

Fall 2022 OIMB Seminar Series

Oregon Institute of Marine Biology, Charleston, Oregon

Boathouse Auditorium, Fridays at 4:00 pm

Indicates Public Lecture held at 7:00pm

ALL SEMINARS ARE IN-PERSON, except Nov 11, which will be on ZOOM

NO SEMINAR during the week of Thanksgiving, Nov 25

- Sept 30 Dr. Alice Yeates, South Slough National Estuarine Research Reserve
"Restoring coastal headwaters: Plans for the South Slough estuary."
- Oct 7 Dr. Gustav Paulay, Florida Museum of Natural History
"Environment versus dispersal as drivers of marine diversification — Oman, Oceania and Oregon."
- Oct 14 Dr. Kelly Sutherland, Oregon Institute of Marine Biology
"How do jellyfish swim? Performance insights from Earth's oldest jet-propelled swimmers."
PUBLIC LECTURE 7:00pm**
- Oct 21 Ed Hughes, Oregon Department of Fish and Wildlife
"Restoring estuary and freshwater habitats for salmon. Is it half the battle?"
- Oct 28 Dr. Eric Sanford, Bodega Marine Laboratory, UC Davis
"Ecological and evolutionary dynamics of poleward shifts in the geographic ranges."
- Nov 4 Dr. Felipe Barreto, Oregon State University
"Evolution in the tidepool: functional and population genetics of adaptation between pacific tides."
- Nov 11 Dr. Joana Zanol, National Museum, Federal University of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
"Giant eunicid worms (Eunicidae, Annelida) diversity and evolution."
ZOOM SEMINAR
- Nov 18 Mack Hardy, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration
"Eyes on the sea: observing and sustainable fishing."
- Dec 2 Dr. Richard Emlet, Oregon Institute of Marine Biology
"Panama's baby brittle stars shine light on developmental diversity."

Please park on Boat Basin Road and walk to the OIMB Boathouse
Call (541) 346-7280 or email oimb@uoregon.edu for more information

