

Old Oregon

The Road to "Spencer's Butte"

Vol. XII

October, 1929

No. 1

The Spice of Life

ROMANCE * * excitement * * mystery * * mirth
... they are the spice of life ... they take us out of ourselves and out of the rut of everyday existence.
The campus movie

“ED’S CO-ED”

is having its world’s premiere opening in Eugene in early November.

All of the youth—color—drama—of college life as you knew it, are included in this great depiction of the campus, written, produced, cast, directed, financed and distributed by students of the University of Oregon at Eugene. * * It is the biggest surprise of the photoplay industry ... a full length picture of everyday college life as we live it. Don’t miss it. It’s great!

ASK TO HAVE IT COME TO YOUR LOCAL THEATRE

Now First Published!

A Completely New

ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA

NEW in plan and purpose—entirely recast from cover to cover—the new Fourteenth Edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica is ready. This is the superb “humanized” Britannica which has captured the attention of the whole civilized world.

The Last Word in Encyclopaedia Perfection

Three years of intensive effort—the co-operation of 3,500 of the world’s foremost authorities—the expenditure of more than $2,000,000 before a single volume was printed—these are merely a few high lights in the preparation of the new Fourteenth Edition.

This new Britannica immediately takes its place as the one pre-eminent American work of reference—the last word in encyclopaedia perfection.

Never has there been assembled together in one enterprise such a wealth of learning as is represented by the 3,500 builders of this great temple of knowledge. All the universities, all the learned professions, all the great industries, all the pastimes have contributed to the mighty sum.

Knowledge for All

It is a law library for the lawyer, a medical digest for the doctor, a universal history for the historian, a commercial university for the business man—and a compendium of all the arts and sciences for the average reader.

Here is “the cosmos between covers.” The whole whirling universe is brought within your grasp, obedient to your hand.

Nothing is too profound to baffle it, and nothing too familiar to escape its informing touch. And on every subject it speaks with the same finality and authority.

All the World’s Treasures of Art and Illustration

Among the many new features that will astonish and delight everyone who turns these pages is the wealth and beauty of the illustrations. This feature alone marks a tremendous advance. All the world’s treasures of art and

This handsome bookcase table, made of genuine Brown Mahogany, is included with every set of the new Britannica.

Note these facts

Cost More Than
$2,000,000

Over 15,000
Superb Illustrations

Greatest Knowledge
Book Ever Produced

Written by 3,500 of the World’s Most Eminent Authorities

Remember—this is a new book. Only a small amount of text—material which could not be improved in any way—has been retained from previous editions.

photography have been laid under tribute to adorn and illuminate the text.

“The most exciting book of 1929,” asserts a leading critic, and the whole world is echoing that verdict.

This is a Britannica year! Here is your opportunity to join the thousands who will buy this new edition, now, while it is new—fresh from the presses. You owe it to yourself to learn further details regarding this magnificent series of volumes.

Extremely Low Price

And due to the economies of mass production, the price is extremely low—the lowest in fact at which a completely new edition has been offered for two generations! Easy payments, if desired—a deposit of only $5 brings the complete set with bookcase table to your home.

Send for FREE Booklet

We have just prepared a handsome new 56-page booklet containing numerous color plates, maps, etc., from the new edition and giving full information about it, together with full details of bindings, the present low prices and easy payment plan. We want you to have a copy free and without the slightest obligation.

The demand is great—you should act promptly if you are interested in owning a set of the first printing on the present favorable terms. Just fill in the handy coupon and mail it today.

ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA, Inc. Cal. M9 A1
342 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Please send me by return mail, without any obligation on my part, your 56-page illustrated booklet describing the new Fourteenth Edition of the Britannica together with full information concerning bindings, low price offer and easy terms of payment.

Name.....
Address.....
City..... State.....

Mail this Coupon TODAY

The Regicide

On January 30, 1649, all England shrank with horror. The victorious Roundheads had repudiated the "Divine Right of Kings," and His Most Christian Majesty Charles I was to be beheaded. Often in the past had nobles and archbishops plotted, assassinated, kidnapped, but never before had British commoners indicted their King for High Treason, tried him in open court, sentenced him to death. Puritans whispered scared prayers. Cavaliers cursed, vowed swift, gory vengeance.

Oliver Cromwell, almost the last to be convinced that Charles' death was necessary and hence the immutable design of Providence, had signed the death warrant. As TIME, had it been published February 1, 1649, would have reported the event:

.... Grim guards, gentlemen Roundheads, strode in at dawn to wake the King. Rising, His Majesty donned two shirts.... "So I may not seem to tremble," he said shrewdly, bravely. After cruel, nerve-shattering delays Charles I was led through subdued crowds to a scaffold set up outside the windows of his own banquet chamber in Whitehall. Thousands had come to gape, including most of the Roundhead leaders, but Oliver Cromwell was not there.

Standing fearlessly erect on the scaffold, Charles I looked out over the pikes of Roundhead soldiers, glimpsed a shuffling, uneasy throng in which there must be still some loyal subjects, tried to reach them with his voice. The crowd murmured, strained to hear. Soldiers clinked their weapons, making it impossible for the royal words to carry far. Few heard His Majesty say: "For the people, truly, I desire their liberty and freedom, as much as any body whomsoever! But... their liberty and freedom consists in having government, in those laws by which their lives and goods may be most their own. It is not their having a share in the government; that is nothing pertaining to them. A subject and a sovereign are clear different things."

It was two o'clock. Charles by the Grace of God King, Defender of the Faith, took off his coat and doublet, looked up a last time at the English sky, spoke briefly to Bishop Juxon, and lay down full length with his head on the block. The crowd swayed, surged upon the soldiers. But pikes and swords cowed loyal hearts. Charles Stuart prayed a moment, waved his hand as a sign that he was ready.

It was two o'clock, four minutes. Whirling high and shimmering in the sunlight the axe descended, clove. With gibbering pride the black-masked executioner held high a dripping royal head, his first.

.... Body and head were united later; reposed that night in the once royal banquet hall, guarded by two nobles, one the Earl of Southampton. A black shroud up to the chin hid where the axe had fallen. Candles burned by the head.

After midnight, while the watchers sat sunk in melancholy revery, a figure muffled in a dark cloak quietly entered the hall, paced slowly toward the body, stood looking down at the face of Charles I. Turning on heel at last the figure stalked away, muttering "Cruel necessity!" It was Oliver Cromwell...

Cultivated Americans, impatient with cheap sensationalism and windy bias, turn increasingly to publications edited in the historical spirit. These publications, fair dealing, vigorously impartial, devote themselves to the public weal in the sense that they report what they see, serve no masters, fear no groups.

TIME

The Weekly Newsmagazine

“Eyes” for blind flying!

Three new G-E contributions to the conquest of the air

LINDBERGH, flying blind much of the way, hit Ireland “on the nose” in his New York to Paris flight. Now, as an aid to air navigation comes the magneto compass, a product of General Electric research, which gives pilots a navigating instrument of extraordinary accuracy and sensitiveness. Tests have proved that the average pilot can depend upon this instrument to guide him to predetermined points though hundreds of miles away.

Meanwhile, two other General Electric contributions to aviation, have been developed—the electric gasoline gauge and the radio echo altimeter. The ordinary altimeter shows merely height above sea level. But the radio echo altimeter warns the pilot of his actual distance above ground or water by flashing green, yellow, and red lights on the instrument board—thus adding another important new safety factor to the traffic of the air.

By such research, General Electric maintains its leadership in every department of the electrical industry. The list of General Electric products runs into many thousands. On all of them, the G-E monogram is your assurance of electrical correctness and dependability.

JOIN US IN THE GENERAL ELECTRIC HOUR, BROADCAST EVERY SATURDAY AT 9 P.M., E.S.T. ON A NATION-WIDE N.B.C. NETWORK

95-682 H

GENERAL ELECTRIC

GERTRUDE BASS WARNER
Donor of Oregon's Priceless Museum

Let Us Meet the Orient Half Way

How Gertrude Bass Warner Views It

By GEORGE TURNBULL

"JUST AS surely as the sun rises, when you bless others you are blessed."

The speaker was Mrs. Gertrude Bass Warner, director of the Murray Warner Museum of Oriental Art at the University of Oregon, and she was discussing the work of such movements as the Institute of Pacific Relations in promoting an era of good will, mutual trust and understanding among the nations bordering on the Pacific Ocean, the waterway of tomorrow.

Mrs. Warner, through President Hall of the University, has been appointed a delegate to the Institute of Pacific Relations, to hold its session for 1929 at Kyoto, Japan, October 28 to November 9. Mrs. Warner, accompanied by Mrs. Lucy Perkins, curator of the museum, who has accompanied her to the Orient on two previous trips, sailed from Seattle on the President Pierce, October 5. She has not yet decided on the date of her return to the University.

The Oregon delegate is in entire sympathy with the aims of the Institute and with any movement or organization designed to smooth the contacts between the two sides of the Pacific. Probably no person in this part of the world understands better and sympathizes more with the aspirations and achievements of the people of the Orient in all the varied phases of civilization.

She feels assured that a more general understanding will return rich dividends in good will and in many blessings, spiritual and material, to all concerned.

The director of Oregon's Oriental Museum can see a close relation between the current of Oriental trade and the education of Oriental students in this country.

"Those, for instance, who have been educated in New York and have been well treated there, when they return home and take positions of leadership, as so many of them will do who have had the initiative and the courage to go so far away from home for their training, will tend to promote buying in New York where they have received their education and where they have been treated with the consideration due them. Orientals have a way of following out what they have started. If the people of one state have given them an honest deal, they are likely to continue their business relations there in spite of later attractions elsewhere.

"We in Oregon must hurry up if we want these students—if we want the friendly and profitable relations flowing from these intellectual contacts. Call the attention of the people of the state to the fact that in other states all over the country they are studying the literature, art, and history of the Orient, and many of the colleges and universities have their own museums. All have growing libraries on the various phases of these subjects. Oregon has made a start in courses, has a good and growing set of books, and, of course, the Museum. The international house, a recent development, is in line with what has been done and is being done elsewhere.

"We should feature our Oriental courses in the catalogs and feature the new international house."

Mrs. Warner had in her hands while in conversation recently with the writer of this article a little volume, China and Japan in our University Curricula, edited by Edward C. Carter. This book, issued by the American Council, Institute of Pacific Relations, shows the extent of the teaching in American colleges of courses on the two leading nations of the Orient. The University of Oregon, with three courses in 1927-28, stands above the average but below fourteen American institutions. Six other institutions offer the same number of courses as Oregon; 21 report two courses, and 69 one course. At the top of the list stand Washington, with 26 courses; California, 25; Harvard, 16; Stanford, 15; Columbia, 13; Pennsylvania and Chicago, 10 each.

The University of Oregon is one of the few which have museums including collections of Oriental art. Mrs. Warner points out that the people of Oregon should recognize that it is not the only one, and that some, including Harvard, Yale, and Pennsylvania, have very fine collections. California, Mrs. Warner said, has been interested in establishing such a museum, and she has some letters from that university dealing with the matter. The many large and growing libraries on the various phases of the literature, art, and history of the Orient stand in contrast with the condition a quarter of a century ago, when Mrs. Warner began her intensive study of Oriental art, at which time there were very few available books on the art of the Orient.

"We have here many Filipino students; they should be in the classes dealing with Chinese history and literature, since they are such near neighbors of the Chinese," said Mrs. Warner.

"At the University of Oregon we are trying to do what they are attempting at the other universities—to express friendship toward the students who have come a long way to study with us, who in a sense perhaps not sufficiently appreciated are the guests of our country. In this respect we are all assisting what the Institute of Pacific Relations is doing so much to promote—the most cordial good will among the peoples of the Pacific."

Mrs. Warner is not inclined to blame members of Congress for their occasional manifestations of unfriendliness toward other countries. "If we get together and tell our senators, through petitions and otherwise, 'We want you to do thus and so,'" said Mrs. Warner, "they will do it. It is up to us, the people, to do our utmost to bring about the right sort of international feeling."

"Why would it not be a splendid idea," she asks, "for the various fraternity houses to invite a number of Oriental students each week to be dinner guests? This would cultivate closer personal relations while at the same time promoting a better understanding of the aims and achievements of the nations represented. We hear complaints from the oriental countries that on the Pacific Coast their students are shut out from contact with the other students. To the extent that this is true, American students are losing an opportunity the value of which it would be hard to overestimate."

Mrs. Warner expresses delight with the vital interest shown by President Hall of the University of Oregon in the development of relations of friendship with the peoples across the Pacific. "In this Museum and the building in which it is to be housed," she said, the other day, "he recognizes a means of developing appreciation for the artistic achievements of other races. Thus it is a phase of the general movement for international friendship, and as such it has the president's warm support. Dr. Hall has been splendid in every way in encouraging me, and so has Mrs. Hall. They realize what we are trying to do, with the Museum.

"In Japan many years ago (during my years in the Orient I used to spend the hot months of the summer in Japan) while it was still too hot to go back to Shanghai, I went with Murray, my husband, to the museum in Nara. I calmly asked the director for permission to take some photographs of some things in the museum. I had begun to learn photography when I was 16. At that time I drew out $100—a whole lot of money—from my account, and bought a camera. Mother had a room fitted out for me in the basement of our house in Peterboro, New Hampshire, with running water and other facilities for developing pictures, and I had a lot of fun.

"So over in Nara I wanted some photographs of the objects in the museum. The guidebooks had no adequate descriptions of the art objects there. The things brought in were the property of the temples; one set would be brought to the museum and left there for a while, then removed, to be replaced by more. These could not be sold.

"The director asked me what I wanted to take pictures of; and I pointed out one thing in one room and something else in another, and so on. He said: 'You may take the pictures.' He and his helpers got out a stepladder and a board on which to fix the objects at the right height for photographing. One object, a beautiful statue, was in the center of the room, where it was too dark for a picture. At my request the director had it taken out to the veranda. This man was so grateful for an understanding of what his people had done in art. He didn't know me, had never heard of me, and yet he went to all this trouble, not grudgingly but most cordially. He gave me a letter of introduction to the director of the museum at Kyoto. I have these pictures yet, and have lantern slides of them.

"I had a statue, A Disciple of Confucius, in my front hall at Shanghai, a fine old piece of bronze," said Mrs. Warner. "It is now in the Smithsonian Institution. An English woman said to an American, in my hearing, 'What curious taste!'"

This is the sort of misunderstanding against which Mrs. Warner has been working for years and which is reduced by such collections as that which she has compiled for the University of Oregon Museum through years of study and travel and at an expenditure obviously heavy.

"If you have some understanding of the art of other peoples and the inspiration they have had in making things—whether bronzes, porcelains, painting, or tapestry, and you realize they are doing something we can't do, this brings a feeling of friendship and of sympathetic interest." Such is Mrs. Warner's feeling of the connection between art and international relations. The Museum of Oriental Art is, as she explains, an effort to establish an appreciation of the inspiration and the ability to carry out that inspiration, of the Chinese and Japanese peoples.

"In course of time, the trade across the Pacific will be enormous—vastly greater, I think, than Europe's. The development of the future may well be in the Orient." It is Mrs. Warner's view that, while interest in the arts of the Orient is worth promoting for its own sake, its bearing on the general relations between eastern and western peoples is important and it is one of the factors which will make it possible for America to profit from the great growth on which the lands of the Orient are now entering.

"In Japan in those early years of mine in the Orient when I looked at their architecture it did not connect up with the Gothic or Norman of my acquaintance. The Japanese had a different history; had been evolved to meet vastly different

President Campbell's Tribute To the Work of Mrs. Warner

As the date of the communication indicates to those who were a part of the University of Oregon four years ago, this message was written only ten weeks before the death of Prince Lucien Campbell, for twenty-three years president of the University of Oregon. So weak that he could not himself write the letter, the president dictated it to Mrs. Campbell, who sent it to Mrs. Murray Warner. It speaks for itself without further introduction:

* * *

June 12, 1925.

"Have you heard from Mrs. Warner recently? I wish you would send her a note for me. Give her my love. Not just an affectionate message; give her my love, and tell her as I have lain here in my bed I have come to realize, more fully, the great thing which she has done.—She has in a few short months, comparatively, set a standard for a whole state—a fine, high standard of appreciation for beautiful things, rare things. She has taught our people reverence for these things perfected by exquisite handicraft where skill and endless patience only have wrought the miracle. Not only this has she done in these months, but she has taught the reverence which means a deep longing to give adequate care, even to the minutest detail; the protection which looks far into the future, so that other generations may know the joy of possessing priceless things which have defied centuries of change.

"Isn't that a marvelous thing to have accomplished in a few months! But there is another thing, best of all: she has changed the thought of hundreds of people about another nation. She has made it impossible, in the minds of those who have found the message, to harbor petty spite, unjust judgments, and has replaced narrow, unthinking criticism with just discernment of a nation's worth.

"A building suitable to house this gift will come beyond a doubt—it must come! And it will come joyfully, and happily."

natural conditions, and I had to fill in a lot of missing background before I could properly appreciate this architecture. For the matter of that, this learning about Oriental art is an endless process; I am still learning, of course.

"I remember the first time I bought objects in China. In Shanghai a Scotchman named Murray had charge of an auction where they were selling some interesting-looking Chinese articles. I bought some pieces of brass. My husband looked at the smallest and most insignificant-looking object of the lot and said, 'Why, that's old!' I realized then that I'd have to study if I were to know anything of Oriental art."

Mrs. Warner's pioneer blood warmed when she found that there were no adequate books published in English on the subject of Oriental art in those days, and that she must, largely, blaze her own way. She said, "I'm bound to find out about those things." There are infinitely more books now, and Oriental art is much easier for the student than in the days when Mrs. Warner first undertook its study.

Mrs. Warner, who is the daughter of Perkins Bass and Clara Foster Bass, comes of a family several members of which have substantially assisted institutions of learning. Different branches of her family have made gifts to Harvard, Dartmouth, the University of Chicago, and Washington University at St. Louis; and her mother established a historical building at Peterboro, New Hampshire. Nancy Foster Hall, woman's dormitory, at the University of Chicago, was the gift of her mother's family.

Mrs. Warner had all this background of public service when she came to Eugene, where she was to bestow her priceless collection of Oriental art on the University of Oregon. The value may be guessed from the fact that the whole of the Fine Arts Building now under construction, except the offices and two rooms, one housing the rare Millican Indian collection, given by Mrs. Ada B. Millican, and the other some beautiful Japanese gifts, will be devoted to the Warner collection.

In her address before the University assembly last year Mrs. Warner described how the offer of the collection to the University of Oregon was made. Sam Bass Warner, professor of law and son of the donor, broached the subject to President Campbell, then at the head of the University.

With such modest brevity did Professor Warner refer to the matter in his conversation with President Campbell that the University executive was misled; he thought the University was being offered a corner "what-not" stand with a few small art objects; and when, with Mrs. Campbell, he was invited to Mrs. Warner's house to view the collection, he was amazed at the extent and obvious value of the proposed gift. He had in the meantime, however, expressed his delight with the offer; and he lived to see the growing exhibit housed in the new Woman's Memorial Hall and to start the great gift campaign which, among other worthy achievements, was to provide the priceless collection with a fitting fireproof housing.

Mrs. Warner is at her best when discussing either oriental art or the promotion of closer relations between the people of America and those of the Orient; then an animated smile gives one the distinct impression that the age assigned her in Who's Who must be a typographical error. She is a member of the American Federation of Arts, the American Association of Museums, American Association for the Advancement of Science, North China branch of the Royal Asiatic Society, the Asiatic Society of Japan, Meiji Japan Society, D. A. R., Colonial Dames.

Mrs. Warner's deep-set belief that there is nothing incompatible between patriotic Americanism and a keen regard for the excellences of other peoples makes her a peculiarly fitting choice for delegate to the Institute which she will attend in Japan this fall.

As I Remember Major Warner

By CAPTAIN PHILLIPS H. MALLORY

IN THE Fall of 1917, there were a number of second lieutenants assigned to the Quartermaster Corps, in the office of the Construction Quartermaster, Camp Dix, New Jersey. There were more lieutenants than there was work to be done. It was at that time, while making plans of the camp, that I became acquainted with Mr. Warner, who was a frequent visitor at the office for consultation with Captain Skinner and Mr. Fuller of Hazen, Whipple and Fuller. Mr. Warner was superintending the completion of the pumping station at New Lisbon and the laying of the pipe line to the camp. When this work was completed we saw more of Mr. Warner as he made his headquarters in the Quartermaster's office. Mr. Fuller and Mr. Chase, who had been in the office continually, had a very high regard for Mr. Warner, and we immediately fell under the spell of his wonderful kindness and friendliness of spirit.

I was surprised and delighted when Mr. Warner came to me one day and told me that he was going to be commissioned and become Utilities Officer of the camp. He then asked me if I would stay at camp and become one of his assistants in charge of buildings and shops. While I desired to go to the Quartermaster School at Jacksonville, Florida, I was very glad to change my intention and remain at Camp Dix under Major Warner.

Major Warner was very busy at this time as he was most particular in selecting and enlisting personnel for the Utilities Company. He went over the cards of all the men in the camp and interviewed those who had the proper technical education and trade knowledge and he made an excellent selection. His care was productive of definite results for the men became imbued with Major Warner's enthusiasm to get results, and forgetting all of their union customs, whenever it was necessary, worked day and night with a will. The first winter was a hard and cold one and we were often called out at all hours to fix frozen plumbing and defective heaters and insulation. Yet the men always responded to the call and did this work willingly and generally with enthusiasm.

Major Warner told me that Hazen, Whipple and Fuller had paid him for the work he had done for the Government. As he had come to Camp Dix to do his bit in a place where he would fit in, he deposited this money in the Wrightstown Bank and called it his "First Aid" fund. This money he drew upon to make loans or gifts to the needy enlisted men. Many of the loans were repaid, so the fund was kept going, but I imagine that many times the loans were turned into gifts when the man and his family were in need. At this time the allotments to the families of the men were not coming along as they should and there were many pitiful situations when a man's family and children were trying to exist and pay rent on what the man could send them from his pay of $30 per month. I know of several who did not receive any Government allowance for a six months period. It was these cases which Major Warner was glad to relieve, and he brought peace into many a man's soul by giving aid to his family when they were destitute. I had an inkling of how these things were being done for I saw Major Warner in many a conference with his men and often the check-book was taken out of his desk before the interview was ended. Later I learned from some of the men themselves how he had aided them and how much they thought of him for his kindness. Major Warner kept closer to the desk than any man I ever knew. He was there at all hours. Every evening would find him there. He was not always working, but he was eternally "on the job" ready for anything that might happen. It was during these evening hours that we all came to love Major Warner. Sometimes in the evening he used to hold a regular salon and we discussed everything under the sun. During these sessions Major Warner told of his experiences all over the world. His discussion of his China experience was so interesting that I will not be satisfied until I have seen that part of the world.

After Mrs. Mallory and I really had a home we were always most eager to have Major Warner with us. He would come frequently, but not as often as we wished. Mrs. Mallory was as enthusiastic about him as I was, and often asked me to bring him back with me. We have had many a fine evening in front of a big log fire listening to his experiences, particularly in China and the description of the Chinese robes he brought back with him and of so many of the typical Chinese inventions and novelties.

One time Major Warner's ire was aroused on account of the difficulty the doctors at the hospital were having with a big steam sterilizer. This had been placed by the doctors and did not have adequate foundation. The utilities force had been sent to fix it several times. Once again it did not operate. As the men in the utilities department were all busy the Major went to see the surgeon and get some of his men to jack it up and put a board under one side. They had been told to do this before. It seemed that the medical personnel was so far above manual work that the Major's anger was aroused. He took off his coat, hunted up a piece of 2 x 4, jacked the sterilizer up, put a board under one side, told the surgeon that that was the last time they would get any help in fixing the sterilizer and got all the way back to the office before he began to cool down. That is the only time I ever saw the Major the least bit excited.

While at New Lisbon a well was drilled to supply water for the boilers. The Major, interested in geology, naturally took an interest in the boring and the results of the well. About a year afterwards he was in conference with General Scott who had recently purchased the old Scott Homestead near Princeton. The General asked him some questions about the geology of New Jersey. The Major, remembering the information gained while drilling the well, was able to give him the exact information required. As this was a hobby of the General's, Major Warner's exact information gained his confidence. When the Major returned to the office, I remember his telling how he had been able to give this information to the general and his chuckling because the General had not expected to find him so well informed. The General had at first taken a little dislike to the Major on account of the Major's lack of military experience, but he came to have the utmost confidence and respect for the Major.

At the hospital one night there was a fire at the operating pavilion. This started about in the center and burned the roof both ways and destroyed some of the rooms and part of the ceilings. I was out of camp that night. When I got to the office in the morning I found that the Major had been making his plans over night so that the work of rebuilding was immediately started. Men and materials were on the site before 9 A. M. that morning, and the building had been re-roofed before they quit that night. The interior work requiring wiring was going on as well, and the entire repairs excepting painting, which had been started, were completed and the whole pavilion was functioning in three days. To do this required careful planning and organization and putting much pressure on the workmen, but it went through in fine style.

During the influenza epidemic at Camp Dix extreme care was taken to enforce every safeguard. In the barracks the beds of the men were placed as far apart as possible, with the head of one bed opposite the foot of the bed adjoining. Muslin partitions were put up. In each room a soldier was on duty night and day to immediately report any sickness, which was relieved if possible. Messengers were kept on duty at the office to go for the doctor when necessary. Suspicious cases were at once isolated, and if the men became sick they were removed to the hospital. Mouth wash and sprays were provided and guards stationed in the lavatories to see that the men used every precaution. The Major was up at all hours, supervising all arrangements, insisting that all precautions be taken, cheering up the men when they felt badly, and in many cases doing first aid work himself. The officers made hourly inspection during the night to see that all the windows were kept open, to note restlessness and to see that any man feeling sick was taken care of immediately. I am sure that if it had not been for Major Warner's interest in the men, his excellent supervision, and his whole hearted sympathy, affairs would have been very much worse in the Utility Detachment.

We had a great deal of construction work on our hands at this time. The hospital became so crowded that the porches were all occupied. It became necessary to hang and adjust awnings on all the porches. At first the carpenters, who were civilians, did not want to do this work, which was very unpleasant and they thought dangerous. They were, however, prevailed upon to get to work and realizing that they were doing their bit, they worked most energetically and soon had it completed. A little later a big unoccupied area was fitted up for convalescent patients. It was necessary to build passageways from building to building and from buildings to latrines. Again the Major prevailed upon the men to set to work and this too, was quickly completed.

The Major possessed wonderful patience and forbearance in dealing with his officers as well as with his men. One of his lieutenants was a night hawk and generally came back to camp in the wee small hours. It so happened that his room was next to the Major's. I have often seen the Major with a twinkle in his eye, ask this man at what time he got in. The answer was, "Oh a little after ten" or "a little after eleven." As the Major was a great reader, and did not generally put out his light till after midnight, he could easily hear the fellow crawling into bed, for the partitions were not sound proof. It was not easy to fool him but he showed great patience.

The Major knew his work so well, and he had such a wonderful knack of bringing out the best in his subordinates, that he made a very successful officer, and one that was loved by all who knew him.

President Hall Will Visit "Mothers," "Dads," and Alumni

By MARION PHY

THE ALUMNI will be interested to know that Mrs. Walter M. Cook, president of the Oregon Mothers, accompanied by Mr. Cook, of the Oregon Dads, some officers of the Oregon Mothers, and President Hall, are planning a trip through eastern, central, and southern Oregon. Their tentative itinerary is as follows:

October 21—Monday—Hood River and The Dalles.

October 22—Tuesday—Pendleton.

October 23—Wednesday—LaGrande and Baker.

October 24—Thursday—Burns.

October 25—Friday—Bend.

October 26—Saturday—Klamath Falls.

October 27—Sunday—Ashland.

October 28—Monday—Medford.

October 29—Tuesday—Grants Pass and Roseburg.

October 30—Wednesday—Marshfield.

The primary purpose of the trip is to enable Mrs. Cook to organize local groups of the Oregon Mothers and create greater interest on the part of the mothers in the University, its activities, and its student life. All the alumni will gladly recognize the splendid leadership of the Oregon Mothers in getting the legislature to appropriate funds for the University infirmary and the splendid campaign to raise money for that worthy purpose. The Oregon Mothers have practically completed their part of the campaign and they now wish to get their members interested in larger questions of University policy, particularly so far as the student life is affected. Anything the alumni can do to make the visit of Mrs. Cook and her party a successful event will be a most useful service to the University.

President Hall not only wishes to meet the Oregon Mothers, but also to renew his contacts with the alumni. It is hoped that alumni groups will find it possible to hold meetings either by themselves or in connection with the mothers' program, whereby they may have an opportunity to greet the president and to talk over the marvellous progress that the University has achieved. OLD OREGON bespeaks for Mrs. Cook and President Hall the most cordial and enthusiastic reception that our alumni can give. Let's all get together and make this visit of Mrs. Cook and President Hall a triumphant journey throughout the state.

MRS. WALTER M. COOK
President of the Oregon Mothers

Hotchkiss Trophy Won by Oregon

THE MEMBERS of the Reserve Officers Training Corps from the University of Oregon won the Hotchkiss Trophy for superiority in rifle marksmanship this year for the second time, during the encampment held at Vancouver Barracks, Washington, during the month of July.

This trophy is a silver Plaque and bears the following inscription:

*Hotchkiss Trophy presented to the institution having the highest average score of RIFLE MARKSMANSHIP
Reserve Officers Training Corps, Vancouver Barracks, Wash.,
by Lieutenant-Colonel Clarence R. Hotchkiss, Infantry Reserve, U. S. A., won in 1929
by the University of Oregon*

In addition to the University of Oregon, the University of Washington, Oregon State College and Washington State College were among the competitors this year.

Baby Gets Front Page Start

Professor George S. Turnbull, adviser of the Emerald and associate professor in journalism, is the father of an eight-pound baby boy. George Stanley Turnbull Jr. first saw the light of the world on September 10. Mrs. Turnbull was Mary Lou Burton, '23.

Already the baby has a good start in life, according to Mr. Turnbull, because he is the first member of the Turnbull family to break into print on the first page of the Oregonian immediately upon arrival.

While the baby has not expressed his preference as to vocation, Mr. Turnbull believes that he would prefer work on a morning paper—he works at night.

—Oregon Emerald.

The Summer Sessions Forge Ahead

By DEAN ALFRED POWERS

IT WASN'T so many years ago that Dr. Joseph Schafer was director of the summer school, and Jesse McCord—now a public school principal in Portland—was the live-wire president of the "500 Club." This kinetic organization had nothing to do with cards. Its widely promulgated purpose was to see 500 summer students on the green and umbrageous campus at Eugene. The number was highly prophetic; it was a sort of numerical perfection to be aimed at and neither Dr. Schafer nor Mr. McCord, in their sober moments, expected it to be realized. For—staggering thought—where were you going to find a half thousand people animated by such love of pedagogy and of learning as to spend six weeks of study at the University of Oregon summer school?

It was a stupendous number in those ante bellum days. But in the University of Oregon summer sessions of 1929 a total of 1,520 men and women were enrolled—225 more than were enrolled in 1928. That is the way our summer sessions are growing.

The attendance has jumped from 1,100 during the administration of Dr. Hall. When this dynamic and broad-visioned leader came out from Wisconsin, he saw what he considered one of the finest settings for a summer school in all America. So great was his enthusiasm that he wondered why anyone should want to go anywhere else to summer school. He set himself evangelically to finding out how the summer potentialities he saw in the University of Oregon could be realized. Along in November of the first year of his administration he announced his five-year plan for the summer sessions.

That policy was adopted and in the session of 1927 was put into effect for the first time. Students who had been indulging provincial inclinations to go out of the state to Stanford or the University of California or once in a while to the pedagogical mecca of Columbia, looked over the new catalogue and whistled in surprise. Why go to Columbia for Dr. Strayer in education or Shirley Long in the short story, only to find when you got out there that they were teaching in Oregon?

What happened to the prestige of going to some distant university, when you returned to find that your colleague had studied under more eminent professors at home? Dr. Henry Suzzalo, the year after he was let out at Washington, came down to Eugene to teach; Dr. Edward P. Cheyney, who wrote the fascinating histories we studied in high school, came out from Pennsylvania; Dr. Timothy Tingfang Lew, the eminent scholar, was brought from China. Such distinguished scholars supplemented outstanding members on the regular University faculty.

You are familiar with the slogan, "Give us men to match our mountains." Dr. Hall was providing a summer school to match them.

Three years of the five have passed—and the half way period represented by the 1929 summer sessions is the justification of this report.

In the 1929 sessions the regular schools and departments were well staffed and adequately represented with courses. Under the five-year policy this will continue to be the case, certainly, for the next two years. But the program of last summer was characterized by several outstanding features, some of them new and forming a part of the cumulative growth in the vision of the president. These features were:

1. The strong Graduate School.
2. The program in the School of Education.
3. The clinic for atypical children.
4. The coaching schools held both on the campus at Eugene and in Portland.
5. The platoon demonstration school held in Portland.
6. The post-session summer school to Alaska.
7. Introduction of new courses.
8. Commencement exercises held on the last day of the post-session.

The post-session, held for four weeks following the regular six-weeks session and meant in time to make possible a full summer quarter, has greatly strengthened the graduate program. By attending the full ten weeks a student can earn

THE FACULTY OF THE S. S. QUEEN

Left to right, front row: Dr. Wilmoth Osborne, Mrs. A. R. Sweetser, Mrs. Burt Brown Barker, Mrs. N. B. Zane, Mrs. Marion McClain, Mrs. W. D. Smith, Mrs. W. G. Beattie, Mrs. C. N. Reynolds.
 Second row: Mrs. Augusta DeWitt Godfrey, George H. Godfrey, Dr. W. D. Smith, Professor N. B. Zane, Marion F. McClain, Mrs. J. Duncan Spaeth, Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, Captain A. W. Nickerson, Vice President Burt Brown Barker, Mrs. Karl Onthank, Professor A. R. Sweetser, Karl W. Onthank, Professor W. G. Beattie, Dr. C. N. Reynolds.

STUDYING A GLACIER

On the Summer Session cruise to Alaska, students combined the advantages of study and travel. The cruise proved a big success.

a master's degree in three summer sessions. This practical organization has resulted in sequential courses that have not only made them of greater practical benefit for the one seeking a degree, but also of sounder academic value.

The School of Education works out courses in cycles so a student can be sure of being able to follow out a program that will be of the greatest benefit to his pedagogy and to his scholarship. As part of the summer offerings conferences are held and the schoolmaster's club meets regularly. The campus has become a meeting place for the administrative school men of the state. To give unity to the work, about two-thirds of the regular teaching faculty of the School of Education remain to teach each summer. Assisting these, distinguished professors, superintendents and specialists are brought in from the great universities and school systems of the country.

The program for the study of atypical children, started two years ago, was conducted as a clinic last summer. Teachers attended from all over the Pacific Northwest. The staff consisted of Dr. Grace Fernald, of the University of California at Los Angeles; Dr. B. W. DeBusk; and Miss Ruth Kneeland, research director of the Modesto, California, public schools. The curriculum consisted of three courses dealing with the problem child. Next year Dr. Fernald will return, Dr. DeBusk's services will again be available, and Dr. H. D. Sheldon, dean of the School of Education, is making plans with the director of the summer session for a more extensive clinic in 1930.

The summer school of athletic coaching, which for several years has been a feature of the Eugene session, last summer was repeated for two weeks in Portland. The regular coaching staff of the University—Virgil D. Earl, Captain John J. McEwan, William L. Hayward, and William J. Reinhart—gave instruction in football, basketball, girls' basketball, baseball and track. During the first two weeks of the regular session, the Eugene courses were held; during the second two weeks, the Portland courses were given at the Multnomah Athletic Club.

The platoon plan, or work-study-play plan, of school organization has been extensively adopted in the United States during the past few years. The Portland summer session has cooperated for five years with the Portland public schools in making platoon education courses available. Three of the leading specialists in this field in America have been secured for three different summer sessions. Last summer the final cooperative step was taken by the Portland public schools and the University. The Shattuck School, a few blocks from Lincoln High School, where the regular summer classes are conducted in Portland, was converted into a school with about three hundred pupils in attendance. This training school served as a practical laboratory for the students who came from as far East as Toledo, Ohio, to take advantage of the opportunities. Another platoon demonstration school is planned for the Portland summer session of 1930.

The most dramatic summer feature was the cruise to Alaska for a period of two weeks, followed by two weeks of study on the campus at Eugene. The Steamer Queen, of the Admiral Line, was chartered. Students and faculty, to the number of exactly 185, filled every berth on the ship. Classes were held daily on board, with appropriate field trips whenever the steamer docked for a sufficient period. Courses were given in art, botany, geology, education, English, journalism, library methods and anthropology. Karl Onthank, executive secretary, was director and the staff consisted of Professors Nowland B. Zane, A. R. Sweetser, W. G. Beattie, W. D. Smith, Mabel McClain, and George Godfrey, all of the regular University faculty, and of Dr. Charles N. Reynolds of Stanford and Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth of Princeton. The trip was so successful in every way that plans are being made for another trip of similar nature next summer. The cost was held down to $140 for each student.

New courses were introduced last summer, both in the regular six weeks session and in the post-session. In the latter, science courses were given for the first time, with a significant attendance, particularly in chemistry. In the regular sessions a series of geography courses were popular with students.

In the past, students who completed work either for the bachelor's or master's degree waited until the next January for documentary evidence of their graduation. Last summer the first summer Commencement was held. This will become a permanent feature of the summer sessions.

Such, in outline, is the development of the University of Oregon summer sessions on the campus at Eugene, in Portland, in the post-session, and on the high seas—a three years development out of a carefully planned five.

Growth is not the only criterion. A Portland bank, in seductive billboards at bridge approaches, invites customers to patronize a small bank. It is a contradiction to amuse highly discerning Menkens looking out of street cars.

All the excellence that has characterized the University of Oregon summer sessions while they have been small, would be too much a price to pay for mere bigness. The one excellence will be retained while the other is being secured—that is very definitely a part of the five-year plan.

Alumnus Praised

Judge Edwin L. Garvin, formerly of the Federal Bench of the Eastern District of New York, was a Portland visitor on July 30 and called upon the various Federal officials connected with the Department of Justice.

During a conversation with Colonel Clarence R. Hotchkiss, United States Marshal, it developed that Judge Garvin is an associate in New York with Clarence M. Eubanks who graduated with the Law Class of the University of Oregon in 1911 as a classmate of Colonel Hotchkiss. He spoke in highest terms of this Oregon alumnus and stated that he was becoming one of the leading commercial lawyers of the great metropolis and now represents several large security companies.

Dads Will Celebrate November Second

By GEORGE H. GODFREY

DAD will have his day at the University of Oregon this fall, and a real day it will be, starting with the business meeting in the morning, luncheon at various fraternities at noon, the U. C. L. A.-Oregon game in the afternoon, the big father-and-son banquet in the evening, and a snappy, fast and exciting smoker will follow in McArthur Court.

"Dad's Day," now an annual institution at the University, comes this year on November 2, and already the dads themselves are making plans for a day of real collegiate fun. The game will be the main attraction, and at this the fathers plan to make real "whoopie." A special rooting section has been set aside, C. C. Chapman and another dad or two will again be yell leaders, and the Oregon spirit that is to be generated is expected to excel even that of the students themselves.

The banquet this year will be a real meal, served in spacious McArthur Court. There will be ample room for every father and every son, and a program that will be just long enough is being arranged. Immediately after the banquet the tables will be pushed aside and all will gather round for an evening of boxing, wrestling and entertainment such as only college students can concoct for the hard working dad.

By the time this number of OLD OREGON reaches you, student and University committees will be working with the Dad's committee that is to be named by President Bruce Dennis, and the three groups will arrange every little detail so that all the dads will have to do is to come and enjoy the festivities. Earl M. Pallett, University registrar, famed afar for his ideas on entertainment, is cooperating with Tom Stoddard, capable and efficient president of the student body, and the twain will have a number of items of news to spring in forthcoming communications that will go out to all members of the Dad's organization.

In a week or so letters will be sent to all dads, associate dads, past-dads and grand-dads, asking them to let the University know whether or not they will be present for the big event, and what reservations they want. All features of the program will be thoroughly described at this time, except possibly one or two surprise events.

The "Oregon Dads," an organization formed by the fathers of students of the University, started out in a modest way two years ago, when President Hall asked the fathers to come down here, attend a basketball game and meet to talk over problems of the University with him. Interest was so keen, and on top of that all fathers had such a good time, that it was decided to make the organization permanent, and to pick a football date for the next session.

The second annual meeting was a huge success in every way, with fathers flocking here from every part of the state. The day was made up of a series of events, each of which was of keen interest to every father here. For the first time many dads saw the campus of the University, saw the hall or fraternity in which his son lived, and met and talked with University faculty men and officials. The banquet in the evening was lively, with good food, good speeches, and what was most valuable of all, warm companionship on the part of everyone.

This year a new record for attendance is sure to be set, early returns and letters from fathers indicate. The entire University has fallen into the spirit of the day, and all here will do everything to help "dad" have a good time, and incidentally, the students themselves expect to enjoy a day with the "old man," showing him about, telling him of this and that, and perhaps bragging just a bit about the things in which each is interested.

A spirited contest is already under way among the fraternities and dormitories on the campus, for two loving cups for the most "dads" on hand are to be offered living organizations. The houses that carry off these cups will have something to be proud of, and all are working hard for them. Just one or two dads may make the difference here, so if you are hesitating just a bit, better come on!

The Dad's organization always aims to have its share of fun during the year, but there is serious work for the organization to do as well, the dads themselves have pointed out. Naturally every father is interested in the university his son is attending, and is anxious that it shall be as up-to-date and as fine a school as possible. University problems therefore are prime considerations for the organization. If the opportunity is seen to assist the institution, the fathers have always been quick and willing to cooperate during the existence of the organization. Many valuable suggestions have come to the administration from fathers who have visited here, and Dr. Hall has gone to this group for advice and counsel on some of his most important problems.

Jim Gilbert Plays "Hooky"

FOR THE first time in twenty-two years, Jim Gilbert, '03, will not face a class in the economics department at the University of Oregon. During this long period of service

Dr. Gilbert has missed but few classes and has never been late at the opening of any class exercise for which he was responsible.

He will leave about October tenth on an extended tour of the middle West and the East, visiting eight or ten universities and colleges and studying new developments in the field of higher education. He is particularly interested in survey and orientation courses for freshmen, lower division advisory systems, the improvement of college teaching and appointments, tenure and promotion of staff members. He will aim to take up residence at several institutions and take a week or so to study problems of university administration. The tour will take him to Columbia University, where he received his doctor's degree in June, 1907, and which he has not visited since he left.

JIM GILBERT, '03

The fact that the itinerary tentatively planned takes him to Miami, Florida, in December suggests that he is interested in something besides educational reforms, possibly the Mediterranean fruit fly.

Picture of the PORTRAIT OF MRS. P. L. CAMPBELL Painted by Sydney Bell, of Portland,
 and Presented to the UNIVERSITY OF OREGON
 by a Group of Her Friends

At the presentation ceremony held early in October in Susan Campbell Hall, where the portrait is hung, high tribute was paid to Mrs. Campbell—her devotion, her courage, and her splendid spirit and dignity. The presentation address was made by Mrs. Eric W. Allen; President Hall accepted the portrait for the University and Helen Jean Hoyt accepted it for the girls of the Hall.

Book Receives International Recognition

IN A communication from the British Museum, in London, the Oregon School of Journalism has just been notified of a very unusual type of honorific recognition which the Museum authorities have bestowed upon the quality of the School's laboratory work in typography.

The Museum, on the occasion of the International Typographic Conference, which was held in London in April, decided to recognize the event by a special exhibition in the King's Library, of representative items of the world's finest printing chosen from books in the possession of the Museum, which maintains the largest library in the world. The exhibit was to represent all countries, but was to be limited to work produced since the World War. Twenty-seven books were selected for the section devoted to the United States of America, and among these was Education and the State, Prince L. Campbell's Philosophy of Public Education, Printed as a Memorial by Members of the Last Class that Remembers him as a Teacher.

The book chosen for this international recognition was the regular annual "project" for 1927 of the senior class in advanced typography, working under the supervision by mail of Dr. John Henry Nash of San Francisco and directly under Professor Robert C. Hall. The members of the class that year who actually produced the book were Lewis Beeson, Milton George, Calvin Horn, Genevieve Morgan and Ray Nash. The expenses of the work were provided for by a list of newspaper editors and publishers and supply men, who furnished contributions to establish the John Henry Nash Fine Arts Press as laboratory for the School of Journalism. The book was issued as a limited edition; only 150 copies were printed. These went to the contributors, to the students who did the work, to a few distinguished friends of the University, to relatives of President Campbell, and the rest were deposited by Dean Allen in the greatest libraries of the world, including one for the British Museum.

The other items of the twenty-seven chosen for the London exhibit represent some of the greatest American names on the roll of famous printers and every item aside from the Oregon book was the work of a generally recognized expert. These included: Bruce Rogers, the Grolier Club, D. B. Updike, Atlantic Monthly Press, Earl Widtman, the Pynsons, Princeton University Press, Frederic and Bertha Goudy, John Henry Nash, Carl Purington Rollins, Windsor Press and T. M. Cleland.

News of the University Faculty

By MRS. RALPH CASEY

SEVERAL members of the University staff who were in Europe during the past year on leave of absence for travel and study, have resumed their work in Eugene.

Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, dean of women, returned to the campus after a year's leave of absence in California and Europe. Mrs. Esterly undertook research work in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Finland on education for women in those countries. She visited many of the higher general schools and universities. Her longest stay was in Denmark, where the folk schools have had an interesting and extraordinary development. She was accompanied by her daughters, Josephine and Virginia.

Dr. Donald G. Barnes, professor of history, was the holder of a Guggenheim fellowship. For the greater part of the year he worked in the British Museum, obtaining primary source material for a biography of Henry Pelham, prime minister of England from 1743 to 1754. Dr. Barnes, who is a sports enthusiast, was drawn away from his historical research a few times to see several important tennis tournaments. At 4:30 o'clock one morning he and Mrs. Barnes left their London lodgings to get to Wimbledon in time to join the queue of spectators awaiting the opening of the gates to the courts where the championships were to be played. Their patience was rewarded when they saw Allison and Van Rhyen, the American pair, capture the doubles championship. At the French national tourney in Paris, Dr. Barnes marveled at the play of the methodical and machine-like La Coste and the extraordinary doubles skill of Borotra.

Dr. and Mrs. Barnes spent a holiday in southern France and Italy. The Oregonian professor returned to Eugene from his year abroad with eighty pounds of research notes, a dozen pair of fine English golf hose, a large number of rare volumes in his special field, Eighteenth Century England, and vivid anecdotes of British personalities and events.

Exactly a year and a day after she sailed from New York, Mrs. Clara Lynn Fitch, formerly secretary of the administrative offices of the University, arrived back in America from Europe after an interesting sojourn there with her daughters, Mary, Elinor, and Janet. The family of Fitch spent the greater part of the year in Paris, but did not neglect the interesting cities of the United Kingdom and Italy. An Oregonian reunion was contrived when Mrs. Fitch and her daughters, together with Ted Ruch and Alfonse "Scoop" Korn, Rhodes scholars from the University of Oregon, journeyed to the French Pyrenees and spent the Christmas holidays in a Basque village. They had a Christmas tree with holly decorations and yuletide gifts and Ruch declared the trip prevented a homesick feeling which he had felt creeping on at the approach of the holiday period.

Dr. Edwin T. Hodge, professor of geology, and Mrs. Hodge are at present on a leave of absence abroad. Mrs. Hodge will spend the year in Paris, where she is studying art, but Dr. Hodge will return to his work at the University in the Spring.

President Hall was at his desk in Johnson Hall during the greater part of the summer but in August attended the meetings of the Social Science Research Council in Hanover, New Hampshire, and later he and Mrs. Hall, with their daughter, Grace Elizabeth, had a short vacation in Michigan. Dr. Hall returned with the announcement that the Social Science Research Council had accepted his recommendation that a Pacific Regional Advisory Committee should be appointed to profitably encourage social science research on the Pacific Coast. This committee, which will be composed of social scientists from the three Pacific states and British Columbia will help in carrying out the policies of the Research Council and will encourage research activities within the several universities and colleges of this area.

Dean George Rebec, in company with Amos Burg, explorer, writer, and former Oregon student, did not follow the usual beaten paths of travel during the summer. The two men made a 1,600-mile canoe trip along the Athabaska, Slave, and Mackenzie Rivers to the Arctic Ocean. The trip was featured by a ten-day cruise on the Great Slave Lake, the fourth largest body of water on the continent, and Dr. Rebec journeyed more than 175 miles to attend a ceremonial meeting of several Indian tribes. Dean Rebec may have eschewed philosophy, but he couldn't give up the habits of the scholar, even if he had only a short time for a bit of anthropological study. Dean Rebec came back with admiration for the Canadian Mounted Police, an organization which he described as a "high grade of men with high morale, fine personalities and high traditions."

George Verne Blue, assistant professor of history, spent the summer travelling in the Orient. Professor Blue offers the courses in the history of the Orient and visited China and Japan at the close of the Spring quarter to make first-hand contacts and investigations.

Dr. Dan E. Clark, assistant director of the Extension Division, and his family are now in Washington, D. C., the first leg of a journey that will take them to Europe. Dr. Clark, whose academic rank is professor of history, will work for a time in the Congressional Library on certain historical studies before sailing abroad.

After two years' leave of absence, Professor Ralph D. Casey of the School of Journalism, has returned to Oregon from the University of Wisconsin where he took the doctor of philosophy degree in political science with minor work in journalism. Dr. Casey was graduate fellow in political science last year and in 1927-28 was a part-time member of the staff of the Wisconsin school of journalism. Edwin H. Ford, who substituted for Dr. Casey on the Oregon faculty last year, has joined the staff of the University of Minnesota school of journalism as assistant professor.

Dr. Louis A. Wood, assistant professor of economics, has returned after a year's absence at Yale University where he was at work in the graduate school on problems of labor relations, particularly relating to the Railway Brotherhoods.

Pat Morrissette, instructor in English, is back in his office in Villard Hall and his friends confidently predict he will put on paper the poems he did not have time to write during the past year when he held a fellowship in English at Princeton.

Several members of the Oregon faculty resigned at the close of the Spring term to accept teaching posts elsewhere. Dr. Harry A. Scott, director of the Department of Physical Education for Men, undertakes new work at Rice Institute, Texas, as director of athletics and physical education; Dr. Merton K. Cameron has become head of the department of economics and commerce at the University of Hawaii, Honolulu, and Dr. Delbert Oberteuffer of the Department of Physical Education for Men resigned to direct work in health education and recreation for the State of Ohio.

At the close of the summer session many of the faculty left the state for vacations in less familiar environments. California attracted Dean Eric W. Allen, of the School of Journalism, and Mrs. Allen; S. Stephenson Smith of the Department of English, who worked on a book on criticism in Monterey; Alfred H. Schreff and Mrs. Schreff, of the fine arts faculty, who were at Carmel, W. F. G. Thacher, professor of advertising, and Mrs. Thacher, professor of music, visitors in San Francisco. Mrs. Thacher and Mrs. Otilie T. Seybolt, director of dramatics, visited Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and other southern California cities and saw a "talkie" in the making at Hollywood. Mrs. Seybolt studied the work of several of the outstanding Little Theatres in California.

Dr. C. V. Boyer, head of the Department of English, motored with Professor Ernest G. Moll and Professor Leslie L. Lewis in Oregon. Later Dr. Boyer got his first glimpse of Mt. Rainier from Paradise Valley, paid a visit to Seattle, the Hood Canal country and Victoria.

Two Oregon alumni have returned to the Eugene campus this Fall as full-fledged members of the faculty, Ralph Hoerber, A.B. '21; M.A. '23, as assistant professor of English in charge of the work in debating and argumentation, and Walter E. Hempstead, A.B. '29, as instructor in the same subjects.

Professor Hoerber obtained the degree of doctor of jurisprudence at Stanford University last June after completing his thesis on the subject, Blue Sky Law Legislation in the United States, but for the past two

(Continued on page 41)

FACULTY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

This picture was taken for OLD OREGON after the first faculty meeting this Fall, and although not all the faculty members are present, alumni will find many familiar faces. It has been almost impossible to name them in rows, as our faculty, being distinctly individual, refused to stand in straight military formation, but we trust that in case of difference of opinion as to the location of some professor OLD OREGON will not be judged harshly. They are left to right:

Front row: Felix Legrand, John Rae, E. D. McAlister, Dean J. H. Gilbert, Dean John Straub, L. O. Wright, C. B. Beall, A. R. Sweetser, R. R. Huestis, R. P. Bowen, President Arnold Bennett Hall, C. L. Kelly, R. J. Williams, N. B. Zane, W. D. Smith, H. C. Howe, Timothy Cloran, Kurt Reinhardt, C. G. Howard, M. H. Douglass, J. E. Hewitt, Percy Collier, E. P. Schmidt.

Second row: C. G. Howell, George Turnbull, H. B. Yokom, Dean George Rebec, W. E. Milne, E. S. Conklin, E. E. DeCou, E. L. Packard, Carlton Spencer, Waldo Schumacher, Orlando Hollis, Major F. A. Barker, J. D. Barnett, Captain C. H. Bragg, Dean H. D. Sheldon, Dean D. E. Faville, J. A. Johnston, D. R. Davis, P. P. Adams, Dan Gage, Mrs. Alice Henson Ernst, Mrs. Ottilie Seybolt, Miss Kathryn Bailey, Ernest Geilhorn, W. F. G. Thacher, V. G. Sorrell, W. G. Beattie.

Third row: A. B. Stillman, O. K. Burrell, George Robbins, J. H. Bond, A. E. Caswell, H. S. Tuttle, George Williamson, S. S. Smith, A. R. Moore, Ralph Hoerber, Donald Barnes, John Mueller, Dean C. E. Carpenter, George Hopkins, Paul Ager, L. H. Johnson, Walter Barnes, Roy Bryson, Gustav Müller, H. J. McCormick, R. D. Cool.

Back row: O. L. Barrett, R. W. Bock, Dean E. F. Lawrence, John Stehn, Elton Edge, Arthur Boardman, M. J. Mueller, Dean J. J. Landsbury, E. H. McAlister, O. F. Stafford, Miss Margaret Daigh, Miss Janet Woodruff, Miss Grace Ash, Miss Margaret Duncan, Miss Victoria Avakian, Miss Ethel Sanborn, Miss Mozelle Hair, Mrs. Dorothy Gurley Fish, Miss Florence Alden, Leo Friedman, Miss Lillian Tingle, Karl W. Onthank, E. M. Pallett, Miss Anna Thompson, F. G. G. Schmidt, F. L. Stetson, Miss Mary Perkins, Miss Julia Burgess, R. D. Casey, Dean J. P. Bovard, Lieutenant J. E. McCammon, E. R. Knollin, Lieutenant G. F. Herbert, Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Schwering, A. M. Vincent, J. R. Mez, Wayne Morse, Dean E. W. Allen, E. P. Kremer, F. L. Shinn, James Reinhardt, W. R. B. Willecox, L. S. Cressman.

This Football Question--What's the Answer?

By DELBERT ADDISON

HERE was a doubtful period when alums all over the country got together and wailed over what had befallen their alma mater and sighed for the "good old days" when athletic teams were athletic teams, and the flying wedge and the dead man play brought glory to the sturdy sons of Oregon—and then there came a change, and how.

Of course, things had been changing for some time, but most of those who were not actually working the miracle did not realize what was happening until last year. With unfailing consistency the conquering Webfoots walked over their ancient enemy, the Aggies, in football, basketball, baseball, track, relays, swimming, tennis and golf.

The Aggies were not the only ones to feel the spiked heel of the Oregon warriors. The Webfoots took almost as many individual championships as all other Northwest schools combined.

In football, the big game, Captain McEwan's efforts bore fruit and the somewhat mythical Northwest title was annexed. Six games were won and two lost. Washington, Oregon Aggies, Montana, U. C. L. A., Honolulu Town Team and University of Hawaii were the victims. California and Stanford downed the big green Oregonians.

The basketball team—ah yes, ballyhooed as the greatest ever—fell through with a sickening thud in spite of the best that Billy Reinhart could do. It was the first failure for Billy since he established his team as a real threat for the Coast title. Instead of "giving him the bird" for the crop failure in basketball, the authorities added to his titles by putting him in as varsity backfield coach in football.

With the aid of a few new stars and a few old standbys, Bill Hayward's track team stiffened up and beat the Aggies although no championships were sighted. Eddie Moeller broke the world's discus record by throwing it better than 160 feet. He is now making a strong bid for the fullback position on the varsity team.

The new major sports—swimming, tennis and golf—did more than live up to expectations, with a championship in each one. The swimmers lost only to Stanford and won over the Northwest field. The net men brought home the Northwest team title and the Pacific Coast doubles championship.

Don Moe annexed the Pacific Coast golf crown and with George Will won the Coast team championship. Harrison, Lockwood, Almquist and Neer tied Texas for the national tennis championship, and kept the wires humming all summer with their campaign through the East.

That's what the boys did last year, but now we must look to the present. What is going to result when the team takes the field against Idaho, and Washington, and the Oregon Aggies, and all the rest of them? Oregon plays more games than any other Coast conference eleven, with nine major encounters. The last conference go is with the Aggies, Homecoming, but there are left three tough post-season games. First Hawaii at Portland, then St. Mary's at San Francisco, and last Florida at Miami.

Campus Movie Is to be Featured Soon

ALUMNI throughout the state will have an opportunity of vividly re-living their college days again when "Ed's Co-ed," the University campus movie, starts out on its tour of the state. The film, which may have a new name by the time it is shown here early in November, is a feature length production and all the action takes place on the campus.

The movie already has the sanction of the University committee appointed by Dr. Hall to preview it, and students on the campus are eagerly awaiting the "world premiere" which will be held in Eugene soon.

Under the direction of James F. McBride, cameraman from Hollywood, the picture was produced by an all-campus all-star cast headed by Dorothy Burke, and Vern Elliot, two talented students from Portland. Providing the fun for the story are Phyllis Van Kinnell and Norman Eastman, the latter a roly-poly good natured youngster who provokes mirth with ease.

The filming and production was and is under the direction of Carvel Nelson, James Raly and Ronald Hubbs. George Godfrey was faculty advisor.

Definite dates for presentation in various Oregon cities will be announced soon, those in charge state.

*Here's the Oregon
Football Coaching Staff
This Year*

*Reinhart,
Shields,
McEwan,
Callison,
Riggs, Hayward.*

Captain Dave Mason

*The Quarter-ton
Babies,
Colbert and Christensen.*

*"Cap"
McEwan,
Head Coach at Oregon for Fourth Year.*

Back row: Lillis, Colbert, Hall, Stadelman, Christensen, Archer, Wood and Shields. Front row: Robinson, Kitzmiller, Mason, Williams and Donohue.

OCTOBER, 1929

VOL. XX, NO. 1

JOHN W. NELSON,
Advertising Manager

JEANNETTE CALKINS, EDITOR

M. BOYER,
Circulation Manager

OLD OREGON is issued monthly during the College year, and is entered as second-class matter at the postoffice, Eugene, Oregon. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917. Subscription price $2 a year.

PUBLISHED BY THE

University of Oregon Alumni Association, Eugene, Oregon

JOHN C. VEATCH, '07, President

JAMES T. DONALD, '15, Vice President

MARGARET BANNARD GOODALL, '04, Vice President

JEANNETTE CALKINS, '18, Secretary Treasurer

Speaking of Brass Tacks

THIS time of year Captain McEwan is bombarded with the same old question: "Well, what are we going to do this year?" And from the old grad that question means "Can we beat the Aggies?"

Captain McEwan probably turns the question and talks about the weather; but OLD OREGON has another word to say. If we were approached we'd answer like this:

"Well, look what Oregon did last year! The Webfoots walked over the Aggies (or the Staters if you know what we mean) in football, basketball, baseball, track, relays, swimming, tennis, and golf. And how!"

Yet somewhere, in the back of memory, we seem to remember an Aggie slogan "Smear Oregon; it's a habit." It sounds just a little bit pale in the light of that last year's record.

You'll have to get another slogan, Oregon State!

The Friend of Freshmen

DEAN STRAUB dropped into the Alumni Office one day this week. He said he had just come from greeting the biggest and best freshman class—"honestly it is this time!"

He said, too, that he dreaded to think of the time when he would not be in active duty on the campus. This is his last year as a teacher at Oregon, and although he will hold the title of Emeritus Dean of Men as long as he lives, "Still," he said, "it won't be the same. It would break my heart if the girls and boys here on my own campus would pass me by without knowing me; if they should say, 'Who is that old man?'"

It seems impossible to think of such a time. Dean Straub, loved by generations of Oregon men and women, with his kind humor and wit and his friendliness, will always be needed on the campus. No one can take his place. There is no such thing as "retirement" for Oregon's grand old man.

Those Questionnaires

LA TE in the summer questionnaires were sent to all alumni and former students listed on the alumni files. The response has been splendid. Every mail has brought returns. And everyone of the returns is being checked with our file and corrections made when necessary.

There are some alums who have said, "No need for me to send that in; my address hasn't changed; I'm in the same place and doing the same thing."

But we want the questionnaire returned just the same. We want to know that it is correct now; on each card a tiny date is placed next to the address to show when that address was last verified. Once a year at least that date should be changed to show that it has been checked and is correct.

If you are one of those who have not yet returned the sheet, won't you please do so at once?

Some of Our Troubles

HA VE you ever studied the style of a magazine? By "style" we don't mean the color on the outside cover, no, nor the quality of the paper. This time we mean an "up-style" or a "down-style," and a grandfatherly or a flapper view of spelling.

No, you haven't? Well, page some of the journalists, who can listen to our tale of woe.

OLD OREGON is trying to adopt an "up-style," which means that we capitalize most anything we can get our hands on. And we have had our troubles; for it isn't as simple as it sounds to be consistent.

We plead with you for patience, and just to help confound our critics we quote from Havelock Ellis on the subject of spelling:

"The laws of spelling, properly speaking, are few or none, and in great ages men have understood this and boldly acted accordingly. They exercised a fine personal discretion in the matter and permitted without question a wide range of variation . . . More anemic ages cannot endure creative vitality even in spelling and so it comes about that, in periods when everything beautiful and hand-made gives place to manufactured articles made wholesale, uniform and cheap, the same principles are applied to words and spelling becomes a mechanic trade. We must have our spelling uniform, even if uniformly bad."

They Were Willing

The editor of Judge last year wished to fill two lesser jobs on his staff and so he sent out queries to 82 college humorists. He got 81 replies! And most of the collegians were willing to quit school at once if they were offered the jobs.

Oregon Alumnus Writes Verses

UNDER the pen name of Arthur Jonson, an Oregon grad of the class of 1923, has been gaining no little attention for his poetry. "Art" Johnson, was well-known on the campus for his singing and work in the dramatics department. Some fifteen different magazines have carried his poetry and eight of his poems have been reprinted in various anthologies. Braithwaite's for 1928 carried this poem:

NORTHERN DEATH

Against the promise of the meagre sun,
They set the chances of their shrinking store
Of food surviving till the blessed thaw.
The wood-pile, that had loomed so large before,
Seemed dwindled, much as though some parasite
Of fuel had gorged himself and, so replete,
Gone out to brave the hunger of the night.

From either window, to the north or south,
The long reiteration of the snow
Stretched dismal leagues of cold monotony,
Disturbed but by those sad blue winds that blow
Sharp silhouettes of drifts against the sky,
Dull gray, a dirty circus canvas spread
Above the prisoned drama of their lives,
With everything in sight asleep or dead.

When spring has sent her quivering touch again,
They break no sun-splashed trail to liberty.
They set no crackling, spiritizing song
To echo far across the thawing sea.
The grubbing tools they stored behind the door
Remain untouched, except by crafty rust.
They sleep to wake and sleep again no more.

This was a reprint from Voices published by Harold Vinal.

Johnson has made a study of Chinese poetry and has written much in the Chinese style. He also has written a series of Poems for a Chinese Anthology, all of which are based on Chinese originals. Four of these poems were printed in The Lyric West and have been included in Dean's The Book of American Poetry, 1788-1928, a volume that is planned in such a way as to give a complete review of American poetry. These poems are:

THE THREE PRINCESSES

In the land of Sim
Three princesses,
Young and beautiful,
Are seated on the white strand,
Their eyes roving the sea
Searching for a ship to carry them far away
To that joyous land—
That should exist—
Where maidens are happy.
The sea is blue.

In the land of Sim
Three princesses,
No longer young, no longer beautiful,
Are weeping
As they stand on the white shore.
The sea is blue.

In the land of Sim
Three princesses,
Grown old,
Grown voiceless with age,
Squat on the white beach.
They play with the sand,
They shower it in their hair,
Thinking it is flower petals.
The sea is blue.

NARCISSUS

Narcissus petals floating on the river,
Should you see at Tien Ouan
A pensive young girl seated beneath a cinnamon tree
That has known two blossomings
Since first we kissed,
Tell her that I inhale a carnation
And so keep ever with me her perfume.

PLEA

Balm night, moonlight,
Perfume of the plum tree:

Give my love a dream so enchanting
That, impatient to see me,
She will come at dawn
And tap at my door.

Perfume of the plum tree,
Balm night, moonlight:

I shall wake to her caresses
If you have attended my pleadings.

LAKE NANHOU

Lake Nanhou ripples the autumnal moon
Reflected in its jade waters.
My oars' splashing
Interrupts the song which the love-imbued waterlilies
Sing to the moon.

A fifth one of these poems appeared in The Echo and was reprinted in The Echo Anthology.

GIRL AT THE MIRROR

In the moonlight she stands, motionless before her mirror.
She turns her head,
riotous with uncombed hair.
The effect is that of a shell covered with sea weed.
She turns her head;
she smiles at a flowering cherry branch from which she pulls the petals, which circle slowly downward.

Mr. Johnson is now in New York City where he is a concert singer.

Bend Alumni Organize

BEND alumni have organized an alumni club which promises to be a live-wire organization. They have already had two meetings, a large picnic during the summer, and a fall meeting at the home of Dr. J. C. Vandeventer, '21. Reports from Bend say that there was a good-sized crowd, that everyone had a fine time, and that plans have been made for several gatherings during the winter. Officers for the year are: Mrs. Laura Rand Terril, '21, president; Dr. Fred Lieuallen, M.D., '05, vice-president; Mrs. Katherine Kirkpatrick Reeves, '15, secretary-treasurer.

NEWS OF THE CLASSES

1880

In the Alumni Office there now hangs a large picture of the Class of 1880, left here through the courtesy of Mrs. Mae Underwood McClaine of Spokane, whose husband, Adolphus F. McClaine was a member of the class. The picture is made up of individual pictures of the twenty members, each of which is set in an oval cut into the wooden frame. The frame itself is decorated with leaves wrought in wood and makes a most interesting background. Recently Dr. and Mrs. Geary of Portland, both members of the Class of 1880, called at the Alumni Office and identified the individuals and left a record of their names. This class will hold its fiftieth reunion next June and plans are already underway to make it a great occasion. The picture will be treasured in the Alumni Office and will be placed on display when the members return for their reunion. Mrs. McClaine to whom the picture belonged, is a former student at the University. She attended school on the opening day of the University, and OLD OREGON hopes some day to carry a story on her reminiscences.

1882

It is with regret that OLD OREGON records the death of Mrs. Margaret Sergent Conn, who passed away at her home in San Diego on May 25, 1928. Mrs. Conn was from Phoenix, Oregon, and was a well known teacher in Jackson County.

1883

Word has been received of the death of Lincoln Taylor on July 14, 1929. Mr. Taylor was graduated in 1883 from the Normal Department of the University of Oregon and therefore with other members of that department automatically received the B.S. degree which was conferred on all graduates of the Normal Course by action of the Board of Regents in June, 1890. Mrs. Taylor is a former student at the University having attended summer session. She is living near Cottage Grove.

1884

Reverend William Carson Taylor, pastor of the Blacksburg, Virginia Baptist Church finds time to write numerous articles for the journals and has written one book. He is one of the chaplains of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He writes that his daughter, Alice, is teaching school; his son, Francis, is still studying surgery at the University of Virginia; and that Lucy is a junior at Westhampton College at the University of Richmond.

1885

Royal F. Reasoner, in answer to a recent questionnaire gives his occupation as "fruit farmer, and bee keeper." Mr. Reasoner lives in Winters, California.

1890

Mahlon C. Harrison, ex-'90, writes in answer to our request for news: "I attended the University in 1886 and 1887 under President Johnson and Professors Bailey, Hawthorne, Collier, Straub and Woodcock. Later I studied law and was graduated from the law department in 1894 under Professors Thornton, Bellinger, Gilbert, and others. My study of law was only for the purpose of better fitting myself to prosecute the adjustment of marine losses and to intelligently underwrite marine insurance which I had already begun. My previous occupations had been successively 'before the mast' as officer on American sailing vessels and later in shipping offices having to do with the loading, discharging, chartering, repairing and handling of ships in general. I have spent nearly half a century in connection with ocean transportation and its concomitants, feeling that a man had better learn all angles of one occupation and stick to that. The results have proven satisfactory." Mr. Harrison retired in 1923, and is living in San Francisco at the Fairmont Hotel.

About two years ago Robert Catlin Wright was stricken with polio-myelitis (infantile paralysis) and since then has been unable to follow his profession of the law. A year at the Roosevelt Foundation in Warm Springs, Georgia, restored his general health, but he is still crippled and confined to his home in Portland. He believes that there are many more people right here in Oregon now suffering from this terrible affliction than is generally realized.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Linn live at 574 Laurel Street, Portland. Mr. Linn is president of the Pacific Coast Linen Mills at Vancouver, and is also with the Industrial Organization Financing Company, Portland.

1892

Thomas G. Greene has law offices in Portland in the Porter Building.

1893

Judge Lawrence T. Harris, attorney in Eugene and former Justice of the Oregon Supreme Court, was operated upon October 1 at St. Vincent's Hospital in Portland. The operation was for goiter. His condition is reported most satisfactory by the hospital staff.

1894

Mrs. Sue Barnes Helms, ex-'94, lives at 416½ North Jersey Street, Portland. Her husband is employed with the Union Pacific. Her son, George Helms, married a graduate of the class of 1925, Helen Armstrong, and OLD OREGON has recently had news of the birth of an infant daughter to the couple.

Clarence Elmer Adams, ex-'94, writes from Tulare, California where he is office accountant for the Linder Hardware Company. His two children, Leslie Oliver and Raymond Elmer, are nineteen and thirteen years of age, respectively.

Ada Pearl Thomas is a trained nurse in Portland. She is doing industrial nursing, and is employed by the O. W. R. R. and N. Company at the Albina shops where she is in charge of their Albina Emergency Hospital. She has held the position since 1914.

1895

William Holman Barber, ex-'95, besides being superintendent of the Camas Municipal Water system, is city police judge and justice of the peace. Mr. and Mrs. Barber (Lillie Seely, ex-'07) have three daughters.

Dr. E. De Witt Connell, ex-'95, physician and surgeon, is specializing in diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat. His address is 628 Salmon Street, Portland.

Mrs. Edith Kerns Chambers left Eugene early in October to spend two months in California. She has rented a house at 202 North Granada Street, Alhambra. Her mother, Mrs. Kerns, and Mr. Chambers' mother, Mrs. Martha Chambers, accompanied her south and will spend the two months with her in Alhambra.

1896

It is with regret that the Alumni Office records the death of F. R. Blochberger on May 27. Mr. Blochberger, who received the degree of LL.B. from the University, was owner and publisher of the "Mt. Pleasant News" of Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Katherine Hanna Bester has recently sent in a change of address since she has moved to Bend, Shevlin-Hixon Camp 1.

Mrs. Lydia Yoakam Horsfall, ex-'96, has her days well filled with work. She teaches piano, is director of the Cham-inade Club and the Episcopal Church choir, and is the department music chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary of Oregon. Her son, Dr. George Horsfall, '24, is at the Presidio, San Francisco where he is a first lieutenant in the army. He has been given a promotion and is now in full charge of the general surgery ward in the hospital there. Marion Horsfall, '27, is teaching public school music in Glendale, California.

Frank Forest Freeman is an attorney at law in Portland. Major General Creed C. Hammond, ex-'96, and Mrs. Hammond spent several weeks visiting in Eugene the past summer. They sailed early in September for Manila where General Hammond is insular auditor. He is a close friend of Governor-General Davis, with whom he was associated in Washington, D. C., as chief of the Militia Bureau of the War Department. There are 5,000 American troops stationed in the Philippines.

General Hammond's new position involves the responsibilities of auditing and passing upon all claims, accounts, and expenditures of the Philippine civil government, the office being similar to that of comptroller-general and director of the budget in the United States. His deputy, and the entire office force are Filipinos. General Hammond attended the University of Oregon from 1889 to 1892.

1898

Mrs. Samuel Wachenheimer, of Providence, R. I., formerly Miss Therese Friendly of Eugene, visited her sister, Mrs. Dean H. Hayes (Rosalie Friendly) in Portland during the month of August. While in Portland, Mrs. Wachenheimer spoke to the legislative and international relations departments of the Portland Federation of Women's organizations. Mrs. Wachenheimer is peace chairman of the Providence, R. I., section of the National Council of Jewish Women and peace chairman of the Providence League of Jewish Women's clubs, numbering eighteen organizations.

1899

Alfred K. Mills, ex-'99, resident of Annville, Pennsylvania, was in Eugene during the month of August, visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Harris. This is the second visit Mr. Mills has made to Eugene since leaving school. The first time he was back was three years ago, during the "Trail to Rail" celebration.

Albert B. Ferrera, ex-'99, has offices in the Stock Exchange Building, Portland. He is a lawyer and Royal Consular Agent of Italy. In connection with his duties as consular agent, he publishes a weekly newspaper, "La Tribuna Italiana."

1900

Dr. Clement Wood Bales, M.D. '00, left his home in Seattle early in September for an auto tour of the United States. He planned to go first to Boston, then down the Atlantic coast to Florida, and after spending the winter there to return to Seattle in the spring by way of New Orleans and San Diego. Dr. Bales retired from practice nine years ago.

Walter B. Dillard, county clerk of Lane County, receives mail in care of Box 759, Eugene.

1901

Mrs. Sadie Atwood Martin, as assistant matron of the Oregon Cottage at the Children's Farm Home, Corvallis, is helping to care for, train, and educate twenty-four boys, ranging in age from four to fifteen years. She writes: "Our cottage is called the Oregon, so I feel it particularly fitting that an alumna of the University should be interested here. Oregon alumni would find this Farm Home a worthy object of their interest and attention. The entire staff here are very busy, trying to conserve about one hundred and fifty of Oregon's younger generation for good citizenship in our state."

Walter Whittlesey and his elder son, John, were in Maine during the summer. Mr. Whittlesey, professor at Princeton, was with a camp for boys.

Dr. Leo Ricen, M.D. '01, has recently returned from six months' study and research abroad. A specialist in internal medicine, the causation of pernicious anemia engaged his attention principally. Among the places he visited are Paris, Prague, Rome, Venice, Florence, Naples, Genoa, Geneva, Lausanne, Zurich, Vienna, Salzburg, and Linz.

Drs. Octave J. Goffin and Marie Miller Goffin, both graduates of the University of Oregon School of Medicine, are living at 425 Cardinell Drive, Portland. Dr. Octave Goffin is practicing medicine, and has an office in the Mohawk Building.

1902

Oregon State College granted to Hopkin Jenkins last June an honorary degree of L.L.D. Mr. Jenkins, principal of Jefferson High School, Portland, received his B.A. from Yale in 1900, an L.L.B. from Oregon in 1902 and an M.A. from Yale in 1907.

Roy W. Glass, who received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Oregon, was in the general merchandise business in Portland for six years, but left that field to enter educational work. After holding the position of superintendent of schools in several Oregon towns, he went to Raymond, Washington, where he is serving his eleventh year as superintendent.

1903

Mrs. Ella Travis Edmunson manages the credit department of the Willamette Collection and Credit Service in Eugene. Her daughter, Margaret, entered the University in 1926 and last year during her junior year was president of the Y. W. C. A.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Durand (Mary Withers, ex-'06) and two children are in Los Angeles. Mr. Durand, ex-'03, is manager of the Slawson and Vermont branch of the Bank of America of California.

Thomas West Hammond, ex-'03, lieutenant colonel of infantry, is now teaching at the Army War College in Washington, D. C. The elder of his two sons, Thomas West Jr., was graduated from West Point last June and is a second lieutenant in the army, assigned to the 12th infantry; the younger son, Chester, is a cadet at West Point, having finished his first year at the Academy in June. Colonel Hammond is himself a graduate of the United States Military Academy.

1904

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Travis (Alta Eastham, ex-'11) are located in Portland. Mr. Travis, ex-'04, is practicing law. Mrs. Travis teaches ballet at the Travis Studio of Classic Dance. Not long ago, she attended a convention of teachers of dancing held in San Francisco, and is now introducing new classes in spanish work, and tap-clog.

Lula W. Currin is in Cottage Grove. She lists her occupation as "a high school teacher."

1905

Mrs. Marion Mac Neill Girard, ex-'05, now lives at 286 Fairfax Terrace, Portland. She has one son, Alfred.

"Grayhaven," Milwaukie, Route 10, is the home address of Mary A. Gray, teacher of history in Washington High School, Portland.

1906

Mrs. Florence DeBar Stackpole, Don Meldrum, ex-'06, and Mrs. Doris Parker Meldrum, ex-'06, were all on the dock at Ketchikan to welcome summer session people as they landed from the ship Queen. Mr. Meldrum is surveying vast spruce holdings of the Zellerbach Paper Company, having been in Alaska for nearly five years, spending his winters in Seattle.

Mrs. Victoria Mitchell Crow is principal of the grade school at Ellsworth, Washington.

1907

Foster Collins Gibson, ex-'07, is district manager of the Edison Storage Battery Supply Company with headquarters in Seattle.

Dr. William Harley Glafke lives in New York at 1175 Park Avenue. He received his M.D. from Northwestern University in 1911 and is now a physician and gastroenterologist in St. Luke's and Woman's Hospitals in New York city.

Reverend Elbert Beebe is serving his twentieth year in active ministry, and is now moderator of the Essex-Champlain Association. The Association has its annual meeting at Ticonderoga, New York, in October.

Dr. Clara W. Waffle, M.D. '07, of Astoria attended the American Medical Association meeting in Portland for medical women in July. "It was a wonderful opportunity to meet some of the shining lights of the Medical Women's National Association," she writes. "They seemed greatly impressed with our great western country as well as with the work being done by the western women M.D.'s."

Law is the profession of Daniel Ernest Hardin who has offices in the United States National Bank Building in Vancouver, Washington.

1908

Walter M. Berry is a consulting gas engineer with offices at 726 Petroleum Securities Building, 714 West Tenth Street, Los Angeles.

Lloyd E. Bellman, ex-'08, is on Easy Street. He says so himself. At least he gives his address as 404 Easy Street, Downey, California. He is a grower of "Sunkist" oranges in what he calls "the land of Sunshine, Fruit and Flowers." Mr. Bellman used to be with the United States National Bank of Eugene some years ago.

R. Roy Booth, ex-'08, was recently elected to the office of president of the Eugene Chamber of Commerce. His election brought forth many complimentary comments from the Eugene papers indicating that in civic affairs Mr. Booth is considered a potential leader. He is also the president of the Eugene Rotary Club.

Ann Lauer Baum, a niece of Henryette C. Lauer, is now a sophomore at the University, majoring in sociology.

On June 20 Wallace Caulfield Wood, eldest son of W. H. Wood, ex-'08, and Clara Caulfield Wood, '08, passed away in Oregon City, a victim of infantile paralysis.

1909

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Smith live in Portland at 690 East 20th Street North. Mr. Smith is president of the Pillsbury Astoria Flour Mills Company. Mrs. Smith was Irene Simington, ex-'10. Their younger son John celebrated his eleventh birthday in September; the older son, Edgar L. II, is seventeen.

1910

Clarence A. Steele is assistant treasurer for the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church. He has his office at 156 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Harper Jamison is owner and manager of The Book Store, McMinnville.

Dr. James C. Bartlett, M.D. '10, practices medicine and surgery in Ontario, Oregon.

1911

Clarence M. Eubanks, New York lawyer, member of the firm of Sanborn and Eubanks, has recently been elected to membership in the New York Real Estate Securities Exchange and has purchased a seat on the Exchange. "This Exchange started operating October 1. It will operate on the same plan as the New York Stock Exchange but will deal exclusively in high grade real estate securities. Its business will be National in scope."

A two months vacation trip covering some 8,000 miles was enjoyed this summer by Mr. and Mrs. Myron W. Getchell. They left Washington, D. C., where Mr. Getchell is associate editor Decimal Classification, early in July and went directly to Toronto, Canada. From there they took the Canadian National Railway to the Pacific Coast, touching Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, and then Eugene where they visited Mr. Getchell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simoon Getchell, 1372 Oak Street. Two weeks were spent at Nye Beach, Newport. Late in August the return trip was started which took them to Salt Lake City, Colorado Springs, and to Norman, Oklahoma, where they visited Mrs. Getchell's people. While in Eugene Mr. Getchell gave a lecture before the Library Science class at the University on the Decimal Classification and cooperative cataloging. Mr. Getchell volunteered a comment on OLD OREGON. He said: "I doubt if there is a finer alumni magazine published. It is attractive in make-up and interesting in content. I especially enjoyed Professor Dunn's recent articles. Tell him to do some more!"

Varnel D. C. Beach, ex-'11, has changed his office address to 1016 Public Service Building, Portland. He was formerly in the Northwestern Bank Building. He is vice president of the L. B. Menefee Lumber Company, president of the Burlingame Company, secretary of The Highlands, Inc., secretary treasurer of the La Dee Logging Company, treasurer of the Columbia River Timber Company and of the Peninsula Mill Company, and vice president of the Wyoming Western Oil Company.

Stanley Paul Young, ex-'11, principal biologist, Bureau of Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, has charge of control work as well as the essential research work devoted toward predatory animals and injurious rodents. He began his work with the Biological Survey in the fall of 1917, and was given his present position in February, 1928. The personnel under him now totals nearly 900 people, and the work covers the entire United States as well as the Territory of Alaska. Mr. Young in addition to his work with the Biological Survey, has had success as an author, particularly in the field of natural history. Sears and Company of New York has recently published "The Last Stand of the Pack," written in collaboration with Mr. Arthur Hawthorne Carhart, and run as a serial during the past year in the "Red Book" and "Blue Book" magazines.

F. Claude Stephens is minister of the Dufur Christian Church. He has two children, a grown daughter and a son, ten years of age.

An article by Naomi Williamson McNeill on the subject of educational dramatics is published in the October number of "The English Journal." Mrs. McNeill in addition to making a home for her husband and two children, is doing private teaching in the speech arts.

Since his graduation with the law class of 1911, Walter Burrell Gleason has practiced law except for two years and some months spent in the army during the World War.

Mrs. Thomas Burke (Juliet Cross) whose home is at 1033 North Shore Drive, Chicago, spent the summer in Oregon visiting her family. During her visit, the death of her father, Judge H. E. Cross, occurred at Gladstone, the family home. Mr. Burke received a B.A. from Oregon in 1914.

Verner Arthur Gilles holds the position of assistant chief geologist to the Northern Pacific Railway Company. Aside from general geological work his time is largely devoted to supervising coal mines on the Northern Pacific Railway land grant. Mr. Gilles' headquarters are in Billings, Montana.

1912

Nelson Gammans, ex-'12, is in New York city practicing law. He specializes in appeals, litigation, commercial and investment banking, and public utilities.

N. R. Clem, ex-'12, is at Great Falls, Montana, where he is liquidating clerk at the U. S. customs office. His duties are to check all import entries of merchandise, and compile statistics for his office. Mr. Clem knew President Campbell when he was president at Monmouth, from which Mr. Clem was graduated in 1897.

Harold C. Bean, M.D., for the past three years a member of the Oregon State Board of Health, is now president of the organization.

Ross Farnham lives in Bend where he practices law and holds the office of district attorney for Deschutes County.

Dr. Julius H. Garnjobst, M.D. '12, physician and surgeon, lives at 490 Oak Street, Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. Canfield (Ruth Merrick, '12) are at 610 Seventh Street, Oregon City. Mr. Canfield, ex-'12, handles loans, investments and insurance.

Mrs. Homer B. Jamison (Jean K. Allison, '12) died in Fresno, California, on August 15 following a major operation. Just two months before her death Mr. and Mrs. Jamison and their two children, Oliver, thirteen, and Mary Katherine, eleven, moved to Fresno from Kansas City where they had made their home for the past two years. Mr. Jamison had accepted the position of sales manager for the Sugar Pine Lumber Company of Pinedale, a town just seven miles from Fresno. Jean Allison was a charter member of the Oregon chapter of Delta Delta Delta sorority, and both she and her husband have been active in alumni circles in Portland, Baker and Enterprise, where they have made their home at various times. Oregon men, fraternity brothers of Homer Jamison's, acted as pall bearers at the funeral which was held in Finley's Chapel in Portland. Mrs. Jamison was buried in the Jamison family plot in Riverview Cemetery, Portland.

"Dick" Down, ex-'12, is director of publicity for the Fresno County Chamber of Commerce, Fresno, California.

"Druggist" is the occupation listed by Lloyd Ordway Harding, 1006 Main Street, Oregon City.

1913

Jacob Feldman, 672 Locust Street, Portland, is a manufacturing chemist.

Captain Walter R. McClure of New York City has been visiting his mother and his sister, Nellie McClure, '18, in Eugene. Mrs. McClure came west with him and is visiting relatives in Astoria. Captain McClure has been stationed with the 18th Infantry at Fort Hamilton.

Grace M. Hartley is starting her ninth year as physical director in the Palo Alto Union High School. She writes that she would be glad to meet any Oregon alumni who are taking advanced work at Stanford University.

Mrs. Lucile Abrams Thurber is an artist and is living at 20 West Columbia Street, Colorado Springs, Colorado. Her little daughter, Diana, will be a year old this winter.

Marjory Cowan, concert manager and northwestern representative for Arthur Judson Musical Bureau, sent the following information when she returned her alumni questionnaire. "I took a short vacation this summer from the music business in order to do the publicity for the Moroni Olsen Players' season in San Francisco. The Olsens had a most successful season and will return there next spring for the same number of weeks. The work of Janet Young, '14, was praised very highly by the San Francisco press and the company received the praise of every critic as presenting the finest ensemble acting the city had seen for many a day. After I finished that, my sister, Ruth Cowan, ex-'21, who is a concert manager in Los Angeles, and I went home to Marshfield and spent a most marvellous vacation. I am now back at my desk beginning work on my winter's concerts. Ten of the artists whom I represent will be heard in concert in Seattle this winter, and in all the towns in the northwestern part of the United States and British Columbia, concerts are being given by artists under my management. It is a busy world but very, very interesting."

"School and Society" for September 14 carries an article by Karl W. Onthank, executive secretary of the University, on "Oregon Consolidates Government of Higher Educational Institutions," a statement of the essential provisions of the act creating the Oregon State Board of Higher Education.

1914

Scott Foresman and Company have just published "Objective or New-Type Examination," by Giles M. Ruch, professor of education, University of California. The January 1929 OLD OREGON stated that Dr. Ruch had just completed the volume, a book on testing, and was finishing an MSS in collaboration with Dr. G. A. Rice. This second volume, "Specimen Objective Examinations," is on the press.

Wallace B. Caulfield has moved from Oregon City to San Francisco, where he has taken the position of sales manager for W. S. Ray Company, manufacturers of oil burners.

Charles A. Fowler Jr. received an M.S. degree in education and sociology at the first annual University of Oregon Summer Session Commencement in August 1929. The subject of his thesis was "A Study of Retardation in the Portland Elementary Schools." Mr. Fowler is supervisor of school attendance in the Portland Public Schools.

Dr. Mell A. West, M.D. '14, is a physician and surgeon in Cheney, Washington. He has five children, four boys and one daughter.

Vernon Granding Corkins, ex-'14, an electrical engineer, is employed as general foreman for the southern district of the Puget Sound Power and Light Company. His address is 1438 Washington Avenue, Chehalis, Washington.

Dr. George Clark Dunham, M.D. '14, major in the medical corps of the U. S. army is director of the Department of Sanitation in the Medical Field Service School, Carlisle Barracks, Carlisle, Pennsylvania.

Dr. William P. Murphy attended the convention of the American Medical Association in Portland during July and conducted a clinic on "Diagnosis and Treatment of Anemia" before the physicians attending the convention. Dr. Murphy has two children, Priscilla Adams and William Perry Jr. He is a practicing physician in Boston with offices at 311 Beacon Street. He is also an instructor in medicine at Harvard medical college. Dr. Murphy said he had a very pleasant visit with Dr. and Mrs. William F. Allen and their son, Horace, who visited in Boston in August when Dr. Allen attended the "Thirteenth Physiological Congress."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Ehinger (Aline Noren) a boy, on September 8. The baby, who weighed nine pounds six ounces, has been named Nelson Noren. The Ehingers live in Dover, Delaware, where Mr. Ehinger is director of the Elizabeth W. Murphy Memorial School.

Laura Hammer is commencing her eighth year as teacher of mathematics in Franklin High School, Portland. During the summer she and Emily Marshall, '23, drove over the state in the interests of the Fine Arts Building. They visited many alumni and brought to the Alumni Office a number of changes of address and some interesting bits about alumni in Oregon.

"Golf handicap reduced to twenty-two," writes F. H. Young, "with prospects of early reduction to twenty—That's News." Mr. Young's new business address is 203 Guaranty Building, Portland. In addition to his duties as associate editor of the "Oregon Voter," he has the editorship of "Chapman's Financial Weekly," of which he is co-owner. The Portland chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's journalistic fraternity, will be headed during the year by Mr. Young who has been elected president of that organization.

Tracy Edward Griffin, ex-'14, has law offices in the American Bank Building, Seattle.

Jesse R. Kellems was married in New York City on September 16 to Miss Inez Toledano. Soon after the ceremony, Dr. and Mrs. Kellems sailed for Italy where they plan to be for the year. Upon their return, they will live in Berkeley. Dr. Kellems received a B.A. degree both from the University and the Eugene Bible University in 1914, and in 1926 received a Ph.D. degree from the University of Edinburgh. In 1929 he was granted his D.D. and B.D. degrees from the Eugene Bible University. "Glorying in the Cross" and "Deity of Jesus" are two of the books which he has published.

1915

William R. Boone says, "I have not seen an Oregon man or woman since I left Eugene with my degree in 1915. I saw a notice in the local paper the other day concerning negotiations between the University of Florida and Oregon for a post-season game at Miami. I will sure be there if that materi-

In Portland!

UNIVERSITY folk find at the Heathman Hotels that atmosphere of character and refinement to which they are accustomed.

Located in the center of the business and shopping districts, the Heathman Hotels are popular among those visiting Portland on business or social affairs. Close to shops, theaters and downtown clubs too.

- 530 outside rooms
- 5 hours of organ music daily
- Tub or shower baths
- A sincere spirit of HOSPITALITY
- Home of KOIN Radio Station
- The finest CUISINE in the west
- Ask our clerk for current copies of OLD OREGON and the Emerald.

The Heathman Hotels

G. E. HEATHMAN, Owner

GEO. M. KING, Mgr. CHAS. C. PIERCE, Mgr.

PHONE AT. 5262

alizes. I have about a year's work at the University of Florida and my degree from Oregon. Naturally I will root for Oregon."

Charlotte Strong Sears is keeping very busy "running a gift shop, keeping house, and writing a book." She has left North Carolina and is now at 12 Chapin Avenue, Rocky Hill, Connecticut.

Russell M. Brooks, ex-'15, is at present stationed at Belfast, Ireland. He is United States consul to Ireland.

Genevieve Cooper lives at the Mallory Hotel in Portland. She is employed with the Steers and Coman Concert Bureau.

William Dale Chessman, ex-'15, president of Chessman-Le Sieur Corporation, realtors and sub-dividers, writes: "Since 1922 have operated large real estate sub-divisions in Los Angeles, Florida, New York City, and Chicago. Am addicted to golf (seemingly no cure) and see others from Old Oregon digging divots around here, namely Jimmy Vance, ex-'19, Bob Langley, '17, and Joe Sheahan, ex-'17. I appreciate OLD OREGON very much, especially those human notes about the wanderings of the broods of yesteryears." Mr. Chessman's address is 101 North Irving Boulevard, Los Angeles.

Aaron H. Gould Jr., ex-'15, is vice president of Blankenship Gould and Keeler, investment bankers of Portland.

William H. Burton spent part of last spring studying Russian elementary and rural schools and brings back a number of interesting observations. Mr. Burton has just been promoted to a professorship at the University of Chicago and this summer added two new books to his series, one on supervision, and one growing out of the basic research upon normal school instruction being done under his direction at the University of Chicago. One of these books was written during the author's stay in Oregon last year.

Joseph William Hammond, 607 22nd Avenue, San Francisco, is a salesman for the Radio Phonograph Division of the Edison Distributing Corporation.

At the state convention of the American Legion Auxiliary held in Salem, August 8-9-10, Mrs. Callie Beck Heider was elected to the office of vice-president of the Department. For the past year Mrs. Heider served as district committee woman for the first district. In 1927 she went to the National convention in Paris, as a delegate from this state.

Beryl Albert Green, ex-'15, is practicing law in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Green and two children, Elsie Lou and Beryl Jr., live at 1291 Wiberg Lane.

"Housewife," is the occupation given by Ellen Vanvolkinburgh Pitney, whose home is at Junction City, Route two. Mr. and Mrs. Pitney have two children, aged ten and five years.

Rex I. Putnam, B.A., M.A. '29, is beginning his seventh year as superintendent of the schools in Redmond. He says, "but in spite of that fact Redmond continues to be the best town in the state of Oregon." Mr. Putnam has two children, Roger, twelve years old, and Tex, nine.

Donald G. Knox, ex-'15, is now living at 230 Lorna Avenue, Long Beach, California. He is a production engineer in oil fields there.

1916

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Jordan, a son, on July 26, 1929. The baby was named Joseph Leonard. Mrs. Jordan (Grace Edgington, '16) was Alumni Secretary and editor of OLD OREGON for three years and also served on the teaching and administrative staff of the University. Len Jordan owns and operates a sheep and dairy ranch in Eastern Oregon. Their mail address is R. F. D., Joseph, Oregon. The Jordans have one other child, little Patricia Jean, who is two and a half years old.

Mac Neill, who has been spending the summer in Oregon, has returned to Honolulu, where she will resume her teaching of English in the high school.

"I spent a gorgeous summer in Honolulu with my young son, Jerry, my mother, and my sister, Neta Miller Bailey, '18, who is also an alumna, and her young daughter," writes Gertrude Miller Sullivan. Mrs. Sullivan lives in Dunsmuir, California, where her husband is assistant superintendent for the Southern Pacific Company.

Agnes Weatherston, ex-'16, is teaching history in the Richmond, California, High School.

Mrs. May Benson Johnson, editor and publisher of the "Madras Pioneer," commemorated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the central Oregon newspaper on August 29, by the publication of a special edition. Local history of Jefferson County was featured. Mrs. Johnson has been publishing the "Pioneer" since January 1925, succeeding her late husband W. E. Johnson, former publisher.

Mrs. Palm Cowden Stout, ex-'16, and her husband have recently purchased a home on Broadway Avenue in San Francisco.

A daughter was born on July 19 to Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd O. Dawson (Mabel F. Goynes, ex-'18). The little girl, who has been named Joyce Evelyn, has a brother, Cloyd Jr., 10 years old. Mr. Dawson at present is serving the Illinois Pacific Glass Corporation of San Francisco as assistant secretary.

While in Berkeley for a few days last summer the editor saw Charlie Fenton Clarke, formerly University of Oregon Alumni Secretary. Mrs. Clarke is now secretary to J. F. MacKenzie, manager of athletics at the University of California. Dudley Clarke, '10, prominent in football annals of Oregon, is salesman for Edward Lowe Motor Company of San Francisco, distributors of Lincoln motor cars and Fairchild aeroplanes.

May Neill paid a visit to Mrs. Claire Raley Mitchell in Walla Walla, and Mrs. Leura Jerard Bowler, '18, in Pendleton late this summer. Miss Neill spent the greater part of the summer in La Grande and Portland. She returned to Honolulu in August to resume her teaching in the McKinley High School. She has taught in the Islands for six years.

L. V. Halbrook, ex-'16, is employed by the Standard Oil Company in Los Angeles. He holds the position of superintendent of sales sub-stations.

Vernon George Garrett, ex-'16, is secretary-treasurer of W. R. Carithers and Sons, Inc., of Santa Rosa, California.

Walter E. Church is a member of the firm of Morris H. Whitehouse and Associates, Architects, Portland. He has two children, Dudley, aged eight years, and William, aged two.

1917

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lloyd Bayly have moved to Los Angeles where Mr. Bayly is assistant sales manager for southern California with the General Petroleum Corporation. They have been living in Portland. Their address is 709 Higgins Building, Los Angeles. Mr. Bayly was on the campus from 1913 to 1915. Mrs. Bayly was Jeanette Sewall, ex-'17. Edward Lloyd Jr. is two years old now.

Paul E. Chesebro, ex-'17, works with the U. S. Forest Service as executive assistant, Klamath National Forest. He is located at Yreka, California.

Frank Loomis Beach, manager of the bank division in the sales department of the Burroughs Adding Machine Company in Detroit, has three daughters, Virginia Louise, four, Nancy Ellen, two, and Agnes Ann, born this year.

Mrs. Madge Barry Tufts, ex-'17, is living at 121 12th Street, San Francisco. Her husband is practicing medicine in San Francisco.

Mrs. Florence Dickinson Marsh has a life full of varied activities according to her list which she sent in on her questionnaire recently. "Housewife, homemaker, Sunday school teacher, student at University extension art classes in Portland, worker in Community Chest," are just a very few of the things which take up her time.

We received a bit of interesting news from Mrs. Margaret Hawkins Jones recently. She writes, "Mr. Jones and I have just returned from a five months' trip to Australia, New Zealand and the South Sea Islands. In Sydney we visited Mr. and Mrs. Stanford Anderson (Marion Grobel, ex-'20) the former representing the McMillan Lumber Company in Australia."

Dorothy Wheeler was married on Saturday, July 27, to Lieutenant-Commander Lawrence Allen Odlin in New York. Dorothy spent several weeks visiting her parents in Eugene prior to the wedding and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler accompanied her back to New York for the event. Her husband is with the Supply Corps of the United States Navy. Their home will be in New York City, 151 East 83rd Street.

Louise Allen Holmes (Mrs. Frank Graham Holmes) is still with the "New York American," although she is now selling display advertising instead of conducting "The Peggy Column" which she has handled as an advertising feature of the "American" for some time past. Her address is 7 East 84th Street, New York City.

Soon after his discharge from the army in 1919, Jaul Jones Norcross, ex-'17, became connected with Manning's Inc., importers and roasters and retailers of coffee. He was with Manning's in Seattle for four years, and for the past five years he has been in Los Angeles where he holds the position of resident manager of the firm. He writes that he has not been in Eugene since the war, but frequently runs across old Oregon friends and hopes in the near future to attend a Homecoming.

"Housekeeper," is the occupation listed by Mrs. Jeannette Wheatley Rowland on her alumni questionnaire. She adds: "I'm afraid the details would only bore you, but I do everything conceivable for one home, one husband, and two lively youngsters."

THE FAR-FLUNG PARTS OF AN ORGANIZATION, ITS DEALERS AND ITS CUSTOMERS, ARE BROUGHT AS CLOSE AS INSTANT SPEECH

Great strides in invention, great expenditures . . .

An Advertisement of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company

BUSINESS, using the telephone, eliminates space and time. The far-flung parts of an organization with its dealers and customers are brought together by instant speech. The home, like the office, reaches out over an ever-widening circle of neighbors.

The telephone is tireless and quick. It runs errands near and far, transacts business, keeps friendships alive. Telephones throughout the house save time and fatigue. They bring the comforts and conveniences of the office to the women in the home.

Keeping ahead of the new developments in American life calls for great strides in inventions, great expenditures in money.

The Bell System's outlay this year for new plant and service improvements is more than 550 million dollars. This is one and one-half times the cost of the Panama Canal.

This program is part of the telephone ideal that anyone, anywhere, shall be able to talk quickly and at reasonable cost with anyone, anywhere else. There is no standing still in the Bell System.

John William Schaefer, ex-'17, is chief deputy and court commissioner of the superior court of Clark County, Washington. He held the office of county clerk from January 1921 to January 1927, and Washington laws do not permit more than two successive terms. Mr. Schaefer served in the United States Army from June 1916 to October 1919, holding all grades from private to second lieutenant. He was in company "A" 22nd infantry, punitive expedition in Mexico in 1916 and sailed overseas in 1918 with the 78th division. He was wounded and gassed in 1919 and was taken to a hospital near Neuf Chateau, France. In that hospital he met his wife, a graduate of Englewood School for Nursing, Englewood, New Jersey, who was at that time an army nurse. On the back of his questionnaire Mr. Schaefer confesses to a propensity for keeping out of trouble, to a favoritism for "Les Miserables," "Strange Interlude," Louise Dresser, William Powell; to a past hobby, golf.

Chalmer N. Patterson, who has been teaching in Hastings College, Nebraska, has accepted the position of professor of physics in the school of engineering of Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The new post gives him a considerable increase in salary and an opportunity to continue work for the Ph.D. degree at Marquette University, Milwaukee. Mr. and Mrs. Patterson (Mary Irvine, who attended Oregon for one summer session) have two children, Frances and Irvine.

Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Jay Stater write in from Portland. Dr. Stater is a surgeon doing abdominal and general cases. His offices are in the Journal Building. Mrs. Stater was Mary Murdoch, ex-'19.

Nathaniel O. Gould, ex-'17, lives at "Glenbrook," Clinton, Michigan, and conducts his business as architect and engineer in Detroit.

1918

Mrs. Rae Zimmerman Wilson, ex-'18, writes: "I stopped subscribing to OLD OREGON, because I never seemed to find anything in it about anyone I used to know, but I am beginning again because I am raising two prospective University of Oregon students though they are native Californians. Perhaps you will be interested in knowing that Marie Zimmerman Prevost, ex-'14, lives in Berkeley at 1859 Yosemite Road. She has one daughter, Jean, fifteen years old, who thinks she will follow in her daddy's footsteps and go to Stanford." Mrs. Wilson's two prospective Oregon students are Alice Elizabeth, eleven, and Jack Burns, eight years old. She and her family live at 4047 Huntington Road, Fresno, California.

Dr. Clinton H. Thienes and Mrs. Thienes have moved from Portland to Los Angeles, where Dr. Thienes is an associate professor of pharmacology at the University of Southern California school of medicine.

Cord Segnstake Jr., has consolidated his general insurance office with the Charles W. Sexton Company, with offices in the Board of Trade Building in Portland.

Mrs. Maude Newbury Mehaffey, ex-'18, is living in Antioch, California, where her husband is with the Bank of America.

Mary Louise and Harry Sherman are the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Flavel (Florence Sherman, '18) of Astoria. Mr. Flavel attended the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University during the war. Mrs. Flavel is a member of Gamma Phi Beta and was well known on the campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Macleod Maurice live at 5 Tanglewyde Avenue, Bronxville, New York. Mr. Maurice, ex-'19, is a member of the advisory board for General Motors Acceptance Corporation in New York City.

"No especial news for OLD OREGON," writes Mrs. Mary Hislop Kyle. "I have been so busy entertaining guests from both the East and West that I haven't had time for more than three weeks vacation—spent with my family and friends in the Minnesota Lake region. Tell any Oregon 'old grad' coming through North Dakota to stop here at Langdon and say hello."

Mrs. Mabel Davenport Southworth, 310 Montgomery Drive, Portland, teaches at Lincoln High School. Her husband's business is the Willamette Valley Transfer Company, a motor freight line between Eugene and Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland H. Haines (Elizabeth Houston, ex-'20) and daughter, Margaret Jane, have changed their residence in Orlando, Florida, from University Drive to 543 West Yale Avenue. Mr. Haines, ex-'18, is auditor for the International Fruit Corporation.

A. Glenn Stanton and Irving G. Smith, both of the class of '18, are in Portland with Morris H. Whitehouse and Associates, Architects, in the Railway Exchange Building. Mr. Stanton is a member of the firm. Mr. Smith has recently come from Honolulu, where he spent the past year, and before that was in California for some years. The two and Walter E. Church, '16, did graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology at the same time, graduating there in 1921.

1919

Dr. Nicholas S. Checkos, M.D. '19, who has practiced in Portland since 1921, is specializing in internal medicine. After graduation from the Oregon School of Medicine, he attended post-graduate courses at the New York Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital and at the Bellevue Hospital, New York. He is licensed in the States of New York, Washington, California and Oregon.

Margaret Genevieve Casey, ex-'19, is at home in Portland. Her address is 537 East 21st Street North.

Reverend and Mrs. Randall B. Scott are still in Glendale, Arizona, where Reverend Mr. Scott is pastor of the First Methodist Church. He sends in a church bulletin containing a picture of his church, a large and attractive, brick structure. Mrs. Scott was Ethel Wakefield, '20.

Mrs. Dorothy Dunn Barney, ex-'19, is the mother of two boys, Stanley Edward, four, and David Roberts, who is nearly three years old. In addition to caring for her family, Mrs. Barney gives lessons in piano and voice. Mr. Barney is in the men's clothing business. He owns part interest in the Wardrobe in Merced and with his partner has recently opened a branch Wardrobe in Dos Palos, California, just thirty-five miles from Merced.

Lucile Saunders McDonald, ex-'19, has just been appointed correspondent for the New York Times at Constantinople, Turkey. Mrs. McDonald spent last winter in Portland, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Saunders, and was also in California part of the time. She left Portland in July to join her husband who is sales manager in the near east for a large American machinery firm.

Word comes from Los Angeles that Don Belding, honor graduate of the University, has been elected vice president and director of the Jellwell Dessert Company, a Pacific Coast manufacturer. Mr. Belding, who writes and handles the advertising of the Union Oil Company and the Jellwell Dessert Company, will retain his connection as account executive of Lord and Thomas and Logan, well known international advertising agency, controlled by Albert K. Lasker, formerly chairman of the U. S. Shipping Board. Mr. Belding is a stock holder in Lord and Thomas and Logan. Mr. and Mrs. Belding and two children live in Inglewood, California.

Dorothy Flegel is teaching again in Jefferson High School, Portland, and living at her home at 501 Jarrett Street. This last summer she spent in Honolulu visiting her sister, Marjorie Flegel, '23, who is in the Y. W. C. A. there. Dorothy was in Eugene for Commencement and was chairman for the reunion of the Class of 1919. Although there were not many of the '19ers back, the reunion was reported a huge success by those who attended.

Ernest H. E. Thun is teaching mathematics at Clovis Union High School, Clovis, California.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Dwight Wilson (Iva McMillin, ex-'19) are living at 951 Cragmont Street, Berkeley. Dr. Wilson, ex-'19, is practicing medicine in Berkeley. They have three boys.

Alene Phillips, ex-'19, who has held a responsible position with the "Oregon City Enterprise" for several years, has resigned. She will become private secretary to Hal Hoss, secretary of state.

Dr. Clyde Wilson Collings, M.D. '19, 983 Park Avenue, New York City, specializes in urologic surgery. In addition to his regular practice, he is instructor in urologic surgery in New York University and visiting surgeon in the Bellevue Hospital.

Lawrence Dinneen is insurance underwriter for the Mutual Life of New York. He and his wife and four children live in Portland at 824 East 19th Street North.

Mrs. Eloine Leighton Harris lives in Kelso. She has two children, a daughter, Virginia Anne, and a son, Ned Waldo.

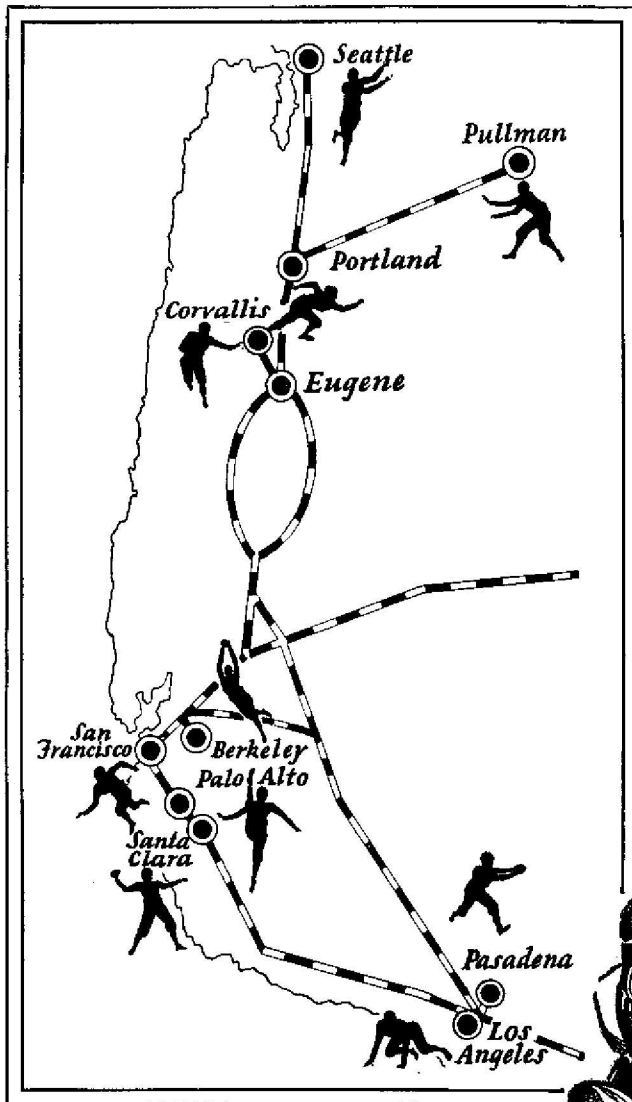

Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Grey (Grace Rugg, ex-'21) and their two young sons are in Medford. Mr. Grey is southern Oregon distributor for Graham Paige automobiles.

1920

Herman Edwards is on the staff of the "Spokane Chronicle" at Spokane, Washington.

Being principal for eleven hundred elementary school children is the task of Aubrey G. Smith in Oakland, California, where he is principal of the Daniel Webster School and its annex the Edwin Markham School. He has been principal of

Follow the Team!

— to the Games this Season; go at Low Cost —
Quickly, Comfortably

Be there for the kickoff! The sure way is to go by train. Then you're there, on time, rested, ready to enjoy every minute until the final gun.

Wherever the game, get your own crowd together, board the train and add to the enjoyment of the contest a happy time going and returning. Regular service will be augmented by special trains, when needed.

Low roundtrips to all games will save you money.

Southern Pacific

J. A. ORMANDY
Asst. Pass. Traffic Mgr.
Portland, Oregon

the Webster School for the past three years, and of the Edwin Markham School too the past year. He has three sons, Max Eugene, Aubrey Garrison, and Baird Kendall.

Adah Ethel Ewer teaches English at the U. S. Grant High School in Portland. Miss Ewer says she always takes time to read OLD OREGON—especially the news notes.

Stanley C. Atkinson, ex-'20, gives 1924 Rose Street, Regina, Sask., Canada, as his address. He is secretary treasurer of the Regina Photo Supply, Ltd., and also of the Monarch Radio-Electric, Ltd. He was formerly with a kodak shop in Eugene.

Herbert Heywood, ex-'20, 1001 Terminal Sales Building, Portland, is an advertising illustrator. He has two children, a boy, seven, and a girl, two and one half years old.

Mrs. Evangeline Kendall Smiley has an infant daughter, Mary Carol, who was born April 14. Nona Lou is seven years old now, Robert Sherman five, and Wayne Anthony three. Mr. Smiley operates a service and marine station at Reedsport.

Mrs. Ada Otten Paine, ex-'20, is again living in Vallejo. Her husband is stationed at Mare Island.

Chester Elgin Adams is research chemist with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at Whiting, Indiana. His residence address is 1103 Davis Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Adams have a daughter, Elizabeth Anne, who is two years old.

Nelson Dezendorf, ex-'20, is manager of business promotion for the General Motors Acceptance Corporation with headquarters in New York. His address is 1775 Broadway, New York City.

Denn and Gerretsen company, Inc., a Roseburg fuel and building material business, is operated by two Oregon alumni, Will Gerretsen Jr. and Joseph Denn, ex-'18. Mrs. Gerretsen (Frances Holloway) was on the campus in 1920 and 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. John DeWitt Gilbert (Olive Risley, '18) are in Seattle where they moved last year when Mr. Gilbert resigned his position with the "Astoria Evening Budget" to accept the associate editorship of the "Pacific Fisherman," a fisheries trade journal published by the Consolidate Publishing Company, 71 Columbia Street, Seattle.

Mrs. Ercel Goebrend Grady, ex-'20, may be addressed at 318 West Second Street, Aberdeen. She has one son, Robert Emerson, who celebrated his tenth birthday on the second of September.

Forest C. Watson, ex-'20, ex Pacific Northwest amateur golf champion, was married to Miss Margaret Wetherspoon of Spokane, on September 7. Mr. Watson is with the Blyth and Company, bond house in Spokane.

Morris Morgan, who was in the West recently on vacation, has returned to Detroit where he is with the insurance department of General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

Mrs. Jeannette Moss Vannatta, who has been living in Kohala, Hawaii, for a number of years, still resides there where her husband is in the banking business. The Vannattas have three children.

Mrs. Mary Irving Patton is living in Halsey and has two children, Frances Louise, aged seven years, and Mary, five years old. She gives her occupation as that of "housewife."

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hargreaves (Audrey Roberts, '22) spent the summer at Lewiston, Maine. Mr. Hargreaves taught in the summer session at Bates College.

1921

John W. Kennedy, ex-'21, has moved from Portland to Seattle, and his address is now 420 Skinner Building, Seattle. He is resident manager, Financial Sales Department, General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

Rachel Alice Husband is assistant in the department of vertebrate palaeontology at the American Museum of Natural History, New York, a position involving preparation and cataloguing of specimens, field work and research. She wrote last summer in answer to a request for news: "I have very little news. My own work goes on most tranquilly and is always pleasant and interesting. I am easy to find—my office is on the fifth floor of the Museum—and I am always very happy to see Oregonians who wander back here. I do see a good many, both at the Museum and up around Columbia, near which I live. I even saw Freddie Main, ex-'22, down on 43rd and Broadway recently. It seems he works in New Jersey somewhere. Loran Ellis, '20, and his wife have just gone on their vacation. I am saving most of mine until next summer when I am coming to call on you."

Ruth Cowan, ex-'21, is a concert manager and impressario. Her office address is 704 Philharmonic Auditorium, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Marian Spoeri Sipp, ex-'21, has moved from Columbus, Ohio, to Chicago, and is living at 1316 Albion Avenue. She writes: "I'm so in hopes that there are some Oregonians up north here in Rogers Park, and if there are I'd love to hear from them. This business of moving is no joke; but I have one consolation in the fact that I'm one day closer to Oregon, which helps considerably when one has two obstreperous youngsters to manage on the train. Don't know when my next trip West will be, but I hope it is soon."

"Bill" Steers is director of physical education and coach at the State Teachers College in California, Pennsylvania.

Bend alumni have elected Mrs. Laura Rani Terril president of their Oregon Alumni organization. Mrs. Terril has been coaching in voice the past two summers, last season with Lazar Samoiloff, the New York Russian coach and teacher, and the summer before in Los Angeles with Louis Graveure.

Preparing for publication the diplomatic correspondence of the World War is keeping Carlton Savage busy in Washington, D. C., these days. His address is 1960 F Street. He is connected with the U. S. Department of State.

R. H. Martin spent part of the summer on a motor trip through Glacier Park, to Lake Louise and Banff. He visited in Spokane with Forest Watson. His home is in Portland.

Mrs. Ce'ia Shuee Day resides at 2316 Woodlawn Avenue, Boise, Idaho.

John Gamble Jr. has been transferred from the division office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to the general office at Seattle.

Ralph Hoerber, for the past two years a member of the law firm Teal, Winfree, McCulloch and Shuler in Portland, will be head of the division of speech in the Department of English at the University, starting this fall. Mr. Hoerber was part time instructor in economics and English for two years after he had received his master's degree in 1923. He later went to Stanford where in 1927 he received a J.D. degree.

Howard E. Kelley is the Minnesota representative for Jantzen Knitting Mills, of Portland. He has recently been transferred to Minneapolis from New York. He writes: "Please be advised of my new address as appears on the reverse, myself and family (yes, we have a family now, Howard junior a year old—a future Oregon freshman). We like it very much and while here will try to arrange a Minnesota-Oregon game."

Elizabeth B. Ginsey, ex-'21, and Harry John Schultz were married in Seattle on Sunday the fifteenth of September. They will make their home at 604 East Union Street, Seattle.

Mrs. Virginia Smith La Bauve, ex-'21, lives in Edna, Texas, where Mr. La Bauve is a druggist. Their little daughter, Charlotte Virginia, is eight years old now.

Dr. A. Holmes Johnson has been appointed by the dean of the Oregon University Medical School as instructor in surgery. Dr. Johnson, after receiving his B.S. degree at Oregon, was graduated with a B.A. from Morningside College, Iowa; M.D. from Northwestern University, Chicago; spent five terms in Oxford University, England, took two years of surgical work in New York City and has attended some European clinics. During the past two years, Dr. Johnson has practiced in St. Helens.

Clyde K. Davis, ex-'21, and Mrs. Davis are now living in Wenatchee, Washington, at 1023 Park Avenue. Mr. Davis is in the sales department of Kaufman Leonard Furniture Company. He was in Chiloquin, Oregon, last year.

Mrs. Mary Mershon Moon, ex-'21, writes that she is busy keeping house for her husband and a nephew who makes his home with them. Her address is 911 Michigan Avenue, Evanston, Illinois.

Marian Ady came back to Eugene for a visit with her mother after spending the winter in New York City where she took advanced work in art at Columbia University. She left in September for Ashland where she is teaching this year.

Harold N. Lee is returning to Harvard for the academic year 1929-30 to continue work for the Ph.D. degree in the department of philosophy. Mrs. Lee (Norma Soule, ex-'26) received an A.B. degree from Newcomb College, New Orleans, in 1928, and has the past year been assisting in the history department at Newcomb and studying for an M.A. She expects to continue her work for an M.A. in the department of history at Radcliffe next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mannel (Ruth Flegal, '22) former residents of Eugene, visited in the University city during the month of August. They made the trip by auto from their home in Oklahoma.

Cecile A. Creede, ex-'21, teaches in Burlingame, California. She writes that her sister, Edythe Creede, ex-'22, was married on July 5, to Duard O. Meek, a graduate of Stanford University, and a member of Sigma Chi fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Meek will live in Portland.

Official Fleet of The Intercollegiate Alumni

One hundred and three College and University alumni organizations have selected the United States Lines and American Merchant Lines as the official alumni transatlantic lane to Europe.

Your official fleet is composed of eleven splendid ships—LEVIATHAN, World's Largest Liner, and those superb cabin liners of the United States Lines... GEORGE WASHINGTON, AMERICA, REPUBLIC, PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and PRESIDENT HARDING... plus that ever popular quintet sailing weekly from New York to London—AMERICAN BANKER, AMERICAN TRADER, AMERICAN MERCHANT, AMERICAN SHIPPER, and AMERICAN FARMER. Great ships... magnificent ships... ships of personality!

You can go first-class, second, cabin or tourist third... swiftly or leisurely... direct to England, Ireland, France or Germany... in staterooms that measure American ideas of spaciousness... with the finest American cuisine... with stewards who speak your own language... with sun-flooded decks that provide vast arenas for sports... play bridge and dance in salons and ballrooms as luxurious as those that ever played host to a junior or senior "prom."

For rates, sailings, etc., communicate with your local steamship agent or alumni secretary... he'll be pleased to serve you.

YOUR FLAGSHIP

THE AMERICA, 21,144 tons, renowned as the "Ship of Steadiness," has been chosen as the intercollegiate flagship for sailings on June 4, July 2 and July 30... 1930.

UNITED STATES LINES

45 Broadway

"Official Intercollegiate Alumni Fleet"

New York

Mrs. Loeta Rogers Lance announces the birth of a daughter on July 25 at Albany. Mrs. Lance has one other child, a son, three years old.

Mrs. Mary Lucile Bacon teaches mathematics in Mt. Diablo Union High School, Concord, California.

Richard H. Martin, 455 Hassalo Street, Portland, is trader and municipal buyer for the Freeman Smith and Camp Company, bond dealers, with offices at 307 Stark Street.

1922

Fred Main, ex-'22, is a salesman for one of the leading lumber companies in New York City. He lives in Plainfield, New Jersey.

Word has been received in the Alumni Office that Mrs. Helen Houghton Peterson, ex-'22, is touring in Europe with her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley L. Beharrell, both of the class of 1922, live at 1283 Glenn Avenue North, Portland. Mr. Beharrell is a member of the Municipal Dock Commission. Barbara Meryle is three years old now, and Janice Gene is two years of age.

Wayne T. Laird is a field manager for the General Motors Acceptance Corporation. His office is at 420 Skinner Building, Seattle.

Dr. Caryl Gerald S. Van Valzah, ex-'22, has left Medford and is now practising dentistry at 17th and Alberta Streets, Portland.

Mrs. Marian White Callihan lives at 300 Webster Street, The Dalles, where her husband is a druggist with Donnell's Drug store. She teaches part time in the high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Campbell (Wanda Daggett, '22) have moved from Cuyahoga Falls to Stow, Ohio. Word received from them states that Mr. Campbell is still research chemist with the B. F. Goodrich Company, adding that Patty is getting bigger.

Mrs. Mildred Oliver Crowley, ex-'22, has two children, Clifford John and Doris Winnifred. She and her family are living in LaGrande.

Lyle Bryson Covell was a Eugene visitor from New York City during the month of September. She was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bryson. Mrs. Covell is on the advertising staff of the "Cosmopolitan."

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Deffenbacher (Louise Hassan, '22) are in Eugene. Mr. Deffenbacher, ex-'23, is owner and manager of the Campus Barber Shop. Their two children, Lyle and Leola Rose, are five and three years respectively.

Ervin J. Ludeman, ex-'22, is living at 1766 Chehalis Avenue, Chehalis, Washington. He is salesman for the Puget Sound Power and Light Company. His little son, Robert Ervin, is almost a year old.

Mrs. Helen Carson Plumb, permanent class secretary of '22, still lives at Olympia and can be addressed at Box 187. She would appreciate news notes from all '22 members and telephone calls from those driving through. She also invites all classmates to visit the Olympics and Olympic National Forest. Marjorie Plumb is now two years old.

Raymond D. Lawrence has been employed during the summer as reporter on the "Sacramento Bee."

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Littlefield (Isabelle Kidd) both '22, have a young daughter, Kathryn, born in June. Forrest is practising law in Portland. Their son, Allan, is five years old.

J. Horton Beeman Jr. writes: "We certainly enjoy OLD OREGON. Keep us on the mailing list." Mr. Beeman, after receiving a B.S. at Oregon in 1922, took his J.D. degree at Stanford and has been practicing since in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Beeman (Helen Hooper, '22) have one son, two years old.

Violet B. Crandall has been appointed educational missionary to the Girls' Boarding School at Quesua, Angola, Africa, a school sponsored by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church. She will leave New York in November.

Mrs. Pearl Harris Simpkins, ex-'22, writes in to tell OLD OREGON about David Harris Simpkins, who made his first appearance this summer, June 15. Mrs. Simpkins has been teaching English in the Theodore Roosevelt Junior High School, San Jose, California, for the past three years. She did publicity writing for the school as well as other reporting while she was teaching. "Housewife," is her occupation now.

Fred Lorenz is living in Spokane, Washington, and is connected with the J. C. Penney Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Wegner are in Whittier, California, and their address is 325 North Citrus Avenue. Mr. Wegner is accounting instructor at Whittier High School, and is also wrestling instructor. Mrs. Wegner was Dorothea Boynton, '22.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuhnhausen (Genevieve Laughlin, ex-'23) and three months old daughter, Nancy Jean, have moved to Berkeley and are living at 1675 Visalia Avenue. Mr. Kuhnhausen, ex-'22, is district manager for Landers, Fuary and Clark, Universal Electric people.

F. Ray Dunn, who has been with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for several years, now holds the title of Commercial Practice Supervisor of the Oregon division of the company. His headquarters are in Portland in the Bedell Building.

Ian Campbell reported a successful year at Harvard last year and will return this Fall as part time instructor in mineralogy. "I also hope to get my thesis completed," Mr. Campbell says. He worked with the United States Biological Survey this summer in a restudy of some ore deposit fields in Nevada.

Nelson Lee Clark, who was on the campus in 1918 and 1919, was graduated from the University of Washington in 1922, the same class to which his wife, also a University of Washington graduate, belonged. He is now employed by the Seattle office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, as chief clerk in the division transmission engineering department.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris Ellsworth (Helen Dougherty, '22) are seen occasionally in Eugene as it is not a long journey from Roseburg where, as readers of OLD OREGON will remember, Harris went to take the editorship of the "Roseburg News Review." In answering a recent alumni questionnaire which asked, among other things, "occupation in detail," he writes: "Gosh, that's a big order. My title is editor—draw your own picture of the details."

Delmer Powers, chief geologist of Hudson's Bay Marland Oil Company, Ltd., of Canada, is in charge of geological exploration and development in Canada. On the back of his alumni questionnaire, he wrote the following bit of information: "This is my fourth season up here in Canada which is a very large country and about which our present geological knowledge is still very meagre. We have about twelve to fifteen men on our geological staff. One of those with us this season is Dr. Leo G. Hertlein, '22."

On June 28 Gertrude Houk, '25, was married to Orecene A. Fariss. They are living in Portland at 414 East 47th Street North. Mr. Fariss manages the truck department of the Grout Chevrolet Company; Mrs. Fariss teaches at St. Helen's Hall.

"I took a motor trip this summer that carried me from the Gulf of Mexico to the St. Lawrence and from the Atlantic to the Pacific," writes Elaine Cooper of Bridgeport, Connecticut. "If the town boasted a college campus, I visited it. The main highway missed the college town I frequently left my route to inspect the state's institution of learning. And to the glory of Oregon be it known that I found none with a prettier campus, none with more beautiful buildings and certainly none with a more friendly spirit. Of course, perhaps I'm prejudiced, but my, how I do pity the people that can't say 'Oregon's my Alma Mater!'" Miss Cooper teaches in the commercial department of Bridgeport's largest high school.

1923

Charles F. Stutz, husband of Edith Judkins Stutz, ex-'23, formerly a skilled paper maker at the Crown Willamette Paper Company, met with a serious accident last December while working at the mill. All the fingers of his right hand were severed, but through the skill and care of Dr. Guy Mount, '07, the thumb and little finger were saved. Mr. Stutz was in the Oregon City Hospital for nearly three months, but is now getting along very well. Mr. and Mrs. Stutz and two little girls are living at 1001 J. Q. Adams Street, Oregon City.

R. E. Poston, M.D. '27, is spending about six months in Ecuador. He sent in his subscription to OLD OREGON just before leaving with the comment that it was the best way to obtain news from the University. "I look forward to receiving it each month," Mr. Poston said. His address in South America is care of South America Development Company, Box 655, Guayaquil, Ecuador, S. A.

Emily Veazie was married on August 27 in New York City to Edwin R. Clapp, a graduate of Stanford University. Mr. Clapp has taught in universities in Virginia and New York. He is finishing his work on a Ph.D. at Harvard. According to word received in the Alumni Office, Mrs. Clapp will continue her work with the Younger Girl's Department of the Boston Y. W. C. A. In her position she helps to organize and advise about forty Girl Reserve Clubs, works with individual girls and leaders, and conducts an activities program which includes handicraft, dramatics, and recreation. There are three other persons in the Younger Girl's Department, one of whom is Mrs. Harriet Hudson Iseminger, '23. Still another worker in the Boston Y. W. C. A. known to readers of OLD OREGON is Terza Ann Dinsdale, formerly secretary of the campus Y. W. C. A. Miss Dinsdale heads the Boston Student Department.

Betty Fuselman, ex-'23, is attending Columbia University in New York City. She has received a B.A. and an M.A. degree from the University of California.

September 14 in Spokane at the home of her parents, Margaret Wilkins, ex-'30, was married to Richard Dixon, ex-'23, of Eugene. After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Dixon left by motor for California planning to stop at Coronado for two weeks. After the first of November they will make their home at the Ferry Lane Apartments in Eugene. Mrs. Dixon, before coming to the University attended Washington State College. After leaving the University Mr. Dixon attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. For the past two years he has been the manager for Oregon and Washington territories of the Lamelea Roof Company, with headquarters in Eugene.

Dutee Ely was married in May, 1928, to Walter A. Woodard of the W. A. Woodard Lumber Company, Cottage Grove. She writes that she and her husband have a home ten miles from Cottage Grove.

Wilhelmina Becksted and Paul R. Morrison were married on September 19 in Portland. They will reside in Portland.

Mrs. Myrtle Copenhaver Ludwig has moved from Portland to Albert Lea, Minnesota. Albert Lea is now under the city manager system, and Mr. Ludwig holds the position of manager. Mrs. Ludwig writes: "Albert Lea is a beautiful little city of 12,000 built around two picturesque lakes, Fountain Lake and Lake Albert Lea. Its name honors Lieutenant Albert Lea who first surveyed this region. Although the winters are severe, the summer has been delightful—even to a Westerner. We are enjoying the experience of inaugurating the city manager system here. The enclosed check for $5 shows that we can't do without OLD OREGON."

Jay Cooke Allen, ex-'23, was very seriously injured last spring when, enroute to Europe on the liner Leviathan, a giant swell swept the ship, injuring many passengers. Mrs. Mildred Lauderdale Maxwell, ex-'23, was also on the ship which finally landed in Cherbourg. Mr. Allen, formerly foreign correspondent for the Chicago Tribune, has been transferred from Paris and Vienna to Mexico City.

Delbert Oberteuffer began his new duties as supervisor of health and physical education for the state of Ohio on September 1. He will be at Columbus, Ohio. Mr. Oberteuffer has been director of physical education for men at the University of Oregon. Last year he worked for his doctor's degree at Teachers College, Columbia University. He received his master's degree from Columbia in 1924. He was a track letterman for three years at Oregon and a yell leader for two years.

Glen E. Morrow is in Bangkok, Siam, and is professor of music at Bangkok Christian College. "In Siam there are many lizards," Reverend Mr. Morrow wrote in a recent letter to Eugene. "The little lizards make a clucking sound, and the big ones say 'Gertrude,' or make a noise that sounds very much like it," the letter said. Lizards are allowed to come into the houses unmolested in Siam, he explained, because they catch and eat the bugs and insects which abound there.

On August 11 a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hootstein (Rita Durkheimer) of Fresno. After graduating from the University Mrs. Hootstein received her M.A. from Stanford.

Richard F. Berg, M.D. '26, is at present at the Boston City Hospital as Resident Surgeon in charge of the bone and joint service. Previously he had taken the Orthopedic service at Carney Hospital, Boston, and visited the Orthopedic Clinics of Dr. W. R. MacAusland, the noted orthopedist who is particularly known for his work on reconstruction of joints. After a short visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Berg, Portland, Dr. Berg will assume his duties as fellow in bone and joint pathology in New York City under Doctors Ewing, Coley, Whitman and others. This is the first appointment of its kind and is given in memory of the late Dr. Robert Gibney, a famous New York surgeon. Following this Dr. Berg will probably return to Portland to begin practice as an orthopedic surgeon.

Gertrude E. Toile is teaching mathematics at Pendleton this year.

When Lumber Is Needed--

Whether it is Douglas Fir, Cedar, or Hemlock, that is needed for your building or repair work—the recommendations of the majority should be considered. We are the largest manufacturers of lumber in Lane county and are in a position to serve you at any time.

Lumber
Slabwood

Hogged Fuel

Lath
Shingles

BOOTH - KELLY LUMBER CO.

Fifth and Willamette Streets

Eugene, Oregon

Telephone 452

Mrs. Doris Sawtell Baldwin, ex-'23, holds the position of secretary to the executive secretary of the Oregon Social Hygiene Society of Portland. She writes that her brother, Stuart Sawtell, ex-'24, has just returned to California from Honolulu on the yacht, Temptress, formerly owned by John Gilbert, the screen star. He expects to be in and around Los Angeles for some time, she says.

Mrs. Wanna McKinney Stewart and her husband with their two children have returned to their home in Redondo Beach, California, after having spent two years in Phoenix, Arizona. William Purdy, '24, and Elsie Marsh Purdy, '23, and their son, Billy, spent several days with them at the beach last summer.

Mrs. Helen Day Carlson, ex-'23, lives in Martinez on Berlessa Avenue. Her son, Allen, is four years old.

The Mayo Foundation, which is a part of the graduate school of the University of Minnesota, enrolls several Oregon alumni including Dr. Leslie L. Nunn, surgeon, who is taking post graduate work there. Mrs. Nunn (Marion A. Gillis, '23) and their daughter, Barbara Claire, are also in Rochester.

Compton, California, is now the home town of Mrs. Marian Linn Williams. She formerly resided at Visalia. Her street address is 829 East Main Street.

Mildred Lucille Brown holds the position of head of the physical education department for girls in the Sequoia High School, Redwood City, California. Last summer she spent at Lake Tahoe as head counselor for Lake Tahoe Girl's Camp, a private camp.

Herbert J. Darby, ex-'23, holds the position of advertising manager of Mathis-Otis Inc., Portland. He is also in charge of their credits and sales promotion. Mrs. Darby who was La Verne Lewis is also a former Oregon student. Mr. Darby writes that the Phi Gamma Delta men who were freshmen at the University in 1919 are planning to hold a ten year anniversary dinner at a Eugene hotel this Homecoming. They are planning to have 100% attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Gray (Ruth Diehl, ex-'23) are in Spokane. Mr. Gray, also a former member of the class of 1923, is with the Shell Oil Company. Last year he was manager of the Salem office, but he has been transferred to Spokane as district manager.

1924

William S. "Bill" Akers, '24, is entertaining "Yakima Republic" readers with feature stories from the local police run. Also an aspiring magazine writer, Bill is specializing in short stories. Varied adventures encountered in Alaska and on the sea in many parts of the world since his graduation from Oregon provide him with a wealth of material. Bill's summer hobby is army aviation, in which field he has earned a commission as a lieutenant in the United States reserves. Most of his vacation was spent in the vicinity of Vancouver, Washington, at Pearson Flying Field.

Leonard Lerwill, '24, is now city editor on the "Yakima Republic." He also ventures frequently into the field of trade publication writing with steadily increasing success. Soldiering is his summer hobby, and he spent the most of his vacation at Fort George Wright near Spokane as first lieutenant in the Organized Reserve Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla M. Gray have two children, Rolla Jr. and Shirley Jean. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gray are former students of the University, Mr. Gray being of the class of 1924 and Mrs. Gray (Marie Fisher) of the class of 1925. Mr. Gray operates a men's clothing store in the Pittock Block in Portland.

Mrs. Eleanor Everett Groves lives at 884 Park Street, Lebanon.

Bert G. Haynes, ex-'24, is credit manager for the Portland branch of General Motors Acceptance Corporation. He and Mrs. Haynes live at 625 Madison Street, Portland.

Elizabeth W. Griggs is librarian in the Grant High School, Portland.

Dr. George Horsfall, M.D., '28, again proved his prowess as a fine swimmer for he came out first this year in the fifth annual Golden Gate swim sponsored by the "San Francisco Chronicle." The swim was two miles long and 139 contestants entered the race. Dr. Horsfall broke the previous record. Dr. and Mrs. Horsfall (Alice Mortensen, '27) are living in San Francisco, where he is ward surgeon in the Letterman Hospital. He holds the rank of first lieutenant in the medical corps of the United States Army. He is to go to Washington, D. C., soon for study. Dr. Horsfall received both his B.A. degree and his M.D. from the University of Oregon.

Harold Wynd has just opened his new studio in the Laraway Building on Willamette Street in Eugene. He will specialize in portrait and commercial photography and will also have a snapshot finishing department.

Lot Beatie is taking his advance training in government aviation at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas.

Lester A. Wilcox is city school superintendent at Lebanon. Mrs. Wilcox (Gertrude Braden) is also a member of the class of 1924.

A daughter was born to Mrs. The'ma Kimberling Gaston on July 13, and has been named Sarah. Mrs. Gaston is in Vallejo, California, where her husband is city editor of the "Chronicle."

As music supervisor in Klamath County, a position which she has held for four years, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Connor Henderson visits forty-five rural schools, including a few all Indian schools. Her husband, a graduate of O. S. C., is county agriculture agent.

Hilda Tillinghast writes that she is going to Lincoln, Nebraska, this year to have charge of the day school for deaf children in that city.

Earl Young Dickensheets, ex-'24, is Pacific Northwest representative for J. Aron and Company, Inc., San Francisco coffee importers and jobbers. His headquarters are in Portland.

Maude Winston Cooke writes that she is teaching English 4 and 5 at Grant High School in Portland. She says: "Grant now ranks the largest high school in the state with nearly 2,300 students."

Lester Turnbaugh with his wife and little girl motored to New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania, last summer. He has been for five years principal of the Merrill High School, Klamath County, Oregon; but recently accepted the principalship of the New Bloomfield High School.

Mrs. Edna Bushman Smith, ex-'24, went to Alaska this summer with her parents for a short trip. Mr. Smith, ex-'19, is a partner in the Eugene firm, Hunzicker and Smith, architects.

Harriet Lyle Veazie is teaching physical education at the Y. W. C. A. in San Francisco. Her address is 620 Sutter Street, San Francisco. She and her sister, Mrs. Emily Veazie Clapp, '23, spent part of the summer in Portland with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Veazie.

John Knox Gram, future lumberman, or perhaps specialist in airplane spruce, arrived in Portland on August 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan B. Gram at 158 Hazelfern place. John is a prospective Oregon alumnus. His father is an ex-member of the class of 1924, and Mrs. Gram (Alta A. Knox) of the class of 1923. Mr. Gram is manager of the Gram-Willis Frame and Manufacturing Company, and handles airplane spruce.

Francis W. Linklater, ex-'24, has deserted the news room for the business office, and is advertising manager for the Grays Harbor Railway and Light Company at Aberdeen, Washington. He was formerly a reporter on the "Aberdeen Daily World" and on the "Grays Harbor Washingtonian" at Hoquiam. Francis Warren Jr. is over a year old now.

Marian MacMaster has returned to Seattle where she will teach in the Franklin High School. Miss MacMaster has been spending the summer in Eugene with her parents.

Minette Y. Rencchausen, ex-'24, is collection correspondent for Lipman Wolfe and Company in Portland.

Don Zimmerman graduated in June of this year from the United States Military Academy at West Point. He spent his graduation leave in Portland and in Eugene where he completed his work for his master's degree in geology at the University. He has a commission as second lieutenant and has been assigned to the engineer's corps with a detail to the air service. He is to be stationed at March Field, Riverside, where he will study aviation. He will probably complete his training at Kelly Field, Texas. Don received the rank of distinguished cadet for having grades in all subjects at the Academy averaging over 92 per cent. The rank is the highest given at West Point. In addition to his success in academic work he was prominent in athletics and school activities, and is a rifle and pistol expert. He was a member of the Army football team for two years, was captain of the basketball team his last year, played basketball for four years, and played baseball for four years. He was president of his class for three years. He was a member of the cadet chapel choir for four years, and also taught Sunday school in the cadet chapel.

William E. Van Winkle, ex-'24, is a wheat farmer on the Reed and Hawley uplands at Weston, Oregon. He also raises stock. Mrs. Van Winkle was Minnie C. Johnson, '24. They have one child a year old.

Hollis S. Smith, ex-'24, and Mrs. Smith are now in Salem where Mr. Smith is an automobile dealer for Hudson-Essex and

You'll Make No Mistake If You Want Something Pleasant

If you try one of the special bricks featured by the Eugene Fruit Growers Association each week.

The personal interest that we use to aid our customers in planning desserts and specialties is but one of the reasons why most of the campus organizations phone—

Next Sunday Special

A BRICK OF — PRUNET, VANILLA, ORANGE PARFAIT — TRY ONE

Phone 1480

EUGENE FRUIT GROWERS ASSOCIATION
Home of College Ice Cream

Chevrolet cars. He is also agent for the Sparton radio.

Margaret Jackson spent the summer in New York City doing library work in the Teachers College Library of Columbia University. This year she will be high school librarian at Quincy, Massachusetts, which is near Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Bell (Marion Playter) have sent us news of the arrival of Jean Bell on August 18. They reside at 4414 North 44th Street, Tacoma.

Velma "Dusty" Farnham, ex-'24, is associate editor of the "Fashionable Dress" magazine in New York City.

S. Shannon Pettinger, who has been teaching English in the Lincoln High School in Portland, writes us some interesting news. "This year I have a leave of absence, so that I may work for my Master's degree at Columbia. I hope to meet many U. of O. friends in New York."

"Art" Rudd was in Eugene for a short stop-over in August.

Vernon P. Duncan spent a few days in Portland during August. Mr. Duncan is affiliated with the Board of Education in Los Angeles. He was formerly with the American Red Cross.

1925

The marriage of Alexander Hardy Sargent, ex-'25, and Catherine Martin, ex-'29, was an event of June 21. Mr. Sargent is a salesman for Simonds Saw and Steel Company in Portland. Their address is Box 1528, Route Six, Portland.

Hazel Johnson who has been studying in the school of library service at Columbia University for a year will be in Lansing, Michigan, this year, where she has accepted a position in a library.

Kathleen Eugenia Strickland and Lieutenant Henry William Goodall were married on May 31 in Auburn, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Knudsen (Louise Irving, ex-'23) want their OLD OREGON sent to them at 1162 Commercial Street, Portland. Their small son is now three years old.

Dr. William Harold Chapman, who received his B.S. degree from Oregon in 1925 and his M.D. in 1928, has moved to Eugene where he is associated with Dr. Orville Waller with offices on the fourth floor of the Tiffany Building. Dr. Chapman was active on the campus in student sports and won recognition as an athlete. On his questionnaire under the item, "Unofficial honors of all kinds such as athletic teams, debating teams, student offices, cup awards etc.," Dr. Chapman modestly admitted: "Made them all. No trouble at all."

Lloyd Creg Hatfield teaches mathematics in East Junior High School, Warren, Ohio. After his graduation he served as principal of Brookings High School, Brookings, Oregon, for one year, then returned to his home state, Ohio, and has since taught in Warren. He spent the summer quarter of 1927 at Ohio State University, last summer at Columbia University, working toward a M.A. degree. He writes that he was very pleasantly surprised to meet Professor Stetson, of the University of Oregon, at Columbia.

Roy E. Sawyer and Miss Marie Wilson of Eugene were married on June 15 at the home of Mr. Sawyer's sister in Bend. Mr. Sawyer is now in his third year as superintendent of schools in Silver Lake, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Lapham (Laverna Spitzenberger, '25) live at 717 Ninth Street, McMinnville. Mr. Lapham, ex-'23, is bookkeeper for the C. K. Spaulding Logging Company Sash and Door Factory in McMinnville. Mrs. Lapham has been swimming instructor and life guard at the McMinnville City Park pool for the past three summers. She is giving up her position as physical education instructor in the Salem High School which she has held since graduation. The vacancy will be filled by Echo Balderee, '22.

Mildred Hayden, teacher in the Clatskanie High School, was on the campus this summer taking work in education and history toward her master's degree.

Mrs. Cecile Johnson Summers with her husband Stanley Summers (O. A. C. '22) and their two daughters, Marcia Louise and Mary Joanne, have gone to Santa Paula, California, where Stan will coach football. He coached at Olympia for four years.

Dr. Lloyd M. McCormick, ex-'25, is in charge of the Dental Surgical Clinic of the Selling Building Professional Men's Association, the largest organization of dentists and doctors in the city of Portland, the organization having as members over one hundred professional men. The Association has just completed a dental and surgical clinic offering clinical advantages and assembly privileges to the professional occupants of the Selling Building that are not surpassed by any of the high class professional buildings of the Northwest.

Ernest H. Henrikson received a master's degree in speech from the University of Iowa this summer. Besides being an instructor in speech and English at Gustavus Adolphus College, he is now dean of men. He adds, "best wishes for a big year."

Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Ulrich (Marjorie Swift, ex-'28) have a "house manager" now, Warren J. "Buddy" Ulrich, 11, who took up his duties on June 22, 1929. Mr. Ulrich is manager of the Pacific Machinery and Tool Steel Company in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Munley (Dorothy Cash, '23) are living in San Leandro, adjacent to Oakland. Their little daughter, Patty, is almost three and Nancy Lee is eight months old. Mr. Munley is a former member of the class of 1925.

This last summer, in the early part of the season, Dorothy Dixon and Josephine Ramage took a vacation trip to Yosemite National Park. The two went to California by auto, and then in the park they hired a donkey for packing their supplies and hiked into the wilds.

Rachael Chezem, ex-'25, was married in March to Kenneth Burton, ex-'24. Mrs. Burton teaches the eighth grade in the Gresham School; Mr. Burton is with the American Mail Line and runs from Seattle to the Orient on the Steamship, Montana.

Mrs. Marie Myers Bosworth and her small daughter, June Marie, left on September 2 for Buffalo, New York, for a two months' visit with Mr. Bosworth's parents. After her return, Mrs. Bosworth will be at home at Conger Avenue, Klamath Falls. Her husband is now division manager for the California Oregon Power Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Almers Hawkins Jr. (Margaret Fitzsimmons, ex-'27) have a baby boy born on March 20. Their little daughter is three years old now. Mr. Hawkins is with Braley and Graham, automobile dealers, in Portland.

Alberta Carson Kirkwood and "Bob" Kirkwood, graduate student '25, live at 1441 Milvia, Berkeley. They made a motor trip through California and Oregon during the summer. "Bob" is an engineer for the Bell Telephone Company.

Floyd Ruch spent the past summer in New York City doing graduate work in psychology at Columbia University. He expected to be at Stanford this fall.

Frances W. Sanford has the title of managing editor of the "Pacific Coast Journal of Nursing," published in San Francisco. She was formerly in Pasadena, California.

A son was born on July 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hull (Penelope Gehr, '25). The little boy, who was named for his father, is the second child of the Hulls. Their little girl, Martha Jane, was born in June, 1927. Mr. Hull, ex-'23, is connected with the Shell Oil Company in La Grande.

Mrs. Marion Bonney Wiggins resides at 355 East Twelfth Street North, Portland. She has a little daughter, Barbara Jane, who celebrated her first birthday in June. Mr. Wiggins is a graduate of the University of Washington with the class of 1920.

Henry D. Sheldon Jr. is on the faculty of Western Reserve, the city university of Cleveland, where he teaches sociology. He spent the summer in Eugene visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry D. Sheldon, after taking his doctor's degree at Madison, Wisconsin, in June.

Dorothea Akin was married during the past summer to Odell Bennett, former O. S. C. student. They are making their home in St. Helens.

Grace Sullivan and "Billy" Bell were married on August 8 at Spokane. Mr. Bell is in the Spokane office of the Pacific Finance Corporation. Mr. Bell was in charge of the Eugene office of this company before going to Spokane.

Katherine Bald spent the summer in Eugene, and substituted for Ruth Gregg, '28, in the School of Journalism. She is now doing advertising work in San Francisco.

Carl Knudsen has been appointed assistant coach of all sports at Jefferson High School, Portland. He formerly did coaching work at Seaside High School.

C. W. Lemon, ex-'25, attended the University of Oregon Summer Session this summer, doing most of his work in journalism. For the past year he has been teaching printing in the Boise High School, Boise, Idaho.

Margaret Dickey holds the position of laboratory technician for Dr. John H. Fitzgibbon, Portland physician and surgeon.

Mrs. Irene Kendall Boone sends OLD OREGON the announcement of the birth of Lorelee Kendall Boone on July 18. Mr. and Mrs. Boone reside at Rummel, New Jersey. Mr. Boone is a salesman for the Duquesne Lumber Company of Philadelphia.

Jens Terjeson is a farmer at Pendleton. He is associated with his father on a ranch there.

On July 6 Ruth E. Corey, ex-'28, became the bride of Gordon E. Wilson, '25, of Oregon City, in St. Paul's Episcopal church, Salem. Mrs. Wilson was a staff member of the "Oregon Daily Emerald" and of the "Oregonian." Mr. Wilson was a football star and a member of Alpha Tau Omega. Their address is Royal Court Apartments, Salem.

Margaret Catherine Duerner was married in June to Alfred B. Carter. Her address is now 315 East 47th Street North, Portland.

A daughter, Phyllis Edel, was born to Mrs. Lucy Vander Sterre Forsling in June on her third wedding anniversary. The Forslings are living in Burlingame, California. Mr. Forsling is junior marketing specialist for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Livestock Division, San Francisco.

1926

Gene Shields, the new assistant football coach at the University, arrived in Eugene the first of September to assume his duties. He was assistant coach at the High School of Commerce in Portland for a while after graduating from the University and later became head coach. He will assist in coaching the varsity linemen and will supervise the coaching of the super-varsity.

Kenneth R. Stephenson is doing sales promotion work in Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin for the Armstrong Cork Company. He will be in the Midwest until after October when he will be assigned to one of the company's offices. "I am looking forward to football news in OLD OREGON," he writes. His present address is Armstrong Manor, Lancaster, Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Catherine Deranleau Clark, ex-'26, is in Belcarra, B. C. Her husband, a graduate of O. S. C., is a registered engineer.

Word has been received of the marriage of Helen White to Robert Quinn of Portland, which occurred August 27. Mr. Quinn is a graduate of O. S. C. They are living in La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert G. Finnigan (Phyllis Coplan, '26) are in Portland. Mr. Finnigan, ex-'25, writes general insurance.

Bert Gooding, attorney at law in Portland, was in Chicago on business in June. While there he called upon Mr. and Mrs. John E. McIntyre (Hulda Guild, '26) and writes that Mr. McIntyre, '27, is superintendent of a refinery of the Glidden Products Company.

Bob Gardner writes that he is still with the Crown Willamette Paper Company and has been transferred from their Camas mill to their main offices at San Francisco. His new address is 2298 Vallejo Street, San Francisco.

Catherine Enright is now Mrs. Richard V. Olson, and is living at Neilton, Washington. The marriage was an event of August 31. Mr. Olson is state highway foreman in Washington.

Florette Janelle, assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Gardiner, spent her vacation this summer in British Columbia and Alaska, and describes it as "a most wonderful trip."

Mrs. Geneva Smith Hasle with her husband and young son, David, were visitors in Eugene during August. The Hasles live in Marshfield. Mr. Hasle is with the Hauser Construction Company.

Helen Cantine has taken a position as worker in the Lenox Hill Settlement House, New York City.

Martha Wade was married to Wilder Albert Estey on June 8 in Eugene. They are making their home in San Diego.

Dr. John Chilton Adams, M.D. '26, was married to Miss Myra Covington in April. They reside at 326 East Twenty-fourth Street North, Portland. Dr. Adams is a physician and surgeon. He received his B.S. degree from the University of Oregon in 1923 and his M.D. in 1926.

Kee Buchanan will teach English in the Lebanon High School this year. She taught at Lebanon last year too.

Mrs. Esther Davis Scriven sends her check for alumni dues and OLD OREGON with the following message: "It took a lot of notices to bring the enclosure, just another bit of evidence that circularizing does bring results—sometimes. And I'm sure I shall enjoy OLD OREGON." Mrs. Scriven is doing special research for the Irving Trust Company in New York City. Born to Mrs. Catharine Lyon Frame, ex-'26, a son, Gary Lyon, on July 16. Mrs. Frame was a member of Pi Beta Phi and of Kwama at Oregon. Her husband attended the University of California where he was affiliated with Delta Chi.

Paul W. Ager has been appointed assistant comptroller of the University of Oregon. He resigned from his work with the Northwestern Electric Company in Portland in July in order to take up his new work on the campus. Ager was Vice President of the A. S. U. O. his senior year.

News Items Supplement "Co-op Store"

With the opening of the 1929 school year Oregon students returned to find new things to interest them in the student store, the Co-op.

Among the newer ideas was the addition of golf clubs and bags to the already varied stock. This move was in anticipation of a growing interest in golfing.—The sets are for the "average dub" golfer and consist of four clubs—the "brassie" doubles for the driver—and a bag. The price for the outfit is $8.50.

the

UNIVERSITY CO-OP

In response to a demand from the students a new stock of portable typewriters greeted them at their store. The Co-op is campus agent for Remington, Corona, Underwood and Royal and offers very attractive terms to the student who wishes to own a portable typewriter.

With Christmas seeming always to be just in the offing, a few words about available gifts is apropos. The Co-op has now one of the best gift lines in the city. A good many of the items are importations—such as prints, the leather goods, or the French posters. The Co-op again will be a popular place for gift hunters.

Notes from the Book Balcony

Mrs. Rowen Gall Crawford starts the year in charge of the Book Balcony. She promises to have always the best—"for rent and for sale."

The Book Balcony enters into its second year and a half of existence. It has grown consistently. From the few desultory and occasional volumes of standard books it now offers for sale over two thousand general books.

Among the newest additions to the Book Balcony stock is the Grosset and Dunlop "novels of distinction" in the dollar edition.

The High Hat Rent Shelf has now over two hundred volumes of fiction and non-fiction. Its volume is increasing with its popularity.

Katharine Reade Ross says she is "just housekeeping." However, she found time to take a trip to Chicago with her husband, Dr. G. A. Ross, when he took some post graduate work there recently.

Betty Rauch, Betty Smith and Katharine Graef, '27, left the first part of August for a short trip to Hawaii. Betty Rauch taught last year in Bend; Betty Smith is with the McCormick Steamship Company in Portland; Katharine Graef is studying for her master's degree in the Portland Extension Division.

Gilbert Sussman, who has been living in New York City for the past three years, received his LL.B. degree from Columbia law school in June. He has since passed the New York State bar examination. For the academic year 1929-30, Mr. Sussman has an appointment to the staff of the Yale law school, and his address will be 343 George Street, New Haven, Connecticut.

Perry Davis, ex-'26, is teaching and studying in the department of physical education at Columbia University. Mr. and Mrs. Davis live at 509 West 121st Street, New York City.

Lee Withrow has been employed for the past year by the Crown Willamette Paper Company as an accountant in their Floriston, California, office. He says that Reno, Nevada, is only twenty-five miles away and that Lake Tahoe, Donner Lake, and many other places of historical interest are within driving distance.

Henry Gideon Keeney, a graduate student in 1928, is an instructor at Grant High School, Portland, this year. For the past three years he has been principal of the Madras Union High School.

Howard Hobson, former Oregon basketball and baseball player, will coach at Cortland Normal, Cortland, New York, this year. Hobson has been appointed to head coach in football and baseball, and during the basket ball season intends to play professionally with a Syracuse team. Along with his coaching work he will teach classes in physical education. Cortland Normal meets the freshman teams of Cornell, Syracuse, and Colgate, and the small colleges and normals of New England.

Dr. J. H. West is now in San Francisco. His address is 60 Vicente Street.

Mrs. Lillian Flint Penepacker writes: "I gave up my position as 'Molly, the Town Crier' for K.G.W. when I was married. And now I'm enjoying immensely just broadcasting to my husband. My future plans include Homecoming at Oregon—this year sure."

Kenneth R. Wadleigh is teaching and coaching at Harrisburg High School this year.

"Ted" Gillenwaters was married on June 29 to Miss Elizabeth Ramsby. His classmates will probably recall that "Ted" is practising law in Klamath Falls and was appointed last year deputy district attorney for Klamath County.

1927

Elizabeth "Libby" Nash, ex-'27, spent the summer in Europe but has now returned to her home in Altadena, California.

Mrs. Claire Whitten McDonald, ex-'27, is now living in Portland where Mr. McDonald is making his headquarters. Alumni of recent years will remember that Mr. McDonald was formerly manager of the Heilig theatre in Eugene. He now owns a number of theatres, and is kept busy travelling from one to the other.

Edmund A. Veazie is a research engineer for the Bell Telephone laboratories in New York City. His address is 70 West Eleventh Street, Apartment 3-W, New York.

Della Sherwood and Luckey Lowell Bonney, ex-'22, were married on August 10. They are living at Coquille.

Saturday, August 31, was the date of the wedding of Grace McDermott and Wallace S. Hayden. Mr. and Mrs. Hayden left immediately for Portland after the reception. Mrs. Hayden has been teaching in the Albany High School for the past two years, and Mr. Hayden is associated with an architectural firm in Portland.

Mrs. Gwendolen Lampshire Hayden is to share a studio with Arah Hoyt Rae, Eugene voice teacher, at 72 West Broadway, Eugene, for the coming year. Mrs. Hayden has been at College Place, Washington, where she was head of the violin and public school music departments of Walla Walla College.

Miss Katie Buchanan will be in Roseburg again this year where she will be dramatics and senior English instructor at the senior high school there.

On July 8 in Syracuse, New York, Hope Crouch, '28, was married to Ray Nash. Ray is news editor, department of school and college news, for Porter Sargent. In addition he is doing a series of special newspaper articles and some free lance work. Hope is designing for a number of free lance accounts, and is doing lettering and advertising layouts. She is specializing somewhat in block-prints. She has been helping the aesthetic renaissance of the "Bostonian" magazine and recently designed a permanent cover for "The Shoe Buyer," leather trade publication.

Mrs. Kathryn Owen Goebel lives in Ashton, Idaho, where her husband is farming.

Alice Kraeft, ex-'27, visited in Eugene the latter part of the summer, returning to Portland after a short trip to the beach. She is assistant to the advertising manager of Charles F. Berg's in Portland.

Faith Jean Kimball left Independence September 4 for the east. She intended to make short stops at Chicago, Niagara Falls, and in Pennsylvania, arriving in New York in time to register for the year at Columbia University. Before her departure she wrote: "I shall be registered in the school of business there, working for a certificate in the one-year secretarial course given for college graduates. However, a large part of my interest lies in journalism, and I intend to take some of my elective hours in that department if possible." Miss Kimball before her departure for New York was news editor on the "Independence Enterprise."

Horace Mayo Boyden is a senior in medical school at the University of Michigan.

Frank Roehr and Linn Forrest, ex-'27, are with Morris H. Whitehouse and Associates, Architects, in Portland, along with several other Oregon alums. Mr. Forrest attended the Massachusetts Institute of Technology last year.

A son was born to Mrs. Helen Hershner Plant on August 15 at the Emanuel Hospital in Portland. Mrs. Plant was assistant to the dean of men at the University for two years before her marriage. The Plants make their home in Eugene.

Jeannetta Agnes Dugan teaches in the Portland Public School System. Her address is 581 East 10th Street North.

Dr. Laurence Roland Serrurier, M.D. '27, is a Fellow in Internal Medicine at the Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minnesota.

John Dundas and Donald Dundas are in Harvard law school. John, ex-'27, is a third year student, and Donald, ex-'29, who was graduated last June from the University of Southern California, entered this year.

Daisy Eva Witham and Carmen P. Fleming were married on June 25. They are living at Paisley, Oregon, where Mr. Fleming is an accountant. He is a graduate of Oregon State College. Mrs. Fleming taught school before her marriage.

Thelma Jane Vernon will be teaching French and English in the Gervais High School this year. She was at Lebanon last year.

After a two weeks honeymoon in British Columbia, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cheney (Beatrice Harden, '27) are making their home at 218 Stonewall-Jackson Street, Pendleton. Mr. Cheney is a former member of the class of 1928.

A son was born on May 29 to Dr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Gilstrap, and has been named Roderic Warren. Dr. Gilstrap received his M.D. degree from the University in 1927, and, as recorded in a recent OLD OREGON, is practicing in La Grande. Mrs. Gilstrap was graduated from O. S. C.

Kenneth Ruth has gone to Berkeley to take up work at the University of California for his Ph.D. degree. He received his M.A. recently from Harvard where he had a two year scholarship in Latin and Greek.

In the latter part of June, Mrs. Helen Holt Wilson entertained a group of Oregon people at her home in Medford. Among those present who enjoyed themselves recalling incidents of their days at Oregon were: Margaret Hensley, Arlene Butler, Lucie Oatman, ex-'27, and Eve Nealon, all of Medford; Annette Heckman, ex-'27, visiting from Hilo, Hawaii, for the summer; Mrs. Alta Knips Woodfield, of Detroit, and Nellie Best, Portland, graduate assistant in the fine arts department on the campus.

Alice Dorman is to stay in New York another year where she has accepted a position in the New York Public Library. She will be an assistant in the Children's Department of a new branch at Hunt's Point. She has been studying this last year in the school of library service of Columbia University. She was on the staff of the University of Oregon Library before that.

Wilma Mary Boisselier left on August 31 for New York City where she will enter Columbia University school of library service. She made the trip via the Panama Canal.

Lee Rapp has been transferred to the Seattle offices of the Chicago Pneumatic Tube Company. He has been in Arizona for the same company. He stopped in Eugene in July to visit his parents.

The marriage of Helen Dean Davidson and John Harley Hughes of San Francisco was an event of September 8 at Westminster Presbyterian Church in Portland. Mr. Hughes is a graduate of the University of Chicago and is in business in San Francisco, where they will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Rupert T. Gilbert (Melba Mickelson, '27) have a baby daughter born in Eugene on August 12. They reside at 1175 Adams Street, Eugene.

William Kidwell has recently been appointed boys' secretary at the Eugene Y. M. C. A. Mr. Kidwell has been assistant boys' secretary for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron A. Serfling (Edna Brochmann) have a baby daughter, born April 10. They live at Gardiner, Oregon, where Mr. Serfling is bookkeeper and cashier for the Gardiner Mill Company, a timber company.

Dr. I. Jack Vidgoff writes in from Los Angeles, California, where he is surgical resident at the Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Rolf Klep and Alice Latture, ex-'29, were married in Portland September 18 at the Westminster Presbyterian Church. Mr. Klep, whose home is in Astoria, has been doing commercial art work in Portland since his graduation. Mr. and Mrs. Klep left immediately for Chicago where they will make their home.

Eula Duke is teaching English in the Roseburg High School again this year.

Marion Morton is teaching English in Rainier High School again this year.

Arlene Butler is enrolled in the University of California this year, where she is working for her M.A. degree. Miss Butler spent the past year in Forest Grove where she was a member of the faculty of Pacific University.

Elizabeth Karpenstein, who has been studying for the past year at Heidelberg, Germany, will teach German and French at Albany College the coming year.

1928

William Schulze is telegraph editor of the "Yakima Republic," Yakima, Washington, a position he has held since June. Before that he was a reporter for the same paper. He spent part of his vacation in Eugene.

Austa M. Graves was married to Homer E. Carlon on June 13. They are living at Summer Lake, Oregon.

Robert A. Gilmore is in the real estate business in Port Angeles, Washington.

Thelma Neaville is one of the assistants at the Eugene Public Library this year.

Gladys Stofiel returned to Oakridge for the opening of school on the sixteenth of September. This is her second year of teaching in the school.

Mary McKinnon has returned to John Day where she will again teach for the coming year.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Julian Darst Conover (Josephine Taylor, ex-'28) on August 3, a son, Julian Darst, Jr. The Conovers are now in New York City.

Ethel Montgomery left late in August for Sidney, Montana, where she is a science teacher in the high school. She drove back by way of Seattle and Yellowstone Park.

On Sunday, June 16, Pauline Stewart was married to Homer J. Dixon at the home of the bride's parents in Dayville. They are at home at 760 Main Street, Independence.

John F. Lebor, who is a student in the Harvard business school, was employed by the Equitable Trust Company of New York during the summer months.

Eugene Howe, for the past year a teller in the United States National Bank of Newberg, has accepted a position in the Bank of Commerce in Eugene. Mr. Howe will be in charge of the savings department in the Eugene bank.

Milton W. Rice, 316 East 25th Street, Portland, is a clerk in the trust department of the United States National Bank of that city. He has been with this bank for the past year, since graduation.

H. Abbott Lawrence writes: "After a summer of architectural drafting with the firm of Lawrence, Holford, Allyn and Bean—University architects—I plan to leave in late fall for New York for work with some architects and further study. Hope to get back on the campus for a football game or so—possibly for Homecoming—before leaving." Mr. Lawrence received his master of fine arts degree in 1929.

Hilda Branstator has started teaching her second year in the Astoria High School. Her sister, Hope Branstator, '29, is teaching English in the Longview High School.

Herschel Landru and Miss Hortense Parker of Fairbanks, Alaska, were married at Anchorage on August 31. Reverend E. L. Winterberger, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Anchorage, performed the ceremony. For the past year Mr. Landru has been an instructor at the University of Fairbanks. Mr. and Mrs. Landru will reside in Eugene this winter where he will work for his M.A. in history and Mrs. Landru will enter the University as a sophomore.

After receiving his master's degree from Columbia University last June, Glen Howard has accepted the position as director of physical education at Seth Low Junior College, Brooklyn, New York, for the coming year.

California claims another Oregon grad, for Iris Evelyn Saunders has moved from Portland to 275 38th Street, Oakland, California. She has a position in San Francisco as secretary to the marine engineer.

Dr. Herbert E. Goldsmith, M.D. '28, is specializing in diseases of children at the Children's Hospital of Detroit, Michigan.

J. F. Santee, instructor in education at Oregon Normal School at Monmouth, has had several articles published in educational journals recently. One paper on "University of Oregon Admission—1876-1927," appeared in the "Oregon Historical Quarterly" for June, 1929; his "College Admission and the Junior High" was published in the "American School Board Journal" for August, 1929.

The marriage of Vena M. Gaskill and Leland Shaw, '27, was solemnized at Beaverton, August 14. Miss Gaskill was attended by Mary McLean, '29, and Ralph Geyer, '29, acted as best man. Miss Gaskill is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha and Phi Chi Theta. Mr. Shaw is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa and of Phi Delta Phi. He will be president of the law student body at the University of Oregon this year.

Mary Clark, ex-'29, Heppner, and Frank Riggs, '28, were married August 17 at the home of the bride's parents. Margorie Clark, ex-'31, and Gordon Ridings, '30, attended the couple. Mrs. Riggs was a member of the women's glee club and Mu Phi Epsilon, national honorary music society. Mr.

Riggs was president of his class during his junior year. He is with the McGinty service station in Eugene. They are living at the Reed Apartments on Twelfth and Mill Streets.

Miss Margaret Arnold and John A. Warren, ex-'28, were married in Grace Memorial Church, Portland, on September 4. They will live in Astoria where Mr. Warren will coach athletics in the schools.

Alfons Korn, '28, and Ted Buch, '27, Rhodes scholars from the University of Oregon, are studying at Munich, Germany, and have had some interesting experiences the past summer. They spent the greater part of their vacation on a bicycle trip through the Black Forest in Germany and were at Lake Constance at Friedrichshafen where the big German Graf Zeppelin has its permanent home. They saw the zeppelin depart. They recently saw Harmon Chapman, M.A. '28, at Munich.

On August 17 Gladys Grant was married to A. Nesbit Tucker, a graduate of the University of Washington. The couple is living at 600 East 49th Street North, Portland.

Miss Geneva L. Young and Raymond W. Breshears were married Sunday, September 8, in Eugene. Mr. Breshears' home is in Portales, New Mexico. He is now a graduate assistant in the School of Business Administration, while working for his M.A. Mr. and Mrs. Breshears are living at 1258 14th Avenue East, Eugene.

Ruth Newton took a nine weeks leave from her position in the Public Relations Bureau of the University this summer, to handle the publicity for the state fair at Salem. During her absence, Marion Sten, '29, took her place in the Public Relations Bureau.

Marian Clear and David J. Bauman were married in Portland August 11. They are living in Eugene this year while Mr. Bauman continues his studies in the University law school.

J. R. Ward spent eight weeks last summer at Gold Beach, making a study of the coast line development from the Rogue River south to the state line. The material he gathered will be used as the basis for a thesis for his advanced degree.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Dilg (Martha Rae Stanley) both former members of the class of 1928, have two sons, David

Special Round Trip Fares

OREGON ELECTRIC RAILWAY

FOOTBALL SEASON, 1929

U. OF O. GAMES

Oct. 19—Univ. of Idaho at Portland.

$3.80, Eugene to Portland and return. Morning trains, Oct. 19, going; returning, Oct. 19 and 20.

Nov. 2—U. of Calif. (L. A.), at Eugene. Dad's Day.

$5.10 Portland, $3.10 Salem, $2.10 Albany. Good going Nov. 1-2; return limit Nov. 4. proportional fares from other points in Oregon.

Nov. 16—Ore. State College, at Eugene. Homecoming.

$3.80 Portland, $1.35 Corvallis, to Eugene, Nov. 16; return limit Nov. 17.
$5.10 Portland, $3.10 Salem, $2.10 Albany to Salem, Nov. 14, 15, 16, return limit Nov. 18. Salem, Nov. 14, 15, 16, return limit Nov. 18. Proportional fares from other points in Oregon.

Nov. 23—Univ. of Hawaii, at Portland.

$5.10 from Eugene, Nov. 22-23; return limit Nov. 24.

Reduced Daily and Week-end Fares All the Time

OREGON ELECTRIC RAILWAY

L. F. KNOWLTON, General Agent, Portland

F. S. APPLEMAN, Agent, Phone 140, Eugene

R. H. CROZIER, General Passenger Agent, Portland

Stanley, born May 9, 1928, and John Howard, born May 10, 1929.

On August 4 Thelma Kitchen was married to Raymond A. Hall, ex-'31, in the Presbyterian Church of La Grande. The couple is living in Portland at the Adrien Apartments. Mr. Hall is with Butterfield Brothers, wholesale jewelers.

Neta C. Wirak is to teach English and French at Coburg High School again this year.

Vida Buchler, who assumed her duties as physiotherapy aide in the Letterman General Hospital last spring, writes that her sister, Gladys Buchler, '26, spent part of her vacation with her in San Francisco. Gladys will teach again this year in the high school at Junction, and left her home in Eugene the last of August for Alaska.

Ethel Gunderson is a school nurse in the Portland Public School system.

On August 20 Hazel Loucks, ex-'28, was married to John Earl Van Nortwick at the home of the bride's parents in Cottage Grove. Mr. and Mrs. Nortwick left immediately for California, returning in time for the opening of school. Mrs. Nortwick is a physical education instructor in the Junior high schools of Eugene. Mr. Nortwick has a dairy ranch south of town.

Clausin D. Hadley is at Stanford, doing graduate work in the school of business administration and teaching part time in economics.

Ethel Helliwell, formerly on the staff of the University library in the circulation department, has gone to California where she is attending the library school at Berkeley. Ethel's new address is 2430 Bowditch, Berkeley.

Easter Dae Craddock, who last year was in the high school at Sweet Home, is teaching this year in Farmington, Washington.

"This is my first experience in Eastern Oregon and I feel myself feeling as if I were in an absolutely different world from that of the Willamette Valley. It is proving interesting and I like it," writes Bernita Faye Lamson. She is teaching English and American History in Heppner, Oregon. Her sister, Guinevere Lamson, is in the circulation department of the University Library.

Virginia Broughton Rogers, ex-'28, is now living in Everett, Washington. She has a small son, Lyle Keith, born July 6.

Maxine Edmunds, ex-'28, is studying music in Los Angeles.

Serena Madsen, ex-'30, and John Scheffer were married August 25 at the home of the bride's parents in Junction City. After a trip to the beaches in Oregon Mr. and Mrs. Scheffer returned to Eugene to make their home. Mrs. Scheffer is a senior this year in the University and Mr. Scheffer, who is an assistant in the English department, is studying for his M.A.

Boyd Yaden, ex-'28, is now in Honolulu. He was formerly in the real estate business.

Mrs. Dorothy Munsell Watney, ex-'28, with her six months old daughter, Joanne, has been visiting her parents in Portland during the summer. She now makes her home in Madison, New Jersey, as her husband, Cornelius O. Watney, a graduate of O. S. C., is in business in New York.

On June 12 Barbara Edmunds was married to Ted Roy. Mrs. Roy while in the University majored in music, and Mr. Roy, who attended O. S. C., is a popular young Oregon singer. He was staff tenor for KGW for several months previous to the couple's departure in August for Philadelphia where he will continue his music studies.

On September 4 Mazie Richards and Townley Bale were married in Portland. After the ceremony they left by auto for Los Angeles, where Mr. Bale, a graduate of O. S. C., is in business.

A daughter, Shirley Anne, was born to Mrs. Barbara Blythe King, ex-'28, on June 11. Her "occupation in detail," Mrs. King outlines as follows: "Keeping house and taking care of Shirley; also playing bridge when the opportunity arrives."

Ruth Gregg, who has been secretary in the School of Journalism for the past three years, resigned this summer to take a position on the "Astoria Budget." She assumed her new duties early in October.

Eleanore Glass spent two months of the summer vacation travelling and sight-seeing up and down the west coast, from Seattle to Los Angeles. She went down the coast by boat and drove back, stopping at points of interest along the way. While in California, she attended the Pi Beta Phi convention in Pasadena. This winter, Miss Glass is in the La Grande High School directing physical education, teaching in the general science department and acting as freshman advisor.

Dorothy Hobson is in the drapery department at Meier and Frank Company, Portland.

"I never knew," writes Genera Zimmer, "there was such a place as 'Sweet Home' until I applied for the position open in the high school. It may not be 'Home, Sweet Home' for me, but the people are very nice and are very enthusiastic. Sweet Home is very small but the drive over and on to Cascadia Mineral Springs rivals the McKenzie Highway in beauty. On a clear day Mt. Jefferson looms up in the sky, snow covered and rugged." Miss Zimmer teaches physical education, sewing and typing.

Edith Bain writes on the back of her questionnaire: "Katherine Mutzig, '28, and I are busily making woodblocked Christmas cards, handkerchiefs, and towels for various shops in Portland. We have a studio in my home, and so far have been getting along very nicely—much to our own surprise."

Dr. John C. Brounger, M.D. '28, writes: "Having finished one year of internship in the Good Samaritan Hospital, Portland, I began the practice of medicine in Vancouver, Washington, in July, and am associated with Dr. C. R. Zener." The Broungers have just completed the building of a new home.

1929

Eldon L. Wood, who was on the campus in 1920 and 1921, received a B.A. degree from the University last June. Mr. Wood holds a B.A. from the Eugene Bible University, and is at present minister in the Christian Church of Lebanon. Before coming to the University in March to complete work for his degree, he was in Lexington, Oregon, doing church work.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Greulich (Helen Lutecher) have moved from the Grande Ronde Apartments in La Grande to 901 N Avenue. Mrs. Greulich is a former member of the class of 1930 and Mr. Greulich of the class of 1929. Since their marriage in January, 1928, they have lived in La Grande, where Mr. Greulich is manager of a motion picture theatre.

Margaret Nugent and William Baker, ex-'30, were married September 8 in Chicago. Immediately after they came back to Eugene. Mrs. Baker will teach in Springfield this year, and Mr. Baker will coach and finish his University work. Mrs. Baker is a member of Delta Delta Delta and Mr. Baker of Phi Delta Theta.

Most Students
Eat..

William's
Butter Krust Bread

The Finer, Richer
Loaf

Olive Adams and Reuben Carl Young, ex-'28, were married June 19 in Eugene. Mrs. Young was graduated in June and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Pi Lambda Theta, honor societies. Mr. Young is on the staff of the "Eugene Register."

George W. McMurphy, ex-'29, has been appointed manager of the Alder Theatre, one of a chain owned by Mr. J. J. Parker, Portland, associated with Fox.

Crete Virginia Gray and Rolland John Main were married on May 11, 1929. They are living at Fifth and Watson Streets, Beaverton, Oregon.

Bettie Pratt, ex-'29, will be in Havana, Cuba, this winter where she is to teach in an Episcopal girls' school, the Cathedral School, in the second and third grades. For the past several months Miss Pratt has been in the East, visiting in New York and other eastern cities.

Katherine Winchell, '29, and James Dudley Stewart Jr., '26, and Katherine's sister, Pauline Winchell, ex-'29 (University of Michigan, '29), and Dale Hendry Moore were married at a double wedding in Eugene June 28. The date is the wedding anniversary of their parents, Dr. and Mrs. George P. Winchell, and their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Norton, who were also married at a double wedding ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart are living in Portland where Mr. Stewart is an assistant and a student in pathology at the University of Oregon Medical School, and Mrs. Stewart is a pathology technician. Mr. and Mrs. Moore are living in Easton, Pennsylvania, where Mr. Moore is teaching at La Fayette College. Their address is 120 McCartney Street.

Margaret "Peggy" Price who was in a girls' camp this summer in California, returned to Eugene early in the fall prior to leaving for Ashland where she is to teach physical education.

Joy Ingalls left the latter part of August for Portland where she stopped a few days before going on to Prairie City where she will teach English and dramatics this year.

Ruth DeNeffe will teach in Cascade Locks this coming school year.

Madeline McDonough left Eugene early in September to take up her duties as an instructor in the high school at Arlington.

Lawrence Mitchelmore, ex-'29, is attending the San Francisco Theological Seminary which is conducted under the auspices of the Presbyterian Church. Mr. Mitchelmore was graduated from the University of Oregon last spring, majoring in journalism. He was a member of Sigma Delta Chi.

Carol Eberhart has gone to Evanston, Illinois, where he has an assistantship in the psychology department of Northwestern University. His brother, Howard, will teach and coach athletics in the Onalaska High School, Onalaska, Washington.

Mary Margaret Ferrall and James Peter Johnson were married in Eugene July 27. Both are graduates with the class of 1929. They will make their home in Honolulu.

Francis McKenna is assistant escrow officer with the Title and Trust Company of Portland. He is attending the University law school in Portland.

Luelia Andre and Glenn Potts were married in Eugene during the past summer. Mrs. Potts is a member of Delta Delta Delta and Mr. Potts is a member of Sigma Pi Tau, Phi Mu Alpha and National Collegiate Players. He was prominent in dramatics while on the campus and is at present engaged in the insurance business in Eugene.

Lynn Wykoff, ex-'29, has a new position, handling news and editorials for the "Tillamook Herald," replacing Herbert Lundy who has been with the "Herald" for the past year. Lundy is now reporter on the "Eugene Register."

Elaine Crawford is working in the financial news department of the "Oregonian."

Merrill Hagan will coach at Medford High School this year, taking the place of "Pink" Callison, ex-'22, who will be freshman coach at the University.

Viollette Cole wants her OLD OREGON sent to her this year at Box 85, Spencer, Idaho.

Alyce Dell Johnson, ex-'29, was married to Robert Dutton on September 14 in Marshfield. The couple sailed September 18 for Honolulu.

Bernice K. Lund and Laura Mae Bryant are both teaching in the Newport High School this year. Laura Mae teaches English and Spanish and Bernice teaches science, history and physical education. "We are looking forward to a big year," writes Bernice.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Crakes (Mildred Rickabaugh) have a young son, born August 2. Their address is 907 Hilyard Street, Eugene.

(Continued on page 44)

McMorran & Washburne

PHONE 2700

IF IT WERE NOT FOR THE SATISFACTION YOU GET FROM WEARING CLOTHES
— A BARREL WOULD DO
JUST AS WELL.

And that satisfaction is wholly dependent upon the service you get, and the pleasure derived from garments that become a part of, and express your personality.

KUPPENHEIMER CLOTHES

GIVE GENUINE SATISFACTION

The Man's Shop

A CAFE OF NAME!

Jack Cody's Restaurant

319 Washington Street

Portland, Oregon

Better Grades — With Less Work

USE A TYPEWRITER

ALL MAKES

STANDARD OR
PORTABLE

FOR SALE OR RENT — STUDENT TERMS

Office Machinery & Supply Co.

1047 Willamette St. Phone 148

Old Oregon Looks at the New

Edited by FLORENCE GREBE

This feature is added to OLD OREGON to afford you the news in fashion as well as the other information which is brought to you. Here you will find the latest style notes from what the well-dressed individual will wear to trends in furniture and gardens. Former football heroes or members of the rooting section may even find news of the newest for them. We believe you will find the department interesting and helpful wherever OLD OREGON may find you. We welcome your comments or suggestions.

BAGS are one of the most admirable accessories of the season—richly embroidered or finely wrought petit point and Beauvais with exquisitely jeweled frames. Even the leather bag has taken to embroidered decoration. Pliable suede in black, brown and bright colors is particularly adapted to the ensemble theme, and is unusually smart when given a note of modernism. Antelope, too, is good and practical in bags for everyday use. With an ensemble in the new dark green we see decorated leather bags in the same shade, adding a smart note to the ensemble and tapestry bags are always in good taste. They are one of the things which have not been changed since the time of our grandmothers and are still in favor and exhibited by the smartest shops of Paris. The material is usually petit point and the scenes depicted are pastoral, cottages and shepherds, reminding us charmingly of the time of Marie Antoinette. The shape is often the same as grandma's bag with the frame in gold.

* * *

"OLD OREGON looks at the new" even in handkerchiefs. Up to now, they have been usually white or in plain colored linen with a fancy border, sometimes in a checked pattern. The latest novelty is to make the handkerchief entirely covered with checks of different sizes, sometimes showing striking color contrasts.

* * *

GLOVES fall under the spell of black magic—usually in black suede or fine doeskin—a fashion not in the least surprising considering the tremendous vogue black is now having. The long glove returns for evening—the medium length for afternoon, worn crushed at the wrist—and Chanel's new gauntlet type with multi-colored bands for sportswear. Gloves form an important part of the ensemble—usually they match the hose which will contrast with the rest of the ensemble. They may or may not match the bag which sometimes catches the predominating color of the costume and sometimes, with the hose and gloves, forms a clever contrast.

THE ENSEMBLE, or "whole effect," is becoming more and more an individualized, personalized costume. Involving color, line, and a coordination of fabrics, we find the ensemble becoming more highly developed each season—until now, we have chic little boudoir ensembles that include pajama and robe. But whether the ensemble be for street, sports, afternoon, evening—or boudoir it is of utmost importance that the accessories be carefully chosen, each for its relation to the other and each for its particular adaptability to the whole.

* * *

NOTES ON FASHIONS FOR MEN— Doubtless you will have noticed that the really well-dressed man—whether you encounter him among the wolves of Wall Street or in the West—is that man whose clothes and manner are casual. He is well-dressed without conspicuously seeming to be so. You will also notice that he is as appropriately dressed as he is smartly dressed. A football game, for instance, calls for a roomy fleece or camelshair ulster with a generous collar that one can turn up to protect one's ears from the invigorating but at times cold air of open air stadiums.

But appropriateness of dress goes farther than the place where one happens to be—it includes "what looks best on who." There are new fall tweeds, twists, and chevots, new fall colors, the new snug waistline in men's suits. Tobacco brown is a new and popular shade for those who can wear it. The snug waistline, while avowedly the newest note in fashions for men, is appropriate only for those of the Greek god type. The athlete has his innings, too, via the new broad shoulder effect.

There has been much of late concerning the expressing of one's personality and even one's mood in a tie. And what could be more fitting than to wear a gay tie on a joyous occasion—particularly when it matches one's smile and one's complexion.

This year the feat of attaining that coveted air of studied simplicity should be easier because men's clothes are more varied than ever before in color, in line and in design.

* * *

IN MATERIALS, woolens hold an important position in the fall mode and will be worn in place of silk for many occasions. They will be especially good for daytime wear. We find the new covert cloth among the most popular and smartest. Jerseys have come back into their own this fall with new weaves and color combinations, and they will be seen in smart simple dresses as well as in two and three piece sport outfits. Tweeds, from very soft to rugged heavy ones, are far toward the front in the race for popularity.

Smart woolens will be seen everywhere this fall—street outfits will tend to tweeds, with jerseys, wool georgettes, crepes, twills, flannels, and covert cloth appearing in the daytime frocks for office, school, and street wear under coats.

* * *

HATS—simple and severe in line indicate the mode's preference for chic rather than mere "prettiness." Exceedingly smart and charmingly modern are these new off-the-face or bare-face types. Turning abruptly and exposing the entire forehead they are surely Fashion's contradiction that there's nothing new under the sun! Felts, soleils, visavis and transparent velvet are the most extensively used materials.

WHAT are the new shades in hosiery to wear with the fall costumes? Among the smartest colors for stockings shown by Marny, one is like the darkest shade of suntanned skin. Another one is a warm beige with a good deal of gray in it. These two particular colors are especially recommended for wear with black. With brown as one of the outstanding colors for fall, there will naturally be shades created expressly for wear with brown. A new shade is "Sable" which is just enough lighter to give a pleasing contrast with the rich browns of fall and winter and it helps to retain the ensemble in brown. Grays and grayish beige shades are attractive with the new dark greens. Gray hosiery will be worn with the dark red or mulberry colors.

SHOES for the fall mode are newest in lizard and other reptile skins—everywhere one sees them and in all colors, with brown, black and green predominating. Green lizard shoes are particularly smart with a costume in the new green shade, making an effective yet simple ensemble. Suede will be used also and to good effect with velvet dresses or materials of similar texture. Kid shoes with satin dresses or other smooth materials. As to the style of the new shoes—for street wear brogue oxfords with extreme sport clothes are good. Oxfords in unusual effects are also good. Some new ones resemble an oxford in that they have ties but the ties are low so that they are quite like a pump in trimness. They will be found with the Cuban heel as well as high heel—the Cuban heel better for street wear and generally more popular than it has been. The half-Spanish heel is new and finds favor with those who want the effect of the high heel without the added height. Strip pumps are always smart and correct and for afternoon wear they remain one of the leading types.

COSTUME JEWELRY completes the costume as nothing else can and for convincing evidence you need only look in any of the leading shop windows. Lapis lazuli, carnelian, rose quartz, crysoprane and the recently revived favorite, coral worked into smart and unusual novelties lend a distinctive and modern note to the costume. If you would be style-wise, do not over-look the importance of costume jewelry.

News of the Faculty

(Continued from page 14)

years he has been a practicing attorney in the law firm of Teal, Winfree and McCulloch, Portland. He taught courses in economics and English while at Eugene working for his master's degree, following which he studied a year in the Harvard school of law before enrolling in Stanford. As an undergraduate he was active in debating and oratory. He made the varsity debating team two years and captured the state intercollegiate "Old Line" oratorical contest.

Mr. Hempstead won honors in journalism last June. He won recognition as a varsity debater and orator in this section and enlarged this reputation as a member of the Oregon team that journeyed round the world, debating colleges in this country, Australia, and Europe.

Professor Hoerber succeeds J. K. Horner, who resigned to enter business in Eugene, and Mr. Hempstead fills the post left vacant upon the resignation of A. H. Baldrige.

Dr. John Mez, who has come to Oregon as professor of economics and political science, is a widely known lecturer and author in social science fields. He has been teaching recently in the University of Arizona. A native of Freiburg, Germany, he was educated in the Universities of Leipzig, Heidelberg and Munich, taking his doctor's degree from Heidelberg in 1907. He is the former president of the Central Committee of the International Federation of Students and is a member of the American Sociological Society and the American Political Science Association. He is the author of various pamphlets on international polity and has travelled widely and extensively in the interests of the peace movement.

Other appointments to other schools and departments follow:
School of Law—Wayne L. Morse, professor of Law. He took the doctor of jurisprudence degree at Columbia University. He took his bachelor's degree at the University of Wisconsin in 1923, his master's degree in 1924. Professor Hugh E. Rosson is appointed to full time service as professor of law.

School of Architecture and Allied Arts—Michael J. Mueller, professor of painting and temporary head of the department. Professor Mueller received his B.F.A. degree from Yale in 1925 and taught there for two years. He also studied in Rome. Richard W. Bock, head of the Department of Sculpture. He received his training at the Academy of Bildendi Kunsti, Berlin, and the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Paris. He has taught in the Chicago Art Academy and Rosary College.

Alvin L. Rigg will succeed John A. Walquist as assistant professor of architecture. He is a graduate of Minnesota and received his master's degree at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Ralph Harris, graduate of the University of Washington in 1925, will work in design, dividing his time between the arts department and the course in dramatics. He is former technical director of the Players Club, Seattle, and the dramatic department of the Seattle park system. He was technical lighting expert at the Sunset Trail pageant in Eugene last summer.

(Continued on page 42)

Their Preference...

Proudly we note the fact that hundreds of College Women, always the most severe critics of Fashion, come to Bedell—and return, season after season, to make their apparel selections. . . . That fact alone is proof of Bedell leadership in the realm of Smartness. . . .

BEDELL

SIXTH, CORNER ALDER
 PORTLAND

NO OTHER
SHOES
ARE LIKE THEM

Armishaw Shoes are in a class entirely by themselves. They fit and wear better—give greater comfort, have a style of their own, and yet—they cost no more.

ARMISHAW'S

107 WEST PARK

PORTLAND, ORE.

...and I'll tell you why!!

Our styles come from New York's leading designer and we tailor but one suit of a pattern, — and we tailor your first suit on approval!

$40.00 to $80.00

Rolla M. Gray, Jr.

Tailors to Well Dressed Men

125 Park — Near Washington St.

News of the Faculty

(Continued from page 41)

School of Business Administration—Daniel D. Gage Jr., associate professor. Professor Gage is a graduate of Stanford and took his master of business administration degree from Harvard before joining the Security Title and Guarantee Company of Los Angeles. George W. Robbins, assistant professor, a graduate of California and the Harvard school of business administration, has been research director of the Farrar Company of Los Angeles for the past year. His principal work has been market evaluation and sales analysis work.

School of Music—Arthur Boardman, head of the Department of Voice. Mr. Boardman returned recently from an extended operatic tour of Italy. John H. Stehn will succeed Walter L. Ferris as director of the University band. Dr. Mez will teach 'cello.

School of Physical Education—E. R. Knollin, professor of physical education for men. Professor Knollin obtained his bachelor's and master's degrees from Stanford University. He is the former head of the department of physical education in San Jose Teachers' College. In the women's division, Janet G. Woodruff will be assistant professor, succeeding Emma Waterman, who recently resigned. Miss Woodruff is a graduate of the Kellogg school of physical education and has taken her M.S. and M.A. degrees from Columbia University. Her teaching experience includes work in the A. and M. College, Stillwater, Oklahoma, and Kansas State Teachers' College. Margaret M. Duncan, graduate of the University of Washington, will be general activities instructor in the women's department.

Sociology department—Dr. L. S. Cressman, professor of sociology. He has been on the staff of the College of the City of New York for the past four years. James M. Reinhardt, assistant professor of sociology. Professor Reinhardt has been instructor at North Dakota for two years and also taught at William Harvey College, Barboursville, West Virginia.

Economics department—Vernon G. Sorrell, assistant professor of economics. Professor Sorrell is a graduate of the University of California and taught at St. Mary's College. He will fill the vacancy of Donald M. Erb, who is on a leave of absence.

Department of Biology—Dr. Ernst Gellhorn of the University of Halle, Germany, professor of animal biology.

Department of Romance Languages—Dr. Chandler B. Beall, assistant professor of Romance Languages, succeeding Dr. Arnold H. Rowbotham. Dr. Beall has taught recently in George Washington University.

Well - - -

Lady (to distinguished Archaeologist): "And these—er—things that you laboriously exhume—can they be used again?"—Punch.

* * *

Obliging

Indignant Householder: "You've papered the study with the bathroom paper and the bathroom with the study paper. What do you propose to do about it?"

Paperhanger: "Dunno, sir, I'd willingly shift the bath for you, but that's a plumber's job."—Punch.

LEMON EXTRACT

Night Life

College Prexy (awakened by the phone from deep sleep at three A. M.): "Hello?"
 Voice: "Is this the president?"
 Prexy: "Yes."
 Voice: "Well, what are you doing up this late?"—Sagehen.

Statistics prove that the biggest turnover in the automobile business is on Sundays.—Judge.

Visitor (calling at house after happy event): "How is her Ladyship this afternoon?"

Aged Retainer: "'Er Ladyship and Child are doing well, M'lady, but me an' 'is Lordship are still a trifle shaky."—Punch.

Mistress (to a new maid): "It seems to me you want very large wages for one who has had so little experience."
 Maid: "But, mum, ain't it harder for me when I don't know how?"—Pearson's.

Only Saw the Road

Ned: "Where did you tour on your vacation?"
 Ted: "Gosh! I don't know! I was driving the car!"—Life.

Officer: "What's all the commotion here?"
 Arthur: "Just started to cross the bridge."
 Officer: "Well?"
 Arthur: "There weren't no bridge."—Film Fun.

Otto says that when better jars are built, Ford will build them.—Film Fun.

Hokus-Pokus

Sceptic: "I think we have a rotten team this year."
 Patriot: "What! How do you account for the seven touchdowns they made in yesterday's game?"
 Sceptic: "It was probably done with mirrors or something."—Humor.

Surprise

"Hadn't you better go and tell your father?" said the motorist to the farmer's boy who stood looking at the load of hay upset in the lane by a collision.
 "He knows," replied the boy.
 "Knows? How can he know?"
 "He's under the hay."—Drexlerd.

Spare Parts

"What are you doing now?"
 "I have found a new circus turn—the friendship of a lion and a goat."
 "But aren't there quarrels between them?"
 "Oh, yes, they have their little quarrels, but then we buy a new goat."—Der Gemütliche Sachse (Leipzig).

His Master's Voice

Friend (eyeing very luxurious car): "But you don't mean to tell me that you bought it just to satisfy a whim of your wife's?"
 The Other (sadly): "Ah, you don't know her, old man. She's got a whim of iron."—Humorist (London).

"I've just been rated 50% on sex appeal."
 "How's that?"
 "Well, I have sex, but no appeal."—C. C. N. Y. Mercury.

Anxious to Please

Boss: "Yes, I want an office boy. Do you smoke?"
 Boy: "No, thank you, sir, but I don't mind having an ice-cream cone."—Everybody's Weekly (London).

Agitated Wife: "I'm positive that was a man we ran over."
 Motorist (in thick fog): "Good! Then we're still on the road all right."—Pearson's.

Try a Doily

Flapper: "I would like to try on that vieux rose frock in the window."
 Saleslady: "I'm sorry, that's a lampshade, but we could copy it for you."—Everybody's Weekly (London).

Landscape Decoration

Jim: "How do you know there has been a picnic here?"
 Zim: "I see by the papers."—Life.

Wee Sma' Hours

Father: "I should have thought that a night club was the very last place a daughter of mine would go to."
 Daughter: "It usually is, darling."—Punch.

Conjugal Harmony

Mr. and Mrs. Gann wore a very stunning ensemble costume of silver gray crepe.—Atlanta Journal.

Mother: "I hear you're writing all the plays at your college, Cuthbert; you're quite a Shakespeare."
 Cuthbert: "Well—er—yes. But of course Shakespeare wasn't an Oxford man."—Punch.

All Forgiven

"Vera is mad with Stella for saying that Henry is only an apology for a man."
 "Why should that worry Vera?"
 "Haven't you heard? She's just accepted the apology."—Passing Show (London).

Just as Good

Country Hotel Waiter: "You wished your coffee without cream, sir. I'm sorry, we have no cream. Will you have it without milk?"—Punch.

Then again, the early bird may have to serve his wife breakfast in bed.—Life.

Our Convincing Advertisers

"Are you satisfied that your Savings are in a safe place? If not, bring them to a Bank that has kept its doors open for over 100 years."—Savings-Bank Circular.

Come to Think of It

Wife of Prolific Author: "Here's a review of your latest, dear."
 Prolific Author: "Yes. The fellow says it's the second time I've written it. Now I come to think of it, I believe he's right."—Punch.

It All Depends

First Golfer (telling fish story): "He was about as long as that last drive of yours."
 Second Golfer: "Oh, really!"
 First Golfer: "Yes, so I threw him back."—Pearson's.

"Yesterday I refused a poor woman a small sum of money and couldn't sleep all night. I kept hearing her voice asking for it. It was awful."
 "What a tender conscience you 'ave. Who was the woman?"
 "My wife."—Passing Show.

"The Sweater That's Better"

Between Broadway and Park St.

Offering you some of the newest in FALL KNITTED APPAREL—both in ensembles and sweaters with skirts to match

—JOHN HANCOCK SERIES—

PENSIONS

Did you ever think about Pensioning Yourself?

At a surprisingly low cost you can use the resources of life insurance to provide yourself with an adequate pension. It is a form of insurance known as "Annuities," an entirely different thing from the payment of money to your relatives at your death.

You would be interested to read of the experience of others. We shall be pleased to send you our booklet, "Life Income Through Annuities," which tells their experiences and explains the plan. Address

INQUIRY BUREAU

197 CLARENDON ST., BOSTON, MASS.

A.G.
 —SIXTY-FIFTH YEAR OF BUSINESS—

News of the Classes

(Continued from page 39)

Hermione Smith is on the staff of the Harrison and Guthrie Advertising Agency at Minneapolis. She left Eugene about the middle of September, after spending the summer at her home in Eugene, and in Portland.

Gordon Ridings, ex-'29, three year letterman in basketball, will coach University High School at Eugene, succeeding J. Laurin "Ick" Reynolds, '28, another former Oregon basketball and baseball star.

Josephine Ralston, whose home is in Albany, will be in Kahlotus this school year where she is teaching. Her mailing address is Box 27, Kahlotus, Washington.

Margaret Achterman will be in Bend this year where she will be librarian at the Union High School. She has been on the staff of the University Library.

F. Lillian Bennett, ex-'29, "danseuse," has just finished an engagement with Shuberts musical revue, "A Night in Venice."

She is now appearing in Publix presentations at the Paramount Theatre in New York City. Her address is 205 West 57th street, New York City.

Olive Ritau, ex-'29, is back at her home in Portland after a trip around the world as a member of the Floating University. She arrived in New York June 10, and there was met by her mother. They then made extensive visits in the East and South, including New York, Massachusetts, Vermont, Washington D. C., Virginia and South Carolina. Miss Ritau left Portland on the world trip October 22, 1928.

Florence Grebe has changed her name to Nancy Lee . . . at least during the hour that she broadcasts shopping news over K G W. Many favorable comments have been made on the quality of Miss Grebe's voice. Miss Grebe was trained in advertising on the campus. During her senior year she was president of Gamma Alpha Chi, national honorary advertising club for women.

Helen Webster is hostess for K G W, the "Morning Oregonian" broadcasting station.

Dorothea Lensch will do advanced work at Wellesley this year.

Sally Starr has recently taken a position with E. H. Rollins and Sons in Portland.

Louise Storla will teach music in Newberg High School this year.

Olive Banks and Katherine Galbraith are teaching in the Wallowa High School, Wallowa, Oregon, this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Standard (Agnes C. Farris, ex-'30) are living in Alaska where they have been for the past year. "We have been here (Juneau) for three weeks," writes Joe, ex-'29, "and are leaving tomorrow for Cordova and then I will become manager of the new Piggly Wiggly Store at Anchorage in a couple of months. We long to be back at old Oregon 'as we sit and dream at evening'—but will have to cherish pleasant memories of the 'old mill race' at dear old Oregon." They have a small daughter, Suzanne Leilla.

Luella Markley will edit "Child Health" magazine in Portland this year. The magazine is published monthly during the school year by the Oregon Tuberculosis Association as an aid to teachers in the teaching of hygiene. During the summer Miss Markley acted as associate editor of the "Western Nebraska Observer" of Kimball, Nebraska. She is a member of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism fraternity, and was editor of "The Handshake," annual publication of Theta Sigma Phi.

Clarence A. Liddberg, ex-'29, is now in France studying at the Fontainebleau School of Fine Arts under Jean Despujols.

Vivian M. Blair, ex-'29, left recently for Gatlinburg, Tennessee, where she will establish a music course and teach English in the settlement school maintained by Pi Beta Phi, National Alumnae Association. Miss Blair is the first girl ever chosen from Oregon and only the second from the Pacific Coast to join in the educational work being carried on by this organization. She recently attended the national convention of Pi Beta Phi at Pasadena, California, and with a party of friends visited in Canada, Chicago and Cincinnati before going to Tennessee.

Chalmers Nooe is sports reporter for the "Eugene Guard." Alice Ann Gorman has been employed to teach English and mathematics in the Grants Pass High School.

Ella Carrick has taken Miss Martha Spoffard's place in the continuations catalog department at the University Library. She was on the campus all summer and during the summer session taught library work.

Edith Dodge has taken Wilma Lester's place on the "Eugene Register" as proof reader. Miss Lester was graduated with the class of 1927.

Helen Holt, who was graduated last spring, will return to the University this year to complete work for her bachelor of architecture degree.

Helen Dodd, ex-'29, has been employed for the past year at the First National Bank, St. Helens.

Marion Leach and Dorothy Lundburg are both attending the University of California.

Melva Hattan attended post session at the University of Oregon this summer and was graduated at the special summer school commencement. Miss Hattan will teach mathematics in the St. Helens High School this year.

Myra Jordan, ex-'29, who has been ill at her home in Enterprise, is now convalescing.

Mrs. Belle Perkins Rogers, ex-'29, is now making her home in Baker.

Living Organizations

Now
Is the Time to Have Your House Group
Pictures Taken

By

Kennell-Ellis Studios

Phone 1697

PACIFIC BUSINESS BUREAU

Financial Organization Research Problems
Campaign Management Publicity Service
Statistical Work

I. H. GERLINGER, President

1064 Thurman Street Portland, Oregon

"WE INSURE ANYTHING"

TROMP & MCKINLEY AGENCY

Rooms 26-28

First National Bank Building
Eugene, Oregon

Fill up with Associated on your way to the Games

GO to every football game this year that you can. We'll help you on your way and add to your enjoyment of the game.

At red, green and cream stations and garages all along western highways, Associated Service-men are waiting to serve you. Fill up with Associated Ethyl Gasoline, the motor fuel that puts "Wings on your car" and avoid embarrassment of an empty gas-tank along the road.

And the smiling Associated Service-man will present you with your free copy of the new "Get Associated with Football" Book. A valuable football guide, explaining formations, new rules, new plays and including 1929 schedules, last year's scores, and a wealth of other interesting data about the game.

Remember, if you can't be at the game, listen in on the Associated football broadcasts of all the major contests. Trained announcers will transport you to a seat on the 50-yard line, in the cheering section.

Associated says — "Follow Football With Associated" — and may the best team win!

ASSOCIATED ETHYL GASOLINE

ASSOCIATED OIL COMPANY

Refiners and Marketers of Associated Gasoline, Associated Ethyl Gasoline, Cycol Motor Oils and Greases and other "Sustained Quality" products

“DECORATIONS are lovely . . . orchestra’s wonderful . . . your house is the nicest one I’ve been to this week . . . and another thing, you all smoke Camels here . . . your pin is simply adorable . . . do take it off and let me see it.” . . . “Whoa, lady—whoa! Your line is nearly as perfect as your taste. Just leave me the pin . . . and have a Camel!”

When she says “we have so many things in common”— hold everything, and pass the Camels. She’s been around enough to appreciate the better cigarette.