increased approximately 66% with the 1980 population equaling 3,135 persons. The number of developed acres of land in the Urban area totals 917+/- acres. The 2006 population for Tri City was approximately 4,330 persons.

Residential

58. Along with the increase in population, the number of dwelling units increased from 587 in 1970 to 1,050 in 1979. A 205% increase was seen in mobile home placements over this time period resulting in a total of 300 units or 29% of the entire housing stock. From 1980 to 2006, 584 new dwelling have been built in Tri City.

59. This recent growth has resulted in a relatively new community with 48% of the housing stock being less than 35 years old and only 7% being older than 65 years. The housing stock is in good condition with 91% being in standard condition or in need of only minor repairs.

FUTURE LAND USE

Population and Development Projection

66. The projections for the Tri City Urban Area indicate a need for an additional 500 acres to accommodate future residential growth. This growth is anticipated to include a population increase between 1,868 and 2,401 persons and a proportional increase in commercial and industrial development to that existing ratio.
67. The number of housing units needed by the year 2026 is based upon a decline in the area household size of to 2.65 persons and on vacancy rates considered necessary to ensure adequate choice in the market. The total number of dwelling units projected to be needed is 2,171 an increase of 10% over the existing housing stock. The breakdown of units by type include: 4,344 single family, 1,151 (61 53%) multi-family and 661 (9 42.2 %) mobile homes. This ratio reflects the changing trends in housing necessitated by increased single family housing costs.

68. To accommodate existing development and future need, three residential land use designations and acreages have been utilized as follows:

Low Density Residential: 494 255 acres. Up to 3 dwelling units per acre. This designation is intended to accommodate limited usage in areas where significant constraints to development exist. This designation has been applied to areas within the floodplain, where it reflects the predominant land use pattern of the area, areas with steep slopes, and in areas where higher density development would create traffic safety problems.

Medium Density Residential: 667 887 acres. Up to 7 dwelling units per acre. This designation is intended to accommodate the majority of future residential development in the Tri City Urban Area including predominantly single family detached units, duplexes and mobile homes which are not contained within parks. It has been applied to those lands with very limited, if any, constraints to development.

High Density Residential: 51 50 acres. Up to 20 dwelling units per acre. This designation is intended to accommodate multi-family development and mobile homes contained within parks. It has been applied as justified by need to those lands which are close to the commercial nodes, major transportation routes, and where it reflects existing land use. (Revised 4/16/87 QJ)
FOREST RESOURCES CHAPTER
2. FOREST RESOURCES CHAPTER

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this legislative amendment is to clarify what the County uses as a formula for conversion of cubic feet per acre per year to board feet. The formula is used to calculate soils capability when considering whether forest land is commercially productive.

BACKGROUND:

When considering certain types of land use applications, questions about soil capability are criteria in the applications. The County believes that this conversion formula adds clarity to the County's decision making process, where by an applicant can adequately calculate soils value using an empirical model. The question is indirectly raised in a recent LUBA case.

AMENDMENT:

Through this legislative amendment process, Douglas County will integrate new language into existing Comprehensive Plan text. The change is needed to clarify the standard which the County uses in reviewing soils capability.

FOREST RESOURCE FINDINGS

Forest Lands

16. Commercial Timber can be judged by cubic foot per acre per year or by board foot. The Comprehensive Plan uses cubic foot per acre per year, however, in some land use applications data may be provided in board feet. Therefore the following table from the Forest Element of the Comprehensive Plan is included with a cross reference to board feet to assist in analysis of forest information.

POPULATION CHAPTER
3. POPULATION CHAPTER

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this legislative amendment is to support the County’s role in maintaining a County wide coordinated population forecast.

BACKGROUND:

House Bill 3436 was passed by the Oregon Legislature. The bill changes Oregon Revised Statutes pertaining to population forecasting. Population forecasting is delegated to the County by Oregon Revised Statute. Population forecasting plays a critical role in land use processes such as Urban Growth Boundary Expansions, Plan Amendment and Zone Changes, as well as assisting in calculating adequate infrastructure communities.

AMENDMENT:

Through this legislative amendment process, Douglas County will integrate new language into existing Comprehensive Plan text. The change is needed to clarify the role of the County in Population Forecasting.

PAGE 10-11

OBJECTIVE A: Develop a land use plan that provides for orderly growth which reduces the cost of essential services while preserving the basic elements of our environment.

POLICIES:

7. The County shall periodically (at least once every ten years) update its population forecast, and in cooperation with each city in Douglas County, reassess population projections and make appropriate adjustments.
