Orlando John Hollis received his B.S. from Oregon in 1926 and his J.D. in 1928. He served as lecturer in the law school and assistant trust officer at the First National Bank until 1931 when he assumed the rank of professor of law. Like many another stern but likeable prof, he soon acquired a nickname—all law school students refer to him affectionately as "Tuffy" Hollis.

His tough courses gain added prestige because of his fine record as an administrator. During the absence of Dean Wayne L. Morse in 1937 and 1938 to compile the reports on parole release procedure, Mr. Hollis served as acting dean. He has been a valuable member of the Faculty Advisory Council and the Educational Activities Board. During his "spare" time he is adviser to pre-legal students and serves ably in the Eugene Water Board which administers one of the country's most successful municipal power systems.

This picture was taken on the occasion of the annual softball game between the law school student body and the business administration students. Hollis has long served as official umpire for the occasion. Behind him in the multi-colored shirt is Wally Kaapcke, B.S. '37, LL.B. '39, who goes to Yale University next year as a Sterling Fellow in Law.

After spending an average of ten or eleven hours a day seven days a week going to school, the law school student body treats itself to a well-deserved "bust" every spring on their law school weekend. Reigning as queen over their weekend this year was dainty "Tony" Amato, captain of the 1938 varsity football team, who receives his LL.B. this year.

After the coronation of Queen "Two-Ton Tony," the faculty was treated to a ride in sulkies and carriages drawn by willing law students. Thence the procession goes to the softball field for the annual battle.

A big disappointment to the young barristers was the absence of Dean Morse who was in San Francisco as Pacific Coast Waterfront Arbitrator. Only a law student would think of sending a collect telegram to the Dean demanding that he give up his work and return for the series. Dean Morse, whose stables are among Eugene's finest, met the demand with the following wire:

RECOGNIZE IT WORTH FIFTY BUCKS TO SEE LAW STUDENTS FUMBLE MIFF AND FALL DOWN IN A SERIES OF ERRORS IN BALL GAME STOP HOWEVER MY THREE DAUGH-TERS NEED SHOES LIKEWISE THE HORSES SO MUST REMAIN AT BREAD WINNING JOB STOP HAVE LOCATED SOME CREOSOTED ROPE FOR SMOKES IN CASE HOLLIS' MYOPIA BECOME SO ACUTE THAT HE THROWS GAME YOUR FAVOR ON SOME LARCENY THEORY.

At the next law school student body meeting, Dean Morse came through with ten-cent cigars for the whole student body when the law school turned in an 11 to 8 win—their first in many, many years.

Dear Mr. Fansett:

Oregon grads of June '38 are making good as publicity agents for Oregon here in New York city. At least the business administration majors with whom I have come in contact do. To give you an idea let me tell you where a few of us are working.

Howard Overback (of Oregana fame) is doing advertising research for a large radio corporation; Wilbur Webb is working at R. H. Macy & Co.; Harry Hodes is in a buying office for Interstate Dept. Stores; Jack Enders is working for Franklin Simon & Co.; Beryl Cornish is also at R. H. Macy & Co.; Vivian Runte is at Franklin Simons. Yours truly is working at B. Altman & Company.

Maybe you think we didn't all let out a few war whoops when Evanston, Illinois, saw Ohio State bow to mighty Oregon. My roommate, an Ohio State graduate, by the way, lost a nice fifty cents bet on that final game.

Sincerely yours,

KERMIT GIMRE,
B.A. '38.

Alumni Secretary,
U. of Oregon,
Eugene, Oregon, U.S.A.

Dear Sir:

You asked for it so here goes. After leaving the U. of O. in 1916 I have been doing considerable globe-trotting. I completed the next two years of medicine in the U. of Mich. College of Medicine. Missed the next year because of flu epidemic which took me out of the running for that year. Transferred to the U. of Cincinnati College of Medicine, where I obtained my M.D. in 1921. Internship at the Western Pennsylvania Hospital, Pittsburgh, for the year 1921-22. Married July 12, 1922 to a Minnesota childhood friend. Winter of 1922-23 in the College of Missions, Indianapolis, Ind., in preparation for missionary medical work in China. Practiced medicine in Yakima, Washington, my home, for a half year before sailing. Sailed for China, arriving in Shanghai, September 22, 1923. One year in language study at the University of Nanking Language School. August and September, 1924, in post-graduate study at Peking Union Medical School, Peking. October assigned to the Mission hospital here in Hofei (Luchowfu), Anhwei Province. Evacuated to Manila, P. I. and then to Vigan, I. S., P. I., in 1927 during the revolution in China. There for six months in Medical missionary work. Returned to U. S. A. for furlough 1928; time spent in post-graduate study at the Post Graduate Medical College, New York City. Returned to China September 1929, as superintendent of this hospital. Second furlough started September 1936. About to return via N. Y. C. and Europe, when war broke out in China. Return delayed a year, so accepted a position in the Presbyterian Mission Hospital to the Navajo Indians in Ganado, Arizona, for the year. Returned to China September 1938.

After returning to China last fall I established residence in Shanghai near the American School, so my three kiddies might go to school there. I then started negotiations to obtain a Japanese military pass to my hospital at Hofei, as this is in occupied territory. Mr. C. A. Burch, an evangelist had been carrying on the administration during my absence, throughout all of the invasion, and all that that means, which rigid censorship will not permit me to describe. He was about at the end of his "rope" with the strain, but it was not until Christmas Eve that I was finally permitted to return. I found him in bed sick with typhus fever and a nervous breakdown.

I was the first one to break through the isolation. Since then the postmaster has dared to return and has reestablished mail service. None had been possible before; once or twice a special messenger had been able to work his way the 120 miles from the Yangtze River to Hofei, through Chinese controlled territory and bandit controlled territory; once only to be arrested at the city gates by the Japanese guards, because of not having proper military credentials.

Two months after my arrival to this totally destroyed city my partner, Mr. O. J. Goulter, was able to return. I had been able to make the proper contacts with the authorities and gain his pass. We are now here alone, so far as other foreigners are concerned, excepting the invading army officers and men. Our work is mainly administration of relief funds from the International Relief Commission for Civilian Relief in China.

We have been carrying on this Refugee Relief program for but a little over three months so far. It started with the most necessary part of it, a free clinic for the refugees returning to their destroyed homes. All such are sick for they have been existing under intolerable conditions, dodging war and bandits, without their usual meager sources of income, where 80 per cent developed malaria and all of the weaklings and the aged died. We have been treating an average of over 250 daily in the free clinic and have 30 or more beds occupied by charity cases in the hospital at all times.

Besides the medical relief we have been able to establish work relief projects to help get the "dazed" head of the house back to a more normal outlook. While working on this and feeding himself and

704 Degrees Awarded at Commencement

The University of Oregon awarded 704 degrees and 36 certificates at the sixty-second annual commencement June fourth. It was the largest class in University history.

Included in the group were two honorary degrees:

To John Campbell Merriam, retiring head of the Carnegie Institution, the degree of Doctor of Laws "In recognition of his distinguished contribution to the science of paleontology, especially in the study of vertebrates of the John Day region; his active promotion and far-reaching accomplishments in the study of early man in the New World and the Pacific Basin; and his able and far-sighted administration of the world's most outstanding research institution for the advancement of science and the enrichment of human life."

To Frederick Woodward Skiff, Portland, the degree of Doctor of Letters "In recognition of his wide and thorough knowledge of American literature, craftsmanship, and art; his deep and sympathetic understanding of the background of American culture; and his tireless efforts in bringing to the Commonwealth of Oregon his priceless collection of masterpieces of American thought."

Other advanced degrees included the Doctor of Philosophy degree to Christina A. Crane; and Ralph G. Bailey received the Doctor of Education degree. The degree of Doctor of Jurisprudence was conferred on Stanley R. Darling, Orval H. Etter, Bernard B. Kliks, and Frank E. Nash.

Other degrees conferred included: Bachelor of Arts, 165; Bachelor of Science, 325; Bachelor of Business Administration, 26; Bachelor of Architecture, 3; Bachelor of Science in Education, 13; Bachelor of Laws, 13; Bachelor of Science in Physical Education, 18; Doctor of Jurisprudence, 4; Doctor of Medicine, 63; Doctor of Philosophy, 1; Doctor of Education, 1; Master of Arts, 34; Master of Science, 29; Master of Education, 6; Master of Fine Arts, 1; Certificate of Obstetrical Nursing, 4; Certificate of Applied Social Science, 1; and Certificate of Public Health Nursing, 32.

ROTC Unit Shines

The University of Oregon outclassed a well-drilled Oregon State cadet company to win the second annual competition for the Governor's trophy by the big margin of 2896 to 2848 for the group competition. It was definitely an Oregon day when two University boys captured first and third in the individual competitions. Cadet corporal Robert C. Watson took first prize and cadet corporal Clifford D. Collins finished a strong third. Governor Sprague presented the Oregon honor company with the Governor's plaque. Dignitaries of the State Board were also present to witness the review.

The University of Oregon rifle squad brought further glory to the military department when news reached Eugene that for the third time the University had won the W. R. Hearst trophy symbolic of national ROTC championship for five man rifle teams. The team turned in a score of 971 out of a possible 1000 to nose out the University of Minnesota by four points. The average score was 94 out of 100 for the boys.

Stan Warren won additional honors in the individual events by scoring a perfect 200—he receives a 21-jewel Hamilton wrist watch. Other team members are Gilbert Wing, Don Boyd, Lawrence Lew, and Wyburd Furrell.

This is the third time that Sergeant Harvey Blythe has coached a rifle team to national championship. In 1935 and 1937 his teams won first place. Early this year he posted a sign in the trophy case "Home of the National Hearst Trophy—Won by Oregon in 1935 and 1937. This Space Reserved for 1939."

Governor Charles A. Sprague presents the Governor's trophy to Luther Siebert, cadet colonel of the University of Oregon ROTC, when the Oregon boys outclass Oregon State to walk off with the group and individual competition. Other dignitaries present include, from the left: Willard Marks, president of the Oregon State Board of Higher Education; Dr. Donald M. Erb, president of the University; Donald C. Wimberly, cadet colonel of the Oregon State ROTC; Walter E. Pearson, former member of the state board and now treasurer of the State of Oregon and a staunch friend of both the University and Oregon State College; and Dr. Peavy, president of Oregon State College.

MILLRACE SCENE

Governor Sprague Is Campus Guest

Charles A. Sprague, governor of the state of Oregon, was a campus guest in May when he formally installed the new panel of student officers. Governor Sprague shared the spotlight with Oregon's National Basketball Champions who received suitable Oregon blankets in recognition of their achievements.

Governor Sprague told the students that the test of a college "results not in a test of the number of students, the wealth, or the physical plant, but in the achievements and the leaders you build."

"Books and a faculty and laboratories equal a university—but a university must do more than that . . . it must interpret the mental climate of a given generation and the culture of a people."

Governor Sprague hit at the old idea of handing the seniors the world at commencement time and telling them that it was waiting to be cracked. "When your president hands you the world at graduation," the governor said, "it won't be wrapped in pink ribbon—he'll have to hand it to you in a bucket because it is such a mess."

He further counselled Oregon students to beware of movements that lighted youth as the salvation of the world. He said that no formulas or "easy ways" to the settlement of the world's problems have been found.

Howard A. Hall

Howard A. Hall, prominent Eugene business man, died suddenly on April 15 of coronary thrombosis. Mr. Hall was widely known as an artist.

Mr. Hall was born on August 7, 1894, at Ionia, Michigan, and has lived in Eugene since 1911 when his family moved here. He entered the University in 1913 as one of the first students in the architectural school. After attending the University for two years, he enrolled in the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. On the day after the United States entered the World War, he enrolled in the air force. He married Marjory Williams on February 21, 1918 while serving as a commissioned officer at Park Field, Memphis, Tennessee.

Following the war he returned to Eugene to enter the Eugene Concrete Pipe company and had served as sales manager since that time. Mr. Hall was a member of the American Legion, the Masons, Elks, and Phi Delta Theta. Beside his widow and two boys, Howard and William, Mr. Hall is survived by a sister and two brothers.

Alumnae Gather

Former University of Oregon and Oregon State students living in San Francisco, Oakland, and Berkeley attended the annual spring Panhellenic luncheon at the Claremont hotel, Berkeley, April 18 and were very proud to sit at the "Oregon" table. State tables were arranged for the forty-eight states and Canada and the decorations were carried out in the various college colors. The Oregon table was attractively arranged with lemon yellow iris and Oregon grape. In charge of the arrangements were Mrs. Howard Miller, and Mrs. Aaron E. MacKenzie. Mrs. Herbert O. Pillars was chairman for the round table discussion for the general meeting.

Those attending from the University of Oregon were: Mrs. Lorna Coolidge Miller, '23, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mrs. Pauline Porteus MacKenzie, ex-'21, Gamma Phi Beta; Mrs. Hope MacKenzie Pillars, '22, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mrs. Genevieve Shaver McDuffee, '16, Kappa Alpha Theta; Miss Mary Elizabeth Hegardt, ex-'22, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mrs. Gerakline King Thompson, ex-'24, Delta Zeta; Mrs. Charlotte Newhouse Holt, '25, Delta Zeta; Mrs. Gertrude Olmstead, Chi Omega; Mrs. Barbara Coolidge Prentice, ex-'38, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Bailey Endowment

The class of 1939 has left the University a sizable fund to be administered as an emergency loan fund for students and then to be turned back to the class on the occasion of its twenty-fifth reunion to be disposed of as it sees fit. Nearly every senior contributed three dollars toward the fund.

It has officially been named the "Robert C. Bailey Memorial Endowment" (Continued on page 6)

Ducks Capture Three Titles

By GEORGE PASERO

The Oregon Ducks captured three Northern Division titles since the first of the year by winning the basketball series (to go on and win the National championship), and to take the northern division baseball and golf titles. Coach Howard Hobson's spring ball club pepped up after a mediocre start to sweep the pennant series.

Led by plucky Ben Hughes, the Oregon golfers took the northern division conference over the tricky Eugene Country Club course by a wide margin. The team totals for the thirty-six holes were Oregon, 589, Washington, 612; Oregon State 616; and Washington State, 633.

Ben Hughes as medalist shot a 4 under par on his first 18 to turn in a sparkling 68. The Portland junior shot ten birdies and an eagle to beat out his nearest competitor by five strokes. Individual records were.

Varsity Baseball

When Oregon's Duck baseballers, on May 11, headed for Seattle and the first of six road-trip games, they knew their championship hopes were very much on the block.

For at that time they had won five games while losing three and were tied with Oregon State and Idaho for the northern conference leadership. What's more, they and Coach Hobson fully realized that an itinerary that included six games in the space of seven days would be no picnic. In fact most coaches and teams would settle for a split on such a series.

But not the Ducks. They were out to emulate the 1937 champions who waltzed to the title by sweeping much the same kind of a schedule-break. And although they weren't quite able to turn the trick, they did win four games, and come home leading the conference by a full contest.

Here's how they did it.

May 12—Oregon 4, Washington 2.

May 13—Oregon 5, Washington 3.

May 15—Oregon 11, Idaho 7.

May 16—Oregon 8, Idaho 6.

May 17—Oregon 1, Washington State 9.

May 18—Oregon 1, Washington State 15.

It also left the title hinging on the final series with Oregon State's second place club. May 26 and 27, Oregon's record at the end of 14 games was nine wins and five setbacks. Ralph Coleman's Orangemen, second-place club in the standings, at the same time, had won eight and lost six.

To Bob Hardy goes most of the credit for the Ducks' success on the swing around the northernmost outposts of the conference. Southpaw Hardy worked in three of the six games, won two outright, and saved the third. The fourth road-trip win was hurled by Bob Creighton, veteran right-hander.

Coach Hobson started Hardy against Washington, May 12, in the opener of the trip, and the tall, willowy southpaw elbowed a 4 to 2 win. He gave up only seven hits, and blanked the Huskies until the ninth inning. Catcher Cece Walden, Left Fielder Whizzer White, and Short-stop Elmer Mallory each spanked out two hits off Washington's Warren Sierer.

The next day, Creighton made it two in a row over Washington by taking a well-pitched 5 to 3 decision.

Against Idaho, Monday, May 13, Coach Hobson took a chance, started Rookie Jack Jasper on the mound. And for seven innings, the San Francisco southpaw pitched effective ball, striking out eight men but walking seven. He weakened in the eighth, however, and before Idaho could do any damage, Hobson shoved Hardy into the game. Hardy stopped the vandals cold the rest of the way, and the Ducks won 11 to 7. Mallory, with three hits; Jasper with two; and Jim Nicholson, with a three-run home run, led the hitting.

In the second Idaho tilt, Hobson again took a chance, this time by starting Pete Igoe. Igoe, however, ran into difficulty early, the Vandals touching him for three runs in the first frame and one in the second before Hardy came to his relief. Once again, Hardy was good for a win, this time 8 to 6. The triumph was his sixth straight conference ball this spring. Captain Ford Mullen and Whizzer White, with three hits each, and Busher Smith and Cece Walden, with two each, topped the Webfoot batters.

The two Washington State contests wound up action on the trip, and all in all, it was a very weary mound crew that faced the slugging Baileymen. Creighton went the distance in the first game, but was hit hard, and lost 9 to 1. Al Linn, Pete Igoe, and Jack Jasper all had a turn in the second game, but found the going too tough, and Oregon lost this finale, 15 to 1.

Washington State, at the end of the Oregon series, rested in third place in the conference standings with six wins and six defeats.

Oregon barely squeezed out the conference championships by winning the two remaining games from Oregon State—at Eugene 6 to 3 and at Corvallis 10 to 2. Washington State ran a close second in the conference by winning her final seven games.

Varsity Track

Handicapped by the lack of weight men and high jumpers Colonel Bill Hayward's Oregon track and field team placed third in the northern division meet held at Pullman May 13, with 27 points. Washington State, with 60³/₄ points, was an easy winner, while Oregon State rolled up a surprising 34 points to take second.

George Varoff and Rod Hansen, Oregon's pole vaulters, took one-two in their specialty. Varoff set a new record of 14 feet, 1 inch, and Hansen copped second with a leap of 13 feet, 6 inches.

Oregon's great javelin thrower, Boyd Brown, failed to set any records, but heaved the spear 209 feet, 9¹/₂ inches, 23 feet farther than his nearest competitor, Nelson of W.S.C.

The third Webfoot first place was garnered by Sophomore Ehle Reber in the broad jump. On his last jump of the day he sailed out 22 feet, 10 inches to win the event.

Bob Diez, dusky dash man, was the only Webfoot sprinter to place. He took third in the century and fourth in the 220. Jim Buck pulled a muscle in a trial heat of the low hurdles.

Powerful Kirman Storli, Oregon's 880 champion of last year, was beaten in a fast duel by Bill Dale, Canadian record-holder, in the fast time of 1:52.2.

Other Oregon points were collected by Bob Mitchell, fourth in the mile; Don Barker, fourth in the two-mile; and Lloyd Dod, fourth in the high hurdles.

Boyd Brown Wins

Boyd Brown, thumbless javelin throwing sensation, set a new Pacific coast record of 224 feet, 1¹/₄ inches, in taking Oregon's only first place in the coast conference annual track and field championships at Seattle, May 20. Oregon placed fifth in the meet with 15¹/₂ points.

The Oregon junior's mighty heave eclipsed the best effort of Bob Peoples, national record-holder from Southern California by a full foot. Surprising as it was to California supporters of Peoples and DeGroot, USC spartossing duo, Brown's win was not unexpected in northwest track circles, for his winning toss was some seven feet under his best throw this year.

In the Portland-Oregon dual meet Brown sent the spear flying 231 feet, ³/₄ inch, the second longest throw ever

Colonel "Bill" Hayward pulled another champion into the limelight this year by coaching Boyd Brown to the Pacific Coast javelin championship recorded by an American college trackman. Peoples' national record is 234 feet, 1⁷/₈ inches.

Brown's achievement in the conference meet established him as the leading javelin thrower in the nation, and "marked" him as certain Olympic games material in 1940.

Southern California's powerful Trojans swept to their fourth consecutive coast title in the miniature Olympiad held in the Washington stadium. The Trojan galaxy of stars rang up 67 points to win. Stanford was second with 45, California third with 38, WSC fourth with 30, Oregon fifth with 15¹/₂, UCLA sixth with 13, Montana seventh with 7, OSC eighth with 5, Washington ninth with 2¹/₂, and Idaho last with 2.

George Varoff, Oregon's favorite to annex the pole vault crown, was able to leap only 13 feet, 6 inches—a full foot short of his best effort—and placed second to Southern California's Loring Day, who topped the 14-foot mark. Rod Hansen of Oregon tied for third with Bingham of Washington, and Monroe and McCarthy of California at 13 feet, also far under his best vault.

Kirman Storli, ace Webfoot half-miler, placed second to WSC's Bill Dale in the fast time of 1:54.6.

Only other Webfoot to garner points was Don Barker who took fifth in the two-mile run.

Six new records were set during the meet, held before 6,000 fans.

New records set:

100-yard dash — 9.6 seconds by Jeffrey of Stanford.

Javelin—224' 1¹/₄" by Brown of Oregon.

Shot Put—51' 4¹/₂" by Michael of California.

Two mile—9:22.1 by Garner of Washington State.

Low Hurdles — 23.3 seconds by Vickery of Southern California.

Mile—4:16.3 by Zamperini of USC.

Spring Football

Headman G. A. (Tex) Oliver took the wraps off his latest varsity grid machine in the headline sports feature of Junior Weekend, and the 1939 potentials struck through the air and via the ground to whip Jerry Donnell's all-stars, 27 to 3.

The show lasted three hours, and was a typical Oliver grid-clinic. It began with the introduction of team members and included dash competition, illustration of formations used by such teams as Southern California, Minnesota, and Notre Dame, and inter-squad scrimmage, as well as the game feature. Some 2000 fans witnessed the performance.

At times, the Webfoot varsity failed to look impressive—partly due to 90-degree heat—but it did reveal a passing attack that clicked, and new transfer stars.

Best-looking "find" was halfback John (Buck) Berry who scored two touchdowns and converted thrice. Berry showed himself a good pass catcher as well as a hard blocker and runner.

Berry's touchdowns came on passes from Don Mabee and Len Isberg. Jay Graybeal counted the third varsity score when he cut over right tackle for 21 yards. The final score came on another pass, Mabee to Donovan.

Aside from Graybeal's run, a stubborn all-star defense held the Olivermen away from the goal line, forcing the Webfoots to take to the air.

The all-star score came as a direct result of Ted Gebhardt's 65-yard run-back of a varsity kickoff in the final period. Gebhardt was finally spilled on the 17 after running through almost the entire Duck crew. Stopped cold on running plays, the all-stars sent Russ McGowan back to attempt a placekick, which split the uprights.

Frosh Track

Winning 11 out of 14 events and tying another, Coach George Stovel's freshman trackmen swamped the Oregon State rooks, 80½ to 41½, at Bell field, Corvallis, May 12.

The high jump ended in a tie, and the rooks captured the 440 and the javelin. Otherwise, it was all frosh.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Francis (Dutch) Schultz, who won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes (He sped the former in :10 flat); Bill Regner, who won both the shot and discus; Ray Klienfeldt, who won the mile and 880; and Ray Dickson, who won four events—the broad jump, pole vault, low hurdles, and high hurdles.

The frosh also won the relay, and Clair Adams leaped 6 feet, 2 inches to split top honors with Mandic of the rooks in the high jump.

Frosh Ball

Gene Elliott, bespectacled rook southpaw, set Oregon's frosh baseballers down, 7 to 3, and 9 to 5, in the first two games between the yearlings of the two schools.

In the first game, with Coach John Warren away from his charges, Elliot struck out 21 frosh, allowed but five hits, and won easily. Bill Musselman and Lee Dragoo pitched for the frosh.

Warren came back for the second rook game, but even his presence failed to alter matters, as his frosh garnered only four hits off Elliot, losing 9 to 5. Lee Dragoo, husky frosh chucker, gave up 12 hits.

Bailey Fund

ment Fund" in honor of Robert C. Bailey, president of the class, who lost his life in the millrace on Easter Sunday as a result of a canoeing accident.

Robert Bailey was particularly active in the campus life of the University. As a freshman he served as class treasurer, he had been president of Zeta hall prior to his joining Theta Chi fraternity which he served as secretary and social chairman. During his senior year he was president of the campus Y.M.C.A. as well as the senior class. At the time of his death he was enrolled in the first year of law school.

He is survived by his parents, Supreme Court Justice and Mrs. J. O. Bailey; a brother, Jason Bailey, '37; and two sisters, Frances Bailey White and Barbara.

Amazing.. people say.. how Triton changes PING to PURR!

Try this 100% Pure Paraffin-base oil that stops carbon knocks... saves you money

TRITON has ended the "carbon ping" problem for you. Because it is Propane-solvent refined - 100% PURE lubricant - it gives your motor the finest type of lubrication money can buy.

And, in addition, Triton actually cleans out carbon as you drive - forms so little new carbon that your motor burns out carbon deposited by other oils. Thousands of independent dealers and all Union service stations have Triton for you. Try it today!

UNION OIL COMPANY

OWNED AND OPERATED FOR OVER 48 YEARS BY PACIFIC COAST PEOPLE

"We use a Ford Station wagon that has 45,264 miles on it. Six months ago we switched to Triton. Oil consumption has been reduced about 42%. Carbon ping has disappeared and we are getting better gas mileage."

PAUL GRANARD, Beverly Hills

"I have a Buick Coupe purchased in 1935. It has run 101,975 miles with Triton, and still has the original rings and does not yet burn any oil in the 1000 mile period."

H. J. BRIGGS, Seattle

"During the last 3 years I have owned a Packard, a Willys, and an Oldsmobile. In all three I used Triton exclusively. The Olds has gone 35,000 miles and thanks to Triton it hasn't developed a carbon 'ping' since the day I bought it."

Baseball

PITCHERS

Hardy, Robert (Ollie). Ashland. Senior. 6 feet 4 inch southpaw. Tall Ollie transferred as a sophomore from Southern Oregon Normal school to Oregon. He was a regular last year, taking turns on the mound with Creighton. Was a member of Oregon's national champion basketball team, and is regarded by scouts and Coach Hobson as a certain pro prospect. Has a snaky fast ball and a big hook, and is pitching his third year on the Oregon varsity.

Creighton, Robert (Burly Bob). Vallejo, Cal. Righthander. Senior and a one-year letterman. Burly Bob Creighton transferred to Oregon from Marin junior college where he was pitching ace for two years. He won a majority of his games for the Oregon varsity last year, and is one of the mainstays this year of Coach Hobson's mound corps.

Jasper, Jack (Sunshine). Berkeley, Cal. Junior. Throws left-handed but bats right. Jasper transferred to Oregon this year from Marin J. C. He was a teammate of Creighton at that school. He is big, rugged, and fast, and may prove an asset to Coach Hobson this year.

Igoe, Cecil (Pete). Eugene. Sophomore. Throws and bats righthanded. Pete is a home-town boy who has pitched for various Eugene teams as well as for John Warren's frosh club last year.

Linn, Albert. San Francisco Cal. Junior. Bats and throws righthanded. Linn transferred to Oregon this year from San Mateo J. C. He has not pitched for two years, but is fast and has good control. Is expected to share relief pitching and aid Ducks materially in northern division flag chase.

INFIELDBERS

Smith, Gale (Busher). Portland. Senior. Bats and throws righthanded. Smith, a two-year letterman, has been a fixture at first base since his first year on the Oregon varsity. He is a classy fielder and a hard hitter. Is big and will go into pro ball come the end of school.

Mullen, Ford (Flivver). Olympia, Wash. Senior. Bats left and throws right. Mullen plays second base and is Oregon's captain for the second straight year. He makes chances look easy, a la Charlie Gehringer. Is a two-year letterman in baseball and basketball.

Quinn, Wellington (Wimpy). Portland. Junior. Bats and throws right. Quinn plays third base. Last year, he was a sensation with his powerful hitting, and was chosen all-conference third baseman. Is tall, agile, and possesses a large pair of hands. He has more than one offer to go pro and is expected to do so at the end of this year.

Mallory, Elmer. Junction City. Sophomore. Bats and throws right. Mallory walked right into the shortstop post this year, and has sparkled with his spectacular fielding. Last year, he played on Warren's frosh club. Played for Eugene in State league last year.

Hamer, Herbert. Eugene. Sophomore. Bats and throws right. Hamer is powerful but inexperienced and at present is un-derstudying Smith at first base. Is a University high. Eugene, product.

Smith, Warren. Eugene. Sophomore. Bats and throws right. He also is a product of John Warren's 1938 frosh club. Can play any position in infield except first. He is stocky and powerful at plate but needs experience.

Yoshitomi, Jack. Milwaukie. Sophomore. Bats and throws right. Yoshitomi is stocky and can hit but needs seasoning. He played frosh ball last year.

OUTFIELDERS

Nicholson, Jim. Salem. Senior. Bats and throws right. Nick is a senior and a fast, dependable flychaser. He is a two-year letterman in baseball and a three-year letterman in football. Is a hard hitter, and has a good arm. Nicholson plays center field.

Cox, Thomas. Cottage Grove. Junior. Bats and throws right. He is a one-year letterman who can play either infield or outfield. For the frosh of 1937, he played third base. Cox is small but peppy and always hustles. He plays left field.

Shimshak, Jack. Portland. Sophomore. Bats and throws right. Shimshak's natural position is second base, but he was converted into an outfielder this year by Coach Hobson in order to plug the right field gap. He hits hard, but could stand more experience.

CATCHERS

Walden, Cecil. La Grande. Bats and throws right. Walden was a reserve last year. Gave up his football scholarship this year to play baseball, and holds down the first string berth. He is a junior, and has the natural catcher's build, stocky and heavy. Hits hard, and has loosened up considerably.

Rathbun, Jim. Portland. Sophomore. Bats and throws right. Rathbun was first string on last year's frosh club. He needs experience.

Kelly, Maurice. Astoria. Junior. Bats and throws right. He was a reserve last year. Has played considerable semi-pro ball. May help this year.

Track

SPRINTS

Jim Buck. Portland. Junior. Raced second to Mack Robinson in most meets last year. Capable of running the century under :9.8. Out of the first two meets with a pulled muscle.

Bob Diez. Portland. Sophomore. Chunky colored boy with speed to burn. Won both dashes against Portland in times of :10 flat and :22.8. Needs experience and competition.

MIDDLE-DISTANCE

Kirman Storli. Portland. Junior. Storli, in Hayward's belief, will become the greatest half-miler ever to run here. He is tall, powerful, and smooth. This year he won the 1000-meter run in the Pacific coast indoor championships at Treasure Island in March. Last year, as a sophomore, he won the northern division championship, and represented the coast in the east. Has done 1:54 already this spring.

Jim Schriver. Portland. Junior. A quarter-miler in high school, Schriver found himself in the half last year, running second to Storli in the northern division meet. His times are well under 2 minutes.

Don Tower. Tigard. Junior. Was a boxer until Hayward made a trackman out of him last year. Should win some thirds this year.

Jerry Wolfe. Myrtle Creek. Junior. Had never raced before this year. He is one of Hayward's hopes for the future.

DISTANCE

Bob Mitchell. Portland. Junior. Recently he ran a 4:25.8 mile. Won his letter last year by winning mile against Oregon State.

Don Barker. La Grande. Junior. Barker is a veteran distance and cross-country runner. The two-mile is his specialty. Last year he ran both the mile and two-mile.

Galen Morey. Roseburg. Sophomore. Needs experience. He was the top frosh miler last year.

Phil Gambee. Portland. Senior. Gambee has been running for Oregon off and on for the last six years. Aided Oregon's distance relay team in victory over Oregon State this year.

HURDLES

Lloyd Dod. California. Junior. Is a transfer from San Mateo. Shows lots of promise and is expected to win points in the high sticks.

Kernie Buhler. Dallas. Sophomore transfer. Buhler is Hayward's No. 3 high hurdler.

Jim Buck. Aforementioned. Besides being a sprinter, he is one of the best low-hurdlers on the coast.

JAVELIN

Boyd Brown. Hubbard. Junior. His herculean toss of 231 feet $\frac{3}{4}$ inch stamps him as one of the best American spear tossers in history. Expects to throw the javelin 240 feet by the end of the year.

POLE VAULT

George Varoff. San Francisco. Senior. Captain of Oregon's track team and veteran of international competition. He has held the world's outdoor and indoor record. His highest jump so far is 14 feet $7\frac{3}{4}$ inches. This year he has leaped 14 feet 4 inches.

Rod Hansen. Olympia, Wash. Junior. Hansen topped 14 feet April 22 for the first time in his career. He tied Varoff at 14 feet 4 inches. Colonel Hayward expects him to make the Olympic team.

DISCUS

Emmons, Gebhardt, Samuelson, and Wally White.

BROAD JUMP

Ehle Reber. Malin. Sophomore. Beginning his first year on Webfoot varsity. Cracked high school record in final year. Reber has done over 22 this year, and expects to better 23.

HIGH JUMP

Ken Shipley. Oswego. Junior. Shipley is ex-Oregon Stater whom Coach Hayward picked out of the Sigma Delta Psi ranks. He nears the six-foot mark.

family, we planned with him about some future adjustment in the community. Sometimes free seeds were given to him to help him make a start at feeding his family and for sale to clothe them. Others were given small loans to establish them in some small traveling shop or business. Others were given second hand clothing, which both Mr. Goulter and I had brought out with us as excess baggage. Free baby bath clinics have been established for those having unheated homes, which is 100 per cent. A day school with over 200 children has been opened, where no schools were to be found within a radius of 100 miles. The teachers were mostly refugees on relief also. An agricultural school for boys has been reopened. It had been running before the "crash," and is now reopened since the return of our Chinese agriculturalist from hiding out in the countryside.

But the revival of all this relief work has not been easy under the present conditions of occupation. We have met with suspicion and opposition on every hand. At one time it was like a chess game, where pawns were eliminated for us as fast as we could place them in position. But we are taking it like a game, finding it not to our disadvantage if work is closed, but rather to our credit, as it only brings out the contrasts between Christian and non-Christian methods of "helping the people"—if you know what I mean.

The program of the Christian church is without doubt the most popular thing in the minds of the people of China today. Many of the educated class have remarked that "It is the only DECENT thing to survive the invasion." This has been to a large extent due to the fact that many missionaries stayed on throughout bombings and other dangers of invasion, which you have read of in your Readers Digest, and have been able to render an invaluable, life-saving service; as contrasted to the other life-taking process.

As a result all churches are being swamped with applications for admission to membership. We are unable to cope with the demand, for it is necessary to be careful in the selection, and give a long period of instruction and training to each before acceptance, since many haven't the background of even non-church homes in America.

We are in a walled city, which is occupied. But all the surrounding countryside is in the hands of the other side, save a corridor along the railroad from here to the Yangtze River, which is also of the "occupied" status. So plenty could happen at any time. And things are getting warmer this time of year—and it is not all the weather.

Sincerely yours,

D. S. CORPRON

Ann Arbor, May 15th, 1939.

Mr. Elmer Fansett,
University of Oregon,
Eugene, Oregon.

Dear Elmer:

Have been trying for the past several months to find the time to sit down and send you the enclosed two dollars for a year of "Old Oregon." And while I have the typewriter right here under my index fingers it seems fitting that I should chronicle a few of the Old Oregon names that I have encountered during the past five or six years in the eastern hinterlands. From 1934 to 1937 I attended Northwestern Medical School in Chicago, and frequently saw Kathlyn Tharaldsen, Kappa '29 and Mary Cogswell King, Tri Delt '27. Kay was at that time working in the advertising department at Marshall Fields, but has since married and is I believe some place in Minnesota. Mary moved to New York in 1935 where I have since seen her. In September 1937 we had quite an Oregon get-together at the King apartment in New York. Among those present were such staunch Oregonians as Rolf and Alice Klep, Esther Setters Hinkle and Mrs. "Hum" Grieg; unfortunately Hum and George were both out of town.

In December 1937 I moved on from Chicago eastward, stopping in Fort Wayne, Indiana to be married and after a couple of weeks honeymoon in South, wound up at the Jersey City Medical Center where I served my internship. There was a girl there who was Resident in Private Service who was an Oregon alum of about '29, I believe. Her first name escapes me but the last name was Delanty. Soon after arriving on the Eastern Seaboard I had a letter from John Lebor '28, who was working some place in the vastness of Radio City. Never did have an opportunity to look him up which I have often regretted and for which I now apologize should he happen to read this. Saw a lot of Rolf and Alice Klep that year, and one evening just missed seeing Lot Beatie '23, at their apartment by a few hours.

In October, 1938, my brother, Dr. F. E. "Ned" Fowler of Astoria visited me and with the rest of the Oregon contingent we carried high hopes to the Polo grounds on Saturday the 22nd. For the first half Oregon looked like the winner, but you all know that story. Would, however, like to add my bit to the vindication of the Oregon player involved in the play which resulted in the Fordham star halfback being carried off the field. Our seats were in the second deck immediately above that play and the only one open to criticism was the referee and his slow whistle.

After the game a goodly crowd of Oregon people gathered at the Klep apartment. Among the many familiar faces I can now only recall the following names: Hum and Jessie Greig, Phil Berg, Johnny Anderson, Joy Gross, Ned Fowler, and of course Rolf and Alice. There were many others, too, whom I cannot now name, but I can assure you that the Empire State building trembled on its foundations to the resounding echoes of Mighty Oregon.

On the December evening that the National Champs invaded Madison Square Gardens I was riding number 1 ambulance so couldn't get to the game, and I regret to say that I took an awful beating when the news of the one point defeat became public knowledge because I had assured all and sundry that the basketball team would make amends for their football brethren.

Since January of this year I have been here in Ann Arbor at the University hospital specializing in internal medicine. We have not only one of the finest hospitals in the country but an excellent Oregon group. In my department there is Ruddy Crommelin '33, in the Dept. of Dermatology there is Joe Benson '25, and the more recent generation is represented by a medical student, Ivan Duff. As spokesman for the group I tender our extreme gratitude to the members of the 1938-39 basketball squad and Hobbie for extending us the privilege of thumbing our noses at our colleagues who claim allegiance to the Big Ten.

In less than a year's time I expect to be practicing with my brother out in Astoria where the fishermen catch the world's best salmon and Oregon catches some of the world's best basketball players. With kindest regards to all those to whom the name is familiar, I am,

Very sincerely,

BUD FOWLER.

Vernon E. "Bud" Fowler, M.D.
