

where she taught for a season. But the lure of the Orient was strong, and now again she writes to friends from Hilo, T. H. CLAIREL LEROY OGLE received his B. A. degree in 1916, and took his M. D. degree from Harvard in 1923. He is a physician in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DONALD GEORGE ONTHANK is in the general insurance business in Portland.

DON T. ORPUT could lead a cheer to make the echoes ring, whether it was a shout of victory or an inspiration for the weary team. He has put his energies into the work of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, and for some time was engaged in organizing California, where he built municipal recreation systems, his most recent endeavor having been in Pasadena. At present, he is on leave from the association, having come to Portland after the death of his father, to spend a few months with his mother. He is connected temporarily with the Brotherhood Bank, but expects to rejoin the playground association in a few weeks.

HULDA H. PARR is a valued member of the teaching staff of Jefferson high school, Portland.

VIRGINIA PETERSON has returned to college circles, since her marriage to Dean H. Walker, 1913 class, who is dean of men and director of student loan funds for the University.

ERNA ELEONORE PETZOLD returned to her home in Oregon City after a season abroad, much of which time was spent in Germany.

JESSIE PURDY is tasting the joys of Hawaii, as she is teaching in Honolulu.

CLAIRE RALEY entered the newspaper field for a time, but has forsaken the calling for that of "housewife," since she is Mrs. H. Sherman Mitchell. Her home is in Walla Walla.

JOSEPH R. RHEUDE, a former member of 1916, has been living in Portland, and connected with the Union Pacific System.

HELEN ROBINSON's address is Mrs. Loren C. Roberts, Motor Route A. The Dalles.

JAMES KENNETH ROBINSON is living in Portland, where he is special agent for the Atlas Assurance Co., Ltd.

LOUIS SCHAEFER, a member of 1916 for a time, turned his attention to the study of law, and is an attorney in Vancouver, Wash.

R. A. SCHRAMM, ex-'16, lives in Oak Grove, Ore., and holds the responsible position of secretary of the Equitable Savings & Loan Association in Portland.

GRANT WESLEY SHAFFNER, who received his B. S. in 1916, is a food chemist, with headquarters in Salem.

GENEVIEVE SHAVER was a member of the Jefferson school faculty in Portland for some time, but after her marriage to Dana E. McDuffee, moved to Seattle. Recently, Mr. and Mrs. McDuffee have made their home in Omaha, Neb.

CLEVELAND SYLVESTER SIMKINS followed his B. A., 1916, with a Ph. D. Harvard, and is professor of anatomy, histology, and embryology in the University of Tennessee.

MARY ANN SMITH, who left college to enter newspaper work, married Tom Gerber, and lives in New York, where Mr. Gerber is sales manager for the United Press.

MAX HERBERT SOMMER's training as editor for the Emerald in the class' senior year, must have whetted his taste for advertising and newspaper work. He is advertising manager for the Sommer-Kaufman Shoe Company in San Francisco.

KATHERINE MAY STANFIELD makes her home most of the time in Pendleton, and is interested in the marketing of crops of large Eastern Oregon ranches. Her trips to Portland are frequent, but usually of short duration.

ROY THOMAS STEPHENS is an instructor in the Benson Polytechnic School, Portland.

MARY FRANCES STEVENSON, B. A., 1916, lives in Cut Bank, Mont.

ANNE MARIE TAYLOR attended the university for only one year, and soon married Ormond Rankin, who is in business in Portland. They are proud parents of a son and a little daughter.

JOKICHI TOMINAGA won much praise for his work in the architecture department, and after receiving his B. S. degree in 1916, journeyed to Japan to practice his profession. He lives in Tokio.

HENRY I. TROWBRIDGE did not complete the four years with the class, but is in business in Portland, where he is vice-president of the West-Made Desk Co.

LAMAR E. TOOZE won state-wide recognition for his management of the Gift Campaign, conducted for the University of Oregon. But he had received his LL. B. from Harvard in 1921, following his return from overseas service, and after the Gift Campaign was suspended, moved to Portland to engage in the practice of law. Recently he entered into partnership with Nicholas Jaureguy, U. of O. 1917, under the firm name of Jaureguy & Tooze. He is also an instructor in the University of Oregon Portland Center.

LESLIE ORLAND TOOZE served his country well and made his sacrifice gallantly.

JEWEL MARYON TOZIER lives in Boise, Idaho.

CARROL MARSHALL WAGNER, who received his B. S. in 1916, is connected with the oil business, as a petroleum geologist in Los Angeles.

EYLA WALKER lives in Redwood, Cal., and is the wife of Fulton S. Woodriddle.

JAMES L. WATSON, whose degree was a B. S., is connected with the P. E. P. Co., as demand tester, in Vancouver, Wash., but lives in Portland.

KATHARINE WATSON married J. Bothwell Avison, and lives in Seattle.

MANDELL WEISS has deserted Oregon for California, and makes his home in San Diego.

JEANNETTE WHEATLEY, ex-'16, is now addressed as Mrs. Leon Rowland, and makes her home in San Francisco, where Mr. Rowland is connected with the Associated Press.

GLANVILLE CLARKE WHEELER is western sales manager of the Penick & Ford Sales Co., Inc., and makes his home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

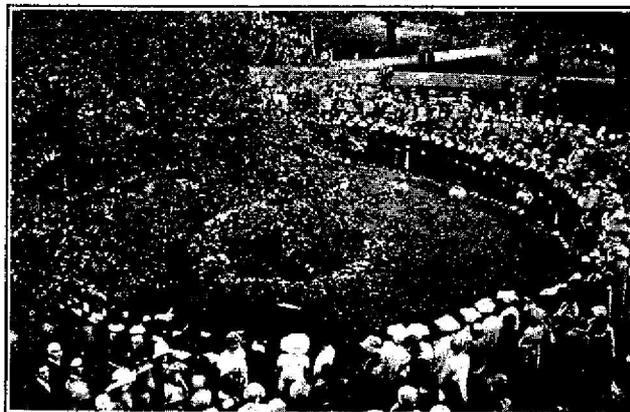

JOHN WILHELM is district sales manager for Delphi Products Co., and lives in Chicago.

VERA WILLIAMS is now Mrs. Walter R. Dimm, and gives her occupation as "housewife."

HERMES HARRY WRIGHTSON is in the traffic department of the Luckenbach Steamship Co., Portland.

BESS MAY YOUNG is now addressed as Mrs. Clark, but records do not give any further information, unfortunately.

JESSIE DARL ZIMMERMAN married Walter Brenton, and is another Portland "housewife."

Flower and Fern procession is always one of the most beautiful and impressive features of Commencement. This is a photograph of the ceremony last year, which will be repeated this year on Saturday, June 12.

Alumni Urged to Write Semi-centennial Ode

FOR THE occasion of the Semi-Centennial of the founding of the University of Oregon, to be celebrated October 15-23, a Commemoration Ode is desired, which will be made a prominent feature of the ceremonial. Alumni, students, and members of the faculty of the University are hereby cordially invited through the medium of OLD OREGON, to participate in the try-out for such an ode, which may express the spirit of the occasion.

Alumni, in particular, are urged to take an active interest in this contest and turn in their contributions. The Commemoration Ode must be in the hands of the committee by September first, and the words for a birthday song which will form a part of the Semi-Centennial Celebration, must be in by July 10.

Copies of the Wisconsin and California Commemorative odes, written for similar celebrations at these universities, are in the hands of the committee and may be read by those interested, by communicating with the chairman. The themes of these odes deal with some subject vital to the college life. The California Jubilee ode had as its subject the Sather Tower, which was dedicated as part of the Semi-Centennial celebration in 1918. The Wisconsin ode chose as its theme "The Scholar." Both subject matter and form of the Oregon ode are to be left to the judgment of the writer.

The rules are as follows:

OREGON ODE CONTEST

1. All students, alumni, and members of the faculty of the University are invited to share in the contest for a suitable ode, commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the University of Oregon. The chosen ode will be made a special feature of the Semi-Centennial Celebration, October 18-23.

2. Any theme relative to the occasion may be used as subject matter, the metrical form being left to the judgment of the writer. A maximum length of 100 lines is suggested by the committee as desirable, though this may be slightly exceeded if necessary.

3. Manuscripts should be typewritten, and submitted under a pen name, or assumed name, in order that the decision of the judges may be made without knowledge of writer's identity. A sealed envelope with pen name printed outside, and containing name and address of author, should be enclosed.

4. Contest closes September first.

5. The winning ode, in addition to being read at the Semi-Centennial Jubilee, will be printed separately by the University Press. Some other distinction not yet decided, will be awarded the author.

6. Manuscripts should be sent to the chairman of the committee named below. Further information may be obtained from any member of the committee.

THE BIRTHDAY SONG CONTEST

1. Words for a song, which may be set to music and sung by the assembled company on Oregon's fiftieth birthday celebration, are also desired. Students are specially invited to participate in this contest.

2. The main requisites here are that offerings be singable and appropriate. Three or four stanzas with refrain would be a good length.

3. The same rules as to manuscripts and judging will be followed in both contests.

4. Song contest closes July 10.

5. Manuscripts for both contests should be sent in at the earliest possible date.

School of Social Work Holds Convocation

THE Portland School of Social Work of the University of Oregon held its fifth annual convocation Tuesday, May 18. The program was as follows: "The Larger Requirements in Education for Social Work," by Arthur Evans Wood, director of social service curriculum, University of Michigan; "The Doernbecher Hospital," by Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, regent, University of Oregon; "The Present and Future Program of the School of Social Work," by Philip A. Parsons, director; "The Class of 1926," by Kathleen Leahy, student. Mr. A. L. Mills presided. At this time announcement was made of the completion of work for the following degrees and certificates:

BACHELOR OF ARTS

Kathleen M. Leahy	Dorothy Dodge
Laura Jean Spall	Catherine Spall Hartmus

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE

Gertrude Emilie Deutsch

CERTIFICATE IN SOCIAL WORK

Grace A. Black
Dorothy Dodge	Kathleen M. Leahy
Catherine Spall Hartmus	Laura Jean Spall

CERTIFICATE IN PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING

Amelia Feary	Linnie May Laird
Mary Elizabeth Freeman	Louise Teresa Schneider
Ethel Ivy Gunderson	Ethel Haylor Smith
Millicent Ann Horwege	Esther E. Unis

A varied background of experience and training is represented by this group. Dorothy Dodge, Catherine Spall Hartmus, Laura Spall, Ethel Gunderson, and Gertrude Deutsch have been students on the campus. Two of the number have their B.A.'s from other universities. Ten of the group are graduate nurses; eight of these nurses are receiving certificates in public health nursing, one a certificate in social work and a B.A. degree, and one a B.S. degree. One student came from Honolulu where she had been doing social work to complete her training. One also had previously been nursing in Honolulu as well as in France during the war. One was in charge of nurses' training at a large hospital, one has been teaching school for several years, two have been school nurses in the Portland public schools, while one has had considerable previous training and experience in family case work.

Positions have already been accepted in family case work and in public health nursing by some of these students.

Sigma Beta Phi Leads in House Grades

SIGMA BETA PHI, women's local sorority, headed the grade list for winter term, 1925-26, with a rating of 49.523 points. Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Alpha Theta were second and third, with ratings of 49.089 and 48.905 respectively. Lambda Psi, men's local fraternity, headed the men's organizations and was sixteenth on the list, with a rating of 43.300.

This year the organizations were divided into two groups—those whose members are elected, and those whose members are not chosen by the membership of the organization. The average rating of all organizations was 41.540; that of women's organizations, 44.940; and of men's, 37.667.

The complete grade list follows:

5. Friendly Hall	88	1253.5	14.244	3.238	39.329

EXPLANATION: No account is taken of hours not passed, whether W's, Inc's, Dp's, Cond's, of F's. To arrive at the rating in column six the grading system is reversed so that an hour of I counts 5 points; an hour of II, 4 points; an hour of III, 3 points; an hour of IV, 2 points; and an hour of V, 1 point. In other words, the number of points given to a credit-hour is always equal to six minus the grade. Hence, rating equals the average number of hours passed per member multiplied by six (six minus average grade).

HENRY V. HOWE, '16

At the annual meeting of the American Society of Petroleum Geologists, held recently in Dallas, Texas, Dr. Henry V. Howe, of the class of 1916, was elected president of the Micropaleontological Section, an important section of a national organization of scientists. Dr. Howe received his B.A. from the University of Oregon and his Ph.D. from Stanford University in 1922. He is head of the geology department in the Louisiana State University.

Notices

In order to complete the history of the life of the late President Prince L. Campbell, it is desired to acquire class notes taken in his class in ethics. Alumni who took the ethics course under President Campbell are urged to search for their class notes and mail them to Mrs. Edna Datson Davis, U. of O., Eugene, or direct to Dr. Joseph Schaefer, State Historical Society, Madison, Wisconsin, who is compiling the history.

Judge Chas. H. Carey, of Portland, has given to the University of Oregon, 50 volumes of his History of Oregon for disposal. The funds derived from the sale will be turned over to the memorial for President Campbell, the Fine Arts building. Dr. R. C. Clark, head of the history department at the University, says of the volume: "It is the best complete long one-volume history of Oregon there is, invaluable to the student and the teacher of Oregon history." The price of book, or any information regarding it may be had by writing to Mrs. Oleta Stewart, care of the architecture library, of the University.

To Our Advertisers

This is to acknowledge gratefully the cooperation of Old Oregon's advertisers. This cooperation has made possible the present size and development of the magazine.

With this issue, the last during this school year, OLD OREGON wishes to express this appreciation.

Parents are Entertained

Several hundred parents were entertained on the campus May 15 and 16, the dates set aside for "Mother's and Father's Week-end." The University Vespers on Sunday, a tea for the mothers, and a baseball game for the fathers, were the chief events of the week-end.

Clark Heads Greater Oregon Committee

Dudley Clark has been appointed general chairman of the Greater Oregon committee with Arthur Priaux associate chairman. In addition to the regular duties of the committee, it will serve this year as the student committee for the semi-centennial celebration this fall. The twelve men chosen by the two chairmen to supervise their individual districts are: Ed Brown, George Hill, Don McCook, Jim Manning, Nick Carter, Ronald Sellars, Paul Sletton, Don Beelar, Jack Hempstead, Clifford Kuhn, Herbert Socolofsky and George Mimnaugh.

Bailey Wins Oratory Event

Ralph Bailey, senior in economics, won the Tri-state oratory event at Moscow, Idaho, May 22, speaking upon the subject "Herods in the Battle of Life." As winner, he was awarded first prize of $100 donated by E. F. Blaine, Seattle attorney and sponsor of this annual affair. The University of Washington and the University of Idaho were also represented in the contest.

Co-eds Hold Play Day

Saturday, May 22, was the annual "big day" for the women athletes of the Oregon campus, the finale for the majority of the sports events for the year. The Women's Athletic Association of O. A. C. were guests for the occasion and participated in the events with the Oregon women. Winners were not announced as the teams were made up of players of both institutions, thus the events were run off without the spirit of rivalry predominating. Canoeing, tennis, hockey, baseball, horseback riding, swimming and a big picnic represented the variable program of the day. Following the different contests, the entire group viewed a dance entitled "Dream Gate," staged by members of Orchesus.

Cosmopolitans Entertain

The University Cosmopolitan club presented a festival of nations May 21 and 22 in Guild Theatre. Colorful costumes, dances and music from the Orient and the Occident composed a kaleidoscopic pageant from 12 nations of the world. The Cosmopolitan clubs of O. A. C., Willamette University, Chemewa Indian School, and Linfield college were invited to be guests at the performance.

Hugh Biggs, of Ontario, junior, was the successful candidate for president of the student body in the recent elections.

Typographers Honor Late President

The class in typography under Robert C. Hall, head of the University Press, has finished a piece of work entitled "In Memoriam," in memory of the late president of the University, Prince L. Campbell. Only a limited number of copies were printed and sent to friends and relatives of President Campbell. The copy was written by Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism.

The printing is done on deckle edged India paper, 13 by 20 inches, and is in the form of a large folder. The type is all hand set with the exception of a small decorative border and line margins. The class in typography has been started just this year and consists of Wayne Leland, Frank Loggan, Paul Sletton, Milton George, and James Leake.

Editor and Manager of New Magazine

Rolf Klep, Astoria, and Douglas Wilson, Joseph, have been named editor and manager, respectively, of the new campus publication which will be started next fall. The appointments were made by the executive council upon the recommendation of the publications committee. The name of the new publication is "Webfoot."

Dr. Landsbury Gives Recital

Dr. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music, appeared in a concert May 19, for the first time in three years. He gave an interpretation of each piece on the program, which was composed of classical and romantic numbers. This recital was the last of a series of six faculty concerts sponsored by Mu Phi Epsilon.

Prehistoric "Mount Multnomah"

Dr. Edwin T. Hodge, professor of economic geology at the University, has had a book, "Mount Multnomah," published during the last few weeks. The story outlined by Dr. Hodge deals with the existence, several million years ago when Oregon was still in the process of formation, of a gigantic mountain larger and higher by far than any now in the state, standing where the Three Sisters now raise their peaks more than 10,000 feet above sea level.

Varsity Vagabonds

This year at the annual junior vaudeville at the University, five men put on a song and piano turn which made a great hit, according to the audience. They liked doing the sketch so well that they promptly decided to do it some more and showed Paul Noble, manager of the Liberty theatre in Portland, what they could do. He signed them up at once. What is more, he refers to them as one of the two "greatest musical organizations on the Pacific coast." The quartet known as the Vagabonds is composed of Paul Peck, Ted Larsen, Al Smith, and Ward McClellan, with George Weber as accompanist and manager. The boys presented their act at the Liberty May 16 to 22.

Soph Women Have High Score

Sophomore women of the University won the final class track meet recently. Some records, considered good for women athletes, were hung up during the meet. The sophomores scored 34 points to 27 for the juniors, 21 for the freshmen and 13 for the seniors. Nellie Johns of Portland made high score with a total of 15, placing first in the standing broad jump, 60-yard hurdles and running broad jump. Margaret Pepon of Oregon City threw the baseball for 193 feet 3 inches, unofficially the longest heave made in an Oregon meet. Melba Hatten of St. Helens threw the javelin 80 feet 2 inches for first place. Harriet Osborn of Portland made first in the basketball throw at 76 feet 2 inches.

Daly Memorial Given

A large picture of Dr. Bernard Daly has been placed on the wall of Dean H. Walker's office—a memorial gift from the Daly club students in honor of Dr. Daly. Engraved on a copper plate are the following words: "It is my earnest desire to help, aid, and assist worthy and ambitious young men and women of my beloved county of Lake to acquire a good education, so that they may be better fitted and qualified to appreciate and help to preserve the laws and constitution of this free country, defend its flag, and by their conduct as good citizens reflect honor on Lake county and the state of Oregon. Dr. Bernard Daly."

Sol Abramson, of Portland, is the new editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald.

Oregana Pictures Sold

Under the supervision of Wayne Leland, editor of the Oregana, the pictures used in the yearbook have been sold. Fraternity and sorority groups particularly took advantage of the panels of their organizations. Heretofore these pictures, after being returned from the engraver's, have been turned over to the publicity department, but Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, authorized this means of adding to the Oregana fund this year.

Student Composers

Bill Grantham and Al Clark, undergraduates at the University, are the composers of a new popular dance piece, "Everyone." This waltz was first played as a feature at the Seven Seers ball and later as a special number at the canoe fete and the Junior Prom. The copyright has been applied for and will probably be granted the first part of the summer, when it will be published. Later, the Brunswick company will make a record of it. The tune of "Everyone" was composed by Bill Grantham of Wilmington, Ohio, a freshman in the school of journalism. Allan Clark of Santa Barbara, a senior in the school of music, wrote the lyric.

Genevieve Chase Honored

A century-old precedent was broken by the Presbyterian board of Christian education, in a session at Philadelphia, May 5, when Genevieve Chase, a senior at the University, was nominated for election to the board. She is the youngest person ever nominated for membership on this board, and will spend the next two years studying at Columbia university at the request of the Presbyterian board of national missions. The election will be held at the meeting of the Presbyterian general assembly in Baltimore, May 27 to June 2.

Albert Cup Awarded

Paul Ager, Bend, senior in economics, was awarded the Joseph H. Albert cup this year, as the result of a vote taken by the senior class. The cup is given annually by Mr. Albert, a Salem banker, to the senior who, in the opinion of his class members, has shown the greatest development during his career in college. Paul has been vice-president of the student body this year, has served on a number of important committees, and is a notable track man.

O. A. C. Gymkana

Jack Herring, member of the University of Oregon riding club, took second place in the steeple chase at the fifth annual Gymkana of the Oregon Agricultural College. The chase was an invitational affair, with the University of Oregon and the Portland Hunt club participating.

Class Officers Elected

Election of class officers was held the middle of May. Earl Chiles, Portland, will lead the senior class; Frank Riggs, Portland, was elected president of the junior class, and Bob Foster, also of Portland, was named president of the sophomore class.

The rest of the officers elected for 1926-27 are: seniors: vice-president, Betty Beans, Portland; treasurer, Phil Bergh, Eugene; secretary, Katherine Graef, Portland; sergeant-at-arms, Bob Neighbor, Portland; class barber, May Agile Barr, Portland.

Junior class: vice-president, Katherine Mutzig, Portland; treasurer, Edward Crowley, Portland; secretary, Marian Barnes, Tacoma; sergeant-at-arms, Bob Warner, Portland.

Forensic Managers Named

Forensic managers for the 1926-27 school year were selected by the forensic committee of the executive council recently. Jack Hempstead will be general forensic manager, taking the place of Elam Amstutz. Walter Durgan will manage the men's debating teams, and Frances Cherry, the women's.

Dr. R. A. Millikan, Scientist

Dr. Robert Andrews Millikan, scientist, was on the campus the first week in May, delivering the main student assembly lecture. He was the speaker during the initiation banquet of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, members of which were instrumental in bringing Dr. Millikan to the campus. Dr. Millikan is the discoverer of the penetrating cosmic or Millikan rays which are known to pass through six feet of lead, and also winner of the Nobel prize in 1923 for pioneer work done in the measuring of the electron.

Frances Morgan, of Portland, junior, is the new secretary of the student body.

MEDICAL SCHOOL NOTES

The Doernbecher Memorial Hospital for Children, which has been erected on Marquam Hill, Portland, next to the Medical school, is now ready for occupation which will take place as soon as enough money is raised to maintain it until the first of the year when the state of Oregon will take over the maintenance costs through legislative appropriation.

It was originally planned to open the hospital last January but since that time it has been necessary to postpone the opening from month to month as more time was needed to complete the building but now nothing is in the way of starting this exceptional hospital but more money. Much help has been realized from many organizations throughout the state in raising money to equip the building. Also, the American Legion of the state has raised $20,000 and a further sum of more than $14,000 is pledged by that organization—all of which is to go toward maintenance of the hospital until the legislature meets to appropriate necessary money to operate this state institution.

The opening date was announced last month as July first but it is improbable that it will be possible to open then unless considerable money is forthcoming in the meantime.

Many children, needing medical and surgical treatment, are waiting to be admitted to the hospital and it looks as if it will be running to capacity as soon as it is possible to admit them.

Graduating senior students will serve internships as follows as soon as graduation is over:

John C. Adams, Michael Reese Hospital, Chicago; Earl M. Anderson, Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland; David W. E. Baird, Multnomah County Hospital, Portland; Meredith G. Beaver, U. of O. Medical School, Portland; Richard F. Berg, St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland; Wilbur M. Bolton, St. Vincent's Hospital, Portland; Francis W. Brodie, Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland; Glenn S. Campbell, U. S. Naval Hospital, San Diego; Clifford M. Carlson, San Francisco County Hospital; Howard W. Chamberlin, Seattle City Hospital; Thomas W. Christmas, Letterman General Hospital, San Francisco; Harold E. Dedman, Seattle City Hospital; Lee W. Dickinson, Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland; Harold W. Dobbin, Multnomah County Hospital, Portland; Jacob Enkelis, New Haven Hospital, New Haven, Conn.; Wadim J. Glovatsky, King County Hospital, Seattle; William E. The University of Oregon Medical School chapter of the national honorary medical fraternity Alpha Omega Alpha announces the pledging and initiation of the following members: Kenneth G. Smith, Meredith G. Beaver, Harold Dedman, Martin Norgore, Cecil Shitwell, Adna M. Boyd, Mrs. Vida P. Sherwood, Walter E. Nichol.

Initiation ceremonies and banquet were held on Friday evening, May 23, at the University club, Portland. At this time Dr. R. C. Coffey was the honor guest and delivered a talk on Reminis-cences and the future of medicine in the Northwest.

At the recent Sigma Xi election a number of the instructors and students at the Medical School were voted into the organization. These included as active members: Arthur C. Jones, Gordon B. Leitch, Carleton P. Pynn, Homer P. Rush, and as associate members: David E. Baird, Meredith G. Beaver, John C. Brougher, J. Everett Buckley, Marvin E. Eby, M. F. Gourley, Herald T. Nokes, Adolph von Hungen.

On May 15, 1926, a University of Oregon Medical School chapter (Alpha Omega) of the national medical fraternity Phi Delta Epsilon was installed at Multnomah hotel. The installation committee consisted of Dr. Alexander Grinstein, Seattle, Dr. Jerome Jacobs, Seattle, and Dr. Leon Goldsmith, Portland. The following were charter members: Russell H. Kaufman, Jacob J. Enkelis, I. Jack Vidgoff, Herbert Goldsmith, Carl Feldman, Joseph Lipshutz, Aubrey Davis.

Officers were elected as follows: consul, I. Jack Vidgoff; vice-consul, Herbert Goldsmith; marshal, Carl Feldman; scribe, Joseph Lipshutz; chancellor, Aubrey Davis.

The committee in charge of awarding the J. E. Else prize for the best surgical thesis written by a member of the senior class decided that two papers were tied for first place and so awarded two prizes, one to Gordon B. Leitch and one to A. F. Martin. Honorable mention was given to the theses presented by Meredith G. Beaver and Kenneth G. Smith.

The wedding of Miss Vida Marie Bracher and Mr. Ralf Couch was an event of the past month. Mrs. Couch is a graduate nurse from Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland, and Mr. Couch, who received his B. A. from Oregon in 1923, is now secretary of the Medical School.

Dr. E. E. Osgood, associate in biochemistry and medicine at the Medical School, and Mrs. Osgood, are leaving May 28 for Rochester, Minnesota, where Dr. Osgood plans to spend his vacation studying at the Mayo clinic.

Mr. Alois Tedisch, for many years technician at the Medical School, is planning to visit the "old country" this summer and visit with relatives and friends in Europe.

Dr. Leo Lucas, M. D., Oregon 1923, has returned from the University of Iowa Medical School where he has been taking some post graduate work, and is associated with Dr. E. B. Dillehunt in the Medical Arts building.

Dr. Wilmoth Osborne and Ruth Watkins, both of whom received their M. D. degree from Oregon, were recent visitors at the school. Dr. Osborne is now medical advisor for women at the University of Oregon and Dr. Watkins is practicing at Hoquiam, Wash.

The engagement of Miss Nellie Irene Fairchild and Dr. Harold L. Averill has been announced. Both are graduates of Stanford University and will be married there in July. Dr. Averill received his M. D. degree from the University of Oregon Medical School in 1925 and is just completing his internship at the Multnomah County Hospital.

Word has been received of the marriage of Dr. Phil J. Keizer and Miss Bertha Schmid, both of the Keizer Hospital, North Bend. The wedding took place in Cleveland, Ohio, where Mrs. Keizer has been studying. Dr. Keizer received his M. D. from Oregon in 1914.

A letter has recently been received from Dr. Grace Linklater Stone, M. D. Oregon 1925 who has spent the past winter in New York City. She writes that she has been externing at Bellevue Hospital and is enjoying her work very much. She plans to specialize in pediatrics and so has been getting as much work as possible with children. And as a postscript she adds that she and her husband are sailing soon for a two months sojourn in Europe.

To mountain climbers about to cross a plateau

THIS is a thought for seniors about to set forth on the world's biggest climb—their careers.

Educators tell us that mental growth, if diagrammed, would show a succession of mountains and plateaus. Progress in industry, too, has its plateaus—the periods when you seem merely to be marking time.

But is it time lost? Older graduates, now executives in industry, say "No." They recall this as really a chance to find one's self, to get one's second wind for the next climb ahead.

And they recall the fact that this whole journey, up the mountain and across the plain, is a great adventure with each man blazing his own trail, working out his own individuality in the various technical and commercial activities of modern business.

THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL

NEXT October, four days of Homecoming Week will be devoted to a recounting of the history of the University for its first fifty years. Conferences, pageants, dedications, inspirational addresses will measure off the trail that the University has blazed. The first half century has been the hardest.

What, after all, are the milestones along this wearisome trail?

We answer—the alumni. They are the distance travelled. They are the product, the result. Events are man-made incidents. The alumni are the soil in which the foundations of the University's structure of achievement have been reared.

EXTRA-CURRICULAR HOUSEWIVES

THE "outside interest" of the average wife and mother is comparable to the extra-curricular activity of the co-ed, so declares Margaret Culkin Banning in the March Vassar Quarterly. Her article, "Shall We Join the Gentlemen," might very well be read by every Oregon alumna who feels that a husband and children do not provide a sufficient channel through which to pour out her life.

Mrs. Banning regards job-seeking and club work the married woman's extra-curricular activity. "I wonder," she says, "if all this job-seeking is not a form of hysteria. I wonder if much of the rushing to clubs is not a form of hysteria. I wonder if we are not trying to fill our days with work, feeling, after the tradition of the American pioneer, that work is woman's only business. . . . Junk and fake activity. The outside interest for the sake of the outside interest, is the thing to be avoided like the plague is. But we all know, as we think it over, that America needs more of the meditative quality, more serenity, more peace with itself. Somehow one can imagine a race of thoughtful women, peaceful, orderly, busy but not driven. Among them jealousy and imitativeness become qualities shrunken from disuse. They order their time. They know that they own their own lives and that nobody, even child or husband, surely not neighbor, can take the title away from them. In that serenity they proceed through life, toward death."

The arguments on campuses for and against college activities are renewed lustily each fall. It seems to us it is an individual matter. Some require activities and some don't. Some know or could learn how to use leisure. These could be labored with. The rest should be allowed to work themselves to death in peace.

AN OREGON MAN

AN OREGON Man!"

The expression is Charlie Robison's. The embodiment of the ideal is Frederick W. Steiwer, alumnus of the University of Oregon, who has just been nominated for United States senator.

Steiwer won the nomination—like an Oregon Man. He fought hard, but he played the game cleanly. He took advantage of openings in the political armor of his principal opponent, but he didn't slug or trip while the crowd wasn't watching.

Clean sport—clean college life—clean politics.

George H. Otten, '11, of Portland.

Campus Plan Presented University

GEORGE H. OTTEN, a loyal alumnus of the University, has become one of the most successful landscape engineers in the west. He has landscaped many country clubs, large private estates, grounds of public institutions, and small home gardens.

As a gift to the University, he has recently given a plan of plantation for the campus at Eugene and for the Doernbecher Hospital grounds in Portland. The cash value of this gift is over $1,200, but its real value is much greater, for he will follow out this systematic and beautiful plan of development as fast as funds and materials are available in either place.

It is quite as necessary to have a plan to work toward on grounds as well as on buildings.

P. A. throws pipe-peeves for a loss

AND the bigger they are, the harder they fall, as Shakespeare or somebody said. You can prove this beyond question with a jimmy-pipe and a tidy red tin of Prince Albert. Any time. Anywhere. As a matter of fact, tackling pipe-grouches is P. A.'s regular business.

Cool and sweet and fragrant, P. A.'s wonderful smoke comes curling up the pipe-stem, filling your system with a new brand of pipe-pleasure. You smoke—and smile! For the first time in your life, you've found the one tobacco that scales to your blueprint of bliss.

Slow or fast, no matter how you feed it, P. A. never bites your tongue or parches your throat. Those important items were taken care of in the original plans by the Prince Albert process. Get yourself a tidy red tin of this friendly tobacco today.

PRINCE ALBERT

—no other tobacco is like it!

P. A. is sold everywhere in tidy red tins, pound and half-pound tin humidors, and pound crystal-glass humidors with sponge-moistener top. And always with every bit of bite and parch removed by the Prince Albert process.

WHAT'S AT THE END OF THE ROAD?

WHEN 87,133 college graduates have traveled the same road voluntarily there must be something at the end of that road to make the journey worthwhile.

More and more widely accepted every year as the outstanding post-graduate training in practical business, is the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

Composed partly of university teachers, and partly of men who have won noteworthy success in their respective lines of business, the Course and Service is arranged and conducted in accordance with university practice and ideals.

• • • • •

We don't take credit for the fine records made by our graduates any more than Yale or Princeton or Harvard take credit for the success of theirs. We provide no trick formulas for success; we simply give men the facts they need. If they are big enough to use these facts, they succeed. If they aren't, they would have failed anyway.

You will never find us claiming that every man who enrolls in the Institute becomes a president. (But of the men who have enrolled, 32,000 are presidents.)

You will never find us claiming that every man who enrolls increases his earning power. (But a questionnaire sent to 1,000 enrolled men showed that the average increase in earning power since enrolment had been 80 per cent.)

You will never find us claiming that this Course is a substitute for hard work, or common sense. (We do claim that it contains the best brains and methods of the leaders in business; and that you can put those brains to work for you as your personal servants.)

Like the university, the Institute urges no man to accept its training; but, seeking the widest possible field of service, it offers information freely and without obligation.

All the facts about the Modern Business Course and Service are gathered into an 80-page book printed for distribution among business and professional men. This little book answers questions which have doubtless been in your mind; it indicates definitely just how this training can be useful to you in the particular work you are doing and would like to do. If you would care to receive a copy, don't hesitate to ask for it.

"Elton Loucks, who was at Oregon about '17, is a public accountant in Omaha. His wife is a Nebraska graduate.

"Lexie Strachan, who took her work in the school of education at Oregon, and who was formerly a school superintendent of a school I attended in Joseph, Oregon, has charge of all the physiological research and activity for the Kansas City school system.

"Marian Lay and Kate Pinneo, both '24, are living in New York, and are moving with some of the leading literary lights of the city. Marion is doing scenario work for Universal Pictures and is writing a column which will probably be syndicated.

"John Piper, '24, is with the Associated Press in New York. He and his roommate, Herm Blaesing, ex-'26, like all of us who have had a taste of Gotham, are becoming quite enthusiastic in their praise of Manhattan.

"While heading for Canada, via Detroit, on a recent trip, I spent a night with Alfred Meyers, ex-'26, at a dorm at Notre Dame University, South Bend, Indiana. Several nights before, I heard him do solo work at Orchestra hall in Chicago. One of his numbers was 'Rolling Down to Rio'—one of 'Doc' Furry's favorite numbers in the days when I used to jump around the state booking the Oregon glee club.

"Ted Walstrum, who taught music at Oregon 1923-24, is making an unusual success at the Curtis School of Music in Philadelphia. He recently announced his engagement to a young lady from California.

"Frances Morgan, '23, who was one of Oregon's first group of undergraduate Phi Beta Kappas, is teaching in Ridgewood, N. J. Miss Morgan lost her mother suddenly about two months ago. Miss Morgan was a member of Delta Gamma.

"Claude Robinson and John MacGregor are taking graduate work at Columbia. I usually manage to take in a show or two with them when in the metropolis.

"While in Boston, I spent some time at Harvard with Francis Alstock, '24, and Earl Schafer, '24. Harry Huggins and Eddie Durno are in the medical school. Records show that the Oregon men at Harvard are making unusually good records. Irene Gerlinger, who is studying music in Boston, reports an interesting year, as do 'Babe' Keltner and 'Jo' Taylor. Oregon neighbors of Miss Gerlinger's in Boston.

"My company is permitting me to cover the United States and Canada this first year out. At present I am working in the eastern part of Canada, and rather enjoying the English air everything and everybody has. I am leaving on the Leviathan on a European trip, six weeks on the continent and three in England. I am wondering how many Oregon folks I will run across. While in New York last, I had tea with Doctor E. S. Bates, former philosophy professor at Oregon. He is doing free-lance writing and is living in Greenwich Village. While walking down the streets of Chicago, two Sundays ago, I ran into Professor Sam Bass Warner of the law school, and Mrs. Warner, who were passing through the city on their way to Washington. It's a small world. The word that they had of Oregon's new president will be of interest to all strayed Oregonians. A visit to the campus of the University of Michigan last week-end, put me in touch with Bob Coffee, Oregon Sigma Nu, who is thinking of returning to Eugene next year.

"I think that about covers the Oregon folks I have met recently. I have crossed trails with them everywhere but in the southwest and in Florida."

COACH JOHN J. McEWAN now has a full crew of assistants with which to start the 1926 gridiron season at full speed. A recent wire of acceptance from Gene Vidal as backfield coach rounds out the pigskin staff.

Vidal was a great half back at West Point in his school days and he served under McEwan as backfield coach of the army team at West Point for three years. Vidal has also coached track teams of West Point, but his job at Oregon will be as an exclusive backfield teacher. He will have about 35 men to instruct, including the freshmen, in the fundamentals, when he comes to Oregon at the opening of school next fall.

Vidal was transferred from the engineers' corps of the army in February last to the aviation branch. He is a graduate of West Point class of 1918. At the inter-allied games held in Paris after the war he won the distinction of being the second best all-around athlete entered in the competitions.

ON the 15th of September, before the matriculation of freshmen begins, Oregon's 1925 football stars, super-varsity men, and members of last year's freshman eleven will wend their way towards Eugene, where football practice will start in dead earnest.

By the phrase "dead earnest" it means that the men will hold strenuous practices instead of the customary "loafing bee." According to plans made recently by Coach Captain John J. McEwan, football men will hold two practices daily during the two weeks preliminary training period. Line, backfield, and signal practice will occupy the attention of the gridiron athletes in the morning and the afternoons will be devoted to scrimmage.

Strenuous practices must be held in order to get the men into tip-top shape for their game against the Pacific University Badgers on October 2. The Pacific game is not, however, what Coach McEwan is taking so seriously. On October 9, two weeks after the beginning of school, the Lemon-yellow varsity eleven meets the University of Washington Huskies, Pacific Coast champions of last year, on Multnomah field in Portland.

With a long, hard spring football practice in the background and a number of lettermen on hand next fall, prospects for the 1926 campaign look very good.

*When there's singing and dancing on the lawn—and the gay crowds swing to music under the lanterns and the canopy of trees
—have a Camel!*

WHEN it's evening with merry dancing on the lawn. When the world is young with youth and gay with age —have a Camel!

For no other cigarette made was ever so joyous on carefree evenings. Camel is fair companion to busy days and glamorous, restful nights. You just can't smoke enough Camels to tire the taste. Camels never leave a cigaretty after-taste. The choicest tobaccos that nature grows, blended to bring you their purest enjoyment, are rolled into Camels. Camels are the found-true friend of millions of experienced smokers.

So as you make merry with friends on this most enjoyable of nights. As you join the gay party when the work is done—taste then the kindest smoke that ever came from a cigarette.

Have a Camel!

No other cigarette in the world is like Camels. Camels contain the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos. The Camel blend is the triumph of expert blenders. Even the Camel cigarette paper is the finest, made especially in France. Into this one brand of cigarettes go all of the experience, all of the skill of the largest tobacco organization in the world.

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know and enjoy Camel quality, is that you may try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price.
